The Holy Bible – Geneva Edition
1st Printing, 1st Edition in 1560

Given back to the people so all may understand

The Geneva Bible was first printed in Geneva, Switzerland, by refugees from England, fleeing the persecution of Protestants by Roman Catholic Queen “Bloody” Mary. Many copies were smuggled back into England at great personal risk. In later years, when Protestant-friendly Queen Elizabeth took the throne, printing of the Geneva Bible moved back to England. The Geneva Bible was produced by John Calvin, John Knox, Myles Coverdale, John Foxe, and other Reformers. It is the version that William Shakespeare quotes from hundreds of times in his plays, and the first English Bible to offer plain roman-style type in some of its early printings.

The Geneva Bible was the first Bible taken to America, brought over on the Mayflower... it is the Bible upon which early America and its government was founded (certainly not the King’s of England’s Bible!) The Geneva Bible was also the first English Bible to break the chapters of scripture into numbered verses, and it was the first true “Study Bible” offering extensive commentary notes in the margins. It was so accurate and popular, that a half-century later, when the King James Bible came out... it retained more than 90% of the exact wording of the Geneva Bible.

HOW hard a thing it is, and what great impedimentes let, to enterprise any worthie act, not only daile experience sufficiently sheweth (moste noble and vertuous Quene) but also that notable prouerbe doeth cōfirme the same, which admonisheth vs, that all thīgs are hard which are faire and excellēt. And what enterprise can there be of greater importance, and more acceptable vnto God, or more worthie of singuler commendation, then the building of the Lords || Temple, the || house of God, the || Church of Christ, where- of the || Sonne of God is the head and perfection?

the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and playnely translated according to the languages wherein they were first written by the holy Ghost. For the worde of God is an euident token of Gods loue and our assurance of his defence, wherefoeuer it is obediently receyued: it is the trial of the spirits: and as the Prophet saith, It is as a fyre and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offered by the preaching of the same. Yea it is sharper then any two edged sworde to examine the very thoghtes and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discouer whatsoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and wolde be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundacion and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euil tried out and reiected.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundacion surely, first taketh away suche impedimentes, as might iustely either hurt, let or difforme the worke: so is it necessarie that your graces zeale appeare herein, that nether the craftie perswasion of man, nether worldly policie, or natural feare dissuade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these wedes and impedimentes which do not only deface your building, but vtterly indeuour, yea & threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble Iosias entreprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestation) the idolatrous priests bones vpon their altars, and put to death the false prophetes and sorcerers, to performe the wordes of the Lawe of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successe & blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made Gods worde his line and rule to followe, and enterprised nothing before he had inquired at the mouth of the Lord.

And if these zealous beginnings seme dangerous and to brede disquietnes in your dominions, yet by the storie of King Asa it is manifest, that the quietnes and peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah lyued in rest and quietnes for the space of fyue and thirtie yere, til at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, & at length toke him away by death.

Wherefore great wisdom, not worldelie, but heauenly is here required, which you grace must earnestly craue of the Lord, as did Salomon, to whome God gaue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, and to discerne betwene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde temple gaue the Spirit of wisdom & vnderstanding to them that shulde be the workemen thereof, as to Bezael, Aholiab, and Hiram: how much more wil he indewe your grace and other godly princes and chiefe gouernours with a principal Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this moste holy Temple, forese and take hede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and destroy whatsoeuer might impere and ouerthrowe the same?

Moreouer the maruelous diligence and zeale of Iehoshaphat, Iosiah, and Hezekiah are by the singuler prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreys and to establish the worde of God with all spede, lest the wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and ioyfully, but also procured earnestly and commanded the same to be taught, preached and maynteyned through all their countreys and dominions, bynding them and all their subiectes bothe great and smale with solemne protestations and couenantes before God to obey the worde, and to walke after the waies of the Lord. Yea and in the daies of seruyng ¶ As it was enacted that whosoever wolde not leke the Lord God of Israel, shulde be slayne, whether he were smale or great, man or woman. And for the establishing hereof and performance of this solemne othe, as well ¶ Priests as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the cities of Iudah to instruct the people in the true knollage and feare of God, and to minister iustice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde dyd reigne in ¶ the heartes and soules, all mans diligence and indeuours were of none effect: for without this worde we can not discerne betwene iustice, and iniurie, protection and oppression, wisdom and foolishnes, knollage and ignorance, good and euil. Therefore the Lord, who is the chefe gouernour of his Church, willeth that nothing be attempted before we haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For seing he is our God, of duetie we must giue him this preeminence, that of our selues we entrepryse nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may best serue to his glorie and our saluation. We ought not therefore to preuent him, or do any thing without his worde, ¶ but assone as he hath reueiled his wil, immediately to put it in execution.

Now as concerning the maner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wisdom of the flesh, but of the Spirit, & according to the worde of God, whose ¶ wais are diuers from mans wais. For if it was not lawfull for Moses to build the material Tabernacle after any other sorte then God had shewed him by a ¶ patern, nether to prescribe any other ¶ ceremonies & lawes then such as the Lord had expressly commāded: how can it be lawfull to procede in this spiritual building any other wais, then Iesus Christ the Sonne of God, who is bothe the fundacion, head and chief corner stone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And for as much as he hath established and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, ¶ appointing some to be Apostles, some Prophetes, others Euangelistes, some pastors, and teachers, he signifieth that euery one according as he is placed in this body which is the Church, ought to inquire of his ministres concerning the wil of the Lord, which is reueiled in his worde. For thei are, saith ¶ Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lord: yea he ¶ promiseth to be with their mouth, & that their ¶ lippes shal kepe knollage, & that the trueth & the law shal be in their mouth: For it is their office chiefly to vnderstand the Scriptures & teache them. For this cause the people of Israel in matters of difficultie vsed to ¶ aske the Lord ether by the ¶ Prophetes, or by the meanes of the hie ¶ Priest, who bare Vrim & Thummim, which were tokens of light & knollage, of holines & perfectiō which shulde be in the hie Priest. Therefore when Iehoshaphat toke this order in the Church of Israel, he appointed Amariah to be the chief concerning the worde of God, because he was moste expert in the law of the Lord, and colde gyue counsel and gouerne according vnto the same. Els there is no degre or office which may haue that autoritie and priuiledge to decide concerning Gods worde, except withall he hath the Spirit of God, and sufficient knollage and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, so ought he to be herein chiefly heard, or at least that without the expresse worde none be heard: for he that hath not the worde, ¶ speaketh not by the mouthe of the Lord. Agayne, what danger it is to do any thing, seme it neuer so godly or necessarie, without consulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Israelites, ¶ deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of ¶ Saul, whose intention semed good and necessarie: and of ¶ Iosiah also, who for great considerations was moued for the defence of true religion & his people, to fight against Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may sufficiently admonish vs.

Last of all (moste gracious Quene) for the aduancement of this building and rearing vp of the worke, two things are necessarie, First, that we haue a iust & stedfast faith in Christ Iesus, who must dwell in our heartes, as the only mean and assurance of our saluation: for he is the ladder that reacheth from the earth to heauen: he lifteth vp his Church and setteth it in the heauenly places: he maketh vs liuely stones and buildeth vs vpon him selfe: he ioyneth vs to him selfe as the me bres and body to the head: yea he maketh him selfe and his Church one Christ.

The next is, that our faith bring forth the good fruites, so that our godly conuersa tion may serue vs as a witnes to confirme our election, and be an example to all others to walke as apperteyneth to the vocation whereunto thei are called: lest the worde of God be euil spoken of, and this building be stayed to growe vp to a iust height, which can not be without the great prouocation of Gods iuste vengeance and discouraging of many thousandes through all the worlde, if thei shulde se that our life were not holy and agreable to our profession. For the eyes of all that feare God in all places beholde your countreyes as an example to all that beleue, and the prayers of all the godly at all tymes are directed to God for the preseruatiō of your maiestie. For considering Gods wonderful mercies toward you at all seasons, who hath pulled you out of the mouthe of the lyons, and how that from your youth you haue bene broght vp in the holy Scriptures, the hope of all men is so increased, that thei can not but looke that God shulde bring to passe some wonderful worke by your grace to the vniuersal comfort of his Church. Therefore euen aboue strength, you must shewe your selfe strong and bolde in Gods matters: and thogh Satan lay all his power and craft together to hurt and hinder the Lodes building: yet be you assured that God wil fight from heauen against this great dragon, the ancient ser pent, which is called the deuil and Satan. til he haue accomplished the whole wor ke and made his Church glorious to him selfe, without spot or wrinkle. For al beit all other kingdomes and monarchies, as the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians & Romans haue fallen & taken end: yet the Church of Christ euen vnder the Crosse hath from the beginning of the worlde bene victorious, and shalbe euerlasting
ly. Trueth it is, that some tyme it semeth to be shadowed with a cloude, or diuē with a stormie perfection, yet suddenly the beames of Christ the sunne of iustice shine and bring it to light and libertie. If for a tyme it lie couered with ashes, yet it is quickly kindeled agayne by the wynde of Gods Spirit: thogh it seme drowned in the sea, or parched and pyned in the wildernes, yet God giveth euer good suc cesse. for he punisheth the enemies, and deliuereth his, nourisheth them and stil pre serueth the vnder his wyngs. This Lord of lordes & King of kings who hath euer defended his, strengthen, comfort and preserue your maiestie, that you may be able to builde vp the ruines of Gods house to his glorie, the discharge of your conscience, and to the comfort of all them that loue the comynge of Christ Iesus our Lord.

THE FIRST BOKE OF Moses, called * Genesis.

THE ARGUMENT.

Moses in effect declareth the things, which are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the worlde & all things therein were created by God, & that man being placed in this great tabernacle of the worlde to behold Gods wonderfull workes, & to praise his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had endued him, fell willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his owne mercies sake restored him to life, & confirmed him in the same by his promises of Christ to come, by whome he shoulde overcome Satan, death and hel. Secondly, that the wicked, vnmindful of Gods moste excellent benefites, remained still in their wickednes, & so falling moste horribly from sinne to sinne, prouoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) at length to destroye the whole

Thirdly, he assureth vs by the example of Abraham, Isaac, Iacob & the rest of the Patriarkes, that his mercies neuer faile them, whome he chuseth to be his Church, and to professe his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he euer assisteth them, sendeth comforte, & deliuereth them. And because the beginning, increase, preservation and success thereof might be onely attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of Cain, Ishmael, Esau and others, which were no leas in mans iudgement, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobilitie of the worlde: and also by the fewenes of them, which haue at all times worshipped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and despised, in the small flocke and little number, that man in his wisdom might be confounded, & the Name of God euer more praised.

CHAP. I.

God created the heauen & the earth, 3 The light & the darkenes, 8 The firmament. 9 He separateth the water from the earth 16 He createth the sunne, the moone, & the starres. 21 He createth the fish, birdes, beastes. 26 He createth man and giueth him rule ouer all creatures, 29 And prouideth nourriture for man and beast.

IN THE beginning * God created & heauen and the earth. And the earth was without forme & voyde, and darkenes was vpon the depe, & the Spirit of God moued vpon the waters. Then God said, * Let there be light: and there was light.

And God sawe & light that it was good, and God separated the light from the darkenes.

And God called the light, Day, and the darkenes, he called Night. ¶ So the euenig and the morning were the first day.

¶ Againe God said, * Let there be a firmament in the middes of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters.

Then God made the firmament, & parted the waters, which were vnder the firmament, from the waters which were aboue the firmament, and it was so.

And God called the firmament, & Heauen. ¶ So the euenig and the morning were the seconde day.

¶ God said againe, * Let the waters vnder the heauē be gathered into one place, & let the drye land appeare, and it was so.

And God called the drye land, Earth, & he called & gathering together of the waters, Seas: & God sawe that it was good.

Then God said, Let the earth budde forthe the budde of the herbe, that sedeth fede, the fructifull tre, & beareth frute according to his kinde, which male haue his sede in it self vpon the earth. & it was so.

And the earth brought forth the budde of the herbe, that sedeth fede accordig to his kinde, also the tre that yeldeth frute, & hath his sede in it selfe according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

¶ So the euenig and the morning were the third daie.

¶ And God said, * Let there be lightes in the firmament of the heauen, to separate the daie from the night, & let them be for signes, and for seasons, and for daies and yeres.

And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpon the earth, and it was so.

God then made two great lightes: the greater light to rule the daie, & the lesse light to rule & night: he made also & starres.

And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth;

And to rule in the daie, & in the night, and to separate the light from the darkenes: and God sawe that it was good.

¶ So the euenig and the morning were the fourth daie.

Afterwarde God said, Let the waters bring forth in abundance euerie creeping thing that hath life: & let the foule flie vpon the earth in the open firmament of the heauen.

Then God created the great whales, & euerie thing liuing & moving, & the waters brought forth in abundance, accordig to their kinde, & euerie fethered foule according to his kinde: & God sawe that it was good.

* This worde signifieth the beginning and generation of the creatures.

i This sentence is so oft repeated, to signifye that God made all his creatures to serue to his glorie, & to the profit of man: but for sinne they were accursed, yet to & eld, by Christ they are restored & serue to their welch.

31 * And God sawe all that he had made, & lo, it was very good. ¶ So the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAP. II

2 God resteth the seventh day, and sanctifieth it. 15 He setteth man in the garden. 22 He createth the woman. 29 Marriage is ordained.

1 Thus the heauens and the earth were finished, & all the ¶ holte of them.

2 For in the seventh day God ended his worke which he had made, * & the seventh daye he ¶ rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the seventh day, & ¶ sanctified it, because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 ¶ These are the ¶ generacions of the heauens & of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And euerie ¶ plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and euerie herbe of the field, before it grewe: for the Lord God had not caused it to ¶ raine vpon the earth, nether ¶ was there a man to til the ground, 6 But a myst went vp from the earth, and watered all the earth.

7 ¶ The Lord God also made the mā ¶ of the dust of the ground, and breathed in his face breath of life, and the man was a living soule.

8 And the Lord God plated a garden Eastwarde in ¶ Eden, and there he put the man whome he had made.

9 (For out of the ground made the Lord God to growe euerie tre pleasant to the sight, and good for meat: the ¶ tre of life also in the middes of the garden, ¶ and the tre of knowledge of good and of euil.

10 And out of Eden went a riuier to water the garden, and from thence it was deuided, and became into foure heades.

11 The name of one ¶ Rishon: the same compasseth the whole land ¶ of Hauilah, where ¶ golde.

12 And the golde of that land is good: the ¶ re ¶ also ¶ bdelium, and the onix stōne.

14 The name also of ¶ third riuier ¶ Hiddekel: this goeth towarde the Eastside of ¶ Asshur: and the fourth riuier is ¶ Perath

15 ¶ Then the Lord God toke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might ¶ dresse it and kepe it.

16 And the Lord God ¶ commanded the man, saying, Thou shalt eat frey of euerie tre of the garden, 17 But as touching the tre of knowledge of good and euil, thou shalt not eat of it: for ¶ whensoever thou eatest thereof, thou shalt dye the ¶ death.

18 Also the Lord God said, It is not good that the man shulde be him selfe alone. I wil make him an helpe ¶ mete for him.

19 So the Lord God formed of the earth euerie beast of the field, and euerie foule of the heauen, & brought them vnto the ¶ mā to se how he wolde call the: for howsoever the man named the living creature, so was the name thereof.

20 The man therefore gaue names vnto all cattel, and to the foule of the heauen, and to euerie beast of the field: but for Adam founde he not an helpe mete for him.

21 ¶ Therefore the Lord God caused an heaue slepe to fall vpon the man. & whiles he slept, he toke one of his rybbes and closed vp the flesh in steade thereof.

22 And the rybbe which the Lord God had taken from the man, made he a ¶ woman, and brought her to the man.

Because mention is made in the tenth verse of this seconde chapter of the river that watered the garden, we muste note that Euphrates and Tigris called in Ebrewe, Perath and Hiddikel, were called but one river when they joyned together, els they had foure heades: that is, two at their springs, & two where they fell into the Persian sea. In this country and moste plentiful land Adam dwelt, and this was called Paradise: that is, a garden of pleasure, because of the frutesfulness and abundance thereof. And whereas it is said that Pishon compasseth the land of Havilah, it is meant of Tigris, which in some place, as it passed by divers places, was called by sondry names, as some time Diglith, in other places Pasitigris, & of some Phasin or Pishon. Likewise Euphrates towards the country of Cush or Ethiopia, or Arabia was called Gihon. So that Tigris and Euphrates (which were but two rivers and some time when they joyned together, were called after one name) were according to divers places called by these foure names, so that they might seme to have bene foure divers rivers.

2 The woman seduced by the serpent, 6 Enticeth her husband to sinne. 14 They three are punished 15 Christ is promised 19 Man is dust. 22 Man is cast out of paradise.

Wisdo 2, 25 a As Satan can change him selfe into an Angel of light, so did he abuse the wisdom of the serpent to deceive man. b God suffered Satan to make the serpent his instrument: and to speake in him. c In doubting of Gods threatening she yielded to Satan.

Now the serpent was more subtil then any beast of the field, which the Lord God had made: and he said to the woman, Yea, hath the God in dede said, Ye shall not eat of euery tree of the garden? And the woman said vnto the serpent, We eat of the frute of the trees of the garden, But of the frute of the tree, which is in the middes of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touche it, lest ye dye.

4 Then the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not dye at all, 5 But God doeth knowe, that when ye shall eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened, & ye shall be as gods, knowing good and euil. 6 So the woman (seeing that the tree was good for meat, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, & a tree to be desired to get knowledge) took of the frute thereof, and did eat, and gaue also to her husband with her, and he did eat. 7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, & they knewe that they were naked, and they sewed fig tree leaues together, and made them selues breeches. 8 Afterwarde they heard the voyce of the Lord God walking in the garden in the coole of the day, and the man and his wife hid them selues from the presence of the Lord God among the trees of the garden.

9 But the Lord God called to the man, and said vnto him, Where art thou?

10 Who said, I heard thy voyce in the garden, and was afraied: because I was naked, therefore I hid my self.

11 And he said, Who tolde thee, that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat in no case?

12 Then the man said, The woman which thou gauest to be with me, she gaue me of the tree, and I did eat.

13 And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent beguyled me, and I did eat.

14 ¶ Then the Lord God said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed aboue all cattel, and aboue euerie beast of the field: vpon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy life.

15 I wil also put enimitie betwene thee and the woman, & betwene thy seede & her seede. He shall breake thine head, & thou shalt bruise his heele.

16 ¶ Vnto the woman he said, I wil greatly increase thy sorowes, & thy conception. In sorowe shalt thou bring forth the childre, and thy desire shall be subiect to thine husband, and he shall rule ouer thee.

17 ¶ Also to Adam he said, Because thou hast obeyed the voyce of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree (whereof I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it) cursed is the earth for thy sake: in sorowe shalt thou eat of it all the dayes of thy life.

18 ¶ Thornes also, and thyistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the herbe of the field.

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, til thou returne to the earth: for out of it wast thou taken, because thou art dust, and to dust shalt thou returne.

20 (And the man called his wifes name Hcuáh, because she was the mother of all liuing)

21 Vnto Adam also and to his wife did the Lord God make coates of skinnes, and clothed them.

22 ¶ And the Lord God said, Beholde, the man is become as one of vs, to knowe good and euil. And now lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life and eat and liue for euer, 23 Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to til the earth, whence he was taken.

y Adam depriued of life lost also the signs thereof.

Thus he cast out man, and at the Eastside of the garden of Eden he set the Cherubims, and the blade of a sword shakn, to kepe the waye of the tree of life.

23 Lamech a tyrant encourageth his fearful wifes.

26 True religion is restored.

Afterwaide the man knewe Hcuáh his wife, which conceived & bare Káin, & said, I haue obtained a man by the Lord. And againe she brought forth his brother Hábel, and Hábel was a keeper of shepe, & Káin was a tiller of the grounde.

¶ And in proceffe of time it came to passe, that Káin brought an oblation vnto the Lord of the frute of the grounde.

And Hábel also him selfe brought of the first frutes of his shepe, and of the fat of them, and the Lord had respect vnto Hábel, and to his offering,

But vnto Káin and to his offering he had no regarde: wherefore Káin was exceeding wroth, & his countenance fel downe.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance cast downe?

If thou do wel, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not wel, sinne lieth at the dore: also vnto thee his desire shall be subiect, and thou shalt rule ouer him.

¶ Then Káin spake to Hábel his brother. And when they were in the field, Káin rose vp against Hábel his brother, and slew him.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto Káin, Where is Hábel thy brother? Who answered, I can not tel. Am I my brothers keeper?

¶ Againe he said, What hast thou done? the voyce of thy brothers blood cryeth vnto me from the grounde.

¶ Now therefore thou art cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receiue thy brothers blood from thine hand.

¶ When thou shalt til the grounde, it shall not henceforth yelde vnto thee her strength: a vagabonde and a renegate shalt thou be in the earth.

¶ Then Káin said to the Lord, My punishment is greater, then I can beare.

¶ Beholde, thou hast cast me out this day from the earth, and from thy face shall I be hid, and shall be a vagabonde and a renegate in the earth, & whosoever findeth me, shall slay me.

¶ Then the Lord said vnto him, Douteles whosoever slayeth Káin, he shall be punished seven foldes. And the Lord set a mark vpon Káin, lest any man finding him shoulde kil him.

¶ Then Káin went out from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the land of Nod townde the Eastside of Eden.

SO when men began to be multiplied vpon the earth, and there were daughters borne vnto them,

Then the sonnes of God sawe the daughters of men that they were faire, and they toke them wiues of all that they liked.

Therefore the Lord said, My Spirit shal not alway striue with man, because he is but flesh, & his dayes shal be an hundreth and twentie yeres.

There were gyantes in the earth in those dayes: yea, and after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of me, and they had borne them children, these were mightie men, which in olde time were men of renoume.

When the Lord sawe that the wickednes of man was great in the earth, and all the imaginacions of the thoghts of his heart were onely euil continually,

Then it is repeted the Lord, that he had made man in the earth, and he was sorie in his heart.

Therefore the Lord said, I wil destroye from the earth the man, whome I haue created, from man to beast, to the creeping thing, & to the foule of the heauen: for I repent that I haue made them.

And I, beholde, I wil bring a flood of waters vpon the earth to destroye all flesh, wherein is breath of life vnder the heauen: all that is in the earth shal perishi.

But with thee wil I establish my couenant, & thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

And of euerie liuing thing, of all flesh two of euerie sorte shalt thou cause to come into the Arke, to kepe them alieue with thee: they shalbe male and female.

Of euerie ^b cleane beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: but of vncleane beastes by couples, ^y male and his female.

Of the foules also of the heauen by sevens, male and female, to kepe sede aliue vpon the whole earth.

For seuen dayes hence I wil cause it raine vpon the earth fourty dayes & fourty nights, and all the substance that I haue made, wil I destroye from of the earth.

Mat. 24. 37. Luk 17. 26. 1 Pet. 3. 20.

No^aah therefore did according vnto all that the Lord commanded him.

And No^aah was six hundreth yeres olde, when the flood of waters was vpon the earth.

So No^aah entred and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him into the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

Of the cleane beastes, and of the vncleane beastes, and of the foules, & of all that crepeth vpon the earth, c God compelled them to preserue the felues to Noah, as they did before to Adam, when he gaue them names, Chap. 2. 19.

There ^c came two & two vnto No^aah into the Arke, male & female, as God had commanded No^aah.

And so after seuen dayes the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

d Which was about the beginning of Maie, when all things did mooue flourish.

In the six hundreth yere of Noahs life in the ^d seconde moneth, the seuententh day of the moneth, in the same day were all the ^e fountaines of the great depe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened,

e Bothe y waters in y earth did ouerflowe, and also the cloudes powdered aowne.

And the raine was vpon the earth fourty dayes and fourty nights.

In the selfe same day entred No^aah with Shem, & Ham and Iapheth, the sonnes of No^aah, and Noahs wife, and the thre wiues of his sonnes with the into the Arke.

They and euerie beast after his kinde, & all cattel after their kinde, & euerie thing that crepeth and moueth vpon the earth after his kinde, & euerie foule after his kinde, ^{euen} euerie birde of euerie fether.

f Euerie thing that God wolde haue to be preserued on earth, came into the Arke to No^aah.

For they came to No^aah into the Arke, two and two, ^f of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

And they entring in, came male & female of all flesh, as God had comanded him: and the Lord shut him in.

g So y Gods secret power derended him against the rage of y mighty waters.

Then the flood was fourty dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, & bare vp ^y Arke, which was lifte vp aboue the earth.

The waters also waxed strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth, and the Arke went vpon the waters.

The waters ^{preuailed} so exceedingly vpon the earth, that all the high mountaynes, that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

Fiftene cubites vpwarde did the waters preuaile, when the mountaynes were couered.

Then all flesh perished that moued vpon the earth, bothe foule and cattel and beast, & euerie thing that crepeth & moueth vpon the earth, and euerie man.

Euerie thing in whose nostrils the spirit of life did breathe, whatsoeuer they were in the drye land, they dyed.

So ^h he destroyed euerie thing that was vpon the earth, from man to beast, to the creeping thing, and to the foule of the heauen: they were euen destroyed from the earth, and No^aah onely ⁱ remained, & they that were with him in the Arke.

And the waters preuailed vpon the earth an hundreth and fiftie dayes.

h That is, God. i Learne what it is to obey God onely, & to forsake the multitude, 1. Pet. 3. 20.

CHAP. VIII.

13 The flood ceaseth. 16 No^aah is commanded to come forth of the Arke with his. 20 He sacrificeth to the Lord. 22 God. promiseth that all things shal continue in their first order.

Now God ^a remembred No^aah & ^b euerie beast, & all the cattel that was with him in the Arke: therefore God made a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

The fountaines also of the depe & the windowes of heauen were stopped & the raine from heauen was restrained,

And the waters returned from aboue the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundreth and fiftieth day the waters abated.

And in the ^c seuenth moneth, in the seuenth day of the moneth, the Arke ^d rested vpon the mountaynes of ^e Ararat.

And the waters were going & decreasing vntil the ^d tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, & in the first day of the moneth were the toppes of the mountaynes sene.

So ^g after fourty dayes, No^aah opened ^h the windowes of the Arke, which he had made,

And sent forth the ^a rauen, which went out going forth and returning, vntil the waters were dried vp vpon the earth.

Agaime he sent a ^a doue from him, that he might se if the waters were diminished from of the earth.

But the doue founde no rest for the sole of her foote: therefore she returned vnto him into the Arke (for the waters were vpon the whole earth) & he ^e put forth his hand, & toke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.

a Not that God forgetteth his at any time, but when he sendeth such cour, then he sheweth that he remembreth them. b If God remembre euerie brute beast, what ought to be the adurance of his children?

h The rauen is sent forth & returneth.

i He sendeth the doue.

k It is like, y the rauen did flie to and fro, resting on the Arke, but came not in to it, as the doue that was taken in.

10 And he abode yet other seven dayes, and againe he sent forth the doue out of the Arke.

11 And the doue came to him in the euenig, & lo, in her' mouthe was an ^oliue leafe that she had pluckt: whereby No^hah knewe that ^y waters were abated from of ^y earth.

12 Notwithstanding he waited yet other seven dayes, & sent forth the doue, which returned not againe vnto him any more.

13 ¶ And in the six hundreth and one yere, in the first ^{daie} of the ^s first moneth the waters were d^yed vp from of the earth: & No^hah remoued the couering of the Arke & looked, & beholde, the vpper parte of the ground was drye.

14 And in the seconde moneth, in the seven and twentieth day of the moneth was the earth drye.

15 ¶ Then God spake to No^hah, saying,

16 Go forth of ^y Arke, thou & thy wife, & thy sonnes & thy sonnes wiues wth thee.

17 Bring forth the with thee euerie beast that is with thee, of all flesh, ^{bothe} foule and cattel, & euerie thing that creepeth & moueth vpon the earth, that thei maie brede abundantly in the earth, * & bring forth the frute and increase vpon the earth.

18 So No^hah came forth, and his sonnes, & his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him.

19 Euerie beast, euerie creeping thing, & euerie foule, all that moueth vpon the earth after their kindes went out of the Arke.

20 ¶ Then No^hah buylt an altar to ^y Lord and toke of euerie cleane beast, & of euerie cleane foule, and offered burnt offerings vpon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a ^s fauour of rest, & ^y Lord said in his heart, I wil henceforth curse the ground no more for mans cause: for the imaginacion of mans ^h heart is euil, ^{euil} fi^o his youth: nether wil I smite anie more all things liuing, as I haue done.

22 Hereafter ⁱ sede time & haruest, & colde & heate, & sommer and winter, & daie & night shal not cease, so long as the earth remaineth.

CHAP. IX.

1 The confirmacio of marriage 3 Permissio of meates 6 The power of the swordes. 14 The remembrance is the signe of Gods promes 21 No^hah is drunken & mocked of his sonne, whome he curseth. 29 The age & death of No^hah.

And God ^a blessed No^hah & his sonnes, and said to them, Bring forth the frute, and multiplie, and replenish the earth.

Also the ^b feare of you, and the dread of you shalbe vpon euerie beast of the earth, and vpon euerie foule of the heauen, vpon all that moueth on the earth, & vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are thei deliuered.

Euerie ^c thing that moueth & liueth, shalbe meat for you: as ^y grene herbe, haue I giuen you all things.

4 *d But flesh with the life thereof, I ^{mean}e, with the blood thereof, shal ye not eat.

5 * For surely I wil require your blood, wherein your liues are: at the hand of euerie beast wil I require it: and at the hand of man, ^{euil} at the hand of a mans ^b brother wil I require the life of man.

6 Whofo ^a shedeth mans blood, ^f by man shal his blood be shed: for in the ^s image of God hathe he made man.

7 But bring ye forth the frute and multiplie: growe plentifully in the earth, and increase thei in.

8 ¶ God spake also to No^hah & to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Beholde, I, euen I establish my ^b couenāt with you, and with your ⁱ sed: after you,

10 And with euerie liuing creature that is with you, with the foule, with the cattel, & with euerie beast of the earth with you, from all that go out of the Arke, vnto euerie beast of the earth.

11 * And my couenāt wil I establish with you, that from henceforth the all flesh shal not be rooted out by the waters of the flood, nether shal there be a flood to destoye the earth any more.

12 Then God said, This is the token of the couenāt which I make betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing, that is with you vnto perpetual generacions.

13 I haue set my ^b bowe in the cloude, and it shalbe for a signe of the couenāt betwene me and the earth.

14 And when ^a I shal couer the earth with a cloude, and the bowe shal be sene in the cloude, 15 Then wil I remeber my ^b couenāt, which is betwene me and you, & betwene euerie liuing thing in all flesh, & there shalbe no more waters of a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 Therefore ^y bowe shalbe in the cloude, ^y I may se it, & remember the euerlasting couenāt betwene God, and euerie liuing thing in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 God said yet to No^hah, ^m This is the signe of the couenāt, which I haue established betwene me and all flesh that is vpon the earth.

18 ¶ Now the sonnes of No^hah going forth of the Arke, were Shem & Ham & Iapheth. And Ham is the father of Canaan.

19 These are the three sonnes of No^hah, and of them was the ^a whole earth ouerspred.

20 * No^hah also began to be an housband mā and planted a vineyard.

21 And he drōke of ^y wine & was ^a drunkē, & was vncovered in ^y middes of his tent.

22 And when Ham the father ^p of Canaan sawe the nakednes of his father, ⁱ he tolde his two brethren without.

He pronounceth as a Prophet the curse of God against all the, that honour not their parents: for Ham and his posteritie were accursed. That is, a most vile slave. Or, enlarge, or, cause to increase. He declareth that the Gentiles, which came of Iapheth & were separated from the Church, should be joyued to the same by the persuasion of Gods Spirit and preaching of the Gospel.

These generations are here recited partly to declare the marvellous increase in so finite a time, and also to set forth their great forgetfulness of Gods graces toward their fathers. Of Madai, & Iauan came the Medes and Grekes. The Iewes so call all countreys where are separated from the by sea, as Grecia, Italie, &c. were given to the childre of Iapheth, of whome came the Gentiles. Of Cush & Mizraim came the Ethiopians & Egyptians. Meaning, a cruel oppressor & tyrant. His tyrannie came into a people as hated bothe of God and man: for he passed not to commit crueltie euē in Gods presence. For there was another citie in Egypt called also Babel. Or, the Babel of the citie.

Of Iud came the Lydians.

Or, the Cappadocians.

and put it vpon bothe their sholders and wet backward, and covered the nakednes of their father with their faces backward: so they sawe not their fathers nakednes.

- 24 Then Noah awoke from his wine, and knewe what his yonger sonne had done vnto him,
- 25 And said, Cursed be Canaan: a seruant of seruantes shal he be vnto his brethren.
- 26 He said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and let Canaan be his seruant.
- 27 God persuade Iapheth, that he may dwell in the tentes of Shem, and let Canaan be his seruant.
- 28 And Noah liued after the flood thre hundred and fifty yeres.
- 29 So all the dayes of Noah were nine hundred and fifty yeres: and he dyed.

CHAP. X.

The increase of mankinde by Noah and his sonnes. The beginning of cities, countreys and nations.

- 1 Now these are the generations of the sonnes of Noah, Shem, Ham & Iapheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.
- 2 The sonnes of Iapheth were Gomer and Magog, and Madai, and Iauan, and Tubal and Meshech, and Tiras.
- 3 And the sonnes of Gomer, Ashkenaz, and Riphath and Togarmah.
- 4 Also the sonnes of Iauan, Eliphaz and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.
- 5 Of these were the yles of the Gentiles deuised in their landes, euery man after his tongue, and after their families in their nacions.
- 6 Moreover the sonnes of Ham were Cush, and Mizraim, and Put, and Canaan.
- 7 And the sonnes of Cush, Seba and Hauilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtechah: also the sonnes of Raamah were Seba and Dedan.
- 8 And Cush begate Nimrod, who began to be mighty in the earth.
- 9 He was a mighty hunter before the Lord. wherefore it is said, As Nimrod the mighty hunter before the Lord.
- 10 And the beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of Shinar.
- 11 Out of that land came Asshur, & buylded Ninueh, and the citie Rehoboth, and Calah:
- 12 Resen also betwene Ninueh and Calah: this is a great citie.
- 13 And Mizraim begate Ludim, and Ananiam, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim.
- 14 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whome came the Philistims) and Caphtorims.
- 15 Also Canaan begate Zidon his first borne, and Heth,

- 16 And Iebusi, and Emori, and Girgashim,
- 17 And Hiuim, and Aki, and Sinim,
- 18 And Aruadim, and Zemarim, & Hamathim: & afterwarde were the families of the Canaanites spread abroad.
- 19 Then the border of the Canaanites was from Zidon, as thou comest to Gerar vntil Azzah, & as thou goest vnto Sodom, and Gomorah, and Admah, & Zeboiim, euen vnto Lasha.
- 20 These are the sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their tongues in their countreys and in their nacions.
- 21 Vnto Shem also the father of all the sonnes of Eber, and elder brother of Iapheth were children borne.
- 22 The sonnes of Shem were Elam and Asshurim, and Arpachshad, and Lud, and Aram.
- 23 And the sonnes of Aram, Uz & Hul, and Gether and Mash.
- 24 Also Arpachshad begate Shelah, and Shelah begate Eber.
- 25 Vnto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Peleg: for in his dayes was the earth diuided: & his brothers name was Joktan.
- 26 Then Joktan begate Almodad and Shaleph, & Hazarmauth, and Ierah,
- 27 And Hadoram, & Vzai, and Dicklah,
- 28 And Obal, & Abimelech, and Sheba,
- 29 And Ophir, and Hauilah, and Jobab. all these were the sonnes of Joktan.
- 30 And their dwelling was from Mesha, as thou goest vnto Sephar a mount of the East.
- 31 These are the sonnes of Shem according to their families, according to their tongues, in their countreys and nacions.
- 32 These are the families of the sonnes of Noah, after their generations among their people: and out of these were the nacions diuided in the earth after the flood.

CHAP. XI.

The buylding of Babel was the cause of the confusion of tongues. The age and generation of Shem vnto Abram. Abrams departure from Ur with his father Terah, Sarai & Lot. The age and death of Terah.

- 1 Then the whole earth was of one language and one speache.
- 2 And as they went from the East, they founde a plaine in the land of Shinar, & there they abode.
- 3 And they said one to another, Come let vs make brycke, and burne it in the fire. So they had brycke for stone, and fyme had they in steade of morter.
- 4 Also they said, Go to, let vs buylde vs a citie and a tower, whose toppes may reach vnto the heauen, that we may get vs a name, lest we be feared vpon the whole earth.
- 5 But the Lord came downe, to see the citie & tower, which the sonnes of men buylded.

In his stock the Church was preserved therefore Moses leaueth of speaking of Iapheth and Ham, and treateth of Shem more at large. Of whome came the Ebrewees or Iewes. Chro. 1. 1. This diuision came by the diuersitie of languages, as appeareth chap. 11. 9.

because the Lord did there confounde

10 ¶ These are the generacions^k of Shem:
Shem was an hūdreth yere olde, and begate
Arpachshád two yere after the flood.

11 And Shé liued, after he begate Arpachshád, fūe hundreth yeres, and begate son-nes and daughters.

12 Also Arpachshád liued fūe and thirty yeres, and begate Shélah.

13 And Arpachshád liued, after he begate Shélah, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

14 And Shélah liued thirty yeres, and begate Eber.

15 So Shélah liued, after he begate Eber, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

16 Likewise Eber liued foure and thirty yeres, and begate Péleg.

17 So Eber liued, after he begate Péleg, fou-re hundreth and thirty yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

18 And Péleg liued thirty yeres, and begate Reú.

19 ¶ And Péleg liued, after he begate Reú, two hundreth and nine yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

20 Also Reú liued two and thirty yeres, & begate Serúg.

21 So Reú liued, after he begate Serúg, two hundreth and seuen yeres, and begate son-nes and daughters.

22 Moreouer Serúg liued thirty yeres, and begate Nahór.

23 And Serúg liued, after he begate Nahór, two hundreth yeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

24 And Nahór liued nine & twenty yeres, and begate Térah.

25 So Nahór liued, after he begate Térah, an hūdreth and ninetene yeres, and begate
sonnes and daughters.

26 ¶ So Térah liued seuentie yeres, & begate Abrám, Nahór, and Harán.

27 ¶ Now these are y^e generaciōs of Térah: Térah begate^l Abrám, Nahór, & Harán:
and Harán begate Lot.

28 Then Harán dyed before Térah his father in the land of his natiuitie, in Vr of the Caldees.

29 So Abrám and Nahór toke them wiues.
the name of Abráms wife was Sarái, and the name of Nahors wife Milcán, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcán, and the father of^m Iscáh.

30 But Sarái was barren, and had no childe.

31 Thenⁿ Térah toke Abrám his sonne, & Lot the sonne of Harán, his sonnes sonne, and Sarái his daughter in lawe, his sonne Abráms wife: and they departed together from Vr of the Caldees, to^o go into the land of Canáan, and they came to^o Harrán, and dwelt there.

32 So the dayes of Térah were two hundred and fūe yeres, and Térah dyed in Harán.

5 Then Abrám toke Sarái his wife, & Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they possessed, & the^d soules that they had gotten in Harán, and they departed, to go to the land of Canaan. and to the land of Canáan they came.

6 ¶ So Abrám^e passed through y^e land vnto

11 And when he drew nere to entre into Egypt, he said to Sarái his wife, Beholde now, I knowe that thou art a faire woman to loke vpon:

12 Therefore it wil come to passe, that whē the Egyptians se thee, they wil say, She is his wife: so wil they kill me, but they wil kepe thee aliue.

13 Say, I pray thee, & thou art my sister, that I may fare wel for thy sake, and that my life may be preserued by thee.

14 ¶ Now, when Abrám was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the princes of Pharaóh sawe her, and commended her vnto Pharaóh: so the woman was taken into Pharaóhs house:

16 Who intreated Abrám wel for her sake, and he had shepe, and beues, and he asses, and men seruantes and maide seruantes, and she asses, and camelles.

17 But the Lord plagued Pharaóh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarái Abrams wife.

18 Then Pharaóh called Abrám and said, Why hast thou done this vnto me? Wherefore didest thou not tel me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saidest thou, She is my sister, that I shulde take her to be my wife? Now therefore beholde thy wife, take her and go thy way.

20 And Pharaóh gaue men & commanded him concerning him: and they conueied him forthe, and his wife, and all that he had.

CHAP. XII.

1 Abrám departeth out of Egypt. 2 Lot departeth from him. 3 The wickednes of the Sodomites. 4 The promise made to Abram is renewed. 5 Abram buyeth an altar to the Lord.

Then Abrám went vp from Egypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, & Lot with him towards the South.

2 And Abrám was very riche in cattel, in siluer and in golde.

3 And he wēt on his iourney frō the South toward Beth-él, to the place where his tent had bene at the beginning, betwene Beth-él and Haái,

4 Vnto the place of the altar, which he had made there at the first: and there Abrám called on the Name of the Lord.

5 ¶ Lot also, who wēt with Abrám, had shepe cattel and tentes,

6 So that the land coulde not beare them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they coulde not dwell together.

7 Also there was debate betwene the herdmen of Abrams cattel, & the herdmen of Lots cattel. (and the Canaanites & the Perizzites dwelled at that time in the land)

8 Then said Abrám vnto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, betwene thee & me, nether betwene mine herdmen and thine herdmen: for we be brethren.

9 Is not the whole land before thee? departe I pray thee from me: if thou wilt take the left hand, then I wil go to the right: or if thou go to the right hand, then I wil take the left.

10 So when Lot lifted vp his eyes, he sawe the ail the plaine of Iordén was watered euerie where: (for before the Lord destroyed Sodóm and Gomorá, as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou goest vnto Zóar)

11 The Lot chose vnto him all the plaine of Iordén and toke his iourney frō the East: & they departed the one from the other.

12 Abrám dwelled in the land of Canáan, and Lot abode in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent euen to Sodóm.

13 Now the men of Sodóm were wicked & exceeding sinners against the Lord.

14 ¶ The Lord said vnto Abrám, (after that Lot was departed from him) Lift vp thine eyes now, and loke from the place, where thou art, Northward, and Southward, and Eastward, and Westward:

15 For all the land, which thou seest, wil I giue vnto thee and to thy seed for euer, 16 And I wil make thy sede, as the dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shal thy sede be nombred.

17 Arise, walke through the land, in the length thereof, and bredth thereof: for I wil giue it vnto thee.

18 Then Abrám remoued his tent, and came and dwelled in the plaine of Mamré, which is in Hebrón, & buylded there an altar vnto the Lord.

8 And he toke butter & milke, and the calfe, which he had prepared, and set before them, and stode him selfe by them vnder the tre, and they did eat.

e For as God gaue them bodies for a time, so gaue he the y^e iaculites thereof, to walke, to eat and drinke, & such like.

9 ¶ Thē they said to him, Where is Saráh thy wife? And he answered, Beholde, she is in the tent.

25 Be it farre fro thee fro doing this thing, to slay the righteous with the wicked: & that the righteous shulde be euen as the wicked, be it farre from thee. shal not the iudge of all the worlde do right?

26 And the Lord answered, If I shal finde in Sodóm fifty righteous within y citie, the wil I spare all the place for their sakes.

27 Then Abraham answered and said, Beholde now, I haue begonne to speake vnto my Lord, and I am but dust and ashes.

28 If there shal lacke fye of fiftie righteous, wilt y destroe all the citie for fye? And he said, If I finde there fye and fourty, I wil not destroe it.

29 And he yet spake to him againe, and said, What if there shal be founde fourty? Then he answered, I wil not do it for fourties sake.

30 Againe he said, Let not my Lord now be angry y I speake, What if thirtie be founde there? Then he said, I wil not do it, if I finde thirtie there.

31 Moreouer he said, Beholde, now I haue begone to speake vnto my Lord, What if twentie be founde there? And he answered, I wil not destroe it for twentys sake.

32 Then he said, Let not my Lord be now angry, & I wil speak but this once, What if ten be founde there? And he answered, I wil not destroe it for tens sake.

33 And y Lord went his waie when he had left communing with Abraham, & Abraham returned vnto his place.

¶ 3 Lot receiueth two Angels into his house. 4 The filthy lustes of the Sodomites 16 Lot is deliuered 24 Sodóm is destroyed 26. Lots wife is made a pillar of salt 33. Lots daughters lye with their father, of whome come Moab and Ammon.

And in y evening their came two Angels to Sodóm: and Lot sat at the gate of Sodóm, & Lot sawe them, & rose vp to mete them, and he bowed him selfe with his face to the grownd:

2 And he said, Se my Lords, I praie you turne in now into your seruants house, & tarie all night, and wash your fete, and ye shal rise vp early and go your waies. Who said, Naie, but we wil abide in the strete all night.

3 Then he preased vpon them earnestly, and they turned into him, and came to his house, and he made them a feast, and did bake vnleauened bread, and they did eat.

4 But before they went to bed, the men of the citie, euen the men of Sodóm compassed the house round about from the yong to the olde, all the people from all quarters.

5 Who cryig vnto Lot said to him, Where are y men, which came to thee this night? bring them out vnto vs that we maie knowe them.

6 Then Lot went out at y dore vnto them, and shut the dore after him,

7 And said, I praie you, my brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Beholde now, I haue two daughters, w haue not knowen man: the wil I bring out now vnto you, and do to them as semeth you good: onely vnto these men do nothing. for therfore are they come vnder the shadowe of my rose.

9 Then they said, Awaie hence. and they said, He is come alone as a stranger, & shal he iudge and rule? we wil now deale worfe with thee then with them. So they preased fore vpon Lot, him selfe, & came to breake y dore.

10 But the men put forth their hand & pulled Lot into the house to them and shut to the dore.

11 Then they smote the men that were at the dore of y house with blindenes bothe smale and great, so that they were wearie in seeking the dore.

12 ¶ Then the men said vnto Lot, Whome hast thou yet here? ether sonne in lawe or thy sonnes, or thy daughters, or whatsoever thou hast in the citie, bring it out of this place.

13 For we wil destroe this place, because the crie of them is great before y Lord, and the Lord hath sent vs to destroe it.

14 Then Lot went out and spake vnto his sonnes in lawe, which married his daughters, & said, Arise, get you out of this place: for the Lord wil destroe the citie: but he semed to his sonnes in lawe as thogh he had mocked.

15 ¶ And when y morning arose, the Angels halted Lot, saying, Arise, take thy wife and thy two daughters which are here, lest y be destroyed in the punishment of the citie.

o Having before felt Gods mercie, he durst not proooke him againe by continuing among the wicked.

p Meaning, in the countrei, which y^e Lord had now destroyed.

q For except he had bene overcome wth wine, he wolde neuer haue done y^e abominable act.

16 And as he^h prolonged the time, * the men caught bothe him & his wife, and his two daughters by the handes (y^e Lord being merciful vnto him.) & they brought him forthe, & set him without the cite.

17 ¶ And when they had brought the out, the Angel said: escape for thy life: loke not behinde thee, neither tarie thou in all the plaine: escape into the mountaine, lest thou be destroyed.

18 And Lot said vnto them, Not so, I praie thee, my Lord.

19 Beholde now, thy seruant hath founde grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercie, which thou hast shewed vnto me in sauing my life: and I can not escape in the mountaine, lest some euil take me; and I die.

20 Se now this cite: herēby to flee vnto; which is a litle one: Oh let me escape thither: is it not a * litle one, & my soule shal liue?

21 Then he said vnto him, Beholde, I haue receiued thy request also cōcerning this thing, that I wil not ouerthrowe this cite, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Hastē thee, saue thee there: for I cā do nothi^g til thou be come thether. Therefore y^e name of y^e cite was called^m Zōar.

23 ¶ The sunne did rise vpon the earth, whē Lot entered into Zōar.

24 Then the Lord * rained vpon Sodom and vpon Gomorah brimstone, and fire from the Lord out of heauen, 25 And ouerthrewe those cities and all the plaine, & all the inhabitāts of the cities, and that that grewe vpon the earth.

26 ¶ Now his wife behīde him looked backe, and was turned into aⁿ pillar of salt.

27 ¶ And Abraham rising vp early in y^e morning went to y^e place, where he had stand before the Lord, and loking toward Sodom and Gomorah and toward all the land of the plaine:

28 Beholde, he sawe the smoke of the land mounting vp as the smoke of a fornace.

29 ¶ But yet when God destroyed the cities of the plaine, God thought vpon Abraham, and sent Lot out from the middes of the destruction, whē he ouerthrewe the cities, wherein Lot dwelled.

30 ¶ Then Lot went vp frō Zōar, and dwelt in the mountaine with his two daughters: for he^o feared to tarie in Zōar, but dwelt in a caue, he, and his two daughters.

31 And the elder said vnto y^e yonger, Our father is olde, and there is not a man in the earth to come in vnto vs after the maner of all the earth.

32 Come, we wil make our father a drinke wine, and lye with him, that we maie preferue sede of our father.

33 So thei made their father drinke wine y^e night, and the elder went and laie with her father: but he perceiued not, neither when she laie downe, neither when she rose vp.

34 And on the morow the elder said to the yonger, Beholde, yester night laie I with my father: let vs make him drinke wine this night also, and go thou and lye with him, y^e we maie preferue sede of o^r father. Ebr. hope ali.

35 So thei made their father drinke wine y^e night also, and the yonger arose, and laie with him, but he perceiued not, when she laie downe, neither when she rose vp.

36 Thus were^r bothe the daughters of Lot with childe by their father.

37 And the elder bare a sonne, & she called his name Moab: the same is the father of y^e Moabites vnto this daie.

38 And the yonger bare a sonne also, and she called his name Ben-ammi: the same is y^e father of y^e Ammonites vnto this daie.

CHAP. XX.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerar.

2 Abimelech taketh awaie his wife. 3 God reproveth the King. 9 And the King, Abraham. 11 Sarah is restored with great giftes. 17 Abraham praieth, and the King and his are healed.

2 And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, She is my sister. The Abimelech King of Gerar sent and toke Sarah.

3 But God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night and said to him, Beholde, thou art but dead, because of the womā, which thou hast taken: for she is a mans wife.

4 (Notwithstanding Abimelech had not yet come nere her) And he said, Lord, wilt thou slaie euen d^e the righteous nation?

5 Said not he vnto me, She is my sister? yea, and she her selfe said, He is my brother: w^h an vpright minde, and innocēt hāds haue I done this.

6 And God said vnto him by a dreame, I knowe y^e thou didest this euen with an vpright minde, & I kept thee also that thou shuldest not sinne against me: therefore suffred I thee not to touche her.

7 Now then deliuer y^e man his wife againe: for he is a^h Prophet, & heⁱ shal praye for thee y^e thou mayest liue: but if thou deliuer her not againe, be sure y^e thou shalt die the death, thou, & all that thou hast.

8 Then Abimelech rising vp early in the morning called all his seruātes, and tolde all these things vnto them, and the men were sore afraide.

9 Afterward Abimelech called Abraham, and said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs? and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my^k kingdome this great sinne? thou hast done things vnto me that ought not to be done.

16 Likewise to Saráh he said, Behold, I haue giuen thy brother a thousand peces of silver: behold, he is thy vaile of thine eies to all that are with thee, and to all others:
and she was so thus reprovéd.

17 ¶ Then Abrahám praised vnto God, & God healed Abimélech, and his wife, and his maid seruantes: and they bare children.

18 For the Lord had shut vp euerie wombe of the house of Abimélech, because of Saráh A-

CHAP. XXI.

1 Izhák is borne. 9 Ishmaél mocketh Izhák. 14 Hagár is cast out with her sonne. 17 The Angel comforteth Ha-gár. 22 The couenant betwene Abimélech & Abrahám.

1 Now the Lord visited Saráh, as he had said, and did vnto her * according as he had promised.

2 For Saráh conceived, & bare Abrahám a sonne in his olde age, at the same season that God tolde him.

3 And Abrahám called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Saráh bare him, Izhák.

4 Then Abrahám circumcised Izhák his sonne, when he was eight daies olde, * as God had commanded him.

5 So Abrahám was an hundreth yere olde, when his sonne Izhák was borne vnto him.

6 ¶ The Saráh said, God hath made me to reioyce: all that heare wil reioyce with me.

7 Againe she said, Who wolde haue said to Abrahám, that Saráh shulde haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 Then the childe grewe & was weaned: & Abrahám made a great feast the same day that Izhák was weaned.

9 ¶ And Saráh sawe the sonne of Hagár the Egyptiā (which she had borne vnto Abra-hám) * mocking.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abrahám, Cast out this bond woman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shal not be heire with my sonne Izhák.

11 And this thing was very grievous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 ¶ But God said vnto Abrahám, Let it not be grievous in thy sight for the childe, and for thy bond womā: in all that Saráh shal saie vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Izhák shal thy sede be called.

13 As for the sonne of the bond womā, I wil make him a nation also, because he is thy sede.

14 So Abrahám arose vp early in the morning, and toke bread, and a bottel of water, and gaue it vnto Hagár, putting it on her shulder and the childe also, and sent her away: who departing wandied in the wildernes of Beer-sheba.

15 And when the water of the bottel was spent, she cast the childe vnder a certeine tre.

16 Then she went and sate her ouer against him a farre of about a bowe shote: for she said, I wil not se the death of the childe.
and she sate downe ouer against him, and lift vp her voyce and wept.

17 Then God heard the voyce of the childe, and the Angel of God called to Ha-gár from heauen, and said vnto her, What aileth thee, Hagár? feare not, for God hath heard thy voyce of the childe where he is.

18 Arise, take vp the childe, and holde him in thine hand: for I wil make of him a great people.

19 And God opened her eies, & she sawe a well of water: so she went and filled the bottel with water, & gaue the boye drinke.

20 So God was with the childe & he gre-we and dwelt in the wildernes, and was an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wildernes of Parán, and his mother toke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 ¶ And at that same time Abimélech and Phichól his chief captaine spake vnto A-brahám, saying, God is with thee in all thou doest.

23 Now therefore sweare vnto me here by God, that thou wilt not hurt me, nor my children, nor my childrens children: thou shalt deale with me, and with my countrie, where thou hast bene a stranger, according vnto the kindenes that I haue shewed thee.

24 Then Abrahám said, I wil sweare.

25 And Abrahám rebuked Abimélech for a well of water, which Abimélechs seruantes had violently taken away.

26 And Abimélech said, I knowe not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest me not, nether heard I of it but this daie.

3 Then Abrahám rose vp early in the morning, and saddled his asse, and toke two of his seruants with him, and Izhák his sonne, and cloued wood for the burnt offering, and tose vp and went to the place, which God had tolde him.

4 ¶ Then y third day Abrahám lift vp his eyes, and sawe the place a farre of,

5 And said vnto his seruants, Abide you here w the asse: for I & the childe wil go y order & worship, & come againe vnto you.

6 Then Abrahám toke the wood of y burnt offering, & laied it vpon Izhák his sonne, & he toke the fire in his hand, & the knife: and they went bothe together.

7 Then spake Izhák vnto Abrahám his father, & said, My father. And he answered, Here am I, my sonne. And he said, Beholde the fire & the wood, but where is the lambe for the burnt offering?

8 The Abrahám answered, My sonne, God wil prouide him a lambe for a burnt offering: so they went bothe together.

9 When they came to y place w God had shewed hi, Abrahám buylded an altar there, & couched y wood, & boud Izhák his sonne, & laied him on y altar vpon y wood.

10 And Abrahám stretching forth his hand, toke the knife to kil his sonne.

11 But y Angel of the Lord called vnto him from heauē, saying, Abrahám, Abrahám.

12 Then he said, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, neither do anie thing vnto him: for now I knowe that thou fearest God, seing for my sake thou hast not spared thine onely sonne.

13 And Abrahám lifting vp his eyes, looked: & beholde, there was a ram behinde him caught by y hornes in a bushe. then Abrahám wēt & toke the ram & offered him vp for a burnt offering in y stede of his sonne.

14 And Abrahám called the name of that place, "Iehouáh-in-eh. as it is said this day, In the mount wil the Lord be sene.

15 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord cryed vnto Abrahám from heauen the seconde time,

16 And said, By my selfe haue I swoine (saith y Lord) because thou hast done this thing, & hast not spared thine onely sonne, 17 Therefore wil I surely blesse thee, and wil greatly multiplie thy sede, as y starres of the heauen, and as y sande which is vpon the seashore, and thy sede shal possesse the gate of his enemies.

18 ¶ And in thy sede shal all y naciōs of the earth be blessed, because thou hast obeyed my voyce.

19 Then turned Abrahám againe vnto his seruants, and they rose vp and went together to Beer-sheba: and Abrahám dwelt at Beer-sheba.

20 ¶ And after these things one tolde Abrahám, saying, Beholde Milcáh, she hath also borne children vnto thy brother Nahór:

21 To wit, Vz his eldest sonne, & Buz his brother, & Kemuél the father of Arám, 22 And Chesed and Hazó, & Pildásh, & Iid lách, and Bethuél.

23 And Bethuél begate Rebekáh: these eight did Milcáh beare to Nahór Abrahams brother.

24 And his concubine called Reumah, she bare also Tébah, & Gáhan & Tháhah & Maacháh. CHAP. XXIII.

13 And spake vnto Ephrón in the audience of the people of the countrey, saying, Seing y wilt giue it, I pray thee, heare me, I will giue y price of the field: receiue it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 Ephrón then answered Abrahám, saying vnto him,

^e The common shekel is about 20 pence, so the 400 shekels mount to 33 li 6 shill & 8 pence, after 5 shill sterl. the ounce.

15 My Lord, hearken vnto me: y land is worthe four húdred shekels of siluer: what n y be twene me & thee: bury therefore thy dead.

16 So Abrahám hearkened vnto Ephrón, & Abrahám weyed to Ephrón the siluer, which he had named, in the audience of the Hittites, ^euen foue húdred siluer shekels of currant money among marchātes.

^g Ebr come into dayes.

NOW Abrahám was olde, and stricken in yeres, and the Lord had blessed Abrahám in all things.

3 Therefore Abrahám said vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, ^a Put now thine hand vnder my thigh,

3 And I wil make thee b sweare by the Lord God of y heauen, & God of y earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Canaanites among whome I dwell.

4 But thou shalt go vnto my c countrey, & to my kinred, & take a wife vnto my sonne Izhák.

5 And the seruant said to him, What if the woman wil not come w me to this land: shal I bring thy sonne againe vnto the lād from whence thou camest?

6 To whome Abrahám answered, Beware y y bring not my sonne d thither againe.

7 ¶ The Lord God of heauen, who toke me from my fathers house, & from y lād where I was borne, and that spake vnto me, & that sware vnto me, saying, ^e Vnto thy fede wil I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Neuertheles if the womā wil not followe thee, then shalt thou be ^e discharged of this mine othe: onely bring not my sonne thither againe.

9 Then the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abrahám his master, & sware to him for this matter.

10 ¶ So the seruant toke ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed: for he had all his masters goods in his hād, & so he arose, and went to Aíám Naharám, vnto the e citie of Nahór.

11 And he made his camels to lie downe without the citie by a well of water, at euen about the time that women come out to drawe water.

12 And he said, O Lord God of my master Abrahám, I beseeche thee, send me good speed this day, and shewe mercie vnto my master Abrahám.

13 Lo, I stand by the well of water, whiles the mēs daughters of this citie come out to drawe water.

she went downe to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came vp.

17 Then the seruant ran to mete her, and said, Let me drinke, I praye thee a little water of thy pitcher.

18 And she said, Drinke $\hat{y}$ fyr: and she hasted, & let downe her pitcher vpon her hand & gaue him drinke.

19 And when she had giuen him drinke, she said, I wil drawe water for thy camels also vntil they haue dronken ynough.

20 And she poued out her pitcher into the trough spedely, and ranne againe vnto the well to drawe water, and she drewe for all his camels.

21 So the man wondred at her, and helde his peace, to wite, whether the Lord had made his iourney prosperous or not.

22 And when the camels had left drinking, the man toke a golden $\hat{y}$ abillement of halfe a shekel weight, & two braceletes for her hands, of te shekels weight of golde:

23 And he said, Whose daughter art thou? tel me, I praie thee, Is there roume in thy fathers house for vs to lodge in?

24 Then she said to him, I am $\hat{y}$ daughter of Bethuél the sonne of Milcáh whome she bare vnto Nahór.

25 Morcouer she said vnto him, We haue lytter also and prouander ynough, and roume to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed him selfe and worshipped the Lord,

27 And said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abrahám, $\hat{y}$ hath not withdrawn his mercie $\hat{y}$ and his trueth from my master: for whē I was in $\hat{y}$ waie, $\hat{y}$ Lord broght me to my masters brethens house.

28 And the maide ran & tolde them of her mothers house according to these wordes.

29 ¶ Now Rebekáh had a brother called Labán, & Labán ran vnto $\hat{y}$ mā to the well.

30 For when he had sene the earrings & the braceletes in his sisters hands, & when he heard the wordes of Rebekáh his sister, saying, Thus said the man vnto me, then he went to the man, & lo $\hat{y}$ he stode by the camels at the well.

31 And he said, Come i $\hat{y}$ blessed of $\hat{y}$ Lord: wherfore standest $\hat{y}$ without, seing I haue prepared the house, & roume for $\hat{y}$ camels?

32 ¶ Then $\hat{y}$ man came into $\hat{y}$ house, and he vnshaded the $\hat{y}$ camels and broght lytter & prouander for the camels, and water to washe his fete, & the mens fete that were with him.

33 Afterward the meat was set before him: but he said, I wil not eat, vntil I haue said my message: And he said, Speake on.

34 Then he said, I am Abrahams seruant,

35 And the Lord hath $\hat{y}$ blessed my master wonderfully, that he is become great: for he hath giuen him shepe, and beues, & siluer, and golde, and men, seruantes, & maide seruantes, and camels, and asses.

36 And Saráh my masters wife hath borne a sonne to my master, whē she was olde, & vnto him hath he giue all that he hath.

37 Now my master made me sweare, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my sonne of the daughters of the $\hat{y}$ Canaanites, in whose land I dwel:

38 But thou shalt go vnto my $\hat{y}$ fathers house and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne.

39 Then I said vnto my master, What if the woman wil not followe me?

40 Who answered me, The Lord, before whome I walke, wil send his Angel with thee, and prosper thy iourney, and thou shalt take a wife for my sonne of my kindred and my fathers house.

41 Then shalt $\hat{y}$ be discharged of $\hat{y}$ mine othe, when thou comest to my kinred: and if they giue thee not one, thou shalt be fre from mine othe.

42 So I came this daie to the well, and said, O Lord, the God of my master Abrahám, if $\hat{y}$ now prosper my $\hat{y}$ iourney which I go,

43 Beholde, $\hat{y}$ I stand by the well of water: when a virgine commeth forthe to drawe water, & I saie to her, Giue me, I praie thee, a litle water of thy pitcher to drinke, 44 And she saie to me, Drinke $\hat{y}$, and I wil also drawe for thy camels, let her be the wife, which the Lord hath $\hat{y}$ prepared for my masters sonne.

45 And before I had made an end of speaking in mine $\hat{y}$ heart, beholde, Rebekáh came forthe, and her pitcher on her shuldre, & she went downe vnto the well, and drewe water. Thē I said vnto her, Giue me drinke, I praie thee.

46 And she made haste, and toke downe her pitcher from her shuldre, and said, Drinke, & I wil giue thy camels drinke also. So I dranke, & she gaue the camels drinke also.

47 Then I asked her, & said, Whose daughter art $\hat{y}$? And she answered, The daughter of Bethuél Nahors sonne, whome Milcáh bare vnto him. Then I put the abillement vpon her face, and the braceletes vpon her handes:

48 ¶ And I bowed downe & worshipped $\hat{y}$ Lord, and blessed the Lord God of my master Abrahám, which had broght me $\hat{y}$ right waie to take my masters brothers daughter vnto his sonne.

49 Now therefore, if ye wil deale $\hat{y}$ mercifully and truly with my master, tel me: and if not, tel me that I maie turne me to the $\hat{y}$ right hand or to the left.

50 Then answered Labán and Bethuél, & said, $\hat{y}$ This thing is proceded of the Lord: we can not therefore saie vnto thee, $\hat{y}$ neither euil nor good.

5 Because that Abraham * obeyed my voy- ce and kept mine * ordinance, my com- mandemētes, my statutes, and my Lawes.

6 ¶ So Izhák dwelt in Gerár.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife, & he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest, said he, the men of the place shulde kil me, be- cause of Rebekah: for she was beautiful to the eie.

8 So after he had bene there long time, Abimélech King of the Philistims looked out at a window, and lo, he sawe Izhák * sporting with Rebekáh his wife.

9 Then Abimélech called Izhák, and said, Lo, she is of a suretie thy wife, & why saidst y^e, She is my sister: To whome Izhák answered, Because I thought thus, It mae be that I shal die for her.

10 Then Abimélech said, Why hast thou done this vnto vs? one of the people had almost lien by thy wife, so shuldest thou haue brought * sinne vpon vs.

11 Thē Abimélech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man, or his wife, shal die the death.

12 Afterward Izhák sowed in that land, and founde in the same yere an * hūdreth folde by estimacion: and so y^e Lord blessed him.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and * stil increased, til he was exceding great,

14 For he had flockes of shepe, and herdes of cattel, and a mightie household: therefore the Philistims had * enuie at him, 15 In so muche that y^e Philistims stopped & filled vp with earth all the wells which his fathers seruants digged in his father Abra- hams time.

16 Then Abimélech said vnto Izhák, Get thee from vs, for thou art mightier thē we a great deale.

17 ¶ Therefore Izhák departed thēce & pit- ched his tent in the * vallei of Gerár, and dwelt there.

18 And Izhák returning, digged the wel- les of water, which thei had digged in the dayes of Abraham his father: for the Phi- listims had stopped them after the death of Abraham, & he gaue thē the same na- mes, which his father gaue them.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the val- lei, & found there a well of liuing water.

20 But the herd men of Gerár did strue wth Izhaks herd mé sayīg, The water is ours: therefore called he the name of the well * Esék, because thei were at strif wth him.

21 Afterward thei digged another well, and stroue for that also, and he called the na- me of it * Sitnáh.

22 Then he remoued thence, & digged an other well, for the wth thei stroue not: there-

^g Iakób getteth the blessing from Esáu by his mo-pittie him. 41 Esáu hateth Iakób and threateneth his death. 43 Rebekáh sendeth Iakób awaie.

^g And when Izhák was olde, & his eies were dimme (so that he colde not se) he called Esáu his eldest sonne, and said vnto him, My sonne. And he answered him, "I am here."

^g Ebr. 2. 1.

2 Then he said, Beholde, I am now olde and knowe not the daie of my death:

3 Wherefore now, I praie thee take thine

4 Then make me sauourie meat, such as I loue, and bring it me that I maie eat, and ^g my ^a soule maie blesse thee, before I dye.

5 (Now Rebekah heard, when Izhák spake to Esáu his sonne) and Esáu went into the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ Then Rebekáh spake vnto Iakób her sonne, saying, Beholde, I haue heard thy father talking wth Esáu thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me sauourie meat, that I maie eat and blesse thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Now therefore, my sonne, heare my voyce in that which I commande thee.

9 Get thee now to the flocke, & bring me thence two good kyds of the goates, that I maie make pleasant meat of them for thy father, such as he loueth.

10 Then thou shalt bring it to thy father, and he shal eat, to the intent, that he maie blesse thee before his death.

11 But Iakób said to Rebekáh his mother, Beholde, Esáu my brother is rough, and I am smothe.

12 My father maie possibly fele me, and I

14 So he went and fet them, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made pleasant meat, such as his father loued.

15 And Rebekáh toke faire clothes of her elder sonne Esáu, which were in her house, and clothed Iakób her yonger sonne:

16 And she couered his hands and the smothe of his necke with the skinnies of the kyds of the goates.

17 Afterwarde she put the pleasant meat and bread, which she had prepared, in the hand of her sonne Iakób.

18 ¶ And whē he came to his father, he said, who art thou, my sonne?

19 And Iakób said to his father, ^d I am E-brought it to mine hand.

21 Againē said Izhák vnto Iakób, Come

Thus

- 5 Thus Izhák sent forth the Iaakób, and he went to Padán Arám vnto Labán sonne of Bethuél the Aramite, brother to Rebekáh, Iaakobs and Esaus mother.
- 6 ¶ Whē Esau sawe that Izhák had blessed Iaakób, and sent him to Padán Arám, to fet him a wife thence, and giuen him a charge when he blessed him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan,
- 7 And that Iaakób had obeyed his father & his mother, & was gone to Padán Arám:
- 8 Also Esau being y the daughters of Canaan displeased Izhák his father,
- 9 Then went Esau to Ishmaél, & toke vnto y wiuēs, which he had, Mahaláth the daughter of Ishmaél Abrahams sonne, the sister of Nabaióth, to be his wife.
- 10 ¶ Now Iaakób departed frō Beer-sheba, and went to Harán,
- 11 And he came vnto a certaine place, & tarried there all night, because y sonne was downe, and toke of the stones of the place and lared vnder his head and slept in the same place.
- 12 Then he dreamed, and beholde, there stode a ladder vpon the earth and the top of it reached vp to heauen: and lo, the Angels of God went vp and downe by it.
- 13 ¶ And beholde, the Lord stode aboue it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, & the God of Izhák: the land, vpon the which thou sleepest, wil I giue thee and thy sede.
- 14 And thy sede shal be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spreade abroad* to y West, and to the East, and to the North, and to the South, and in thee and in thy sede shal all the families of the earth be blessed.
- 15 And lo, I am with thee, & wil kepe thee whither soeuer thou goest, and wil bring thee againe into this land: for I wil not forsake thee vntil I haue performed that, that I haue promised thee.
- 16 ¶ Then Iaakób awoke out of his slepe, and said, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.
- 17 And he was afraid and said, How fearful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.
- 18 Then Iaakób rose vp early in the morning, and toke the stone that he had lared vnder his head, and set it vp as a pillar, and powred oyle vpon the top of it.
- 19 And he called the name of that place Beth-él: notwithstaunding the name of the cite was at the first called Luz.
- 20 Then Iaakób vowed a vowe, saying, If God wil be with me, and wil kepe me in this iourney which I go, and wil giue me bread to eat, and clothes to put on:
- 21 So that I come againe vnto my fathers house in safety, then shal the Lord be my God.
- 22 And this stone, w I haue set vp as a pillar, shal be Gods house: & of all that y shal giue me, wil I giue the tenth vnto thee.

- 3 And thither were all y flockes gathered, and they rolled the stone from the welles mouthe, and watered the shepe, and put the stone againe vpon the welles mouthe in his place.

& said, Come in to me, for I haue bought and payed for thee with my sonnes man-

18 The said Leáh, God hath giuen me my rewarde, because I gaue my maide to my housband, & she called his name Issachár.

19 After, Leáh conceived againe, and bare Iaakób the sixt sonne.

20 The Leáh said, God hath endued me wth a good dowrie: now wil mine housbād dwell with me, because I haue borne him six sones: & she called his name Zebulún.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dináh.

22 ¶ And God remembred Rahél, and God heard hei, and opened hei wombe.

23 So she conceived and bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my rebuke.

24 And she called his name Ioséph, saying, The Lord wil giue me yet another sonne.

25 ¶ And as Rahél had borne Ioséph, Iaakób said to Labán, Séd me away that I may go vnto my place and to my countrey.

26 Giue me my wiues and my children, for whome I haue serued thee, and let me go: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To whome Labán answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy sight, tari: I haue perceiued that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wages, and I wil giue it thee.

29 But he said vnto hi, Thou knowest, what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel hath bene vnder me.

30 For the litle, that thou haddest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee by my coming: but now whe shal I trauel for mine owne house also?

31 Then he said, What shal I giue thee? And Iaakób answered, Thou shalt giue me nothing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil returne, fede, and kepe thy shepe.

32 I wil passe though all thy flockes this day, and separat from them all the shepe with litle spotted and great spotted, & all blacke lambes among the shepe, and the great spotted, and litle spotted among the goates: and it shal be my wages.

33 So shal my righteousness answere for me hereafter, when it shal come for my rewarde before thy face, & euery one that hath not litle or great spotted among the goates, and blacke among the shepe, the same shal be theft with me.

34 Then Labán said, Go to, wolde God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he toke out the same day the he goates that were party coloured and with great spotted, and all the she goates with litle and great spotted, and all y^e had white in the, and all the blacke among y^e shepe, & put the in y^e keeping of his sonnes.

36 And he set thre dares iourney betwene him selfe and Iaakób. & Iaakób kept the lest of Labans shepe.

37 ¶ Then Iaakób toke rodde of grene poplar, and of hasel, and of the chefnut tre, and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the rodde.

38 Then he put y^e rodde, which he had pilled, in the gutters and watering troghes, when the shepe came to drinke, before y^e shepe: (for thei were in heate, when thei came to drinke)

39 And the shepe were in heate before the rodde, & afterward brought forth the yong of party colour, and with smale & great spotted.

40 And Iaakób parted these lambes, and turned the faces of the flocke towards these lambes party coloured and all maner of blacke, among the shepe of Labán: so he put his owne flockes by them selues, & put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euery ramming tyme of the stronger shepe, Iaakób laied the rodde before the eyes of the shepe in the gutters y^e thei might conceiue before the rodde.

42 But when the shepe were feble, he put them not in: and so y^e febler were Labans, and the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man encreased exceedingly, and had manie flockes, and maide seruants, and men seruants, and camels and asses.

1 Now he heard the wordes of Labáns sonnes, saying, Iaakób hath takē away all that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath he gottē all this honour.

2 Also Iaakób behelde the countenance of Labán, that it was not towards him as in times past:

3 And the Lord had said vnto Iaakób, Turne againe into the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred, and I wil be with thee.

4 Therefore Iaakób sent and called Rahél and Leáh to the field vnto his flocke.

5 The said he vnto them, I fe your fathers countenance, that it is not towards me as it was wonte, and the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye knowe that I haue serued your father with all my might.

CHAP. XXXII.

¹ God comforteth Iaakób by his Angels. ⁹⁻¹⁰ He prayeth vnto God confessing his Unworthines. ¹³ He sendeth presentes vnto Esáu. ²⁴⁻²⁸ He wrestled with the Angel who nameth him Israel.

^a He acknowledgeth Gods benefites: who for the preservation of his seedeth hostes of Angels.

² And when Iaakób sawe them, he said, ^a This is Gods host, & called the name of the same place ^q Mahanáim.

³ Then Iaakób sent messengers before him to Esáu his brother, vnto the land of Seir into the countrey of Edóm:

⁴⁰ Or, ^r mal

⁴ To whome he gaue commandemēt, saying, Thus shal ye speake to my ^b lord Esáu: Thy seruant Iaakób saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Labán & taried vnto this time.

^b He reuerenced his brother in worldly things, because he chafely looked to be preferred to ^y spiritual promise.

⁵ I haue beues also & asses, shepe, & men seruantes, and women seruantes, and haue sent to shewe my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

⁷ Then Iaakób was ^c greatly afraid, and was sore troubled, & deuided the people that was with him, and the shepe, and the beues, and the camels into two cōpanies.

⁸ For he said, if Esáu come to the one companie and smite it, the other companie shal escape.

¶ Moreover Iaakób said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Izhák: Lord, which saidest vnto me, Returne vnto thy countrei & to thy kined, and I wil do thee good,

¹⁰ I am not ^r worthe of the least of all the mercies & all the truth, which thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant: For ^w my ^d staffe came I ouer this Iordén, and now haue I gotten two bandes.

²⁰ ^r I am lesse then all thy mercies.

¹¹ I pray thee, Deliuer me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esáu: for I feare him, lest he wil come and smite me, & the ^e mother vpon the children.

^d That is, poore, & without all prouision.

¹² For ^y saidest, I wil surely do thee good, and make thy fede as the sand of the sea, which can not be nombred for multitude.

¹³ ¶ And he taried there the same night, & toke of that which came to hand, a ^f presente for Esáu his brother:

^e Meaning, he wil put all to death: thus prouerbe cometh of them which kille the birds together with her young ones
^f Not distrusting Gods assistance, but vnting such means as God had giue him.

¹⁵ Thirty milche camels with their coltes, fourtie kine, & ten bullockes, twentie she asses and ten foles.

¹⁸ Then thou shalt say, they be thy seruant Iaakobs: it is a presente sent vnto my lord Esáu: and beholde, he him selfe also is behinde vs.

19 So likewise commanded he the seconde & the third, & all that followed the droves, saying, After this maner, ye shal speake vnto Esáu, when ye finde him.

20 And ye shal say moreouer, Beholde, thy seruant Iaakób commeth after vs (for he thought, I wil appease his wrath with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I wil see his face: it may be that he wil accept me)

21 So went the present before him: but he taried that night with the companie.

22 And he rose vp the same night, and toke his two wiues, and his two maides, and his eleue children, & went ouer the forde Iabbók.

23 And he toke them, & sent them ouer the riuer, & sent ouer that he had.

24 ¶ When Iaakób was left him selfe alone, there wrestled a man with him vnto the breaking of the day.

25 And he sawe that he coulde not preuaile against him: therefore he touched y^e hollow of his thigh, & the hollow of Iaakobs thigh was loosed, as he wrestled with him.

26 And he said, Let me go, for y^e morning appeareth. Who answered, *I wil not let thee go except thou bleesse me.

27 Then said he vnto him, What is thy name? And he said, Iaakób.

28 Then said he, *Thy name shal be called Iaakób no more, but Israël: because thou hast had * power with God, thou shalt also preuaile with men.

29 Then Iaakób demaied, saying, Tel me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore now dost thou aske my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And Iaakób called the name of the place, Peniél: for, said he, I haue sene God face to face, and my life is preserued.

31 And the sunne rose to him as he passed Peniél, and he halted vpon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Israël eat not of the finew that shanke in the hollow of the thigh, vnto this day: because he touched the sinew that shanke in the hollow of Iaakobs thigh.

4. Esáu and Iaakób mete and are agreed. 11. Esáu receiueth his gifts. 19. Iaakób byeth a possession. 20. And buyeth an altar.

1 And as Iaakób lift vp his eyes, and looked, beholde, Esáu came, and with him foure hundred men: and he deuoted the children to Leah, and to Rahél, and to the two maides.

2 And he put the maides, & their children formost, and Leah and her children after, and Rahél, and Ioséph hindermost.

3 So he went before the, and bowed him selfe to the grounde seven times, vntil he came nere to his brother.

4 Then Esáu ran to mete him and embraced him, and fel on his necke and kissed him, and they wept.

5 And he lift vp his eyes, and sawe the women, and the children, and said, Who are these with thee? And he answered, They are y^e childre whome God of his grace hath giuen thy seruant.

6 Then came y^e maides nere, they, and their children, and bowed them selues.

7 Leah also with her children came nere and made obeisance, and after Ioséph & Rahél drewe nere and did reuerence.

8 Then he said, What meanest thou by all this droue, which I met? Who answered, I haue sent it, that I maie finde fauour in y^e sight of my lord.

9 And Esáu said, I haue ynough, my brother: kepe that thou hast to thy selfe.

10 But Iaakób answered, Nay, I pray thee: if I haue founde grace now in thy sight, then receiue my present at mine hand: for I haue sene thy face, as though I had sene the face of God, because thou hast accepted me.

11 I praie thee take my * blessing, that is brought thee: for God hath had mercie on me, & therefore I haue all things: so he compelled him, and he toke it.

12 And he said, Let vs take our iourney & go, and I wil go before thee.

13 Then he answered him, My lord knoweth, that the children are tendre, and the ewes & kine with yong vnder mine hand: & if they shulde ouerdriue them one day, all the flocke wolde dye.

14 Let now my lord go before his seruāt, and I wil driue softly, according to the passe of the cattel, which is before me, and as the children be able to endure, vntil I come to my lord vnto Seir.

15 Then Esáu said, I wil leaue the some of my folke with thee. And he answered, What needeth this? let me finde grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Esáu returned, and went his way that same day vnto Seir.

17 And Iaakób went forward towarde Succóth, & buyt him an house, and made bootches for his cattel: ther efore he called the name of the place Succóth.

18 ¶ Afterwarde, Iaakób came safe to Shechem a citie, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan Arám, and pitched before the citie.

19 And there he bought a parcel of groude, where he pitched his tent, at the hand of the sonnes of Hamór Shchems father, for an hundred pieces of money.

20 And he set vp there an altar, and called it, The mightie God of Israël.

1 Then Dináh the daughter of Leáh, which she bare vnto Iaakób, wēt out to se the daughters of that countrey.

2 Whome when Shechém the sonne of Hamóí the Hiuite lord of that countrie sawe, he toke her, and lay wth her, & defiled her.

3 So his heart claue vnto Dináh y^e daughter of Iaakób: and he loued the maide, & spake kindly vnto the maide.

4 Thē said Shechém to his father Hamór, saying, Get me this maide to wife.

5 (Now Iaakób heard that he had defiled Dináh his daughter, and his sonnes were with his cattel in y^e field: therefore Iaakób helde his peace, vntill they were come)

6 ¶ Then Hamóí the father of Shechém went out vnto Iaakób to commune with him.

7 And when the sonnes of Iaakób were come out of the field and heard it, it grieved the men, & they were very angrie, because he had wrought vilennie in Israël, in that he had liē with Iaakób's daughter: which thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hamór cōmuned with them, saying, The soule of my sonne Shechém longeth for your daughter: giue her him to wife, I pray you.

9 So make affinitie wth vs: giue your daughters vnto vs, and take our daughters vnto you,

10 And ye shal dwel with vs, and the land shal be before you: dwel, and do your busines in it, and haue your possessions therein.

11 Shechém also said vnto her father and vnto her biethren, Let me finde fauour in your eyes, and I wil giue whatsoeuer ye shal appoint me.

12 Aske of me abundantly bothe dowrie and giftes, & I wil giue as ye appoint me, so that ye giue me the maide to wife.

13 Thē the sonnes of Iaakób answered Shechém and Hamór his father, talking among them selues deceitfully, because he had defiled Dináh their sister, 14 And they said vnto them, We can not do this thing, to giue our sister to an vn-circumcised man: for that were a reprofe vnto vs.

15 But in this wil we consent vnto you, if ye wil be as we are, that euēie mā childe among you be circumcised:

16 Then wil we giue our daughters to you, and we wil take your daughters to vs, and wil dwel with you, and be one people.

17 But if ye wil not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then wil we take our daughter & departe.

18 Now their wordes pleased Hamór, and Shechém Hamór's sonne.

19 And the yong man deferred not to do the thing because he loued Iaakób's daughter: he was also the moste set by of all his fathers house.

20 ¶ Then Hamór and Shechém his sonne went vnto the gate of their citie, & cōmuned with the men of their citie, saying, These men are peaceable with vs: & y^e they may dwel in the land, and do their affaires therein (for beholde, the land hath roume ynough for them) let vs take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.

21 Onely herein wil y^e men consent vnto vs for to dwel with vs, and to be one people, if all the men children among vs be circumcised as they are circumcised.

22 Shal not their flockes and their substance and all their cattel be ours onely let vs consent herein vnto thē, and they wil dwel with vs.

23 And vnto Hamór, & Shechém his sonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie: and all the men children were circumcised, euen all that went out of the gate of his citie.

24 And on the thurd day (when thē were fore) two of the sonnes of Iaakób, Simeón and Leuí, Dináh's brethren toke e-ther of them his sworde & went into the citie boldely, and slewe euerie male.

25 Thei slewe also Hamór and Shechém his sonne with the edge of the sworde, & toke Dináh out of Shechems house, and went their way.

26 Againe the other sonnes of Iaakób came vpon the dead, and spoiled the citie, because they had defiled their sister.

27 Thei toke their shepe, and their beues, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the citie, and in the fields.

28 Also they caried away captiue and spoiled all their goods, and all their children and their wiues, and all that was in the houses.

29 Then Iaakób said to Simeón and Leuí, Ye haue troubled me, & made me stinke among the inhabitants of the land, as wel the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, and I being fewe in nombre, they shal gather them selues together against me, and slay me, and so shal I, and my house be destroyed.

30 And they answered, Shulde he abuse our sister as a whore?

Then a God said to laakób, Arise, go vp to Beth-él & dwel there, & make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee, * whē thou fleddest from Esāu thy brother.

2 Then said laakób vnto his housholde & to all that were with him, Put away the strāge gods that are among you, & c^blenſe your selues, and change your garments:

3 For we wil rise and go vp to Beth-él, and I wil make an altar there vnto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulacion, & was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto laakób all the strā-ge gods, which were in their hands, and all their e^carings which were in their eares, and laakób hid them vnder an oke, which was by Shechem.

5 Then they went on their journey, and the d^fscare of God was vpon the cities, that were round about them: so that they did not followe after the sonnes of laakób.

6 ¶ So came laakób to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan: (the same is Beth-él) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he buylt there an altar, & * had called the place, The God of Beth-él, because that God appeared vnto him there, whē he fled from his brother.

8 Then Deborah Rebekahs nurse dyed, and was buried beneth Beth-él vnder an oke: and he called the name of it^e Allōn bachúth.

9 ¶ Againe God appeared vnto laakób, after he came out of Padan Arām, and blessed him.

10 Moreouer God said vnto him, Thy name is laakób: thy nameshal be no more called laakób, but^f Israel shalbe thy name: and he called his name Israel.

11 Againe God said vnto him, I am God all sufficiēt. growe, & multiplie: a nation & a multitude of natiōs shal sprig of thee, and Kings shal come out of thy loynes.

12 Also I wil giue y^g land, which I gaue to Abraham and Izhák, vnto thee: & vnto thy sede after thee wil I giue that land.

13 So God^h ascended from him in the place where he had talked with him.

14 And laakób set vp a pillar in the place where he talked with him, a pillar of stone, and powred drinke offering thereon: also he powred oyle thereon.

15 And laakób called the name of the place, where God spake with him, Beth-él.

16 ¶ Then they departed from Beth-él, & whē there was about halfe a daies journey of grounde to come to Ephrath, Rahel trauailed, and in trauailing she was in peril.

17 And when she was in peines of her labour, the midwife said vnto her, Feare not: for thou shalt haue this sonne also.

18 Then as she was about to yelde vp the goste (for she dyed) she called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Beniamin.

19 Thus dyed Rahel, & was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Beth-léhem.

20 And laakób set a^g pillar vpon her graue: This is the pillar of Rahels graue vnto
this day.

21 ¶ Thē Israel went forward, & pitched his tent beyonde Migdal-éder.

22 Now, when Israel dwelt in that land, Reuben went, and laye^h with Bilhah his fathers concubine, and it came to Isaacs eare. And laakób had twelue sonnes.

23 The sonnes of Leah: Reuben laakobs eldest sonne, and Simeon, & Leui, & Iudáh, & Issachar, & Zebulun.

24 The sonnes of Rahel: Ioseph and Beniamin.

25 And yⁱ sonnes of Bilhah Rahels maide:
Dan and Naphtali.

26 And the sonnes of Zilpah Leahs maide:
Gad and Asher. these are the sonnes of laakób, which were borne him in Padan Arām.

27 ¶ Then laakób came vnto Izhák his father to Mamré a citie of Arbáh: this is Hebrón, where Abraham and Izhák were strangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhák were an hundredth and foure score yeres.

29 And Izhák gaue vp the goste and dyed, and was^j gathered vnto his people, being olde and ful of daies: & his sonnes Esāu and laakób buried him.

olde age, and he made him a coate of many colours.

4 So when his brethren sawe that their father loued him more then all his brethré, then they hated him, and coulde not speake peaceably vnto him.

^{e God reuiled to him by a dreame, what shoulde come to passe.}

5 ¶ And Ioséph dreamed a dreame, and tolde his brethren, who hated him so muche the more.

6 For he said vnto thē, Heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Beholde now, we were binding sheues in y^e middes of the field: & lo, my shefe arose and also stode vpright, & beholde, your sheues compassed rounde about, and did reuerence to my shefe.

8 Then his brethren said to him, What, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs? or shalt thou haue altogether dominion ouer vs? And they ^d hated him so muche the more, for his dreames, & for his wordes.

^{d The more y^e God sheweth him selfe fauorable to him, y^e more doeth the malice of y^e wicked rage against them.}

9 ¶ Againe he dreamed an other dreame, & tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and beholde, the sunne and the moone and eleuen stars did reuerence to me.

^{e Not despising the vision, but seeking to appease his brethren}

10 Then he tolde it vnto his father & to his brethren, and his father ^e rebuked him, & said vnto him, What is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed? shal I, & thy mother, and thy brethren come in dede and fall on the grounde before thee?

11 And his brethren enuied him, but his father ^f noted the saying.

^{Or, kept diligently}

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to kepe their fathers shepe in Shechem.

^{f He knewe that God was auctor of the dreame, but he understood not the meaning}

13 And Israël said vnto Ioséph, Do not thy brethren kepe in Shechem? come & I will send thee to them.

14 And he answered him, I am here. Then he said vnto him, Go now, se whether it be wel with thy brethren, and how the flockes prosper, and bring me worde againe. so he sent him from the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man founde him: for lo, he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What sekest thou?

16 And he answered, I seke my brethren: tel me, I pray thee, where they kepe sheps.

17 And the man said, They are departed hence: for I heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Then went Ioséph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they saw him a far of, euen before he came at them, they conspired against him for to slaie him.

19 For they said one to another, Beholde, this ^g dreamer commeth.

20 Come now therefore, & let vs slaie him, and cast him into some pit, & we wil say, A wicked beast hath deuoured him: the we shal se, what wil come of his dreames.

21 *But whē Reubén heard that, he deliuered him out of their hands, & said, " Let vs not kil him. ^{Chap. 43. 22.} ^{"Eby let vs not smite his life.}

22 Also Reubén said vnto them, Shed not blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wildernes, & lay no hand vpon him. Thus he said, that he might deliuer him out of their hand, and restore him to his father againe.

23 ¶ Now when Ioséph was come vnto his brethré, they stript Ioséph out of his coat, his particoloured coate y^e was vpon him.

24 And they toke him, & cast hⁱ into a pit, & the pit was empty, without water in it.

^{h Their hypocrisie appeareth in this y^e they feared mā more then God: & thought it was not murder, if they shed not his blood: or els had an excuse to couer their faute.}

25 Then they sat them downe to eat bread: and they lift vp their eyes and looked, and beholde, there came a company of Ishmeelites from Gilead, and their camels laden with spicerie, and rosen, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypt.

26 The Iudah said vnto his brethré, What auaieth it, if we slaie our brother thogh we kepe his blood secret?

27 Come and let vs sel him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hands be vpon him: for he is our brother & our flesh: and his brethren obeyed.

28 Thē the * Midianites marchāt men passed by, and they drewe forthe, and lift Ioséph out of the pit, and solde Ioséph vnto the Ishmeelites for twentie ⁱ pieces of silver: who brought Ioséph into Egypt. ^{Wisd. 10. 13.} ^{psal. 105. 17.}

30 And returned to his brethré, & said, The childe is not y^eder, & I, whether shal I go?

31 And they toke Iosephs coate, and killed a kid of the goates, and depped the coate in the blood.

32 So they sent that particoloured coate, & they brought it vnto their father, & said, This haue we founde: se now, whether it be thy sonnes coate, or no.

33 Then he knew it and said, It is my sonnes coat: a wicked beast hath ^e deuoured him: Ioséph is surely torne in pieces. ^{Chap. 44. 28.}

34 And Iacob rée his clothes, & put sackcloth about his loynes, & sorowed for his sonne a long season.

^e This ordre was for ^y preservation of ^y stocke, that ^y childe begotten by the seconde brother shulde haue ^y name and inheritance of ^y first Which is in the new Testament abolished.

^d For she coulde not marry in any other familie so long as Iudáh wolde receiue her as his.

^h Er, was comforted.

ⁱ Or, in the dove of the fonteyne, or, where were two waies.

^k God had wonderfully blinded him ^y he coulde not knowe her by her talke

And at that time ^a Iudáh went downe from his brethren, and turned in to a man called Hiráh an Adullamite.

And Iudáh sawe there the daughter of a man called ^a Shuáh a ^b Canaanite: and he toke her to wife, and went in vnto her.

So she conceived and bare a sonne, & he called his name Er.

* And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne, and she called his name Onán.

Moreouer she bare yet a sonne, whome she called Sheláh: and Iudáh was at Chezib when she bare him.

Then Iudáh toke a wife to Er his first borne sonne whose name was Tamár.

* Now Er ^y first borne of Iudáh was wicked in the sight of the Lord: therefore the Lord slewe him.

Then Iudáh said to Onán, Go in vnto thy brothers wife, and do the office of a kinsman vnto her, & raise ^c vp sede vnto thy brother.

And Onán knewe ^y the sede shulde not be his: therefore when he wēt in vnto his brothers wife, he spilled it on the grounde, lest he shulde giue sede vnto his brother.

And it was wicked in the eyes of ^y Lord, which he did: wherfore he slewe him also.

Then said Iudáh to Tamár his daughter in lawe, ^d Remaine a widowe in thy fathers house, til Sheláh my sonne growe vp (for he thought thus, Lest he die aswell as his brethren) So Tamár went & dwelt in her fathers house.

¶ And in proesse of time also the daughter of Shuáh Iudáhs wife dyed. Then Iudáh, when he ^e had left mourning, went vp to his shepe shepers to Timnáh, he, and his neighbour Hiráh the Adullamite.

And it was tolde Tamár, saying, Beholde, thy father in lawe goeth vp to Timnáh, to there his shepe.

Then she put her widowes garments of from her, & couered her with a vaille, and wrapped her selfe, & fate downe in ^f Petháh-enáim, w^h is by the way to Timnáh, because she sawe ^y Sheláh was grownen, & she was not giue vnto him to wife.

When Iudáh sawe her, he iudged her an whore: for she had couered her face.

And he turned to the way, towards her, & said, Come, I pray thee, let me lye with thee. (for he ^g knewe not that she was his daughter in lawe) And she answered, What wilt thou giue me for to lie wth me?

Then said he, I wil send thee a kid of ^y goates from the flocke. & she said, Wel, if thou wilt giue me a pledge, til ^y send it.

Then he said, What is the pledge that I shal giue thee? And she answered, Thy signet, & thy ^h cloke, and thy staffe that is in thine hand. So he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with childe by him.

Then she rose, and went & put her vaille fro her & put on her widowes raymēt.

Afterward Iudáh sent a kid of the goates by the hād of his ⁱ neighbour ^y Adullamite, for to receiue his pledge from the womans hand: but he founde her not.

Then asked he the mē of that place, saying, Where is ^y whore, that ^j fate in Enáim by ^y way side? And they answered, There was no whore here.

He came therefore to Iudáh againe, & said, I cā not finde her, & also the mē of ^y place said, There was no whorē there.

Then Iudáh said, Let her take it to her, lest we be ^k shamed: beholde, I sent this kid, and thou hast not founde her.

¶ Now after thre moneths, one tolde Iudáh, saying, Tamár thy daughter in lawe hath played the whore, and lo, with playing the whore, she is great with childe. Then Iudáh said, Bring ye her forth and let her be ^l burnt.

When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, vnto whom these things ^m pertaine, am I with childe: & said also, Loke. I praye thee, whose the se are, the seale, & ^y cloke, and ^y staffe.

Then Iudáh knewe ⁿ them, and said, She is ^o more righteous the I: for she hath done it because I gaue her not to Sheláh my sonne. So he laye with her ^p no more.

¶ Now whē the time was come that she shulde be deliuered, beholde, there were twinnes in her wombe.

And when she was in trauel, ^q the one put out his hand: & the midwife toke and bounde a red threde about his hand, saying, This is come out first.

But when he ^r plucked his hād backe againe, lo, his brother came out, & ^s the midwife said, How hast ^t thou broken the breache vpō thee? & his name was called ^u Phárez.

And afterwarde came out his brother ^y had the red threds about his hand, and his name was called Zárah.

¹ Ioseph is sold to Potiphár. ² God prospereth him ⁷ Potiphárs wife tempteth him ¹³ He is accused & cast in prison ²¹ God sheweth him fauour.

Now Ioseph was brought downe into Egypt: & Potiphár ^a an Eunuche of Pharaohs (and his chief stuard an Egyptian) bought him at the hand of the Ishmeelites, which had brought him thether.

And the Lord ^b was with Ioseph, and he was a man that prospered and was in the house of his master the Egyptian.

And his master sawe that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

So Ioseph founde fauour in his sight, & serued him: and he made him ^c ruler of his house, and put all that he had in his hand.

^b The fauour of God is the fonteyne of all prosperitie.

^c Because God prospered him: and so he made religion to serue his profite.

^d The wicked are blessed by the companie of the godlie.

5 And fro that time that he had made him ruler ouer his house & ouer all that he had, the Lord ^d blessed the Egyptiās house for Ioséphs sake: & the blessing of the Lord was vpon all that he had in y^e house, and in the field.

^e For he was assured y^e all things shulde prosper well: therefore he ate and dranke & toke no care.

6 Therefore he left all y^e he had in Ioséphs hād,^e & toke accompte of nothig, that was wth him, saue onely of the bread, which he did eat. And Ioséph was a faire personne, and wel fauoured.

7 ¶ Now therefore after these thigs, his masters wife cast her eyes vpon Ioséph, and said, ^f Lye with me.

8 But he refused & said to his masters wife, Beholde, my master knoweth not what he hathe in the house with me, but hathe cōmitted all that he hathe to mine hand.

9 Therē is no man greater in this house then I: nether hathe he kept any thing frō me, but only thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickednes & so sinne against^s God?

^g The feare of God preferred him against her continual tētiōns.

10 And albeit she spake to Ioséph day by day, yet he hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, or to be in her companie.

11 Then on a certeine day Ioséph entred into the house, to do his busines: & there was no man of the housholde in the house:

12 Therefore she caught him by his garment, sayig, Slepe wth me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, & got him out.

13 Now when she sawe that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out,

14 She called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, he hathe brought iⁿ an Ebrewe vnto vs^e to mocke vs: who came into me for to haue slept with me: but I^h cryed with a loude voyce.

^h Or, do vs violence and shame

ⁱ This declarereth that where incontinencie is, thereunto is ioyned extreme impudencie and craft

15 And when he heard y^e I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment wth me, & fled out.

16 So she layed vp his garment by her, vntill her lord came home.

17 Then she tolde him^l according to these wordes, saying, The Ebrewe seruant, wth thou hast brogt vnto vs, came into me to mocke me.

18 But asōne as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment wth me, & fled out.

19 Then when his master heard the wordes of his wife, which she tolde him, saying, After this maner did thy seruāt to me, his angre was kindled.

20 And Ioséphs master toke him and put him in^l prison, in the place, where the Kings prisoners lay bounde: and there he was in prison in the prison, and^k whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

^k That is, nothing was done without his cōmandement.

23 And the keper of the prison loked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

CHAP. XL.

⁸ The interpretation of dreames is of God. 12. 19. Ioséph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

1 And after these thigs, the butler of y^e King of Egypt and his baker offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaōh was angry against his two officers, against the chief butler, and against the chief baker.

^q Or, eunuchs, the worde signifieth them that were in high estate, or, them that were gelded

3 Therefore he put them in warde in his chief stuardes house, in the prison and place where^a Ioséph was bounde.

4 And the chief stuarde gaue Ioséph charge ouer them, & he serued them; and they continued a season in warde:

5 ¶ And they bothe dreamed a dreame, ether of the his dreame in one night, ^b eche one according to y^e interpretation of his dreame, bothe y^e butler & the baker of the King of Egypt, wth were bounde in the prison.

^b That is, euery dreame had his interpretation, as the thing afterward declared.

6 And when Ioséph came in vnto them in the morning, and loked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters warde, saying, Wherefore^r loke ye so sadly to day?

^r Ebr why are your faces euil?

8 Who answered him, We haue dreamed, eche one a dreame, & there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioséph said vnto the, Are not interpretations of God^c tel them me now.

^c Cannot God raise vp such as shal interpret such things?

9 So the chief butler tolde his dreame to Ioséph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, beholde, a vine was before me,

10 And in the vine were thre branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: & the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

11 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I toke the grapes, and wrong them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

12 Then Ioséph said vnto him, This^d is the interpretation of it: The thre branches are thre dayes.

^d He was assured by the Spirit of God y^e his interpretation was true.

13 Within thre dayes shal Pharaōh lift vp thine head, & restore thee vnto thine^e office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when y^e wast his butler.

14 But haue me in remembrāce with thee, when thou art in good case, & shewe mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and^e make mēcion of me to Pharaōh, that thou maiest bring me out of this house.

^e He refused not the meanes to be deliuered, which he thought God had appointed.

done nothing, wherefore they shulde put me in the dungeon.

f That is, made of white twigges, or, as some read, baskets full of hoies.

16 And when the chief baker sawe that the interpretaciō was good, he said vnto Ioséph, Also me thought in my dreame that I had thre ^fwhite baskets on mine head.

g He sheweth that the ministers of God ought not to cōscie thar, w God reueileth vnto them

17 And in the vppermost basket there ^{was} of all maner bakē meates for Pharaōh: & the birdes did eat them out of the basket vpon mine head.

18 Then Ioséph answered, & said, ^gThis is the interpretacion thereof: The thre baskets are thre dayes:

19 Within thre daies shal Pharaōh take thine head from thee, & shal hang thee on a tre, and the birdes shal eat thy flesh from of thee.

h Which was an occasion to appoint his officers and so to examineth that were in prison

20 ¶ And so the third day, ^{which was} Pharaōhs ^hbirthday, he made a feast vnto all his seruantes: and he lifted vp the head of the chief butler, and the head of the chief baker among his seruantes.

21 And he restored the chief butler vnto his butlership, who gaue the cup in to Pharaōhs hand, 22 But he hanged the chief baker, as Ioséph had interpreted vnto them.

23 Yet the chief butler did not remembre Ioséph, but forgat him.

CHAP. XLI.

26 Pharaōhs dreames are expounded by Ioséph. 40 He is made ruler ouer all Egypt 51 He hath two sonnes: Manasséh and Ephraim. 54 The famine beginneth throughout the worlde.

i Ebr. at the end of two yeres of daies a This dreame was not so muche for Pharaōh, as to be a meane to deliuer Ioséph, and to prouide for his Church Or, flaggy place.

1 And ^atwo yeres after, Pharaōh also dreamed, and beholde, he stode by a riuer,

2 And lo, there came out of the riuer seuen goodlie kine and fatfleshed, and thei fed in a ^amedow:

3 And lo, seuen other kine came vp after them out of the riuer, euilfaoured and leane fleshed, and stode by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the euilfaoured and leane fleshed kine did eat vp the seuen wel faoured & fat kine: so Pharaōh awoke.

b All these meanes God vsed to deliuer his seruante, & to bring him in to fauour and autoritie

5 Again he slept, and dreamed the ^bsecond time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne grew vpon one stalke, ranke and goodlie.

6 And lo, seue thinne eares, & blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them:

c This feare was ynough to teache him, that this vision was sent of God

7 And the thinne eares deuoured the seue ranke and ful eares. then Pharaōh awaked, and lo, ^{it was} a dreame.

d The wife of the worlde vn derstand not Gods secrets, but to his seruantes his will is reueiled.

8 Now when the morning came, his spirite was ^ctroubled: therefore he sent and called all the sothesaiers of Egypt, & ail the wise men thereof, and Pharaōh tolde them his dreames: but ^dnone colde interpret them to Pharaōh.

e He cōfesseth his faure against y King, before he speake of Ioséph.

9 Then spake the chief butler vnto Pharaōh, saying, I ^ecall to minde my fautes

this day.

10 Pharaōh being angry with his seruantes, put me in waide in the chief stuardes house, ^{bothe} me and the chief baker.

11 The we dreamed a dreame in one night, ^{bothe} I, and he: we dreamed eche man according to the interpretacion of his dreame.

12 And there ^{was} with vs a yong man, an Ebrewe, seruant vnto the chief stuarde, whome when we tolde, he declared our dreames to ^{vs}, to euerie one he declared according to his dreame.

Read Chapter 40.5.

13 And as he declared vnto vs, so it came to passe: for he restored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 ¶ Then sent Pharaōh, and ^fcalled Ioséph, and they broght him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaōh.

Psalm. 105. 20. f The wicked seke to y Prophets of God in their necessity, whome in their prosperitie they abhorre.

15 Then Pharaōh said to Ioséph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it, and I haue heard say of thee, ^{that} when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 And Ioséph answered Pharaōh, saying, ^gWithout me God shal answer for the welth of Pharaōh.

g As though he wolde say, If I interpret thy dreame, it cometh of God & not of me. Ebr. answer peace.

17 And Pharaōh said vnto Ioséph, In my dreame, beholde, I stode by the banke of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came vp out of y riuer seue fatfleshed, and wel faoured kine, and thei fed in the medow.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came vp after them, poore and very ^{euil}faoured, and leane fleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilfaoured.

Ebr. naught.

20 And the leane and euilfaoured kine did eat vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they ^hhad eaten them vp, it colde not be knownen that they had eaten them, but they were stil as euilfaoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

h Ebr. were gone into their inward partes.

22 Moreouer I sawe in my dreame, and beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, ful and faire.

23 And lo, seuen eares, withered, thinne, and blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue tolde the sothesaiers, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 ¶ Then Ioséph answered Pharaōh, ^{Bothe} Pharaōhs dreames are one. ^hGod hath shewed Pharaōh, what he is about to do.

h Bothe his dreames tend to one end.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeres, & the seuen good eares are seuen yeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thinne and euil faoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeres: and the seuen emptie eares blasted with the East winde are seuen yeres of famine.

38 This is the thing, which I haue said vnto Pharaóh, that God hathe shewed vnto Pharaóh, what he is aboute to do.

39 Beholde, there come seuen yeres of great^{Or, abundance and fatuallie.} plentie in all the land of Egypt.

40 Againe, there shal arise after them seuen yeres of famine, so that all the plentie shalbe forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine shal consume the land:

31^{Or, they shal remember no more the plentie.} Nether shal the plentie be knowe in the land, by reason of this famine that shal come after: for it shalbe exceeding great.

32 And therefore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaóh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God hateth to performe it.

33 Now therefore let Pharaóh prouide for a man of vnderstanding and wisdom, & set him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaóh make and appoint officers ouer the land, and take vp the fiftie parte of y^e land of Egypt in y^e seuen plenteous yeres.

35 Also let them gather all the fode of the se good yeres that come, and lay vp corne vnder the hand of Pharaóh for fode, in the cities, and let them kepe it.

36 So the fode shalbe for the prouision of the land, against the seuen yeres of famine, which shalbe in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not by famine.

37 ¶ And y^e saying pleased Pharaóh and all his seruantes.

38 Then said Pharaóh vnto his seruantes, Can we finde suche a man as this, in whome is the^k Spirit of God?

39 The Pharaóh said to Ioséph, For as muche as God hathe shewed thee all this, there is no man of vnderstanding, or of wisdom like vnto thee.

40^{Psal 105, 21. 1. mac 2, 53. Act. 7, 10. Or, monie.} Thou shalt be ouer mine house, & at thy^k worde shal all my people be armed, only in y^e Kings thionc wil I be aboute thee.

41^{Some read, The people shal kille thy mouth: that is, shal obey thee in all things Or, his figure} Moreouer Pharaóh said to Ioséph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharaóh toke of his^k ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hand, and araid him in garments of fine linen and put a golden chaine about his necke.

43 So he set him vpon the^{Or, seconde abares:} best charret that he had, saue one: & they cryed before him, m^{Or, in signe of honour: which worde some expound, tender father, or father of the King, or kuele downe} Abrech, and placed him ouer all the land of Egypt.

44 Againe Pharaóh said vnto Ioséph, I am Pharaóh; & without thee shal no man lift vp his hand or his fore in all the land of Egypt.

45 And Pharaóh called Iosephs name^{Or, the captiue of distress.} Zaphnath-paaneá: and he gaue him to wife Asenath y^e daughter of Poti-phérah^{Or, priest.} prince of On: then went Ioséph abroad in the land of Egypt.

46 ¶ And Ioséph was^a thirty yere olde wheⁿ he stode before Pharaóh King of Egypt: and Ioséph departing from the presence of Pharaóh, went through out all the land of Egypt.

47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres the earthⁿ broght forth the store.

48 And he gathered vp all the fode of the seuen plenteous yeres, which were in the land of Egypt, and layed vp fode in the cities: the fode of the field, that was round aboutⁿ every cite, layed he vp in the same.

49 So Ioséph gathered wheat, like vnto the sand of y^e sea in multitude out of measure, vntil he left nombring: for it was without nombre.

50 Now vnto Ioséph were borne^{Chap. 48, 20. Or 48, 5.} two sonnes (before the yeres of famine came) w^h Asenath the daughter of Poti-phérah prince of On bare vnto him.

51 And Ioséph called the name of the first borne Manasséh: for God, said he, hathe made me forget all my labour & all my^o fathers householde.

52 Also he called the name of the seconde Ephraim: for God, said he, hathe made me fruteful in the land of mine affliction.

53 ¶ So the seuen yeres of the plentie that was in the land of Egypt were ended.

54 ¶ The began the seuen yeres of famine to come, according as Ioséph had said: & the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was^{Or, fode.} bread.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished and the people cryed to Pharaóh for bread. And Pharaóh said vnto all the Egyptians, Go to Ioséph: what he saith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was vpon all the land, Ioséph opened all^{Or, came to Egypt to Ioséph} places, wherein the store was and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countreis came to Egypt to bye corne of Ioséph, because the famine was fore in all landes.

6 Now Ioséph was gouernor of the land who solde to all the people of the lād: the Iosephs brethien came, and bowed their face to the ground before him.

7 And whē Ioséph sawe his brethiē, he knewe them, and ^e made him selfe strange toward them, and spake to them roughly, & said vnto them, Whēce come ye? Who answered, Out of the land of Canaan, to bye vitaille.

8 (Now Ioséph knewe his brethren, but they knewe not him.

25 ¶ So Ioséph commanded that thei shulde fille their sackes with wheat, and put euerie mans money againe in his sacke, & giue them vitaille for the iourney: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they laied their vitaille vpon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to giue his asse prouandre in the ynne, he espied his money: for lo, it was in his sackes mouthē.

28 Then he said vnto his brethren, My money is restored: for lo, it is euen in my sacke. And their heart ^wailed them, & they were ^xastonnished, and said one to another, What is this, ^ythat God hathe done vnto vs?

29 ¶ And they came vnto Iaakób their father vnto the land of Canaan, and tolde him all that had befallen them, saying,

31 And we said vnto him, We are true mē, and are no spies.

32 We be twelue brethren, sonnes of our father: one is ^{ab}not, and the yongest is this day with our father in the lād of Canaan.

33 Then the lord of the countrei said vnto vs, Hereby shal I knowe if ye be true mē: Leauē one of your brethren with me, and take fode for the famine of your houses & departe,

34 And bring your yongest brother vnto me, that I may knowe that ye are no spies, but true mē: ^{ac}so wil I deliuer you your brother, and ye shal occupie in the land.

35 ¶ And as they emptied their sackes, beholde, euerie mans bundel of money was in his sacke: and when they and their father sawe the bñdels of their money, they were afraied.

36 Then Iaakób their father said to them, Ye haue robbed me of my childrē: Ioséph is not, and Simeón is not, and ye wil take Bēiāmin: all these thigs ^{ad}are against me.

37 Then Reubén answered his father, saying, Slay my two sōnes, if I brig him not to thee againe: deliuer him to mine hand, and I wil bring him to thee againe.

38 But he said, My sōne shal not go downe w^o you: for his brother is dead, & he is left alone: if death come vnto him by ^{ae}any way, which ye go, then ye shal bring my graie head with sorowe vnto the graue.

^d Or, so the ruler of his house.

NOW great^a famine was in the land. And when they had eaten vp the vitaille, which they had broght from Egypt, their father said vnto them, Turne againe, and bye vs a litle fode.

3 And Iudáh answered him, saying, The man charged vs by an othe, saying, * Neuer se my face, except your brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with vs, we wil go downe, and by thee fode:

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not go downe: for the man said vnto vs, * Loke me not in the face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Israël said, Wherefore delt ye so euil with me, as to tel the man, whether ye had yet a brother or no?

7 And they answered, The man asked straitly of^a our selues and of our kinned, sayig, Is your father yet aliue? haue ye any brother? And we tolde him^a according to these wordes: colde we knowe certainly y he wolde say, Bring your brother downe?

8 Then said Iudáh to Israël his father, Séd the boye with me, that we may rise & go, and that we may liue and not dye, both we, and thou, and our children.

9 I wil be suretie for him: of mine hand shalt thou require him. * If I bring him not to thee, & set him before thee, then let me beare the blame for euer.

10 For except we had made this tarying, doutles by this we had returned the seconde time.

11 Then their father Israël said vnto them, If it must needs be so nowe, do thus: take of the best frutes of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a litle rosen, and a litle homie, spices and myrrer, nuttes, and almondes:

12 And take^b double money in your hand, and the money, that was broght againe in your sackes mouthes: carie it againe in your hand, lest it were some ouer sight.

13 Take also your brother and arise, and go againe to the man.

14 And^c God almightie giue you mercie in the sight of the man, that he maie deliuer you your other brother, and Beniamín: but I shalbe^d robbed of my childe, as I haue bene.

15 ¶ Thus y men toke this present, and toke twise so muche money in their hand with Beniamín, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt and stode before Ioséph.

16 And when Ioséph sawe Beniamín wthē, he said to his stuard, Bring these men home and kil meat and make readie: for the men shal eat with me at noone.

17 And y man did as Ioséph bad, & broght the men vnto Iosephs house.

18 Now when the mé were broght into Io-sephs house, thei were^e afraied, and said, Because of the money, that came in our sackes mouthes at the first time, are we broght, that he maie^e pike a quarel agaiſt vs, and^e laie some thing to our charge, and bring vs in bondage and our asses.

19 Therefore came thei to Iosephs stuard, and communed with him at the dore of the house.

20 And said, Oh syr, * we came i dede downe hether at the first time to bye fode, 21 And as we came to an ynne and opened our sackes, behold, euerie mans money was in his sackes mouth, euen our money in ful weight, but we haue broght it againe in our hands.

22 Also other money haue we broght in o handes to bye fode, but we cá not tel, who put our money in our sackes.

23 And he said, Peace be vnto you, feare not: your God and the God of your father hathe giuen you that treasure in your sackes, I had your money: and he broght forth the Simeón to them.

24 So the man led thé in to Iosephs house, and gaue them water to wash their fete, and gaue their asses prouander.

25 And thei made redy their presēt agaiſt Ioséph came at none, (for thei heard saie, that thei shulde eat bread there.)

26 When Ioséph came home, thei broght the present into the house to him, which was in their hands, and bowed downe to the grounde before him.

27 And he asked them of their^f prosperitie, and said, Is your father the olde man, of whome ye tolde me, in good health? is he yet aliue?

28 Who answered, Thy seruāt our father is in good helth, he is yet aliue: and they bowed downe, and made obeisance.

29 And he lifting vp his eies, behelde his brother Beniamín s mothers sonne, & said, Is this your yonger brother, of whome ye tolde me? And he said, God be merciful vnto thee, my sonne.

30 And Ioséph made haste (for his^g affection was inflamed toward his brother, and soght where to wepe) and entred into his chambre, and wept there.

31 Afterward he washed his face, and came out, and refrained him selfe, and said, Set on^h meat.

32 And theyⁱ prepared for him by him selfe, and for them by them selues, and for y Egyptians, which did eat with him, by them selues, because the Egyptians might not eat bread with y Ebrewes: for that was an^j abominacion vnto the Egyptians.

33 So they sate before him: the eldest according vnto his age, and the yongest according vnto his youthe. and the men marueiled

CHAP. XLIIII.

15 Ioseph accuseth his brother of theft. 33 Iudab offreth him selfe to be seruant for Beniamin.

1 A fterwarde he comanded his stuard, saying, Fil the mens sackes with fode, as muche as thei can cary, and put euerie mans money in his sackes mouthe.

2 And a put my cup, I meane the siluer cup, in the sackes mouthe of the yongest, and his corne money. And he did according to the commandement that Ioseph gaue him.

3 And in the morning the men were sent away, thei, and their asses.

4 And when thei went out of the citie not faire of, Ioseph said to his stuard, Vp, followe after the men: & whe thou doest ouertake them, say vnto them, Wherefore haue ye rewarded euil for good?

5 Is that not the cup, wherein my lord drinke^b and in the which he doeth deuine and prophecie? ye haue done euil in so doing.

6 ¶ And whe he ouertoke the, he said those wordes vnto them.

7 And thei answered him, Wherefore saiest my lord suche wordes? God forbid that thy seruants shulde do suche a thing.

8 Beholde, the money which we found in our sackes mouthe, we brought againe to thee out of the land of Canaan: how then shulde we steale out of thy lordes house siluer, or golde?

9 With whomesoeuer of thy seruants it be founde, let him dye, and we also wil be my lords bondmen.

10 And he said, Now then let it be according vnto your wordes: he with whome it is founde, shalbe my seruant, & ye shal be blameles.

11 Then at once euerie mā toke downe his sacke to the grounde, and euerie one opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest and left at the yongest: and the cup was founde in Beniamins sacke.

13 Then thei rent their clothes, and laded euerie man his asse, and went againe into the citie.

14 ¶ So Iudab & his brethren came to Iosephs house (so he was yet there) and thei sel before him on the grounde.

15 The Ioseph said vnto the, What acte is this, which ye haue done? Knowe ye not that suche a man as I, can deuine & prophecie?

16 Then said Iudab, What shal we say vnto my lord? whar shal we speake? & how can we iustifie our selues? God hathe founde out the wickednes of thy seruantes: beholde we are seruants to my lord, bothe we, and he, with whome the cup is founde.

17 But he answered, God forbid, I shulde do so, but the man, with whome the cup is founde, he shalbe my seruant, & go ye in peace vnto your father.

18 ¶ The Iudab drewe nere vnto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy seruant now speake a worde in my lords eares, and let not thy wrath be kindled against thy seruant: for thou art euen as Pharaoh.

19 My lord asked his seruants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my lord, We haue a father that is olde, and a yong childe, which he begate in his age: and his brother is dead, & he alone is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 Now I saide vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto me, that I may set mine eie vpon him.

22 And we answered my lord, The childe can not departe from his father: for if he leaue his father, his father wolde dye.

23 Then saidest thou vnto thy seruants, Except your yonger brother come downe with you, loke in my face no more.

24 So when we came vnto thy seruant our father, and shewed him what my lord had said,

25 And our father said vnto vs, Go againe, bye vs a litle fode,

26 The we answered, We can not go downe: but if our yongest brother go with vs, then wil we go downe: for we may not se the mas face, except our yongest brother be with vs.

27 Then thy seruant my father said vnto vs, Ye knowe that my wife bate me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Of a surety he is toine in pieces, and I sawe him not since.

29 Now yetake this also away from me: if death take him, then ye shal bring my gray head in sorowe to the graue.

30 Now therefore, whe I come to thy seruant my father, and the childe be not with vs (seing that his life dependeth on the chilles life)

31 Then when he shal se that the childe is not come, he wil dye: so shal thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father with sorowe to the graue.

32 Doubtes thy seruant became suretie for the childe to my father, and said, If I bring him not vnto thee againe, the I wil beare the blame vnto my father for euer.

33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let me thy seruant bide for the childe, as a seruant to f.i.

^g Which was a citie in the countrey of Góshē Exod 1, 11

11 ¶ And Ioséph placed his father, and his brethren, and gaue them possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, euen in the land of "Ramefés, as Pharaoh had commanded.

^h Some read, that he fed the as little babes, because they coulde not provide for them selues against that famine.

12 And Ioséph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his fathers housholde with bread, euen ^d to the yong children.

13 ¶ Now there was no bread in all the lād: for the famine was excedding fore: so that the land of Egypt & the land of Canaan were famished by the reason of y^e famine.

14 And Ioséph gathered all the money, that was foude in the lād of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they boght, & "Ioséph laied vp the money in Pharaohs house.

ⁱ Wherein he bothe declarerh his fidelitie toward the King, and his munde fre frō sonctiousnes.

15 So when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptiās came vnto Ioséph, and said, Giue vs bread: for why shulde we dye before thee? for our money is spent.

16 Then said Ioséph, Bring your cattel, & I wil giue you for your cattel, if your money be spent.

17 So they boght their cattel vnto Ioséph, & Ioséph gaue them bread for the horses, and for the flockes of shepe, and for the herdes of cattel, and for the affres: so he fed them with bread for all their cattel that yere.

18 But when the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, & said vnto him, We wil not hide from my lord, that since our money is spent, & my lord hathe the herdes of the cattel; there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies & our grounde.

^j For except the grounde be tilled & sowed, it perisheth & is dead.

19 Why shal we perish in thy sight, bothe we, and our lāde: byc vs and our lād for bread, and we and our land wil be bonde to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs fede, y^e we may liue and not dye, and that the land go not to waste.

20 So Ioséph boght all the lād of Egypt for Pharaoh: for y^e Egyptians solde euerie mā his grounde because the famine was fore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

24 And of the encrease ye shal giue the fift parte vnto Pharaoh, and foure partes shal be yours for the fede of the field, and for your meat, and for them of your housholdes, and for your children to eat.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we wil be Pharaohs seruāts.

29 Now when the time diewe nere y^e Isi aél must dye, he called his sonne Ioséph, and said vnto him, If I haue now foude grace in thy sight, put thine hād now vnder my thigh, and deale mercifully and truely wth me: buy me not, I pray thee, in Egypt, 30 But when I shal ⁱ slepe with my fathers, thou shalt cary me out of Egypt, and bury me in their burial. And he answered, I wil do as thou hast said.

THE SECONDE BOKE of Moſés, called Exodus.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Iaakób by Gods commandemēt Gen. 46. 3. had brought his familie into Egypt, where they remained for the space of foure hundred yeres, and of ſeuenty perſones grew to an infinite nombre, ſo that the King and the countrey grudged and endeuored both by tyrannie and cruel ſlaue-ry to ſuppreſſe them: the Lord according to his promes Gen. 15. 14. had compaſſion of his Church & deliuered them, but plagued their enemies in moſte ſtrāge and ſondry ſortes. And the more that the tyrānie of the wicked enraged againſt his Church, the more did his heauy iudgements increaſe againſt them, til Pharaoh & his armie were drowned in the ſame Sea, which gaue an entrie and paſſage to the childrē of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great ſo did they immediately forget Gods wōderful benefites: & albeit he had giuen them the Paſſouer to be a ſigne & memorial of the ſame, yet they fel to diſtruſt, & tempted God with ſondry murmurings and grudgings againſt him and his miniſters: ſometime moved with ambition, ſometime for lacke of drinke or meate to cōtent their luſtes, ſometime by idolatrie or ſuche like. Wherefore God viſited them with ſharpe rodde and plagues that by his correſtions they might ſeke to him for remedy againſt his ſcourges & earneſtly repent them for their rebellioſ & wickednes. And becauſe God loueth the to the end, whome he hathe once begōne to loue, he puniſhed the not according to their deſertes, but dealt with them in great mercies, and euer with newe benefites labored to ouercome their malice: for he ſtil gouerned them and gaue the his worde & Law, both cōcerning the maner of ſeruing him, & alſo the forme of iudgements and ciuil policie: to the intent that thei ſhulde not ſerue God after their owne inuention, but according to that ordre, which his heauenlie wiſdome had appointed.

11 Therefore did they set taskmasters ouer them, to kepe them vnder with burdens: and they buylt the cities Pithom & Raamses for the treasures of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grewe: therefore they were more grieved against the children of Israël.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltye caused the children of Israël to serue.

14 Thus they made them weary of their liues by sore labour in claye and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all manner of bondage, which they laied vpon them moste cruelly.

15 Moreover the King of Egypt commanded the midwiues of the Ebrewe women, (of which the ones name was Siphrah, and the name of the other Puah)

16 And said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the women of the Ebrewes & se them on their stolles, if it be a sonne, thou shalt kil him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

17 Notwithstanding the midwiues feared God, & did not as the King of Egypt commanded them, but preserued aliuie the me children.

18 Then the King of Egypt called for the midwiues, & said vnto the, Why haue ye done thus, and haue preserued aliuie the men children?

19 And the midwiues answered Pharaoh, Because the Ebrewes womē are not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuelie, and are deliuered yet the midwife come at the.

h Their disobedience herein was lawfull, but their dissembling euill.

20 God therefore prospered the midwiues, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

21 And because the midwiues feared God, therefore he made them houses.

11 Go your selues, get you straw where ye can finde it, yet shal nothing of your labour be diminished.

12 Then were the people scatred abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in stede of straw.

^e Ebr the marke of a day is his day

13 And the taskemasters hastid thē, saying, Finish your daves worke ^e euerie dayes taske, as ye did when ye had straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Israël, which Pharaōhs taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore haue ye not fulfilled your taske in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

15 ¶ Thē the officers of the childrē of Israël came, & cryed vnto Pharaōh, sayig, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

16 There is no straw giuen to thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and lo, thy seruants are beaten, and thy people is blamed.

^c Or, thy people the Egyptians are in the fault.

17 But he said, Ye are to muche idle: therefore ye say, Let vs go to offre sacrifice to the Lord.

^e Ebr idle, ye are idle

18 Go therefore now & worke: for there shal no straw be giuen you, yet shal ye deliuer the whole tale of bricke.

19 Then the officers of the children of Israël sawe thē selues in an euil case, because it was said, Ye shal diminish nothing of your bricke, nor of euerie daies taske,

^c Or, loke! said to them, which said.

20 ¶ And they met Mofés & Aarōn, which stode in their way as they came out from Pharaōh, ^c Read, Gen. 34. 30.

22 Wherefore Mofés returned to y^e Lord, and said, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou thus sent me?

^e It is a grieuous thing to the seruants of God to be accused of euil, specially of their brethren, when they do as their due-tye requireth.

23 For since I came to Pharaōh to speake in thy Name, he hathe vexed this people, and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people.

CHAP. VI.

9 ¶ So Mofés tolde the children of Israël thus: but thei hearkened not vnto Mofés, for anguish of spirit & for cruel bódage.

10 Then the Lord spake vnto Mofés, saying,

11 Go speake to Pharaoh King of Egypt, that he let the children of Israël go out of his land.

12 But Mofés spake before y Lord, saying, Beholde, the children of Israël hearken not vnto me, how then shal Pharaoh heare me, which am of ^d vncircumcised lippes?

17 The sonnes of Gersthón were Libní & Shimí by their families.

18 And the sonnes of Koháth, Amráam and Izhár, & Hebrón and Vzziel. (& Koháth liued an hundreth thirti and thre yere)

19 Also the sonnes of Merarí were Mahalí and Mushí: these are the families of Leuī by their kinreds.

20 And Amráam toke Iochébed his ^g fathers sister to his wife, and she bare him Aaron and Mofés (and Amráam liued an hundreth thirty and seuen yere)

21 ¶ Also the sonnes of Izhár: ^h Kórah, & Népheg, and Zichrí.

22 And the sonnes of Vzziel: Mishaél, and Elzaphán, and Sithí.

23 And Aaron toke Elisheba daughter of Amminadáb, sister of Nahashón to his wife, which bare him Nadáb, and Abihá, Eleazár and Ithamár.

24 Also the sonnes of Kórah: Afsír, & Elkanáh, & Abiafáph: these are the families of the Korhites.

25 And Eleazár Aarons sonne toke him one of the daughters of Putiél to his wife, which bare him ⁱ Phinehás: these are the principal fathers of the Leuites through out their families.

26 These are Aa ón and Mofés to whome the Lord said, Bring the childre of Israël out of the land of Egypt, according to their ^k armies.

27 These are y Mofés & Aaron, w spake to Pharaoh King of Egypt, that they might bring the childre of Israël out of Egypt.

28 ¶ And at that time when the Lord spake vnto Mofés in the land of Egypt,

29 When the Lord, I say, spake vnto Mofés, saying, I am the Lord, speake thou vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt all that I say vnto thee, 30 Then Mofés said before the Lord, Beholde, I am of ⁱ vncircumcised lippes, and how shal Pharaoh heare me?

^k For their families were so great, y they might be compared to armies.

ⁱ The disobedience both of Mofés and of y people sheweth y their deliuerance came onely of Gods fre mercie.

^j God hardeneth Pharaohs heart. 10 Mofés and Aaron do the miracles of the serpent, and the blood: and Pharaohs forcerers do the like.

1 THE Lord said to Mofés, Beholde, I haue made thee Pharaohs ^a God, & Aaron thy brother shal be thy Prophet.

2 Thou shalt speake all that I commanded thee: and Aaron thy brother shal speake vnto Pharaoh, that he suffre the children of Israël to go out of his land.

3 But I wil harden Pharaohs heart, and multiplie my miracles and my wondres in the land of Egypt.

4 And Pharaoh shal not hearkē vnto you, that I may lay mine hand vpon Egypt, & bring out mine armies, ^e out my people, the childre of Israël out of the lād of Egypt, by great ^b iudgements.

5 Then the Egyptians shal know that I am y Lord, when I stretch forth mine hand vpon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israël from among them.

6 So Mofés and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, ^e euen so did they.

7 (Now Mofés was ^c foure score yere olde, & Aaron foure score and thre, when thei spake vnto Pharaoh)

8 ¶ And the Lord had spoken vnto Mofés and Aaron, saying,

9 If Pharaoh speake vnto you, saying, Shewe a miracle for you, then y shalt say vnto Aa ón, Take thy rod & cast it before Pharaoh, and it shal be turned into a ^d serpēt.

10 ¶ Then went Mofés and Aaron vnto Pharaoh, and did euen as the Lord had commanded: and Aaron caste forth his rod rod before Pharaoh and before his ser-

11 Then Pharaoh called also for the wife men and forcerers: and those charmers also of Egypt did in like maner with their enchantments.

12 For they cast downe euerie man his rod, and thei were turned into serpents: but Aarons rod deuoured their rods.

13 So Pharaohs heart was hardened, & he hearkned not to the, as the Lord had said.

14 ¶ The Lord then said vnto Moses, Pharaohs heart is obstinat, he refuseth to let the people go.

15 Go vnto Pharaoh in the morning, (lo, he wil come vnto the water) & thou shalt stand & mete him by e the riuers brinke, and the rod, which was turned into a serpent, shalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou shalt say vnto him, The Lord God of y Ebrews hath sent me vnto thee, saying, Let my people go, that they may serue me in the wilderness: & beholde, hitherto thou woldest not heare.

17 Thus saith the Lord, In this thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord: beholde, I wil smite with the rod that is in mine had vp-on y water that is in the riuer, & it shalbe turned to blood.

18 And the fish that is in the riuer shal dye, and the riuer shal stinke, & it shal greue y
Egyptiās to drinke of y water of y riuer.

19 ¶ The Lord then spake to Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod, & stretch out thine hand ouer the waters of Egypt, ouer their st. eames, ouer their riuers, and ouer their poudes, and ouer all pooles of their waters, and they shalbe blood, and there shalbe blood through out all y land of Egypt, bothe in vessels of wood, & of stone.

20 So Moses and Aaron did euē as the Lord commanded: * and he lift vp the rod, and smote the water that was in the riuer in y sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his seruants: and all the water that was in the riuer, was turned into blood.

21 And the fish that was in the riuer dyed, and the riuer stanke: so that the Egyptiās colde not drinke of the water of the riuer:
and there was blood through out all the land of Egypt.

22 And the enchanters of Egypt did s like wise w their so: ceries: & the heart of Pharaoh was hardened: so y he did not hearken vnto them, as the Lord had said.

23 Then Pharaoh returned, & wēt againe into his house, * nether did this yet entre into his heart.

24 All y Egyptiās the digged round about y riuer for waters to drinke. for they col-de not drinke of the water of the riuer.

25 And this continued fully seue daies after the Lord had smitten the riuer.

6 Froges are sent. 13 Moses praith and they dye. 17
Lyce are sent, whereby the forcerers acknowledge Gods power 24 Egypt is plagued with noysom flies. 30 Moses praith againe: 32 But Pharaohs heart is hardened.

1 Afterwarde the Lord said vnto Moses, Go vnto Pharaoh, and tel him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, y
they may serue me:

2 And if thou wilt not let them go, beholde, I wil smite all thy couētry with a frogges:

3 And the riuer shal scrall ful of frogges, which shal go vp and come into thine house: and into thy chambie, where thou sleepest, and vpon thy bed, & into the house of thy seruants, and vpon thy people, and into thine ouens, and into thy knea-ding troghes.

4 Yea, the frogges shal climbe vp vpon thee, and on thy people, and vpon all thy seruants.

5 ¶ Also the Lord said vnto Moses, Say thou vnto Aaron, Stretch thine hand with thy rod vpon the streames, vpon the riuers, and vpon the pōdes, and cause frogges to come vp vpon the land of Egypt.

6 Then Aaron stretched his had vpon the waters of Egypt, and the frogges came vp, and couered the land of Egypt.

7 And y forcerers did likewise with their forceries, and brought frogges vp vpon the land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh called for Moses & Aaron, & said, * Pray ye vnto the Lord that he may take away the frogges from me, and from my people, & I wil let the people go, that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

9 And Moses said vnto Pharaoh, * As concerning me, euē commande when I shal praye for thee, and for thy seruants, and for thy people, to destroye the frogges fro thee and from thine houses, that they may remaine in the riuer onely.

10 The he said, To morowe. And he anse-red, Be it * as y hast said, that thou maieft knowe, that there is none like vnto the Lord our God.

11 So the frogges shal departe fro thee, & from thine houses, and from thy seruants, and from thy people: onely they shal re-mayne in the riuer.

12 Then Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cryed vnto the Lord cōcerning the frogges, which he had sent vnto Pharaoh.

13 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses: so the frogges dyed in the houses, in the townes, & in the fields.

14 And they gathered them together by heapes, and the land stanke of them.

griued him, he hardened his heart, and hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

¶ The third plague.

16 ¶ Again the Lord said vnto Moſes, Say vnto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, & ſmite the duſt of the earth, that it may be turned to lye throughout all the land of Egypt.

17 And they did ſo: for Aaron ſtretched out his hand with his rod, and ſmote the duſt of the earth: and lye came vpon man & vpon beaſt: all the duſt of the earth was lye throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now y^e enchanterſ affaied likewise with their enchantments to bring forth the lye, but they^e colde not. ſo the lye were vpon man and vpon beaſt.

e God confounded their wiſdome & auerſe in a thing moſte vile
f They acknowledged y^e this was done by Gods power and not by ſorcerie

19 Then ſaid y^e enchanterſ vnto Pharaoh, Thiſ iſ the finger of God. But Pharaohs heart remained obſtinat, and he hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had ſaid.

20 ¶ Moreouer the Lord ſaid to Moſes, Riſe vp early in y^e morning, and ſtand before Pharaoh (ſo, he wil come forth vnto the water) & ſay vnto him, Thuſ ſaith y^e Lord, Let my people go, that they may ſerue me.

Or, multitude of venomous beaſts, as ſcorpions, &c.

21 Elſ, if y^e wilt not let my people go, behold, I wil ſend^e ſwarms of flies bothe vpon thee, & vpon thy ſeruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine houſes: and the houſes of the Egyptiaſ ſhal be ful of ſwarms of flies, and the grounde alſo whereon they are.

Or, I wil ſeparate.

22 But the land of Góſhen, where my people are, wil I cauſe to be^e wonderful in that day, ſo that no ſwarms of flies ſhal be there, y^e thou maielt knowe that I am the Lord in the middes of the earth.

Or, Land of Róſe

23 And I wil make a deliuerance of my people from thy people: to morowe ſhal thiſ miracle be.

24 And the Lord did ſo: for there came great ſwarms of flies into the houſe of Pharaoh, and into his ſeruants houſes, ſo that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the ſwaimes of flies.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moſes and Aaron, & ſaid, Go, do ſacrifice vnto your God in thiſ land.

26 But Moſes answered, It iſ not mete to do ſo: for then we ſhulde offre vnto the Lord our God that, which iſ an abomination vnto the Egyptians. Lo, can we ſacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eies, and they not ſtone vs?

g For the Egyptians worſhipped diuers beaſts, as the ox, the ſhepe & ſuche like, & the Iſraelites offered in ſacrifice 27 Let vs go thre daies journey in the deſert, & ſacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commanded vs.

h So y^e wicked preſcribe vnto Gods meſſengers how farre they ſhal go

28 And Pharaoh ſaid, I wil let you go, y^e ye may ſacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wildernes: but go not farre away, pray for me.

29 And Moſes ſaid, Beholde, I wil go out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that y^e ſwarms of flies may departe fro Pharaoh, from his ſeruants, and from his people to morowe: but let Pharaoh ſið henceforth^e deceiue no more, in not ſuffering y^e people to ſacrifice vnto the Lord.

i He colde not iudge his heart, but yet he charged hi to do this vainly 30 So Moſes went out from Pharaoh and prayed vnto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to y^e ſaying of Moſes, and the ſwarms of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his ſeruants, and fro his people, & there remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh^e hardened his heart euen then alſo, & did not let the people go.

- 12 ¶ Also the Lord said vnto Mosés, Rise vp early in the morning, and stand before Pharaóh, and tel him, Thus saith the Lord God of y. Ebrewes, Let my people go, that they may serue me.
- 13 For I wil at this time send all my plagues vpon^c thine heart, and vpon thy seruants, & vpon thy people, that thou maiest know that there is none like me in all the earth.
- 14 For now I wil stretche out mine hand, that I may smite thee & thy people with the pestilence: & thou shalt perish from the earth.
- 15 And now I wil stretche out mine hand, that I may smite thee & thy people with the pestilence: & thou shalt perish from the earth.
- 16 And in dede, *for this cause haue^e I appointed thee, to^f shewe my power in thee, & to declare my^d Name throughout all the world.
- 17 Yet thou exaltest thy selfe against my people, and lettest them not go.
- 18 Beholde, tomorrow this time I wil cause to raine a mightie great haile, suche as was not in Egypt since the fundatió thereof was laid vnto this time.
- 19 Send therefore now, and^e gather thy cattel, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men, & the beastes, which are founde in the field, and not brought home, the haile shal fall vpon them and they shal dye.
- 20 Suche^{then} as feared the worde of the Lord among the seruantes of Pharaóh, made his seruants & his cattel flee into the houses:
- 21 But suche as^g regarded not the^f worde of the Lord, left his seruants, and his cattel in the field.
- 22 ¶ And the Lord said to Mosés, Stretche forth the thine hád toward heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon all y herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.
- 23 Then Mosés stretched out his rod toward heauen, and the Lord sent thundie & haile, and^h lightning vpon the ground: and the Lord caused haile to raine vpon the land of Egypt.
- 24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so giecuous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, sinceⁱ it was a nation.
- 25 And the haile smote throughout all the lād of Egypt all that was in y field, bothe man and beast: also the haile smote all y herbes of the field, and brake to pecies all the trees of the field.
- 26 Onely in the land of Góshen (where the children of Isiaél were) was no haile.
- 27 Then Pharaóh sent and called for Mo-

- sés and Aarón, and said vnto them, I haue now sinned: the Lord is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.
- 28 Pray ye vnto y Lord (for it is ynough) that there be no more^j mightie thunders & haile, and I wil let you go, and ye shal tary no longer.
- 29 Then Mosés said vnto him, As sone as I am out of y citie, I wil spreade mine handes vnto the Lord, and the thunder shal cease, nether shal there be any more haile, that thou maiest know that the earth is the Lords.
- 30 Now I knowe that thou, and thy seruantes feare the Lord God,^k before I pray.
- 31 (And the flaxe, and the barley were smitten: for the barley was eared, and the flaxe was bolled.
- 32 But the wheat & the rye were not smitten, for they were^l hid in the grounde)
- 33 Then Mosés went out of the citie from Pharaóh & spied his hands to the Lord, and the thundre and the haile ceased, nether rained it vpon the earth.
- 34 And when Pharaóh saw that the raine and the haile and the thundre were ceased, he sinned againe, and hardened his heart^m bothe he, and his seruants.
- 35 So the heart of Pharaóh was hardened: nether wolde he let the children of Isiaél go, as the Lord had saidⁿ by Mosés.

Or, seruants.

6 And they shal fill thine houses, & all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as nether thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue sene, since the time they were vpon the earth vnto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs seruants said vnto him, How long shal he be an offence vnto vs? let the men go, that they may serue the Lord their God: wilt thou first knowe y Egypt is destroyed?

8 So Moses and Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharaoh, & he said to them, Go, serue the Lord your God, but who are they that shal go?

9 And Moses answered, We wil go with our yong and with our olde, with our sonnes and with our daughters, with our shepe and with our cattel wil we go: for we must celebrate a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he said vnto them, Let the Lord so be with you, as I wil let you go and your children: beholde, for euil is before your face.

11 It shal not be so: now go ye that are men, and serue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

12 ¶ After, y Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand vpon the land of Egypt for the gresnoppers, that they may come vpon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, even all that the haile hath left.

13 Then Moses stretched forth his rod vpon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East winde vpon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning y East winde brought the gresnoppers.

14 So the gresnoppers went vp vpon all the land of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt: so greivous gresnoppers, like to these were neuer before, nether after them shal be suche.

15 For they couered all the face of y earth, so that the land was darcke: and they did eat all the herbes of the land, and all the frutes of the trees, which y haile had left, so y there was no grene thing left vpon the trees, nor among y herbes of the field throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And nowe forgiue me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 Moses then went out from Pharaoh, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mightie strong West winde, and toke away the gresnoppers, and violently cast the into the Red Sea, so that there remained not one gresnopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he did not let the children of Israel go.

21 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heauen, y there may be vpon y land of Egypt darcknes, even darcknes that may be felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heauen, and there was a blacke darcknes in all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man saw an other, nether rose vp fro the place where he was for three dayes: but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, Go, serue the Lord: onely your shepe and your cattel shal abide, and your children shal go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offerings that we may do sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattel also shal go w vs: there shal not an hoofe be left, for thereof must we take to serue the Lord our God: nether do we knowe how we shal serue the Lord, vntil we come thither.

27 (But y Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he wolde not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh said vnto him, Get thee fro me: loke thou se my face no more: for whensoever thou comest in my sight, thou shalt dye.

- 5 And all the first borne in the land of Egypt shal dye, fro the first borne of Pharaoh that sitteth on his throne, vnto the first borne of the maid seruant, that is at the mille, & all the first boine of beastes.
- 6 Then there shal be a great crye throughout all the land of Egypt, suche as was neuer none like, nor shalbe.
- 7 But against none of the children of Israel shal a dog moue his tongue, nether against man nor beast, that ye may knowe that the Lord putteth a difference betwene the Egyptians and Israel.
- 8 And all these thy seruantes shal come downe vnto me, and fall before me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that are at thy fete, & after this wil I depart. So he wet out from Pharaoh very angry.
- 9 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Pharaoh shal not heare you, d that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt.
- 10 So Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh: but the Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he suffered not the children of Israel to go out of his land.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Lord instituteth the Passeouer. 26 The fathers must teache their children the myserie thereof 29 The first borne are slaine 31 The Israelites are druen out of the land. 35 The Egyptians re spoiled 37 The nombre that departeth out of Egypt. 40 How long they were in Egypt

- 1 Then the Lord spake to Moses and to Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying,
- 2 This a moneth shal be vnto you the beginning of moneths: it shalbe to you the first b moneth of the yere.
- 3 Speake ye vnto all the Congregation of Israel, saying, In the tenth of this moneth let euerie man take vnto him a lambe according to the house of the fathers, a lamb for an house.
- 4 If the housholde be to litle for the lambe, he shal take his neighbour, which is next vnto his house, according to the nombre of the persones: euerie one of you, according to his d eating shal make your comyt for the lambe.
- 5 Your lambe shalbe without blemish, a male of a yere olde: ye shal take it of the lambes, or of the kiddes.
- 6 And ye shal kepe it vntil the fourteenth day of this moneth: then e all the multitude of the Congregation of Israel shal kil it at euen.
- 7 After that shal take of the blood & strike it on the two postes, and on the vpper doorepost of the houses where they shal eat it.
- 8 And they shal eat the flesh y same night, roasted with fyre, & unleavened bread with lower herbes they shal eat it.

- 9 Eat not thereof rawe, boiled nor sodde in water, but roasted with fyre, both his head, his fete, and his purtenance.
- 10 And ye shal reserue nothing of it vnto the morning: but that, which remaineth of it vnto the morowe, shal ye burne with fyre.
- 11 ¶ And thus shal ye eat it, Your loynes girded, your shoes on your fete, & your slaues in your hands, and ye shal eat it in haste: for it is the Lords Passeouer.
- 12 For I wil passe through the land of Egypt the same night, and wil smite all the first borne in the land of Egypt, bothe man and beast, and I wil execute iudgement vpon all the gods of Egypt. I am the Lord.
- 13 And the blood shalbe a token for you vpon the houses where ye are: so when I see the blood, I wil passe ouer you, and the plague shal not be vpon you to destruction, when I smite the land of Egypt.
- 14 And this day shalbe vnto you a remembrance: and ye shal kepe it an holy feast vnto the Lord, throughout your generations: ye shal kepe it holy by an ordinance for euer.
- 15 Seuen daies shal ye eat unleavened bread, & in any case ye shal put away leauen the first day out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day vntil the seuenth day, that persone shal be cut off from Israel.
- 16 And in the first day shalbe an holy assemblie: also in the seuenth day shal be an holy assemblie vnto you: no worke shalbe done in them, save about that which euerie man must eat: that onely may ye do.
- 17 Ye shal kepe also the feast of unleavened bread: for that same day I wil bring your armies out of the land of Egypt: therefore ye shal obserue this day, throughout your posteritie, by an ordinance for euer.
- 18 ¶ In the first month and the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen, ye shal eat unleavened bread vnto the one and twentieth day of the moneth at euen.
- 19 Seuen daies shal no leauen be founde in your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread, that persone shalbe cut off fro the Congregation of Israel: whether he be a stranger, or borne in the land.
- 20 Ye shal eat no leavened bread: but in all your habitacions shal ye eat unleavened bread.
- 21 ¶ The Moses called all the Elders of Israel, and said vnto them, Chose out and take you for euerie of your housholdes a lambe, and kil the Passeouer.
- 22 And take a bunch of hyssope, and dip it in the blood that is in the bassen, & strike the lintel, and the doore chekes with the blood that is in the bassen, & let none of you go out at the doore of his house, vntil

25 And when ye shal come into the ^m land, which the Lord wil giue you, as he hath promised, then ye shal kepe this seruice.

 Or, ceremony. 25th. 4. 4.*

26 * And whē your children aske you, What seruice is this ye kepe?

27 Then ye shal say, It is the sacrifice of the Lords Passeouer, which passed ouer the houses of the children of Israël in Egypt, when he smote the Egyptians, and preserved our houses. Then the people ⁿ bowed them selues, and worshipped.

n Thei gaue God thanks for so great a benefit.

28 So the children of Israël went, and did as the Lord had commanded Mosēs and Aa: rōn: so did thei.

Chap 11. 4. The 1st place.

29 ¶ Now at * midnight, the Lord smote all the firstborne in the lād of Egypt, frō the firstborne of Pharaōh that sat on his throne, vnto the * firstborne of the captiue that was in prison, and all the firstborne of beastes.

Wisd 18. 5.

30 And Pharaōh rose vp in the night, he, and all his seruants & all the Egyptians: and there was a great crye in Egypt: for there was ^o no house where there was not one dead.

o Of these houses, wherein any firstborne was either of me or beastes.

31 And he called to Mosēs and to Aa: rōn by night, & said, Rise vp, get you out frō among my people, bothe ye, and the children of Israël, and go serue the Lord as ye haue said.

Pray for me

32 Take also your shepe and your cattel as ye haue said, and departe, and ^r bleffe me also.

33 And the Egyptiās did force the people, because thei wolde send them out of the land in haste: for thei said, We dye all.

34 Therefore the people toke their dowe before it was leauened, euen their dowe bounde in clothes vpon their sholders.

35 And the children of Israël did according to the saying of Mosēs, and thei asked of the Egyptians * iewels of siluer & iewels of golde, and raiment.

38 And ^r a great multitude of fundry fortes of people went out with them, and shepe, and beues, & cattel in great abundance.

39 And thei baked the dowe which thei brought out of Egypt, & made vnleauened cakes: for it was not leauened, because thei were thrust out of Egypt, nether colde they tary, nor yet prepare them selues vi-tailes.

40 ¶ So the dwelling of the childrē of Israël, while thei dwelled in Egypt, was ^{* four-} hundredth and thirty yeres.

43 Also the Lord said vnto Mosēs and Aa- rōn, This is the lawe of the Passeouer: ^r no stranger shal eat thereof.

r Except he be circūcised & onely pro- fesse your re- ligion.

44 But euerie seruāt that is bought for money, when thou hast circūcised him, then shal he eat thereof.

45 A stranger or an hyred seruant shal not eat thereof.

46 * In one house shal it be eatē: thou shalt cary none of the flesh out of the house, ^{* nether} shal ye breake a bone thereof.

49 One ^u law shalbe to him that is borne in the land, & to the stranger that dwelleth among you.

u Thei that are of ^y house- holde of God, must be all ioyned in one faith and reli- gion.

50 Then all the children of Israël did as the Lord commanded Mosēs and Aa: rōn: so did thei.

out of Egypt, out of the ^ahouse of ^abondage: for by a mightie hand the Lord broght you out from thence: therefore no leaueued bread shalbe ^beaten.

⁴ This day come ye out in the moneth of ^cAbib.

⁶ Seuen daies shalt thou eat vnleaueued bread, & the ^dseuenth day shalbe the feast of the Lord.

⁷ Vnleaueued bread shalbe eaten seuen daies, & there shal no leaueued bread be sene with thee, nor yet leaue be sene with thee in all thy quarters.

⁸ ¶ And thou shalt shewe thy sonne ^ein y^e day, saying, This is done, because of that which the Lord did vnto me, whē I came out of Egypt.

¹⁰ Kepe therefore this ordinance in his season appointed from yere to yere.

¹¹ ¶ And when the Lord shal bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he sware vnto thee and to thy fathers, & shal giue it thee,

¹⁶ And it shalbe as a token vpon thine hand, & as ⁱfrouetelets betwene thine eyes, that the Lord broght vs out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

¹⁷ ¶ Now whē Pharaoh had let the people go, God caried the not by the way of the

Philistims countrey, though it were nerer: (for God said, Lest y^e people repent whē they se i warre, & turne againe to Egypt)

¹⁹ (And Moses toke the bones of Ioseph with him: for he had made the childre of Israel sweare, saying, *God wil surely visite you, and ye shal take my bones away hence with you)

²⁰ ¶ So they toke their iourney from Succoth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wildernes.

²² *He toke not away the pillar of the cloude by day, nor the pillar of fyre by night from before the people.

¹ Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

² Speake to the children of Israel, that they ^areturne & campe before ^bPi-hahirōth, betwene Migdol and y^e Sea, ouer against *Baal-zephon: about it shal ye campe by the Sea.

³ For Pharaoh wil say of the children of Israel, They are tangled in the land: the wildernes hath shut them in.

⁴ And I wil harden Pharaohs heart that he shal follow after you: so I wil ^cget me honour vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his hoste: the Egyptians also shal knowe that I am the Lord: and they did so.

⁵ ¶ Then it was tolde the King of Egypt, that the people fled: & the heart of Pharaoh & of his seruants was turned against the people, and they said, Why haue we this done, & haue let Israel go out of our seruice?

⁶ And he made ready his charrets, & toke his people with him, and they were sore afraid: wherefore the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord.

⁷ And toke six hundred chosen charrets, & ^dall the charrets of Egypt, and captaines ouer euerie one of them.

f Thei, which a litle before in their deliuerance reioyced, being now in danger are afraid & murmure.

In this figure foure chief points are to be considered. first that the Church of God is euer subiect in this worlde to the Crosse & to be afflicted after one sort or other. The second, that the ministers of God following their vocation shalbe euil spoken of, and murmured against, even of them that pretend the same cause and religion that they do. The third, that God deliuereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exercise their faith and patience continueth their troubles. yea and often tymes augmenteth them as the Israelites were now in lesse hope of their liues then when they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are moste great, then Gods helpe is moste ready to succour: for the Israelites had on either side the, huge rockes & mountaines, before them the Sea, behinde them moste cruel enemies: so that there was no way left to escape to mans iudgement.

11 And thei said vnto Moses, Hast thou brought vs to dye in the wilderness, because there were no graues in Egypt? wherefore hast thou serued vs thus, to cary vs out of Egypt?

12 Did not we tel thee this thing in Egypt, saying, Let vs be in rest, that we may serue the Egyptians? for it had bene better for vs to serue the Egyptians, the that we shulde dye in the wilderness.

13 Then Moses said to the people, Feare ye not, stand stil, and beholde the saluacion of the Lord which he wil shewe to you this day. For the Egyptians, whome ye haue sene this day, ye shal neuer se them againe.

14 The Lord shal fight for you: therefore holde you your peace.

15 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses, Wherefore cryest thou vnto me? speake vnto the children of Israel that thei go forward:

16 And lift thou vp thy rod, & stretch out thine hand vpon the Sea & deuide it, and let the childre of Israel go on drye ground through the middes of the Sea.

17 And I, beholde I wil harden the heart of the Egyptians that thei may followe the, and I wil get me honour vpon Pharaoh, & vpon all his hoste, vpon his charrets, & vpon his horsemen.

18 Then the Egyptians shal knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charrets, & vpon his horsemen.

19 ¶ And the Angel of God, which went before the hoste of Israel, remoued & went behinde them: also the pillar of the cloude went from before them, and stode behinde them, 20 And came betwene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Israel: it was bothe a cloude and darckenes, yet gaue it light by night, so that all the night long the one came not at the other)

21 And Moses stretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord caused the Sea to runne backe by a strong East winde all the night, and made the Sea drye land: for the waters were* deuided.

22 The children of Israel wet through the middes of the Sea vpon the drye ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on the right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians pursued and went after them to the middes of the Sea, euen all Pharaohs horses, his charrets, and his horsemen.

24 Now in the morning I watche, whe the Lord looked vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, out of the fry and cloudy pillar, he stroke the hoste of the Egyptians with feare.

25 For he toke of their charet wheles, and thei draue them with* muche ado: so that the Egyptians enerie one said, I wil flee fro the face of Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptians.

26 ¶ Then the Lord said to Moses, Stretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may retaine vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charrets and vpon their horsemen.

1 The Israelites come to the desert of Sin, and murmur against Moses and Aaron 13 The Lord sendeth quails against Moses and Aaron 27 The seventh day Manna could not be founde 32 It is kept for a remembrance to the posteritie

Afterward all the Cōgregacion of y^e children of Israél departed from Elim, and came to the wildernes of ^a Sin, (which is betwene Elim and Sinai) the fiftenth day of the seconde moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt. And the whole Cōgregaciō of the children of Israél murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wildernes.

3 For the children of Israél said to them, Oh y^e we had dyed by the hand of y^e Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sate by y^e flesh^b pottes, when we ate bread our bellies full: for ye haue broght vs out into this wildernes, to kil this whole compaignie with famine.

4 ¶ Then said the Lord vnto Moses, Beholde, I wil cause bread to raine f^ro heauen to you, and the people shal go out, & gather that y^e is sufficient for euery^c day, that I may proue them, whether they wil walke in my Lawe or no.

5 But the sixt day they shal prepare that, which they shal bring home, and it shalbe twise as muche as they gather dailey.

6 Then Moses and Aaron said vnto all the children of Israél, At euen ye shal knowe, that the Lord broght you out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning ye shal se the glorie of y^e Lord. ^d for he hathe heard your grudging against the Lord: and what are we y^e ye haue murmured against vs?

8 Againe Moses said, At euē shal the Lord giue you flesh to eat, and in the morning your fil of bread: for y^e Lord hathe heard your murmurings, which ye murmure against him: for what are we? your murmurings are not against vs, but against the^e Lord.

9 ¶ And Moses said to Aaron, Say vnto all the Cōgregacion of the childre of Israél, Drawe nere before y^e Lord: for he hath heard your murmurings.

10 Now as Aaron spake vnto the whole Cōgregacion of the children of Israél, they looked toward the wildeines, and beholde, y^e glorie of the Lord appeared^e iⁿ a cloude.

11 (For the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, saying,

12 * I haue heard y^e murmurings of the children of Israél: tel them therefore, & say, At euen ye shal eat flesh, and in the morning ye shalbe filled with bread, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord your God)

13 And so at euē the^e quails came & couered the campe: & in the morning y^e dewe laye rounde about the hoste.

14 * And when the dewe that was fallē was ascended, beholde, a smale rounde thing was vpon the face of the wildernes, smale as the hore frost on the earth.

15 And when the children of Israél sawe it, they said one to another, It is f^r M A N, for they wist not what it was. And Moses said vnto them, * This is the bread which the Lord hathe giuen you to eat

16 ¶ This is the thing which y^e Lord hathe commanded: gather of it euery man according to his eating s an Omer for^a a mā according to the nombre of your persones: euery man shal take for the which are in his tent.

17 And the children of Israél did so, & gathered, some more, some lesse.

18 And when they did measure it with an Omer, ^e he that had gathered muche, had nothing ouer, & he that had gathered little, had no^b lacke: so euery man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moses then said vnto them, Let no man reſerue thereof til morning.

20 Notwithſtāding thei obēd not Moses: but some of them reſerued of it til morning, and it was ful of wormes, & ^f ſtanke: theſeſore Moses was angry with them.

21 And they gathered it euery morning, euery mā accordig to his eating: for whe the heat of the ſune came, it was melted.

22 ¶ And the ſixt day they gathered ^g k twiſe ſo muche bread, two Omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Congregation came and tolde Moses.

23 And he answered the, This is that, which y^e Lord hathe ſaid, To morowe is the reſt of the holy Sabbath vnto the Lord: bake that to date which ye wil bake, and ſethe y^e which ye wil ſethe, and all that remaineth, lay it vp to be kept til y^e mornig for you.

24 And they laied it vp til the morning, as Moses bade, and it ſtanke not, nether was there any worme therein.

25 Then Moses said, Eat that to day: for to day is the Sabbath vnto the Lord: to day ye ſhal notⁱ finde it in the field.

26 Six dayes ſhal ye gather it, but in y^e ſeuēth day is the Sabbath: in it thei ſhalbe none.

27 ¶ Notwithſtāding, there^m went out ſome of the people in the ſeuēth day for to gather, and they founde none.

28 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moses, How loſe reſuſe ye to kepe my commandements, & my lawes?

29 Beholde, how the Lord hathe giue you the Sabbath: therefore he giue you the ſixt day bread for two dayes: tary therefore euery man in his place: let no man go out of his place the ſeuēth day.

30 So the people reſted the ſeuēth day.

31 And the houſe of Israél called the name of it

THE TABLE OF THE SHEWE BREAD.

- A B The height a cubite and an halfe.
 B C The length two cubites.
 C D The breadth a cubite.
 E A crowne of golde about & beneath separated the one frō the other by a border of an hand breadth thicke, w^{ch} declareth that the table was an hand breadth thicke.
 F The foure rings.
 G The barres to cary the table, which were put through y rings.
 H Dishes wherein y shewe bread was put.
 I The twelue cakes or loaves called the shewe bread.
 K The goblets or couerings.
 L The incense cups.

- Chap. 37. 23.* ¶ Thou shalt also make a table of Shittim wood, of two cubites long, & one cubite broad; and a cubite and an half hie: 27 Ouer against the border shal the rings be for places for barres, to beare the Table.
- 24 And thou shalt couer it wth pure golde, and make thereto a crowne of golde rounde about. 28 And thou shalt make the barres of Shittim wood, and shalt ouerlay them with golde, that y^e Table may be borne with them.
- 25.* ¶ Thou shalt also make vnto it a border of foure fingers rounde about: and thou shalt make a golden crowne rounde about the border thereof. 29 Thou shalt make also ^h dishes for it, and ^h incens cups for it and couerings for it, and goblets, wherewith it shalbe couered, ^h To set the bread vpon: eue of fine golde shalt thou make them.
- 26 After, thou shalt make for it foure rings of golde, & shalt put the rings in y^e foure corners that are in the foure fete thereof: 30 And thou shalt set vpon the Table shewbread before me continually.

THE CANDELTICKE.

Because the facion of the candeltick is so plaine & euident, it nedeth not to describe the particular partes thereof according to the ordre of lettres. Onely where as it is said in the 34 verse, that there shalbe foure bowles or cuppes in the candelsticke, it must be vnderstand of the shaft or shanke: for there are but thre for euerie one of the other branches. Also the knoppes of the candelsticke are those which are vnder the branches as they issue out of the shaft on either side.

- Chap. 37. 17.* ¶ Also thou shalt make a Candelticke of pure golde: of ⁱ worke beaten out: wth the hāmer shal the Candelticke be made, his shaft, & his brāches, his bolles, his knops: and his floures shal be of the same. 35 And there shalbe a knop vnder two branches made thereof: & a knop vnder two brāches made thereof: and a knop vnder two brāches made thereof according to the six branches comming out of the Candelticke.
- 32 Six branches also shal come out of the sides of it: thre branches of the Candelticke out of the one side of it, and thre branches of the Candelticke out of the other side of it. 36 Their knops and their branches shalbe thereof, all this shalbe one beate worke of pure golde.
- 33 Thre bolles like vnto almondes, one knop and one floure in one branche: and thre bolles like almondes in the other brāche, one knop and one floure: so through out the six brāches that come out of the Candelticke. 37 And y^e shalt make the seuen lāpes thereof, & y^e lāpes thereof shalt y^e put thereon, to giue light toward that that is before it.
- 34 And in the shaft of y^e Candelticke shalbe foure bolles like vnto almondes, his knops & his floures. 38 Also the snoffers & snoffedishes thereof shal be of pure golde.
- 39 Of a talēt of fine golde shalt thou make it with all these instruments. ^k This was y^e talent weight of the temple & waied 150 pounds.
- 40 * I like therefore that thou make them after their facion, that was shewed thee in the mountaine. alt. 7. 4. 1.

THE CVRTAINES OF GOATES HEERE.

N O R T H.

S O U T H E.

These eleuen curtaines of goates heere were put about the other ten, and the eleventh hanged before the enrie of the Tabernacle, like E. These also were 30 cubites long and the other but eight and twenty, and therefore on the Southe side they were a cubite longer then the other, like A. and also another on the North side, that the boares might be covered.

d Let raine and weather shulde marre it.

7 ¶ Also y^e shalt make curtaines of goates heere, to be a^d couering vpon the Tabernacle: thou shalt make them to the number of eleuen curtaines.

8 The length of a curtaine shalbe thirtie cubites, & the breadth of a curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines shalbe of one measure.

e That is, five on y^e one side, & five on the other, and the sixt shulde hang ouer the dore of y^e Tabernacle.

9 And thou shalt couple five curtaines by them selues, and the six curtaines by them selues: but thou shalt double the^e sixt curtaine vpon the fore fronte of the couering.

10 And thou shalt make fifty strings in the edge of one curtaine in the skedg of the coupling, and fifty strings in the edge of the other curtaine in the seconde coupling.

11 Likewise thou shalt make fifty^e raches of^e bialle, and fasten them on the strings, & shalt couple the couering together, that it may be one.

12 And the^e f^eenant that resteth in the curtaines of the couering, euen the halfe curtaine that resteth, shalbe left at the backe side of the Tabernacle, 13 That the cubite on the one side, and the cubite on the other side of that which is left in the length of the curtaines of the couering, may remaine on either side of the Tabernacle to couer it.

14 Moreouer for that couering thou shalt make a^e couering of rams skins died red, & a couering^b of badgers skins about.

15 ¶ Also thou shalt make boares for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to stand vp.

f For these curtaines were two cubites longer then the curtaines of y^e Tabernacle: so that they were fast by a cubite on bothe sides.

g To be put vpon the couering, y^e was made of goates heere. h This was y^e thirde couering for the Tabernacle.

A M Twentie boares on the Southe side and twentie on the North side
B K The length of euerie one ten cubites, & the breadth a cubite and an halfe

E K & N I Declare that all the boares ioyned together made thirtie cubites, which was the length of the Tabernacle. Iosephus writeth that euerie boarde was an handfull thicke 16 Ten cubites shall^e the length of a boarde, and a cubite and an halfe cubite the breadth of one boarde.

17 Two tenons shalbe in one boarde set in ordre as the fere of a ladder, one against an other: thus shalt thou make for all the boares of the Tabernacle.

18 And thou shalt make boares for the Tabernacle, euen twentie boares on the Southe side, euen ful South.

Or, halfe piece, as in we re the most uses for the tenons.

19 And thou shalt make fourtie^e sockets of siluer vnder the twentie boares, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons,

& two sockets vnder an other boarde for his two tenons.

20 In like maner on the other side of the Tabernacle towarde the North side shall be twentie boares, 21 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, and two sockets vnder a nother boarde.

22 And on the side of the Tabernacle, toward the West shalt thou make six boares.

23 Also two boares shalt thou make in the corners of the Tabernacle in y^e two sides.

24 Also they shalbe ioyned beneth, & likewise.

i The Ebrew word signifieth twinnes & declaring that they shulde be so perfect and well ioyned as were possible.

wife thei shalbe ioyned aboute to a ring: thus shal it be for them two: thei shalbe for the two corners.

25 So thei shalbe eight boardes hauing sockets of siluer, euē sixtene sockets, that is, two sockets vnder one boarde, & two sockets vnder another boarde.

26 ¶ Then thou shalt make fīue barres of Shittīm wood for the boardes of one side of the Tabernacle, 27 And fīue barres for the boardes of the other side of the Tabernacle: also fīue barres for the boardes of the side of the Tabernacle toward the Westside.

28 And the middle barie shal go through the middes of the boardes, from end to end.

29 And thou shalt couer the boardes with golde, and make their rings of golde, for places for the barres, and thou shalt couer the barres with golde.

30 So thou shalt reere vp the Tabernacle * according to the facion thereof, which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 ¶ Moreouer thou shalt make a vaile of blewē filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen: thou shalt make it of broyded worke with Cherubims.

32 And thou shalt hang it vpon foure pillers of Shittīm wood couered with golde, (whose k hokes shalbe of golde) standing vpon foure sockets of siluer.

33 ¶ Afterward thou shalt hang the vaile " on the hokes, that thou maiest bring in thither, that is (within ȝ vaile) the Arke of the Testimonie: and the vaile shal make you a separation betwene the Holy place and the ¹ moſte Holy place.

34 Also thou shalt put the Merciseat vpon the Arke of the Testimonie in the moſte Holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the Table ^m without the vaile, & the Candellsticke ouer against the Table on ȝ Southside of the Tabernacle, and thou shalt set the Table on the Northside.

36 Also thou shalt make an ⁿ hanging for the dore of the Tabernacle of blewē filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen wrought with nedle.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging fīue pillers of Shittīm, and couer the with golde: their heades shalbe of golde, & thou shalt cast fīue sockets of brasse for them.

THE GARMENTS OF THE HIGH PRIEST.

A The Ephod, or vpmost coate, which was like cloth of golde and was girded vnto him, wherein was the breast plate with the twelue stones, which was tied about with two cheines to two onix stones and beneth with two laces.

B The robe w^{ch} was next vnder the Ephod, wherunto were ioined the pomegranates and belles of golde.

C The tunicle or broyded coate, which was vnder ŷ robe and longer then it, and was also with out sleeves

4 Now these shalbe ŷ garmets, wth thei shal make, a breast plate, & a Ephod, & a robe, & a broyded coat, a mitre, & a girdle. so the se holy garmets shal they make for Aarón thy brother, & for his sonnes, that he may serue me in the Priests office.

5 Therefore they shal take golde, & blewe filke, and purple, and skarlet, & fine linen,

6 ¶ And they shal make the Ephod of golde, blewe filke, and purple, skarlet, & fine twined linen of broyded worke.

7 The two shulders thereof shalbe ioyned together by their two edges: so shal it be closed.

d Which wet

8 And y^d embroyded garde of the same Ephod, which shalbe vpō him, shalbe of y^e selfe same worke and stuffe, even of golde, blewe filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two onix stones, and grauē vpon them the names of the children of Israël:

10 Six names of the vpon the one stone, & the six names that remaine, vpō the secode stone, according to^e their generaciōs.

e As they were in age, so shulde they be grauen in order.

11 Thou shalt cause to graue y^e two stones accordig to the names of y^e childre of Is-raél by a grauer of signets, y^e worketh and graueth in stone, and shalt make them to be set and embossed in golde.

f That Aarón might remembre the Israelites to God warde.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones vpon the shulders of the Ephod, as stones of^e remēbrance of y^e children of Israël: for Aa-rón shal beare their names before y^e Lord vpō his two shulders for a remēbrance.

g Of the bos-

13 So thou shalt make bosses of golde, 14 ¶ And two cheines of fine golde s at 15 ¶ Also thou shalt make the breast plate of iudgemēt with broyded worke: like the worke of the Ephod shalt thou make it:

of golde, blewe filke, and purple, and skar-let, & fine twined linen shalt y^e make it.

16 Foure square it shalbe and double, an hand bred long and an hand bred broad.

17 Then thou shalt set it ful of places for stones, even foure rowes of stones: y^e ordre shalbe thus, a^o ruby, a topaze, and a^o carbū-cle in the first rowe.

o Or, sardine.
o Or, emeralde.

18 And in the seconde rowe thou shalt set an^o emeraude, a saphir, and a^o diamond.

o Or, carbuncle.
o Or, saphir.

19 And in y^e third rowe a turkeis, an achate, and an hematite.

o Or, earshish.

20 And in the fourte rowe a^o chrysolite, an onix, and a iasper: and they shalbe set in golde in their embossments.

21 And the stones shalbe according to the names of the childre of Israël, twelue, according to their names, grauen as signets, euerie one after his name, & they shalbe for the twelue tribes.

22 ¶ Then thou shalt make vpon the breast plate two cheines at the endes of wrethen worke of pure golde.

23 Thou shalt make also vpō the breast plate two rings of golde, and put the two rings on^k the two endes of the breast plate.

k Which are of the breast plate.

25 And the other two endes of the two wre-then cheines, thou shalt fasten in the two embossments, and shalt put them vpō the shulders of the Ephod on y^e fore side of it.

26 ¶ Also thou shalt make two rings of golde, which thou shalt put in the two other endes of the breast plate, vpon the border thereof, toward y^e inside of y^e Ephod.

l Which are beneth.

27 And two other rings of golde thou shalt make, & put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneth in the fore parte of it ouer against the coupling of it vpon the broy-ded garde of the Ephod.

28 Thus they shal binde the breast plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, w^h a lace of blewe filke, that it may be fast vp-on the broyded garde of the Ephod, & y^e the breast plate be not losed frō y^e Ephod.

29 So Aarón shal^m beare the names of the childre of Israël in the breast plate of iud-gement vpon his heart, when he goeth into the holy place, for a remembrance continually before the Lord.

m Aarón shal not entre into the holy place in his owne name, but in 30 ¶ Also thou shalt put in the breast plate of iudgement theⁿ Vrim & the Thūmim, w^h shalbe vpō Aarons heart, whē he goeth in before the Lord: and Aarón shal beare the iudgemēt of the children of Israël vp-

39 Likewise thou ſhalt embroydre the fine linen coat, and thou ſhalt make a mitre of fine linen, but thou ſhalt make a girdel of needle worke.

40 Also thou ſhalt make for Aarons ſonnes coates, & thou ſhalt make the girdels, & bonets ſhalt thou make them for glorie and comelines.

41 And thou ſhalt put them vpon Aarón thy brother, & on his ſonnes with him, & ſhalt anoynt them, and ſil their hands, and ſanctifie them, y they may miniſtre vnto me in the Prieſts office.

42 Thou ſhalt alſo make them linen breeches to couer their priuities: fro the loynes vnto the thighs ſhal they reache.

43 And they ſhal be for Aarón and his ſonnes when they come into the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation, or when they come vnto the altar to miniſter in y holy place, that they cōmit not iniquitie, & ſo dye. This ſhal be a lawe for euer vnto him and to his ſede after him.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The manner of conſecrating the Prieſts 38 The continual ſacrifice. 45 The Lord promiſeth to dwell among the children of Iſraél.

1 THis thing alſo ſhalt thou do vnto the when thou cōſecrateſt them to be my Prieſtes. * Take a yong calf, and two rams without blemiſh,

2 And vnleauened bread & cakes vnleauened tempered with oyle, & wafers vnleauened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flower ſhalt thou make them)

3 The y ſhalt put the in one baſket, & a preſent them in the baſket with the calf and the two rams,

4 And ſhalt bring Aarón and his ſonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of y Cōgregation, and waſh them with water.

5 Alſo thou ſhalt take the garments, & put vpon Aarón the tunicle, and the robe of the Ephod, and the Ephod, and the breaſt plate, and ſhalt cloſe th m to him with the broyded garde of the Ephod.

6 Then thou ſhalt put the mitre vpon his head, and ſhalt put the holy crowne vpon the mitre.

7 And thou ſhalt take the anointing oyle, and ſhalt powre vpon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou ſhalt bring his ſonnes, and put coates vpon them,

9 And ſhalt girde them with girdels, bothe Aarón & his ſonnes: and ſhalt put the bonets on them, and the Prieſtes office ſhal be theirs for a perpetual lawe: thou * ſhalt alſo ſil the hands of Aarón, and the hāds of his ſonnes.

10 After, thou ſhalt preſent the calf before the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation. * and Aarón and his ſonnes ſhal put their hāds vpon the head of the calf.

11 So thou ſhalt kil the calf before y Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation.

12 Then thou ſhalt take of y blood of the calf, and put it vpon the hoines of the altar with thy finger, and ſhalt powre all the reſt of the blood at the fote of the altar.

13 * Alſo thou ſhalt take all the fat that couereth the inwardes, and the kall, that is on the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon the, and ſhalt burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the fleſh of the calf, and his ſkin, and his doug ſhalt thou burne with fire with out the hoſte: it is a ſinne offering.

15 ¶ Thou ſhalt alſo take one ram, and Aarón and his ſonnes ſhal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

16 Then thou ſhalt kil the ram, and take his blood, and ſprinkle it round about vpon the altar,

17 And thou ſhalt cut the ram in pieces, and waſh y inwardes of him and his legges, & ſhalt put them vpon the pieces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou ſhalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar. for it is a burnt offering vnto the Lord a for a ſwete ſauour: it is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 ¶ And thou ſhalt take the other ram, and Aarón and his ſonnes ſhal put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then ſhalt thou kil the ram, and take of his blood & put it vpon the lap of Aaróns eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his ſonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hand, & vpon the great toe of their right fote, and ſhalt ſprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou ſhalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and ſhalt ſprinkle it vpon Aarón, and vpon his garments, and vpon his ſonnes, and vpon the garments of his ſonnes with him: ſo he ſhal be halowed, and his clothes, and his ſonnes, and the garments of his ſonnes with him.

22 Alſo thou ſhalt take of the rams y fat & the rompe, euen the fat that couereth the inwardes, and the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right ſhulder, (for it is the ſam of conſecration)

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oyle, & one wafer, out of y baſket of the vnleauened bread that is before the Lord.

24 And thou ſhalt put all this in the hāds of Aarón, and in the hāds of his ſonnes, and 26 Likewise thou shalt take the brest of the ram of the consecration, which is for Aarón, and shalt shake it to h and fro before the Lord, and it shalbe thy parte.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the shaken offering, & the shulder of the i heaue offering, which was shaken to and fro, & which was heaued vp of the ram of the consecration, which was for Aarón, and which was for his sonnes.

28 And Aarón and his sonnes shal haue it by a statute for euer, of the children of Israël: for it is an heaue offering, and it shalbe an heaue offering of the children of Israël, of their k peace offerings, euen their heaue offering to the Lord.

29 ¶ And the holy garmets, which apperteyne to Aarón, shalbe his sonnes after him, to be anointed therein, and to be cōsecrat therein.

30 That sonne that shalbe Priest in his steede, shal put them on seuen dayes, when he cometh into the Tabernacle of the Congregation to minister in the holy place.

31 ¶ So thou shalt take the ram of γ cōsecration, and seth his flesh in the holy place.

THE ALTAR OF SWETE PERFUME.

This altar was one cubite long, and one cubite broad, and in height was two cubites: the rest may be understood by the former figures.

- 4 Besides this thou shalt make vnder this crowne two golden rings on ether side: euen on euerie side shalt thou make them, that thei may be as places for the barres to beare it with all.
- 5 The w barres thou shalt make of Shittim wood, and shalt couer them w golde.
- 6 After thou shalt set it before the vaile, that is nere the Arke of Testimonie, before the Merciseat that is vpon the Testimonie, where I wil appoint with thee.
- 7 And Aarón shal burne thereon swete incense euerie morning: when he d dresseth the lampes thereof, shal he burne it.
- 8 Likewise at euen, when Aarón setteth vp the lāpes thereof, he shal burne incense: this perfume shalbe perpetually before the Lord, throughout your generations.
- 9 Ye shal offie no e strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor offering, nether powie anie drinke offering f thereon.
- 10 And Aarón shal make recōciliation vpō y hornes of it once in a yere w the blood of the sinne offering in the day of recōciliation: once in the yere shal he make reconciliation vpon it throughout your generations: this is moſte holy vnto the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 God maketh Bezaleel & Ahiliab mete for his worke.
2 The Sabbath day is the signe of our sanctification.
3 The tables written by the finger of God.

1 And ^o Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying, Beholde, I ^a haue called by name, Bezakel, the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudáh,

2 I haue chosen and made mete Chap 35, 30

3 Whome I haue filled with the Spirit of God, in wisdom, & in vnderstanding & in knowledge & in all ^b workmanship:

b This sheweth that hād crafts are the gifts of Gods Spirit, & therefore ought to be esteemed.

4 To finde out curious workes to worke in golde, & in siluer, and in brasse,

5 Also in the art to set stones, and to carue in timber, and to worke in all maner of workmanship.

6 And beholde, I haue ioyned with hī Aholiab the sonne of Ahisamah of the tribe of

Dan, & in the heartes of all that are ^c wise hearted, haue I put wisdom to make all ^c I haue commanded thee:

c I haue instructed them, and increased their knowledge.

7 That is, ^o Tabernacle of ^o Congregation, and the Arke of the Testimonie, and the Mercieseat that shalbe thereupon, with all instruments of the Tabernacle:

8 Also the Table and the instruments thereof, and the ^d pure Candellsticke with all his instruments, and the Altar of perfume:

d So called, because of the conning and art thereof therein, or because the whole was beaten out of one piece

9 Likewise the Altar of burnt offering with all his instruments, and the Laver with his fote:

10 Also the garments of the ministration, and the holy garmets for Aarón ^o Priest, and the garmets of his sonnes, to minister in the Priests office, 11 And the ^e anointing oyle, and swete perfume for the Sanctuarie: according to all that I haue commanded thee, shal they do.

e Which onely was to anoint the Priests & instruments of the Tabernacle, and not to burne

12 ¶ Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,

13 Speake thou also vnto the children of Israël, & say, ^f Notwithstanding kepe ye my Sabbaths: for it is a signe betwene me and you in your generacions, that ye may knowe that I the Lord do sanctifie you.

f Though I commanded these workes to be done, yet wil I not that you breake my Sabbathdaies.

14 *Ye shal therefore kepe ^g Sabbath: for it is holy vnto you: he that defileth it, shal dye ^g death: therefore whosoever worketh therein, the same persone shalbe euē cut of from among his people.

g God repeeth this point because the whole keeping of the Law standeth in the true vie of the Sabbath, & is to cease from our workes, & to obey the wil of God

15 Six dayes shal men worke, but in the seventh day is the Sabbath of the holy rest to the Lord: whosoever doeth any worke in the Sabbath day, shal dye the death.

16 Wherefore the childre of Israël shal kepe the Sabbath, that they may obserue the ^h rest through out their generacions for an euēlasting couenant.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The Israelites impute their deliuerance to the calf. 2 God is appeased by Moyses prayer 19 Moyses breakeeth the Tables 27 He slayeth the idolaters. 32 Moyses zeale for the people.

1 B Vt when the people sawe, that Moyses taried long or he came downe from ^o mountaine, the people gathered the felues together against Aarón, & said vnto him, Vp, ^a make vs gods to go before vs: for of this Moyses (the man that broght vs out of the land of Egypt) we knowe not what is become of him.

a The rote of idolatrie is, whe me thinke ^o God is not at hand, except they se him carnally

2 And Aarón said vnto them, ^b Plucke of the b Thinking ^o they wolde rather forgo idolatrie, the to resigne their more precious atch.

the golden earrings, which are in the eares of your wiues, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people pluckte from the e selues the golden earrings, which were in their eares, and they brought them vnto Aarón.

* Who receiued them at their hands, and facioned it with the grauing tole, & made of it a molten calf: then they said, * These be thy gods, ó Isiaél, w brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

When Aarón sawe that, he made an altar before it: and Aarón proclaimed, saying, To morowe shalbe the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose vp the next day in the morning, and offred burnt offerings, & brought peace offerings: also the people sate them downe to eat and drinke, and iose vp to playe.

7 ¶ Then the Lord said vnto Mosés, * Go, get the downe: for thy people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, haue corrupted their waies.

8 Their eares are sone turned out of the way, which I commanded them for they haue made them a molten calf, & haue worshipped it, & haue offred the cro, sayig, * These be thy gods, ó Isiaél, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Againe the Lord said vnto Mosés, * I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

Nowe therefore let me alone, that my wrath may waxe hote against them, for I wil consume them: but I wil make of thee a mightie people.

* But Mosés prayed vnto y Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doest thy wrath waxe hote against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power and with a mightie hand?

12 ¶ Whenfore shal the Egyptians speake, and say, He hath brought them out maliciously for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the earth: turne from thy fierce wrath, and change thy minde from this euil toward thy people.

13 Remembre s Abraham, Izhák, & Isiaél thy seruants, to whome thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidest vnto them, * I wil multiplie your seds, as the starres of the heauen, and all this land, that I haue spoken of, wil I giue vnto your seds, and they shal inhabite it for euer.

14 Then the Lord changed his minde from the euil, which he threatened to do vnto his people.

15 So Mosés returned and went downe from the mountaine with the two Tables of the Testimonie in his hand: the Tables were writte on bothe their sides, euen on y one side & on the other were they written.

16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And whē Ioshúa heard the noise of the people, as they shewed, he said vnto Mosés, There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noise of the that haue the victorie, nor the noise of the that are overcome: but I do heare the noise of singing.

19 Nowe, as sone as he came nere vnto the hoste, he sawe the calf and the dancing: so Mosés wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in peeces beneth the mountaine.

20 ¶ After, he toke the calf, which they had made, & burned it in the fire, and ground it vnto powder, and strowed it vpon the water, & made the childē of Isiaél drinke of it.

21 Also Mosés said vnto Aarón, What didst thou do to this people vnto thee, y thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 The Aarón answered, Let not the wrath of my lord waxe feare: thou knowest this people, that they are euen set on mischief.

23 And they said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Mosés (the man y brought vs out of the land of Egypt.)

24 The I said to them, Ye that haue golde, plucke it of: and they brought it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Mosés therefore sawe that the people were naked (for Aarón had made them naked vnto their shame among their enemies)

26 And Mosés stode in the gate of the cap, and said, Who pertaineth to the Lord? let him come to me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered them selues vnto him.

27 Then he said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Isiaél, Put euerie man his sworde by his side: go to and fro, fro gate to gate, through the hoste, and slay euerie man his brother, and euerie man his companion, & euerie man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Leui did as Mosés had commanded: and there fel of the people the same day about thre thousand me.

29 (For Mosés had said, Consecrat your hands vnto the Lord this day, euen euerie man vpon his sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giuen you a blessing this day)

30 And whē the morning came, Mosés said vnto the people, Ye haue committed a grievous crime: but now I wil go vp to the Lord, if I may pacifie him for your sinne.

31 Mosés therefore went againe vnto the Lord, and said, Oh, this people haue sinned.

32 Therefore now if thou pardone their sinne, thy mercie shal appeare: but if thou wilt not, I pray thee, raise me ^a out of thy boke, which thou hast written.

^p This declarereth how grieuous a sinne idolatry is, seeing that at Moses prayer God wolde not fully remitte it.

33 Then the Lord said to Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, I wil put him out of my ^b boke.

34 Go now therefore, bring the people vnto the place which I commanded thee: behold, mine Angel shal go before thee, but yet in the day of my visitacion I wil visit their sinne vpon them.

35 So the Lord plagued the people, because they caused Aaron to make the calf which he made.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 The Lord promisseth to send an Angel before his people. 4 They are sad because the Lord denieth to go vp with them. 5 Moses talketh familiarly with God. 13 He prayeth for the people, 18 And desireth to see the glorie of the Lord.

Chap 32.9. deut. 9.13.

1 Afterwarde the Lord said vnto Moses, Departe, ^a go vp fro hence, thou, and the people (which thou hast brought vp out of the land of Egypt) vnto the land w^{ch} I sware vnto Abraham, to Izhak and to Iaakob, sayig, *Vnto thy sede wil I giue it.

2 And * I wil send an Angel before thee & wil cast out the Canaanites, y^e Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites:

3 To a land, I say, that floweth with milke & hony: for I wil not go vp with thee, * because thou art a stiffnecked people, lest I consume thee in the way.

4 And when the people heard this euill tidings, they sorrowed, & no man put on his best rayment.

5 (For the Lord had said to Moses, Say vnto the children of Israel, Ye are a stiffnecked people, I wil come suddenly vpon thee, and consume thee: therefore now put thy costly rayment fro thee, that I may knowe what to do vnto thee.)

^b That either may shewe mercie, if thou repent, or els punish thy rebellion.

6 So the children of Israel laid their good rayment from them, after Moses came downe from the mount Horé.

7 Then Moses toke his tabernacle, & pitched it without the hoste far of from the hoste, and called it ^c Ohel-moéd. And when any did sike to the Lord, he wét out vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, which was without the hoste.

^c That is, the Tabernacle of the Congregation: so called, because the people reformed thither, when they shulde be instructed of the Lords wil.

8 And when Moses went out vnto the Tabernacle, all the people rose vp, and stood euerie man at his tent dore, and looked after Moses, vntil he was gone into the Tabernacle.

9 And as soon as Moses was entred into the Tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended and stood at the dore of the Tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.

10 Now when all the people sawe the cloudy pillar stand at the Tabernacle dore, all the people rose vp, & worshipped euerie man in his tent dore.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, ^d face to face, as a man speaketh vnto his friend. After he turned againe into the hoste, but his seruant Ioshua the sonne of Nun a yong man, departed not out of the Tabernacle.

^e I care for thee and wilt preferre thee in this thy vocation

13 Now therefore, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, shewe me now thy way, that I may knowe thee, and that I may finde grace in thy sight: confide also that this nation is thy people.

1 The Tables are renewed. 6 The description of God. 12 All fellowship with idolaters is forbidden. 18 The three feasts. 28 Moses is 40 daies in the mount. 30 His face shinneth, and he couereth it with a vail.

1 And y^e Lord said vnto Moses, * Hewe ^{Deut. 10.2} thee two Tables of stone, like vnto y^e first first, and I wil write vpon the Tables the wordes that were in y^e first Tables, which thou brakest in pieces.

^a And be ready in the morning, that thou maiest come vp early vnto the mou^t of Sinái, and waite there for me in the top of the mount.

^b But let no man come vp with thee, nether let anie man be sene throughout all the mount, nether let the shepe nor cattel fede before this mount.

^c ¶ The Moyses^e hewed two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and rose vp early in y^e morning, and went vp vnto the mount of Sinái, as the Lord had comanded him, & toke in his hand two Tables of stone.

^d And the Lord descended in the cloude, and stode with him there, and proclaimed the Name of the Lord.

^e So the Lord passed before his face, and cryed, The Lord, y^e Lord, strong, merciful, and gracious, slow to angre, & abundant in goodnes and trueth, ^f Reseruing mercie for thousands, forgiving iniquitie, & transgression and sinne, and not making the wicked innocent, visiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, and vpon childrens children, vnto the third and fourth generation.

^g Then Moyses made halte and bowed himself to the earth, and worshipped,

^h And said, O Lord, I praye thee, if I haue founde grace in thy sight, that the Lord wolde now go wth vs (for it is a stifnecked people) and pardone our iniquitie & our sinne, and take vs for thine enheritance.

ⁱ And he answered, Beholde, I wil make a couenant before all thy people, and wil do meruels, suche as haue not bene done in all the world, nether in all nations: and all the people among whome thou art, shal se the worke of y^e Lord: for it is a terrible thing that I wil do with thee.

^j Kepe diligently that which I comande thee this day. beholde, I wil cast out before thee the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, & the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites.

^k ¶ Take hede to thy self, that thou make no compact with the inhabitants of the land whither y^e goest, lest they be the cause of ruine among you:

^l But ye shal ouerthrowe their altars, and breake their images in pieces, and cut downe their groves,

^m (For thou shalt bowe downe to none other god, because the Lord, whose Name is Ielous, is a ielous God)

ⁿ Left thou make a compact with the inhabitants of the land, and when they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice vnto their gods some man call thee, and thou eat of his sacrifice:

^o And lest thou take of their daughters vnto thy sonnes, and their daughters go a whoring after their gods, and make thy sonnes go a whoring after their gods.

^p Thou shalt make thee no gods of metal.

^q ¶ The feast of vnleauened bread shalt thou kepe: seuen dayes shalt thou eat vnleauened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the moneth of Abib: for in the moneth of Abib thou camest out of Egypt.

^r ¶ Euerie male, that first openeth y^e wombe shalbe mine: also all the first borne of thy flocke shalbe reconed mine, bothe of beues and shepe.

^s But the first of the asse thou shalt bye out with a lambe: and if thou redeme him not, then thou shalt breake his necke: all the first borne of thy sonnes shalt thou redeme, and none shal appeare before me empty.

^t ¶ Six dayes thou shalt worke, and in the seuen day thou shalt rest: bothe in earing time, and in the haruest thou shalt rest.

^u ¶ Thou shalt also obserue the feast of weekes in the time of y^e first frutes of wheat haruest, and the feast of gathering frutes in the end of the yere.

^w For I wil cast out the nacions before thee, and enlarge thy coastes, so that no man shal desire thy land, whē thou shalt come vp to appeare before the Lord thy God thrise in the yere.

^y The first ripe frutes of thy land thou shalt bring vnto the house of the Lord thy God: yet shalt thou not sethe a kid in his mothers milke.

^z And the Lord said vnto Moyses, Write thou these wordes: for after the tenoure of these wordes I haue made a couenant with thee and with Israél.

^{aa} So he was there with the Lord fourte daies and fourtie nights, and did nether eat bread nor drinke water: and he wrote in the Tables the wordes of y^e couenant, euen the ten commandements.

^{ab} ¶ So when Moyses came downe fro^m mou^t Sinái, the two Tables of the Testimonie were in Moyses hand, as he descended from the mount: (now Moyses wist not that y^e skin of his face shone bright, after that God had talked with him)

CHAP. XXXV.

2 The Sabbath 3 The fre gifts are required. 21 The readines of the people to offer 30 Bezaleel & Aholiab are praised of Moses.

1 Then Moses assembled all the Congregation of the children of Israel, and said vnto the, These are the wordes which the Lord hath commanded, that ye shulde do them:

2 *Six dayes thou shalt worke, but the seuenth day shal be vnto you the holy Sabbath of rest vnto ^y Lord: whosoever doeth anie worke therein, shal dye.

3 Ye shal kindle no fire throughout all your habitations vpon the Sabbath day.

4 ¶ Againe, Moses spake vnto all the Congregation of ^y children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord commandeth, saying,

5 Take from among you an offering vnto the Lord: whosoever is of a *willing heart, let him bring this offering to the Lord, namely golde, and siluer, and brasse:

6 Also blewes filke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine linen, and goates heere,

7 And rams skins died red, and badgers skins with Shittim wood:

8 Also oyle for light, & spices for the anointing oyle, and for the swete incense,

9 And onix stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the brest plate.

10 And all the wise ^b hearted among you, shal come & make all that the Lord hath commanded:

11 That is, the Tabernacle, the pauillion thereof, & his couering, & his taches & his boordes, his barres, his pillars & his sockets,

12 The Arke, and the barres thereof: the Mercieseat, & the vaile that ^c couereth it,

13 The Table, and the barres of it, and all the instrumets thereof, & the shewe bread:

14 Also the Candelsticke of light and his in-strumets and his lampes with the oyle for the light:

15 *Likewise the Altar of perfume and his barres, and the anointing oyle, and the swete incense, and the vaile of the dore at the entring in of the Tabernacle,

16 The * Altar of burnt offering with his brasse grate, his barres and all his instruments, the Lauer and his fote,

17 The hangings of the courte, his pillars & his sockets, and the vaile of ^y gate of the courte,

18 The pins of the Tabernacle, and ^y pins of the courte with their cordes, 19 The ^d ministring garments to minstre in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, and the garments of his sonnes, that they may minstre in the Priestes office.

20 ¶ Then all the Congregation of ^y children of Israel departed from the presence of Moses.

21 And euerie one, whose hearts ^e encouraged him, & euerie one, whose spirit made him willing, came and brought an offering to ^y Lord, for the worke of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and for all his vses, and for the holy garments.

22 Bothe men & women, as many as were fre hearted, came and brought ^f taches and earrings, and rings, and bracelets, all were jewels of golde: and euerie one that offred an offering of golde vnto the Lord:

23 Euerie man also, which had blewes filke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine linen, and goats heere, and rams skins died red, and badgers skins, brought them.

24 All that offred an oblatiō of siluer & of brasse, brought ^y offering vnto the Lord: & euerie one, ^y had Shittim wood for anie manner worke of ^y ministraciō, brought it.

25 And all the womē that were ^e wise hearted, did spin with their hādes, and brought the spun worke, ^e the blewes filke, and the purple, the skarlet, and the fine linen.

26 Likewise all the women, ^f whose heartes were moued with knowledge, spun goat's heere.

27 And the rulers brought onix stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the brest plate:

28 Also spice, and oyle for light, and for the *anointing oyle, and for the swete perfume.

29 Euerie man and woman of the childre of Israel, whose hearts moued the willingly to bring for all the worke which the Lord had commanded the to make ^g by the hand of Moses, brought a fre offering to ^y Lord.

1 Then wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiab, and all ^a conning men, to whome the Lord gaue wisdom, and understanding, to knowe how to worke all manner worke for the seruice of the ^a Sanctuary, according to all that the Lord had commanded.
2 For Moses had called Bezaleel, & Aholiab, and all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had giue wisdom, even as manie as their heartes encouraged to come vnto that worke to worke it.
3 And they receiued of Moses all the offering which the children of Israel had brought for the worke of the seruice of the Sanctuary, to make it: also ^b they brought still vnto him fre gifts euerie morning.
4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came euerie man fro his worke which they wrought,
5 And spake to Moses, saying, The people bring to ^c muche, and more then ynough for the vse of the worke, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.
6 Then Moses gaue a commandement, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, Let nether man nor woman prepare anie more worke for the oblation of the Sanctuary. So the people were stayed from offering.
7 For the stuffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and to muche.
8 * All the conning men therefore among the workemen, made for the Tabernacle ten curtaines of fine twined linen, and of blew silke, and purple, and skarlet:
^d Cherubims of broydred worke made they vpon them.
9 The length of one curtaine was twenty and eight cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: and the curtaines were all of one cise.

10 And he coupled five curtaines together, and other five coupled he together.

11 And he made strings of blew silke by the edge of one curtaine, in the seluedge of the coupling: likewise he made on the side of the other curtaine in the seluedge in the seconde coupling.

12 * Fiftie strings made he in the one curtaine, and fiftie strings made he in the edge of the other curtaine, which was in the seconde coupling: the strings were set one against an other. Chap. 26, 10.

13 After, he made fiftie taches of golde, & coupled the curtaines one to an other with the taches: so was it one Tabernacle. Or, hooks.

14 ¶ Also he made curtaines of goates heere for the ^e couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleuen curtaines. Or, panibus.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirty cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines were of one cise.

16 And he coupled five curtaines by them selues, and six curtaines by them selues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpon the edge of one curtaine in the seluedge in the coupling, and fiftie strings made he vpon the edge of the other curtaine in the seconde coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of brasce to couple the couering that it might be one.

19 And he made a ^e couering vpon the paullion of rams skins died red, & a couering of badgers skins aboue.

20 ¶ Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim ^f wood to stand vp.

21 The length of a boarde was ten cubites, & the breadth of one boarde was a cubite, and an halfe.

22 One boarde had two tenons, set in ordre as the fete of a ladder, one against an other: thus made he for all the boardes of the Tabernacle.

23 So he made twentie boardes for the Southside of the Tabernacle, even full South.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer made he vnder the twentie boardes, two sockets vnder one boarde for his two tenons, & two sockets vnder another boarde for his two tenons.

25 Also for the other side of the Tabernacle toward the North, he made twentie boardes, 26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer, two sockets vnder one boarde, & two sockets vnder another boarde.

27 Likewise toward the Westside of the Tabernacle he made six boardes.

28 And two boardes made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for either side, 29 And they were ^g ioyned beneath, and likewise were made sure aboue with a ring: Chap. 26, 24.

31 ¶ After, he made ^abarres of Shittim wood, fise for the boardes in the one side of the Tabernacle, 32 And fise barres for the boardes in the other side of the Tabernacle, and fise barres for the boardes of the Tabernacle on the side toward the West.

33 And he made the middelt barre to shote through the boardes, from the one end to the other.

34 He ouerlaied also the boardes with golde, and made their rings of golde for places for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

^h Which was betwene ^g Sanctuary and ^g Holiest of all.

35 ¶ Moreouer he made a ^hvaile of blewe silke, and purple, and of skarlet, and of fine twined linen: with Cherubims of broyred worke made he it:

36 And made thereunto foure pillers of Shittim, and ouerlaied them with golde: whose ^hokes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of filuer.

^g which was betwene the court and the Sanctuary.

37 And he made an hanging for the Tabernacle dore, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, and nedle worke,

38 And the fise pillers of it with their hokes, and ouerlaied their chapiters & their ^hlets with golde, but their fise sockets were of brasie.

1 ^AFTER this, Bezaleel made the ^aArke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

2 And ouerlaied it with fine golde within and without, and made a ^acrowne of golde to it round about,

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for ^g foure corners of it: that is, two rings for ^g one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also he made barres of Shittim wood, & couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to beare the Arke.

Chap. 25, 27.

6 ¶ And he made the ^a Mercifear of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe was the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of golde, vpon the two ends of the Mercifear: ^{euen} of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

^g Of the self same matter ^g the Mercifear was.

8 One Cherub on ^g one end, and an other Cherub on the other end: ^g of the Mercifear made he the Cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

9 And ^g Cherubims spred out their wings on hie, and couered the Mercifear wth their wings, and their faces were one towardes an other: toward the Mercifear were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Also he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites was the légth thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he ouerlaied it with fine golde, and made thereto a crowne of golde round about.

12 Also he made thereto a border of an ^had ^{Or, fure fure} breadth round about, and made vpon ^g border a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure fete thereof.

14 Against the border were the rings, as places for the barres to beare the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with golde to beare the Table.

16 ^a Also he made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, & ^{incens} cups for it, and goblets for it, & couerings for it, wherewith it shulde be couered.

17 ¶ Likewise he made the Candellsticke of pure golde: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candellsticke: and his shaft, & his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And six branches came out of the sides thereof: thre branches of the Candellsticke out of the one side of it, and thre branches of the Candellsticke out of the other side of it.

19 In one branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop and a floure: and in an other branche thre bolles made like almondes, a knop & a floure: and so throughout the six branches that proceded out of the Candellsticke.

20 And vpon the Candellsticke were foure bolles after the facion of almondes, the knops thereof and the floures thereof:

21 That is, vnder euerie two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop vnder the secóde branche thereof, and a knop vnder the third branche thereof, according to the six branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: it was all one ^a beaten worke of pure golde.

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with ^g snuffers, & snuffdishes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a ^a talent of pure golde made he it with all the instruments thereof.

25 Furthermore he made the ^a perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite (it was square) and two cubites hie, and the ^hornes.

horne thereof was of the same.

26 And he couered it with pure golde, bo-the the top and the sides thereof round about, and the hornes of it, and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of golde for it, vnder the crowne thereof in the two corners of the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it therewith.

28 Also he made the barres of Shittim wood, and ouerlaied them with golde.

Chap 27. 1. 1 Also he made the altar of the burnt offring * of Shittim wood: five cubi-tes was the length thereof, and five cubi-tes the breadth thereof: it was square and three cubites high.

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners thereof: the hornes thereof were of the same, & he ouerlaied it with brasle.

Chap 27. 3. 3 Also he made all the instruments of the Altar: y^e * ashpans, & the besomes, and the basins, y^e fleshokes, & the censers: all the instruments thereof made he of brasle.

4 Moreouer he made a brasle grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder the compas of it beneath in the middes of it, a So y^e the grid iron or grate was halfe so high as y^e altar, & stood with-

5 And cast foure rings of brasle for y^e foure ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wood, and couered them with brasle.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the sides of the altar to beate it with-all, and made it holowe within y^e boardes.

8 ¶ Also he made the Lauer of brasle, and the fote of it of brasle of the b^e glasses of y^e women that did assemble and came together at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

9 ¶ Finally he made y^e courte on the South-side ful Southe: the hangings of the courte were of fine twined linen, hauing an hundreth cubites.

10 Their pillers were twentie, & their bra-sen sockets twentie: the hokes of the pillers, and their filets were of siluer.

11 And on the Northside the hangings were an hundreth cubites: their pillers twentie, & their sockets of brasle twentie, y^e hokes of y^e pillers & their filets of siluer.

12 On the Westside also were hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillers with their ten sockets: y^e hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer.

13 And toward the Eastside, ful East, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side were fiftie cubites, their three pillers, and their three sockets:

15 * And of the other side of the courte gate on bothe sides were hangings of fiftie cubites, with their three pillers and their three sockets.

Chap 37. 16.

16 All the hangings of the courte round about were of fine twined linen:

17 But the sockets of the pillers were of brasle: the hokes of the pillers and their filets of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters of siluer: and all the pillers of the courte were hooped about with siluer.

18 He made also the hanging of the gate of the courte of needle worke, blew silk, and puple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen euentyentie cubites long, and five cubi-tes in height & breadth, like the hangings of the courte.

"For ouer as gaule.

19 And their pillers were foure with their foure sockets of brasle: their hokes of siluer, and the couering of their chapiters, and their filets of siluer.

20 But all the * pins of the Tabernacle and of the courte round about were of brasle.

of the Lord commanded Moses.

mach of the tribe of Dan, a cunning workeman and an embroyderer and a worker of needle worke in blew silk, and in purple, and in skarlet, and in fine linen.

24 All the golde that was occupied in all y^e worke wrought for the holy place (which was the golde of the offering) was nine & twentie talents, and seven hundred thirtie shekels, according to the shekel of the Sanctuary.

25 But the siluer of them that were nom-bred in the Congregation, was an hundreth talents, and a thousand seven hundred seuentie and five shekels, after the shekel of the Sanctuary.

26 A portion for a man, that is, halfe a she-kel after the shekel of the Sanctuary, for all them that were nombred from twen-tie yere olde and aboue, among six hundred thousand, and three thousand, & five hundred and fiftie men.

"Or, halfe a she-kel

27 Moreouer there were an hundreth talents of siluer, to cast the sockets of the Sanctuarie, and the sockets of the vaile: an hundreth sockets of an hundreth talents, a talent for a socket.

28 But he made the hokes for the pillers of a thousand seven hundred and seuentie & five shekels, and ouerlaied their chapiters, and made filets about them.

^c Read the weight of a talent, Chap. 35:19.

29 Also the brasſe of the offering was ſeventie talents, and two thouſand, and four hundreth ſhekels.

30 Whereof he made ſix ſockets to the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation and the braſen Altar, & the braſen grate which was for it, with all the inſtruments of the Altar,

and the ſockets for the couite gate, & all the * pins of the Tabernacle, and all the pins of the courte round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The apparel of Aaron and his ſonnes 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made, and finiſhed 43 Moſes blesseth the people.

^a As coverings for the Ark, & Candelſticke, the Altars & ſuche like Chap. 31, 10.

35, 19.

1 Moreouer they made ^a garments of ministration to miniſter in the Sanctuarie of blew ſilke, and purple, & ſkarlet: thei * made alſo the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

2 So he made the Ephod of golde, blew ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine twined linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to worke it in the blew ſilke & in the purple, and in the ſkarlet, & in the fine linen, with broyded worke.

4 For the which thei made ſhoulders to couple together: for it was cloſed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broyded garde of his Ephod that was vpon him, was of the ſame ſtuffe, and of like worke: ^{euen} of golde, of blew
ſilke, and purple, and ſkarlet, and fine twined linen, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Chap. 28, 9.

^b That is, of very fine and curious workmanſhip

6 ¶ And they wrought ^{two} onix ſtones cloſed in ouches of golde, and graued, as ^b ſig-nats are grauen, with the names of the children of Iſrael,

Chap. 28, 12.

7 And put the on the ſhoulders of the Ephod, as ſtones for a * remembrance of the children of Iſrael, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

8 ¶ Alſo he made the breſt plate of broy-ded worke like the worke of the Ephod:
to wit, of golde, blew ſilke, and purple, & ſkarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 They made the breſt plate double, and it was ſquare, an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad: it was alſo double.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of ſtones. The ordre was thus, a ruby, a topaze, and a carbuncle in the firſt rowe.

^c Or a figure, which ſtone authors write that it cometh of the wine of the beaſt called Bina.

11 And in the ſeconde rowe, an emeraude,
a ſaphir, and a diamond:

12 Alſo in the third rowe, ^c a turkeiſ, an achate, and an hematite:

13 Likewise in the fourth rowe, a chryſolite, an onix, and a iaſper: cloſed and ſet in ou-ches of golde.

14 So the ſtones were according to the names of the children of Iſrael, ^{euen} twelue
^d after their names, grauen like ſignets ^{e-} ^{euen} one after his name according to the twelue tribes.

^d That is, ^{eue-} rie tribe had his name written in a ſtone.

15 After, they made vpon the breſt plate cheines at the endes, of wrethen worke of pure golde.

16 They made alſo two boſſes of golde, & two golde rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the breſt plate.

17 And they put the two wrethen cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the breſt plate.

18 Alſo the two ^{other} endes of the two wre-then cheines they faſtened in the two boſſes, and put them on the ſhoulders of the Ephod vpon the fore fronte of it.

19 Likewise thei made two rings of golde, and put them in the two ^{other} corners of the breſt plate vpon the edge of it, which was on the inſide of the Ephod.

20 They made alſo two ^{other} golden rings, and put them on the two ſides of the Ephod, beneth on the foreſide of it and ou-er againſt his coupling about the broy-ded garde of the Ephod.

21 Then they faſtened the breſt plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew ſilke, that it might be faſt vpon the broyded garde of the Ephod, and that the breſt plate ſhulde not be lo-ſed from the Ephod, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

22 ¶ Moreouer he made the robe of the Ephod of wouen worke, altogether of blew ſilke.

^e Which was next vnder the Ephod ^f Where he ſhulde put through his head.

23 And ^f the hole of the robe was in the middles of it, as the collar of an habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it ſhul-de not rent.

24 And they made vpon the ſkirtes of the robe pomegranates, of blew ſilke, & purple, and ſkarlet, and fine linen twined.

25 They made alſo ^{belles} of pure golde, & put the belles betwene the pomegranates vpon the ſkirtes of the robe round about betwene the pomegranates.

Chap. 28, 33.

26 A bel & a pomegranate, a bel & a pomegranate round about the ſkirtes of the robe to miniſter in, as the Lord had comanded Moſes.

27 ¶ After, they made coates of fine linẽ, of wouen worke for Aaron & for his ſonnes.

28 And the mitre of fine linen, and goodlie bonnets of fine linen, and linen ^{breches} Chap. 28, 42.
of fine twined linen,

29 ¶ And the girdel of fine twined linen, & of blew ſilke, & purple, & ſkarlet, ^{euen} of needle worke, as the Lord had comanded Moſes.

Chap. 28, 36.

30 ¶ Finally thei made the plate for the holy crowne of fine golde, and wrote vpon it a superſcription like to the grauing of a ſignet, *H O L I N E S S T O T H E L O R D.

31 And thei tied vnto it a lace of blewẽ filke to faſten it on hye vpon the mitre, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

Chap. 27, 21.

32 ¶ Thus was all the worke of the Tabernacle, even of the *Tabernacle of the Congregation finiſhed: & the children of Iſrael did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moſes: ſo did thei.

33 ¶ Afterwarde thei broght the Tabernacle vnto Moſes, the Tabernacle & all his inſtruments, his taches, his boardes, his barres, and his pillers, and his ſockets, 34 And the couering of rāmes ſkins died red, & the couerings of badgers ſkinnes, and the g couering vaile.

40 The curtaynes of the court with his pillers, and his ſockets, & the hanging to the courte gate, & his cordes, and his pinnes, and all the inſtruments of the ſerueice of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

42 According to euerie point that the Lord had l commanded Moſes, ſo the children of Iſrael made all the worke.

43 And Moſes behelde all the worke, and behelde, thei had done it as the Lord had commanded: ſo had thei done: and Moſes k bleſſed them.

CHAP. XL.

The Tabernacle with the appertinances is reared vp.

34 The glorie of the Lord appeareth in the cloude couering the Tabernacle.

THEN the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

In the a firſt day of the firſt moneth in the very firſt of the ſame moneth ſhalt thou ſet vp the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

And thou ſhalt put therein the Arke of the Teſtimonie, and couer the Arke with the vaile.

a After Moſes had bene 40. daies and 40. nightes in the mount, that is, fro the beginning of Auguſt 1 to the 10. of Sept. he came downe, & cauſed this worke to be done: which being finiſhed, was ſet vp in Abib, which moneth cōteineth halfe Marche and halfe April.

4 Alſo thou ſhalt bring in the *Table, and ſet it in ordre as it doeth require: thou ſhalt alſo bring in the Candelſticke, and light his lampes,

5 And thou ſhalt ſet the incenſe Altar b of golde before the Arke of the Teſtimonie, and put the c hanging at the dore of the Tabernacle.

b That is, the altar of perfume, or to burne incenſe on. c This hāging or vaile was betwene the Sanctuarie and the courte.

6 Moreouer thou ſhalt ſet the burnt offering Altar before the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

7 And thou ſhalt ſet the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou ſhalt appoint the courte rōud about, and hang vp the hanging at the courte gate.

9 After, thou ſhalt take the anointing oyle, and anoint the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halowe it with all the inſtruments thereof, that it may be holye.

10 And thou ſhalt anoint the Altar of the burnt offering, and all his inſtruments, and ſhalt ſanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar moſte holy.

11 Alſo thou ſhalt anoint the Lauer and his fote, and ſhalt ſanctifie it.

12 Then thou ſhalt bring Aarōn and his ſonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & waſh them with water.

13 And thou ſhalt put vpon Aarōn the holy garments, and ſhalt anoint him, & ſanctifie him that he may miniſter vnto me in the Prieſts office.

14 Thou ſhalt alſo bring his ſonnes, and clothe them with garments,

15 And ſhalt anoint them as thou diddeſt anoint their father, that thei may miniſter vnto me in the Prieſts office: for their anointing ſhal be a ſigne, that thei prieſthode ſhal be euerlaſting vnto the throughout their generacions.

d Til bothe the prieſthode and the ceremonies ſhulde ende, which was at Chriſts coming.

16 So Moſes did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: ſo did he.

17 ¶ Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp the firſt day of the firſt moneth in the ſeconde yere.

Nomb. 7, 1.

e After thei came out of Egypt, Nomb. 7, 1.

18 Then Moſes reared vp the Tabernacle and faſtened his ſockets, and ſet vp the boardes thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillers.

19 And he ſpred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of that couering on hie about it, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

20 ¶ And he toke and put the f Teſtimonie in the Arke, and put the barres in the rings of the Arke, and ſet the Mercie ſeat on hie vpon the Arke.

f That is, the tables of the Lawe, chap. 31, 18. & 34, 29.

21 He broght alſo the Arke into the Tabernacle, and hanged vp the *couering vaile, Chap. 35, 12.

m.i.

and couered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

22 ¶ Furthermore he put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in the Northside of the Tabernacle, without the vaile, 23 And set the bread in ordre before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

24 ¶ Also he put the Candelsicke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation ouer against the Table towarde the Southside of the Tabernacle.

^g Between the

25 And he ^glighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

26 ¶ Moreouer he set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the vaile, 27 And burnt swete incense thereon, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

^g Between the Sanctuarie and the court.

28 ¶ Also he haged vp the vaile at the dore of the Tabernacle.

29 After he set the burnt offering Altar without the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & offered the burnt offering and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had comanded Mosés.

30 ¶ Likewise he set the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

31 So Mosés, and Aarón, and his sonnes, washed their hands & their fete thereat.

32 When thei went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and when thei approached to the Altar, thei washed, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

33 Finally he reared vp the courte round about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged vp the vaile at the courte gate: so Mosés finished the worke.

34 ¶ Then the cloude couered the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle. ^{Nomb. 9.15. 1.king.8.10.}

35 So Mosés colde not entre into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle.

36 Now when the cloude ascended vp from the Tabernacle, the children of Israël went forward in all their iourneys.

37 But if the cloude ascended not, then thei iourneied not til the day that it ascended.

38 For ^h the cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israël, throughout all their iourneys.

presence of God preserved & guided the night and day til thei came to the land promised.

THE THIRD BOKE OF Mosés, called * Leuiticus.

* Because in this boke is chiefly intrea-ted of * Le-uities, and of things pertaining to their office.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS God daily by moste singular benefites declared him selfe to be mindeful of his Church: so he wolde not that thei shoulde haue anie occasion to trust ether in them selues, or to depend vpon others for lacke of temporal things, or ought that belonged to his diuine seruice and religion. Therefore he ordeined diuers kindes of oblations and sacrifices, to assure them of forgiveness of their offenses. (if thei offered them in true faith and obedience) Also he appointed their Priests and Leuites, their apparel, offices, conuersation and portion: he shewed what feastes thei shoulde obserue, and in what times. Moreouer he declared by these sacrifices & ceremonies that the reward of sinne is death, and that without the blood of Christ the innocent Lambe there can be no forgiveness of finnes. And because thei shoulde giue no place to their owne inuentions (which thing God moste detesteth as appeareth by the terrible example of Nadab and Abihu) he prescribed euen to the least things, what thei shoulde do, as what beastes thei shoulde offre and eat: what diseases were contagious and to be auoyded: what ordre thei shoulde take for all maner of filthines and pollution: whose companie thei shoulde flee: what maner of ges were lausful: and what politike lawes were profitable. Which things declared, he promised sauour and blessing to them that kept his Lawes, and threatened his curse to them that transgressed them.

CHAP. I.

2 Of burnt offerings for particular persons. 3. 10. & 14 The maner to offre burnt offerings as wel of bullocks, as of shepe and birdes.

a Hereby Mosés declareth that he taught nothing to the people but y, which he receiued of God

Now the Lord called Mosés, and spake vnto him out of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, saying,
2 Speake vnto the chil-dre of Israël, & thou shalt say vnto the, If anie of you offer a sacrifice vnto the Lord, ye shal offer your sacrifice of ^b cattel, as of beues and of the shepe.

3 * If his sacrifice be a burnt offering of the herde, he shal offer a male without blemish, presenting him of his owne voluntary wil at the dore of the ^c Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

^b So thei coulde offre of none other sort, but of those which were commanded. ³ ^c Meaning within y courte of the Tabernacle.

- 4 And he shal put his hand vpon the head of the burnt offering and it shalbe accepted ^{"Ebr is him.} to the Lord, to be his atonement.
- 5 And ^{d The Priest or Leuite.} he shal kil the bullocke before the Lord, and the Priestes Aarons sonnes shal offer the blood, and shal sprinkle it round about vpon the ^{e Of the burnt offering, Exod 27,1} altar, that is by the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
- 6 Then shal he sleie the burnt offering and cut it in pieces.
- 7 So the sonnes of Aarón the Priest shal put fire vpon the altar, and lay the wood in ordre vpon the fire.
- 8 Then the Priestes Aarons sonnes shal lay the partes in ordre, the head and the ^{"Or, the body of the uel or the f is.} kall vpon the wood that is in the fire which is vpon the altar.
- 9 But the inwardes thereof and the legs thereof he shal wash in water, and the Priest shal burne all on the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire, for a swete sauour ^{f Or a sauour of rest, which pacifieth the angre of the Lord} vnto the Lord.
- 10 ¶ And if his sacrifice for ^{g Read vers 5} burnt offring be of the flockes (as of the shepe, or of ^{h Before the altar of the Lord} y goats) he shal offer a male without blemish,
- 11 And he shal kil it on the Northside of the altar ^{"Ebr into his pieces} before the Lord, & the Priestes Aarons sonnes shal sprinkle the blood thereof round about vpon the Altar.
- 12 And he shal cut it in ^{"Or, fat.} pieces, separat^{ing} his head and his ^{"Or, fat.} kall, and the Priest shal lay them in ordre vpon the wood that lieth in the fire which is on the altar:
- 13 But he shal wash the inwardes, and the legs with water, and the Priest shal offer the whole & burne it vpon the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord.
- 14 ¶ And if his sacrifice be a burnt offering to the Lord of the foules, the he shal offer his sacrifice of the turtle doves, or of the yong pigeons.
- 15 And the Priest shal bring it vnto the altar, and ^{i The Ebrew e worde signifieth to pinch of with the nayle} wring the necke of it a sunder, and burne it on the altar: and the blood thereof shal be shed vpon the side of the altar.
- 16 And he shal plucke out his mawe ^{"Or, strained, or pressed.} w his fethers, and cast them beside the altar on the ^{k On the side of the courte gate in y pannes, which stode with ashes, Exod 27,3.} East parte in the place of the ashes.
- 17 And he shal cleaue it with his wings, but not deuide it a sundre: and the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar vpon the wood that is in ^{"Or, fat.} y fire: for it is a burnt offering, an oblatiō made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.
- 2 And shal bring it vnto Aarons sonnes the Priestes, and ^{b The Priest} he shal take thence his handfull of the floure, and of the oyle with all the incense, and the Priest shal burne it for a ^{c To signifie that God remembreth him that offereth.} memorial vpon the altar: for it is an offering made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.
- 3 *But the remnant of the meat offering shal ^{Eccle 7,34.} be Aarons and his sonnes: for it is ^{a Therefore none colde eat of it oute the Priestis} moiste holy of the Lords offerings made by fire.
- 4 ¶ If thou bring also a meat offering baken in the ouē, it shalbe an vnleauened cake of fine floure mingled with oyle, or an vnleauened wafer anointed with oyle.
- 5 ¶ But if thy ^{e Which is a gift offered to God to pacifie him} meat offering be an oblatiō of the frying pan, it shalbe of fine floure vnleauened, mingled with oyle.
- 6 And thou shalt parte it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: for it is a meat offering.
- 7 ¶ And if thy meat offering be an oblation made in the caudron, it shalbe made of fine floure with oyle.
- 8 After, thou shalt bring the meat offering (^{"Or, fat.} y is made of these things) vnto ^{Vers 2.} y Lord, & shalt present it vnto the Priest, and he shal bring it to the altar,
- 9 And the Priest shal take from the meat offering a ^{Exod 29,18.} memorial of it, and shal burne it vpon the altar: for it is an oblation ^{"Or, fat.} made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.
- 10 But ^{"Or, fat.} y which is left of the meat offering, shalbe Aarons and his sonnes: for it is moiste holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.
- 11 All the meat offerings which ye shal offer vnto ^{"Or, fat.} y Lord, shalbe made without leaue: for ye shal nether burne leauen nor hony in any offering of the Lord made by fire.
- 12 ¶ In the oblation of the first frutes ye shal offer ^{f That is, frutes, which are swete as hony, ye may offer.} them vnto the Lord, but they shal not be burnt ^{g But referred for y Priestis.} vpon the altar for a swete sauour.
- 13 (All the meat offerings also shalt thou season with ^{h Which they were bound (as by a couenar) to vse in all sacrifices, Nob. 18, 19 ezek. 43, 24: or it meaneth a sure and pure couenant} salt, nether shalt thou suffre the salt of the ^{Chap. 23, 14.} couenar of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering, but vpon all thine oblations thou shalt offer salt)
- 14 If then thou offer a meat offering of thy first frutes vnto the Lord, thou shalt offer for thy meat offering of thy first frutes ^{"Or, full eares for the worde signifieh a fruitful field.} eares of corne dried by the fire, and wheat beaten out of the grene eares.
- 15 After, thou shalt put oyle vpon it, and late incense thereon: for it is a meat offering.
- 16 And the Priest shal burne the memorial of it, ^{"Or, fat.} euen of that that is beaten and of the oyle of it with all the incense thereof: for it is an offering vnto the Lord made by fire.

CHAP. II.

1 The meat offering is after three sortes: of fine floure vn-baken, 4 Of bread baken, 14 And of corne in the eare.

1 And whe anie wil offer a ^{a Because the burnt offering colde not be without the meat offering.} meat offring vnto the Lord, his offering shalbe of fine floure, and he shal poure oyle vpon it, and put incense thereon,

CHAP. III.

4 He shal also take away the two kidneis, and the fat that is on them, and vpon the flanks, and the kail on the liuer with the kidneis.

5 And Aarons sonnes shal burne it on the altar with the burnt offering, which is vpon the wood, that is on the fire: this is a sacrifice made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord.

6 ¶ Also if his oblation be a peace offering vnto the Lord out of the flocke, whether it be male or female, he shal offer it without blemish.

7 If he offer a lambe for his oblation, then he shal bring it before the Lord,

8 And lay his hand vpon the head of his offering, and shal kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and Aarons sonnes shal sprinkle y blood thereof round about vpon the altar.

9 After, of the peace offrings he shal offer an offering made by fire vnto y Lord: he shal take away the fat thereof, & the rumpe altogether, hard by the backe bone, & the fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardes.

10 Also he shal take away the two kidneis, with the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks, & the kail vpon the liuer with the kidneis.

11 The Priest shal burne it vpon the altar, as the meat of an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

12 ¶ Also if his offering be a goat, then shal he offer it before the Lord, 13 And shal put his hand vpon the head of it, and kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the sonnes of Aaron shal sprinkle the blood thereof vpon the altar round about.

14 The he shal offer thereof his offering, euē an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardes.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The offering for finnes done of ignorance, 3 For the Priest, 13 The Congregation, 22 The ruler, 27 And the private man.

Mouer the Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If anye shal sinne through ignorance, in anye of the commandements of y Lord (which ought not to be done) but shal do contrarie to anye of them,

3 If the Priest that is anointed do sinne (according to the sinne of the people) the shal he offer, for his sinne which he hath sinned, a yong bullocke without blemish vnto the Lord for a sinne offering,

4 And he shal bring the bullocke vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord, & shal put his hand vpon the bullocks head, and kil the bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is anointed shal take of the bullocks blood, and bring it into y Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shal dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the vaile of the Sanctuary.

7 The Priest also shal put some of the blood before the Lord, vpon the hornes of y altar of swete incense, which is in y Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shal he poure * all the rest of the blood of the bullocke at the fore of y altar of burnt offering, which is at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 And he shal take away all the fat of the bullocke for the sinne offering: so wit, y fat that couereth the inwardes, and all the fat that is about the inwardes.

9 He shal take away also the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks, & the kail vpon the liuer with the kidneis,

10 As it was taken away from the bullocke of the peace offerings, and the Priest shal burne the vpon the altar of burnt offering.

11 * But the skin of the bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head, and his legs, & his inwardes, and his dung shal he beare out.

12 So he shal cary the whole bullocke out of the holte vnto a cleane place, where y ashes are powred, & shal burne him on y wood in the fire: where the ashes are cast out, shal he be burnt.

Chap 5.2.

Israël shal sinne through ignorance, and the thing be * hid from the eies of the multitude, and haue done against anie of y^e comandements of the Lord which shulde not be done, and haue offended:

14 When the sinne which they haue comitted shalbe knowen, then the Congregation shal offere a yong bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

g For all the people coulde not lay on their hands: therefore it was sufficient that the Anciens of the people did it in y^e name of all the Congregation 15 And the Elders of the Congregation shal put their hands vpon the head of the bullocke before the Lord, and he shal kil the bullocke before the Lord,

16 Then the Priest that is anointed, shal bring of the bullocks blood into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 17 And the Priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and spunkle it seuen times before the Lord, euē before the vaile.

18 Also he shal put some of the blood vpon the hornes of the altar, which is before the Lord, y^e is in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: then shal he powre all the rest of y^e blood at y^e fore of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 19 And he shal take all his fat from him, & burne it vpon the altar.

Or, make a perfume with it.

20 And the Priest shal do with this bullocke, as he did with the bullocke for his sinne: so shal he do wth this: so the Priest shal make an atonement for them, and it shalbe forgiven them.

21 For he shal carie the bullocke without y^e holste, and burne him as he burned the first bullocke: for it is an offering for the sinne of the Congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler shal sinne, & do through ignorance against anie of the comandements of the Lord his God, which shulde not be done and shal offende,

23 If one shewe vnto him his sinne which he hathe committed, then shal he bring for his offering an^e he goat without blemish,

Or, the male goat of the flocke
h That is, the Priest shal kil it: for it was not lawful for anie cut of y^e office to kil y^e beaſt.

24 And shal lay his hand vpon the head of the he goat, & kil it in ^b the place where he shulde kil the burnt offering before the Lord: for it is a sinne offering.

25 Then the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, & put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, and shal powre the rest of his blood at the fore of the burnt offering altar,

Or, the female of the goat.

29 And he shal lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and shal lay the sinne offering in the place of burnt offering.

30 Then the Priest shal take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, & powre all the rest of the blood thereof at the fore of the altar,

31 And shal take away all his fat, as the fat of the peace offerings is taken away, and the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar for a swere sauour vnto the Lord, & the Priest shal make an atonement for him, and it shalbe forgiven him.

Exod. 29. 18.

32 And if he bring a lambe for his sinne offering, he shal bring a female without blemish, i Meaning y^e punishment of his sinne shulde be laid vpon that beaſt, or, that he had receiued all things of God, and offered thus willingly.

34 Then the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the burnt offering altar, & shal powre all the rest of the blood thereof at the fore of the altar.

35 And he shal take away all y^e fat thereof, as the fat of the lambe of y^e peace offerings is taken away: then the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar ^m with the oblations of the Lord made by fire, & the Priest shal make an atonement for him concerning his sinne that he hathe committed, and it shalbe forgiven him.

- e In other burnt offerings, which are not of consecration, or offering for him selfe, y Priest hathe the skinnes, Chap 7,8.* 17 But the bullocke and his hide, and his flesh, and his dounge, he burnt with fire without the holte as the Lord had commanded Mosés.
- 18 ¶ Also he broght the ram for the burnt offering, and Aarón & his sonnes put their hands vpon the head of the ram.
- 19 So Mosés killed it, and sprinkled the blood vpon the Altar round about,
- 20 And Mosés cut y ram in pieces, & burnt the head with the pieces, and the fat,
- 21 And washed the inwardes and the legs in water: so Mosés burnt the ram euerie whit vpon the Altar: for it was a burnt offering for a swete sauour, which was made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.

- 24 Then Mosés broght Aarons sonnes, & put of the blood on the lap of their right eares, & vpon the thumbes of their right hâds, & vpon the great toes of their right fete, and Mosés sprinkled the rest of the blood vpon the Altar round about.
- 25 And he toke the fat and the rumpe, and all the fat that was vpon the inwardes, & the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneis with their fat, and the right shulder.
- 26 Also he toke of the basket of the vnleauened bread that was before the Lord, one vnleauened cake and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and vpon the right shulder.
- Exod 29,24.* 27 So he put * all in Aarons hands, and in his sonnes hands, and shoke it to and fro before the Lord.
- 28 After, Mosés toke the out of their hâds, and burnt the vpon the Altar for a burnt offering: for these were consecrations for a swete sauour which were made by fire vnto the Lord.
- 29 Likewise Mosés toke the breast of the ram of consecrations and shoke it to and fro before the Lord: for it was Mosés' portion, as the Lord had commanded Mosés.
- Exod 29,26.* 30 Also Mosés toke of the anointing oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the Altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aarón, vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garmets with him: so he sanctified Aarón, his garments, and his sonnes, and his sonnes garments with him.

8 The first offerings of Aarón 22 Aarón blesteth the people. 23 The glorie of the Lord u shewed. 24 The fire commeth from the Lord.

1 AND in the eight day Mosés called Aarón and his sonnes, and the Elders of Israël:

2 *Then he said vnto Aarón, Take thee a yong calf for a sinne offering, & a ram for a burnt offering, both without blemish, and bring them before the Lord.

3 And vnto the childre of Israël thou shalt speake, saying, Take ye an he goate for a sinne offering, and a calf, & a lambe bothe of a yere olde, without blemish for a burnt offering:

4 Also a bullocke, and a ram for peace offerings, to offer before the Lord, & a meat offering mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord wil appeare vnto you.

5 ¶ Then thei broght that which Mosés commaded before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the assemblie drewe nere and stode before the Lord.

7 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, Drawe nere to the Altar, & offer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thee and for the people: offer also the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

8 ¶ Aaron therefore went vnto the Altar, & killed the calf of the sin offering, which was for him self.

9 And the sonnes of Aaron broght the blood vnto him, and he dipt his finger in the blood, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar, & powred the rest of the blood at the foote of the Altar.

10 But the fat and the kidneis and the kall of the liuer of the sin offering, he burnt vpon the Altar, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

11 The flesh also and the hyde he burnt with fire without the hoste.

12 After, he slewe the burnt offering, & Aarons sonnes broght vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about vpon the Altar.

13 Also thei broght the burnt offering vnto him with the peeces thereof, and the head, and he burnt them vpon the Altar.

14 Likewise he did wash the inwardes and the legs, and burnt them vpon the burnt offering on the Altar.

15 ¶ Then he offered the peoples offering, & toke a goat, which was the sin offering for the people, and slewe it, and offered it for sinne, as the first:

16 So he offered the burnt offering, & prepared it, according to the manner.

17 He presented also the meat offering, and filled his hand thereof, and beside the burnt sacrifice of the morning he burnt this vpon the Altar.

18 He slewe also the bullocke, and the ram for the peace offrings, that was for the people, and Aarons sonnes broght vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled vpon the Altar round about,

19 With the fat of the bullocke, and of the ram, the rumpe, and that which couereth the inwardes and the kidneis, and the kall of the liuer.

20 So thei laied the fat vpon the breasts, and he burnt the fat vpon the Altar.

21 But the breasts and the right shulder Aaron shoke to and fro before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

22 So Aaron lift vp his hand toward the people, and blessed them, & came downe from offering of the sinne offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings.

23 After, Moses and Aaron went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation and came out, and blessed the people, & the glorie of the Lord appeared to all the people.

24 *And there came a fire out from the Lord and consumed vpon the Altar the burnt offering and the fat: & when all the people sawe, thei gaue thakes, & fel on their faces.

CHAP. X.

2 Nadab & Abihu are burnt. 6 Israel mourneth for the, but the Priests might not. 9 The Priests are forbidden wine.

1 ¶ But Nadab and Abihu, the sonnes of Aaron, toke ether of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incens thereupon, and offered a strange fire before the Lord, which he had not commanded them.

2 Therefore a fire wet out from the Lord, & deuoured them: so thei dyed before the Lord.

3 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nere me, & before all the people I will be glorified: but Aaron helde his peace.

4 And Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan the sonnes of Uzziel, the vncle of Aaron, and said vnto them, Come nere, cary your brethren from before the Sanctuarie out of the hoste.

5 Then thei went, & caryed them in their coates out of the hoste, as Moses had commanded.

6 After, Moses said vnto Aaron and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes, Vncover not your heades, nether rent your clothes, lest ye dye, and lest wrath come vpon all the people: but let your brethren, all the house of Israel bewaile the burning which the Lord hath kindled.

7 And go not ye out from the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, lest ye dye: for the anointing oyle of the Lord is vpon you: and thei did according to Moses commandment.

8 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, saying, Thou shalt not drinke wine nor strong drinke, thou, nor thy sonnes with thee, when ye come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, lest ye dye: this is an ordinance for euer throughout your generations,

10 That ye may put difference betwene the holy and the vnholie, and betwene the cleare and the vnclane,

11 And that ye may teache the children of Israel all the statutes which the Lord hath commanded the by the hand of Moses.

12 ¶ Then Moses said vnto Aaron & vnto Eleazar and to Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the Lord, made by fire, & eat it without leauen beside the altar: for it is most holy:

21 But if the Priest loke on it and there be no white heeres therein, & if it be not lo- wer then the skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

22 And if it spread abroade in the flesh, the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane, for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, & growe not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

24 ¶ If there be anie flesh, in whose skin there is an hote burning, and the quicke flesh of the burning haue a ^h white spot, somewhat reddish or pale,

25 Then the Priest shal loke vpon it: and if the heere in that spot be chaged into whi- te, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broke out in the burning: there- fore the Priest shal pronouce him vnclea- ne: for it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest loke on it, and there be no white heere in the spot, and be no lo- wer the the other skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

27 After, the Priest shal loke on him the se- uenth day: if it be grown abroade in the skinne, then the Priest shal pronouce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darcke, it is a ^r Or, swelling. ling of the burning: the Priest shal there- fore declare him cleane, for it is the dry- ing vp of the burning.

29 ¶ If also a man, or woman hathe a sore on the head or in the beard,

30 Then the Priest shal se the sore: and if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a smale yelowie heere, then the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

31 And if the Priest loke on the sore of the blacke spot, and if it seme not lower then ^y skin nor haue anie blacke heere in it, the Priest shal shut vp him, that hathe the sore of the blacke spot, seuen daies.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shal loke on the sore: and if ^y blacke spot gro- we not, & there be in it no yelowie heere, and the blacke spot seme not lower then the skin, 33 Then he shalbe shauen, but the place of ^y blacke spot shal he not shauie: but ^y Priest shal shut vp him, that hathe the blacke spot, seuen daies more.

34 And the seuenth day the Priest shal loke on the blacke spot: and if the blacke spot n.iii.

growe not in the skin, nor seme lower the
the other skin, then y^e Priest shal clese him, & he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.
35 But if the blacke spot growe abroad in the flesh after his clensing, 36 Then the Priest shal loke on it: and if the blacke spot growe in the skin, y^e Priest shal not ^k seke for the yelow heere: for he is vncleane.
37 But if the blacke spot seme to him to abide, and that blacke heere growe therein, the blacke spot is healed, he is cleane, and the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.
38 ¶ Furthermore if there be manie white spots in y^e skin of y^e flesh of man or womā, 39 Then the Priest shal cōsider: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darcke and white withall, it is but a white spot broken out in the skin: therefore he is cleane.
40 And the man whose heere is fallen of his head and is balde, is cleane.
41 And if his head close the ^l heere on the fore parte, & be balde before, he is cleane.
42 But if there be in the balde head, or in the balde fore heade a white reddish fore, it is a leprosie springig in his balde head,
or in his balde forehead.
43 Therefore the Priest shal loke vpon it, and if the rising of the fore be white reddish in his balde head, or in his balde fore head, appearing like leprosie in the skin of the flesh,
44 He is a leper and vncleane: therefore the Priest shal pronounce him altogether vncleane: for the sore is in his head.
45 The leper also in whome the plague is, shal haue his clothes ^m rent, and his head bare, and shal put a couering vpon his ⁿ lippes, and shal crye, I am vncleane, I am vn-

46 As long as the disease shalbe vpon him, he shalbe polluted, for he is vncleane: he 49 And if the fore be grene or somewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thig that is made of skin, it is a plague of leprosie & shalbe shewed vnto the Priest.

50 Then the Priest shal se the plague, and shut vp it that hath the plague, seuen daies, 51 And shal loke on the plague the seuen-

52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be wollen skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a frea-the fire.

53 If the Priest yet se that the plague p^rgro-we not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatsoeuer thing of skin it be,

54 Then the Priest shal commade them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, & he shal shut it vp seuen dayes more.

55 Againe the Priest shal loke on the plague, after it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his colour, though the plague spred no further, it is vncleane:
thou shalt burne it in y^e fire, for it is a frea-ting inwarde, whether the spot be in the bare place of the whole, or in parte thereof.

56 And if the Priest se that the plague be darcker, after that it is washed, he shal cut it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare stil in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing made of skin, it is a spreading leprosie:
thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou hast washed the garment or the warpe, or y^e woofe, or whatsoeuer thing of skin it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shal it be washed ^r the seconde time, and be cleane.

59 This is the lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of wollen or linen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing of skin, to make it cleane or vncleane.

8 Then he that shalbe clensed, shal wash his clothes, and shauē of all his heere, and wash him selfe in water, so he shalbe cleane: after that shal he come into the holte, but shal tarie without his tent seuē dayes.

9 So in the seuenth day he shal shauē of all his heere, bothe his head, and his beard, & his eye browes: euen all his heere shal he shauē, & shal wash his clothes & shal wash his flesh in water. so he shalbe cleane.

10 Then in the eight day he shal take two he lambes without ^e blemish, and an ewe lambe of an yere olde without blemish, and thre tenth deales of fine floure for a meat offering, mingled with oyle, ^f and a pinte of oyle.

11 And the Priest that maketh him cleane shal bring the man which is to be made cleane, and those things, before the Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

12 Then the Priest shal take one lambe, & offer him for a trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and ^{*} shake them to and fro before the Lord.

13 And he shal kil the lambe in the place where the sinne offering and the burnt offering are slaine, euen in the holy place: for as the ^{*} sin offering is the Priests, so is the trespass offering: for it is moste holy.

14 So the Priest shal take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it vpon the lap of the right eare of him that shalbe clensed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote.

15 The Priest shal also take of the pinte of oyle, and powre it into the palme of his left hand,

16 And the Priest shal dip his ^{*} right finger in the oyle that is in his left hād, & sprinkle of the oyle with his finger seuen times before the Lord.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hand, shal the Priest put vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clensed, & vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote, ^{*} where the blood of the trespass offering was put.

18 But the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priestes hand, he shal powre vpon the head of him that is to be clensed: so the Priest shal make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shal offer the sin offering and make an atonement for him that is to be clensed of his vncleannes: the after shal he kil the burnt offering.

20 So the Priest shal offer the burnt offering & the meat offering vpon the altar: and the Priest shal make an atonement for him: so he shalbe cleane.

21 But if he be poore, & ^{*} not able, then he shal bring one labe for a trespass offering to be shake, for his reconciliation, & a ^s tenth deale of fine floure mingled with oyle, for a meat offering, with a pinte of oyle.

23 And he shal bring them the eight day for his clensing vnto the Priest at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

24 Then the Priest shal take the lambe of the trespass offering, and the pinte of oyle, and the Priest shal ^h shake them to and fro before the Lord.

25 And he shal kil the lambe of the trespass offering, & the Priest shal take of ^y blood of the trespass offering, and put it vpon the lap of his right eare that is to be clensed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, & vpon the great toe of his right fote.

26 Also the Priest shal powre of the oyle into the palme of his owne ^{*} left hand.

27 So the Priest shal with his right finger sprinkle of the oyle that is in his left hand, seuen times before the Lord.

28 Then the Priest shal put of the oyle that is in his hand, vpon the lap of the right eare of him that is to be clensed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right fote: vpon the place ^g of the blood of the trespass offering.

29 But ^y rest of the oyle that is in ^y Priestes hād, he shal put vpon the head of him that is to be clensed, to make an atonement for him before the Lord.

30 Also he shal present one of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons, ⁱ as he is able:

empty the house before the Priest go in to it to se the plague, that all that is in the house be not made vncleane, and then shal the Priest go in to se the house,

37 And he shal marke the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of the house, and that there be^a depe spots, grenish or reddish, which seme to be lower the wall,

38 Then the Priest shal go out of the house to the dore of the house, and shal cause to shut vp the house seuen daies.

39 So y^e Priest shal come againe the seuēth day: and if he se that the plague be increased in the walles of the house, 40 Then the Priest shal commande them to take away y^e stones wherein the plague is, and they shal cast them into a^a foule place without the citie.

41 Also he shal cause to scrape the house within round about, and powre the dust, that they haue pared of, without the citie in^m an vncleane place.

42 And they shal take other stones, and put the in y^e places of those stones, & shal take other morter, to plaister the house with.

43 But if the plague come againe and breake out in the house, after that he hathe taken away the stones, and after y^e he hathe scraped and plaistred the house,

44 Then the Priest shal come and see: and if the plague growe in the house, it is a freating leprosie in the house: it is therefore vncleane.

45 And he shal^a breake downe the house, with the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the^a morter of the house, and he shal carie them out of the citie vnto an vncleane place.

46 Moreouer he that goeth into the house all y^e while that it is shut vp, he shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

47 He also that slepeth in the house shal wash his clothes: he likewise that eateth in the house, shal wash his clothes.

48 But if the Priest shal come and se, that the plague hathe spred no further in the house, after the house be plaistred, the Priest shal pronounce that house cleane, for the plague is healed.

49 Then shal he take to purifie the house, two sparowes, and cedar wood, & skarlet lace, and hyssope.

50 And he shal kil one sparowe ouer pure water in an earthen vessel,

51 And shal take the cedar wood, and the hyssope, and the skarlet lace with the liue sparowe, and dip them in the blood of the flaine sparowe, and in the pure water, and sprinkle the house seuen times:

52 So shal he clense the house wth the blood of the sparowe and with the pure water, and with the liue sparowe, & with the cedar wood, and with the hyssope, and with the skarlet lace.

53 Afterwarde he shal let go y^e liue sparowe out of the^a towne into y^e broad fields: so shal he make atonement for the house, and it shalbe cleane.

54 This is the lawe for euerie plague of leprosie and^a blacke spot,

55 And of the leprosie of the garment, and of the house,

56 And of the^a swelling, and of the skab, & of the white spot.

57 This is the lawe of y^e leprosie to teache^a when a thing is vncleane, and when it is cleane.

he goates: one lot for the Lord, and the other for the ^b Scape goat.

9 And Aarón shal offer the goat, vpon which the Lords lot shal fall, and make him a sinne offering.

10 But the goat, on which the lot shal fall to be the Scape goat, shalbe presented alive before the Lord, to make reconciliation by him, ^c & to let him go (as a Scape goat) into the wilderness.

11 Thus Aarón shal offer the bullocke for his sinne offering, & make a reconciliation for himselfe, and for his house, and shal kill the bullocke for his sinne offering.

12 And he shal take a censer full of burning coles from of the Altar before the Lord, & his handfull of sweete incense beaté small, and bring it within the ^e vaile;

13 And shal put the incense vpon the fire before the Lord, that the ^e cloude of the incense may couer the Mercieseat that is vpon the Testimonie: so he shal not dye.

14 And he shal take of the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Mercieseat ^d Eastward: and before the Mercieseat shal he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

15 Then shal he kill the goat that is the peoples sinne offering, & bring his blood within the vaile, and do with that blood, as he did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Mercieseat, and before the Mercieseat.

16 So he shal purge the Holy place from the vncleannes of the children of Israël, & from their trespasses of all their finnes: so shal he do also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation ^e placed with them, in the middes of their vncleannes.

17 And there shal be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonement in the Holy place, vntill he come out, & haue made an atonement for himselfe, & for his householde, and for all the Congregation of Israël.

18 After, he shal go out vnto the ^f Altar that is before the Lord, & make a reconciliation vpon it, & shal take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:

19 So shal he sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and halowe it from the vncleannes of the children of Israël.

20 When he hath made an end of purging the Holy place, & the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the altar, then he shal bring the liue goat:

21 And Aarón shal put bothe his hands vpon the head of the liue goat, and confesse ouer him all the iniquities of the childre of Israël, & all their trespasses, in all their finnes, putting the ^g vpon the head of the goat, and shal send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wilderness.

22 So the goat shal beare vpon him all their iniquities into the land that is not inhabited, and he shal let the goat go into the wilderness.

23 After, Aarón shal come into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and put of the linen clothes, which he put on when he went into the Holy place, & leaue the there.

24 He shal wash also his flesh with water in the Holy place, and put on his owne raiment, and come out, and make his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for him self, and for the people.

25 Also the fat of the sinne offering shal he burne vpon the Altar.

26 And he that carryed forth the goat, called the Scape goat, shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shal come into the hoste.

27 Also the bullocke for the sinne offering, and the goat for the sinne offering (whose blood was brought to make a reconciliation in the Holy place) shal one ^h carry out with him out the hoste to be burnt in the fire, with their skins, and with their flesh, and with their dung.

28 And he that burneth them shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and afterwarde come into the hoste.

29 So this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth day of the seventh moneth, ye shal ⁱ humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of the same countrey, or a stranger that sojourneth among you.

30 For ^j that day shal the Priest make an atonement for you to cleanse you: ye shal be cleane from all your finnes before the Lord.

31 This shalbe a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shal humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest ^k whom he shal anoint, and whome he shal consecrate (to minister in his fathers steed) shal make the atonement, and shal put on the linen clothes & holy vestments;

33 And shal purge the holy Sanctuary and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shal cleanse the Altar, & make an atonement for the Priests, and for all the people of the Congregation.

34 And this shalbe an everlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for the childre of Israël for all their finnes ^l once a yeere; and as the Lord commanded Moses, he did.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and to his sonnes, & to all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, saying,

3 Whosoever he be of the house of Israel that killeth a bullocke, or labe, or goat in his hoste, or that killeth it out of the hoste,

4 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer an offering vnto the Lord before the Tabernacle of the Lord, his blood shalbe imputed vnto that man: he hath shed blood, wherefore that man shalbe cut of from among his people.

5 Therefore the children of Israel shal bring their offerings, which they wolde offer abroad in the field, and present them vnto the Lord at his doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation by the Priest, & offer the for peace offerings vnto his Lord.

6 Then the Priest shal sprinkle the blood vpon the altar of the Lord before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and burne the fat for a sweete saour vnto the Lord.

7 And thou shalt no more offer their offerings vnto deuils, after whome they haue gone a whoring: this shalbe an ordinance for euer vnto them in their generations.

8 ¶ Also thou shalt say vnto them, Whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourn among them, that offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation to offer it vnto the Lord, euē that man shal be cut of from his people.

10 ¶ Likewise whosoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among them, that eateth anie blood, I wil euen set my face against that persone that eateth blood, & wil cut him of from among his people:

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, & I haue giuen it vnto you to offer vpon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for this blood shal make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said vnto the childre of Israel, None of you shal eat blood: nether the stranger that sojourneth among you, shal eat blood.

13 Moreover whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among them, which by hunting taketh anie beast or foule that may be eatē, he shal powre out his blood thereof, and couer it with dust:

14 For the life of all flesh is his blood, it is

15 And euenie persone that eateth it which dyeth alone, or that which is to me with beasts, whether it be one of the same countrey or a stranger, he shal bothe wash his clothes, & walke him selfe in water, & be vncleane vnto his euen: after he shalbe cleane.

16 But if he wash them not, nor wash his flesh, then he shal beare his iniquitie.

^g Because the tribes shalbe nether have their possessions, or families diminished nor confounded

11 This fiftieth yere shalbe a yere of Iubile vnto you: ye shal not sowe, nether reape that which groweth of it selfe, nether gather the grapes thereof, that are left vnlaboured.

12 For it is the Iubile, it shal be holy vnto you: ye shal eat of the increase thereof out of the field.

13 In the yere of this Iubile, ye shal returne euerie man vnto his possession.

14 And whē thou sellest ought to thy neighbour, or byest at thy neighbours hand, ye shal ^h not oppresse one another:

^h By deceit or otherwise.
ⁱ If the Iubile to come be nere, thou shalt sel better cheape: if it be farre of, dearer

15 But according to the number of ⁱ yeres after the Iubile thou shalt bye of thy neighbour: also according to the number of the yeres of the reuenues, he shal sell vnto thee.

16 According to the multitude of yeres, thou shalt encrease the price thereof, and according to the fewnes of yeres, thou shalt abate the price of it: for the number of ^k frutes doeth he sell vnto thee.

^k And not the full possession of the land.

17 Oppresse not ye therefore anie man his neighbour, but thou shalt feare thy God: for I am the Lord your God.

18 ¶ Wherefore ye shal obey mine ordinances, and kepe my lawes, and do them, and ye shal dwell in the land ^a in safteie.

19 And the land shal giue her frute, and ye shal eat your fil, and dwell therein in safteie.

20 And if ye shal say, What shal we eat the seuenth yere, for we shal not sowe, nor gather in our increase?

21 I wil^a send my blessing vpon you in the sixt yere, and it shal bring forth the frute for thre yeres.

22 And ye shal sowe the eight yere, and eat of the olde frute vntil the ninth yere: vntil the frute thereof come, ye shal eat the olde.

^l It coulde not be sold for euer, but must returne to the familie in the Iubile

24 Therefore in all the land of your possession ye shal ^m grante a redemption for the land.

28 But if he can not get sufficient to restore to him, then that which is solde, shal remaine in the had of him that hath bought it, vntil the yere of the Iubile: and in the Iubile it shal come out, and he shal returne vnto his possession.

29 Likewise if a man sel a dwelling house in a walled citie, he may bye it out againe within a whole yere after it is solde: within a yere may he bye it out.

30 But if it be not bought out within the space of a ful yere, then the house that is in the walled citie, shalbe stablished, & as cut of from the familie, to him that bought it, throughout his generacions: it shal not go out in the Iubile.

31 But the houses of villages, which haue no walles rounde about them, shalbe esteemed as the field of the countie: they may be bought out againe, and shal go out in the Iubile.

32 Notwithstanding, the cities of the Leuites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Leuites redeme at all seasons.

33 And if a mā purchase of the Leuites, the house that was solde, and the citie of their possession shal go out in the Iubile: for y houses of the cities of y Leuites are their possession among the children of Israël.

34 But the field of the suburbs of their citie, shal not be solde: for it is their perpetual possession.

35 Moreouer if thy brother be impouerished, and fallen in decay with thee, thou shalt releue him, and as a strāger and sojourner, so shal he liue with thee.

36 Thou shalt take no vsurie of him; nor vantage, but thou shalt feare thy God, that thy brother may liue with thee.

37 Thou shalt not giue him thy money to vsurie, nor lend him thy vitayles for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, which haue brought you out of the lād of Egypt, to giue you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

39 If thy brother also that dwelleth by thee, be impouerished, and be solde vnto thee, thou shalt not compel him to serue as a bonde seruant,

40 But as an hyred seruant, and as a sojourner he shal be with thee: he shal serue thee vnto the yere of the Iubile.

41 The shal he departe from thee, both he, and his children with him, and shal returne vnto his familie, and vnto the possession of his fathers shal he returne:

42 For they are my seruants, whome I brought out of the land of Egypt: they shal not be solde as bonde men are solde.

43 Thou shalt not rule ouer him cruelly, but shalt feare thy God.

44 Thy bonde seruant also, and thy bonde maid, which thou shalt haue, shal be of the heathen that are rounde about you: of the shal ye bye seruants and maids.

45 And moreouer of the children of the strangers, that are sojourners among you, of them shal ye bye, and of their families that are with you, which they begate in your land: these shal be your possession.

46 So ye shal take them as inheritance for your children after you, to possesse them by inheritance, ye shal vse their labours for euer: but ouer your brethren the children of Israël ye shal not rule one ouer another with crueltie.

47 If a sojourner or a stranger dwelling by thee get riches, and thy brother by him be impouerished, and sel him selfe vnto the stranger or sojourner dwelling by thee, or to the stocke of the strangers familie,

48 After that he is solde, he may be bought out: one of his brethren may bye him out,

49 Or his vncler, or his vncler sone may bye him out, or anie of the kinred of his flesh among his familie, may redeme him: either if he can get so much, he may bye him selfe out.

50 Then he shal reken with his byer from the yere that he was solde to him, vnto the yere of Iubile: and the money of his sale shalbe according to the number of yeres: according to the time of an hyred seruant shal he be with him.

51 If there be manie yeres behinde, according to them he shal giue againe for his deliuerance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remaine but fewe yeres vnto the yere of Iubile, the he shal couete with him, and according to his yeres giue againe for his redemption.

53 He shalbe with him yere by yere as an hyred seruāt: he shal not rule cruelly ouer him in thy sight.

54 And if he be not redeemed thus, he shal go out in the yere of Iubile, he, and his children with him.

55 For vnto me the children of Israël are seruants: they are my seruants, whome I haue brought out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

THE ARGUMENT.

FOrasmuche as God hath appointed that his Church in this worlde shalbe vnder the crosse, bothe because they shoulde learne not to put their trust in worldly things, and also seke his comferte, when all other helpe faileth: he did not straight way bring his peopl, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promised them: but led them to and fro for the space of fourtie yeres, and kept them in continual exercises before they enioyed it, to trye their faith, and to teache the to forget the worlde and to depend on him. Which tryal did greatly profite to discerne the wicked and the hypocrites from the faithful and true seruants of God, who serued him with pure heart, where as the other preferring their carnal affections to Gods glorie, and making religion to serue their purpose, murmured when they lacked to content their lustes, and despised them whome God had appointed rulers ouer them. By reason whereof they prouoked Gods terrible iudge-ments against them, and are set forthe as a moste notable example for all ages to beware how they abuse Gods worde, preferre their owne lustes to his wil, or despise his ministers. Notwithstanding God is euer true in his promes, and gouerneth his, by his holy Spirit, that ether they fall not to suche inconueniences, or els returne to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, he giueth them ordinances and instructions, as wel for religion as out ward police: he preserveth them against all craft and conspiracie, and giueth them manifold victories against their enemies. And to auoyd all controuersies that might arise, he taketh away the occasiōs, by diuiding among all the tribes, bothe the land, which they had wonne, & that also which he had promised, as semed best to his godlie wisdom.

20 So were the sonnes of ¶ Reuben Israels eldest sonne by their generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, man by man, euerie male from twé-tie yere olde and aboue, as many as ^gwent forth to warre:

21 The number of them, I say, of the tribe of Reuben, was six & fourtie thousand, & fiue hundreth.

¶ Simeón.

22 Of the sonnes of ¶ Simeón by their ge-neracions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, the summe thereof by the number of their names, man by má, euerie male from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that went forth to warre:

23 The summe of them, I say, of the tribe of Simeón was nine and fiftie thousand, & thie hundreth.

¶ Gad

24 ¶ Of the sonnes of ¶ Gad by their generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde and
aboue, all that went forth to warre:

25 The number of them, I say, of the tribe of Gad was fiue and fourtie thousand, and six hundreth and fiftie.

¶ Iudáh.

26 ¶ Of the sonnes of Iudáh by their ge-neraciós, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde

and aboue, all that went forth to warre:

27 The number of them, I say, of the tribe of Iudáh was threscore & fourtene thousand, and six hundreth.

28 ¶ Of the sonnes ¶ of Issachár by their ¶ generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere
olde & aboue, all that wēt forth to warre:

29 The number of them also of the tribe of Issachár was foue and fiftie thousand and foue hundreth.

30 ¶ Of the sonnes of ¶ Zebulún, by their ¶ generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that went forth to warre:

31 The number of them also of the tribe of Zebulún was seuen and fiftie thousand & foure hundreth.

32 ¶ Of the sonnes of Ioséph, namely of the sonnes of ¶ Ephráim by their genera-cions, by their families, & by the houses
of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde &
aboue, all that went forth to warre:

33 The number of them also of the tribe of Ephráim was fourtie thousand and fiue hundreth.

34 ¶ Of the sonnes of ¶ Manasséh by their ¶ generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that went forth to
warre:

35 The number of them also of the tribe of Manasséh was two & thirtie thousand and two hundreth.

36 Of the sonnes of ¶ Beniamín by their ¶ generacions, by their families, & by the
houses of their fathers, according to the nóber of their names, frō twentie yere olde & aboue, all that wēt forth to warre:

37 The number of them also of the tribe of Beniamín was fiue and thirtie thousand and foue hundreth.

38 Of the sonnes of ¶ Dan by their genera-cions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde & aboue, all that went forth to warre:

39 The number of them also of the tribe of Dan was threscore and two thousand and seuen hundreth.

40 ¶ Of the sonnes of ¶ Ashér by their ge-neraciós, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers, according to the nóber of their names, from twentie yere olde
and aboue, all that went forth to warre:
p.iiii.

- 41 The number of them also of the tribe of Asher was one and fourtie thousand and five hundred.
- 42 ¶ Of the childre of Naphtali, by their generacions, by their families, & by the houses of their fathers according to the number of their names, from twentie yere olde and aboue; all that went to the warre.
- 43 The number of them also of the tribe of Naphtali, was thre and fiftie thousand, & four hundred.
- 44 These are the summes which Moses, & Aaron nombred, and the Princes of Israel: the twelue men, which were euerie one for the house of their fathers.
- 45 So this was all the summe of the sonnes of Israel, by the houses of their fathers, from twentie yere olde and aboue, all that wet to the warre in Israel.
- 46 And all they were in number six hundred & thre thousand, five hundred and fiftie.
- 47 But the Leuites, after the tribes of their fathers were not nombred amongs them.
- 48 For the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, and said,
- 49 Onely thou shalt not number the tribe of Leui, nether take the summe of them among the children of Israel:
- 50 But thou shalt appoint the Leuites ouer the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, and ouer all the instruments thereof, and ouer all things that belong to it: they shal beate the Tabernacle, and all the instruments thereof, and shal minister in it, and shal dwell round about the Tabernacle.

THE FIGURE OF THE TABERNACLE ERECTED, AND OF THE TENTES PITCHED ROVNDE ABOUT IT.

A B The length of the court, of an hundred cubites on the South side, which in this figure is called midi. In the space were twentie pillars of five cubites high, to which were tied curtains, to shut and close vp the court. The North side called Septentrion was all alike.

C D The West side called Occident, was fiftie cubites broad, wherein were ten pillars of like height with the other, whereunto were fastened the curtains to close that side. The East side also called Orient was fiftie cubites broad A B.

Thus the court was fiftie cubites longer then it was broad. They entered into the court on the East side and before the gate was an hanging of twentie cubites long. F G fastened on foure pillars, and on the sides thereof to make it close, were curtains of fiftie cubites long, E F & G H, which on euerie side were fastened on thre pillars, as this figure sufficiently declareth.

- 52 Also the children of Israél shal pitch their tents, euerie man in his campe, and euerie man vnder his ständer throughout their armies.
- 53 But the Leuites shal pitch round about the Tabernacle of the Testimonie, lest vengeance ⁱ come vpon the Congregation of the children of Israél, & the Leuites shal take the charge of the Tabernacle of the Testimonie.
- 54 So the children of Israél did according to all that the Lord had commanded Moses: so did they.

CHAP. II.

^a The ordre of the tents, and the names of the capitaines of the Israelites.

- 1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, & to Aaron, saying,
- 2 Euerie man of the childre of Israél shal campe by his ständer, and vnder the ensigne of their fathers house: forre of about the Tabernacle of the Congregation shal they pitch.
- 3 On the Eastside toward the rising of the sunne, shal they of the ständer of the hoste of Iudáh pitch according to their armies: & Nahshón the sonne of Amminadáb shalbe^e capitaine of the sonnes of Iudáh.
- 4 And his hoste and the number of them were seuentie and foure thousand and six hundred.
- 5 Next vnto him shal they of the tribe ^b of Issachár pitch, and Nethaneél the sonne of Zuár shalbe the capitaine of the sonnes of Issachár:
- 6 And his hoste, and the number thereof were foure and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.
- 7 Then the tribe of Zebulún, and Eliáb the sonne of Helón, capitaine ouer the sonnes of Zebulún:
- 8 And his hoste, and the number thereof were fiftie thousand and foure hundred.
- 9 The whole number of the ^c hoste of Iudáh are an hundred foure score and six thousand, & foure hundred according to their armies: they shal first set forth.
- 10 ¶ On the Southside shalbe the ständer of the hoste ^d of Reubén according to their armies, & the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Reubén shalbe Elizúr the sonne of She-deúr.
- 11 And his hoste, and the number thereof were foure and fiftie thousand, and foure hundred.
- 12 And by him shal the tribe of Simeón pitch, and the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Simeón shalbe Shelumiél the sonne of Zurishaddái:

- 13 And his hoste, and the number of them, were nine and fiftie thousand & three hundred.
- 14 And the tribe of Gad, and the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Gad shalbe Eliasáph the sonne of^e Deuél:
- 15 And his hoste and the number of them were foure and fiftie thousand, six hundred and fiftie.
- 16 All the number of the campe of Reuben were an hundred and one and fiftie thousand, & foure hundred and fiftie according to their armies, and they shal set forth in the seconde place.
- 17 ¶ Then the Tabernacle of the Congregation shal go with the hoste of ^h Leuites, in the ^e middes of the campe as they haue pitched, so shal they go forward, euerie man in his ordre according to their ständers.
- 18 ¶ The ständer of the cape of Ephraim shalbe toward the West accordig to their armies: and the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Ephraim shalbe Elishamá the sonne of Ammihúid:
- 19 And his hoste and the number of them were foure thousand and foure hundred.
- 20 And by him shalbe the tribe of Manasséh, and the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Manasséh shalbe Gamliél the sonne of Pedahzúr:
- 21 And his hoste and the number of them were two & thirtie thousand & two hundred.
- 22 And the tribe of Beniamín, & the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Beniamín shalbe Abidán the sonne of Gideoní:
- 23 And his hoste, and the number of them were foure thousand and thirtie thousand.
- 24 All the number of the campe of Ephraim were an hundred and eight thousand and one hundred according to their armies, and they shal go in the third place.
- 25 ¶ The ständer of the hoste of ^g Dan shalbe toward the North according to their armies: and the capitaine ouer the children of Dan shalbe Ahíezer the sonne of Ammishaddái:
- 26 And his hoste and the number of them were two & thirtie thousand and foure hundred.
- 27 And by him shal ^h the tribe of Ashér pitch, and the capitaine ouer the sonnes of Ashér shalbe Pagíel the sonne of Ocran.
- 28 And his hoste and the number of them were one and fiftie thousand and foure hundred.
- 29 ¶ The tribe of Naphtalí, & the capitaine ouer the children of Naphtalí shalbe Ahirá the sonne of Enán:

30 The captaine and ancient of the house, and families of the Kohathites shalbe Elizaphan the sonne of Vzziel:

l The chief things within the Sanctuarie were committed to the Kohathites

31 And their charge shalbe the^l Aike, and the table, and the candellsticke, and the altars, and the instruments of the Sanctuarie that they minister with, and the vail, and all that serueth thereto.

m Prince of prince.

32 And Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest shalbe^m chief captaine of the Leuites, hauing the ouersight of them that haue the charge of the Sanctuarie.

33 ¶ Of Merari came the familie of the Mahlites, and the familie of the Mushites: these are the families of Merari.

34 And the summe of them, according to the n^ober of all the males, from a moneth olde and aboue was six thousand and two hundred.

35 The captaine and the ancient of the house of the families of Merari shalbe Zuriel the sonne of Abihail: thei shal pitch on the Northside of the Tabernacle.

n The woodworke & y^e rest of the instruments were committed to their charge.

36 And in the charge & custodie of the sonnes of Merari shalbeⁿ the boardes of the Tabernacle, and the barres thereof, & his pillars, & his sockets, & all the instruments thereof, and all that serueth thereto, 37 With the pillars of the court round about, with their sockets, and their pins & their cordes.

38 ¶ Also on the forefront of the Tabernacle toward the East, before the Tabernacle, I say, of the Cōgregacion Eastward shal Moses and Aaron and his sonnes pitch, hauing the charge of the Sanctuarie, and the charge of the children of Israel: but the stranger that commeth nere, shalbe slaine.

o That none shulde entre into the Tabernacle contrary to Gods appointmēt 39 The whole summe of the Leuites, w^h Moses & Aaron nombred at the commandement of the Lord throughout their families, even all the males from a moneth olde & aboue, was two and twentie^o thousand.

p So that y^e first borne of the children of Israel were mo by 273

40 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Moses, Number all the first borne that are males among the children of Israel, from a moneth olde and aboue, and take the number of their names.

p So that now the Leuites shulde satisfie vnto the Lord for the first borne of Israel, (see for the 273, which were mo then the Leuites, for whome they payed money.

41 And thou shalt take the Leuites to me^p for all the first borne of the childre of Israel (I am the Lord) and the cattel of the Leuites for all the first borne of the cattel of the children of Israel.

42 And Moses nombred, as the Lord commanded him, all the first borne of the children of Israel.

43 And all y^e first borne males rehearsed by 48 And y^e shalt giue the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redeemed, vnto Aaron and to his sonnes.

49 Thus Moses toke the redemption of them that were redeemed, being mo then the Leuites:

50 Of the first borne of the children of Israel toke he the money: even a thousand thre hundred thre score and five shekels after the shekel of the Sanctuarie.

q Of the two hundred seuentie & thre, w^h were more the Leuites.

51 And Moses gaue the money of the that were redeemed, vnto Aaron & to his sonnes according to the worde of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

CHAP. II II.

The offices of the Leuites, when the hoste removed 46 The n^ober of the thre families of Kohath, Gershon, and Merari.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, and to Aaron, saying,

2 Take the summe of the sonnes of Kohath frō among the sonnes of Leui, after their families, & houses of their fathers,

3 Frō a thintie yere olde & aboue even vntil fiftie yere olde, all that entre into the assemblie to do the worke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

4 This shalbe the office of the sonnes of Kohath in the Tabernacle of the Cōgregacion about the Holiest of all.

5 ¶ When the hoste remoueth, then Aaron & his sonnes shal come & take downe^b the couering vail, & shal couer the Aike of the Testimonie therewith.

6 And they shal put thereon a couering of badgers skins, and shal spread vpon it a cloth altogether of blew silk, and put to the barres thereof:

7 And vpon the^c table of shewe bread they shal spread a cloth of blew silk, and put thereon the dishes, & y^e mens cups, & goblets, & couerings to couer it^d with, & the bread shalbe thereon continually:

8 And they shal spread vpon them a couering of skarlet, and couer the same with a couering of badgers skins, and put to, the barres thereof.

a The Leuites were nombred after thre sorts: first at a moneth olde w^h thei were consecrate to the Lord, next at 25 yere olde w^h they were appointed to serue in y^e Tabernacle, & at 30 yere olde to beare the burthen of the Tabernacle

- 9 Then they shal take a cloth of blew filke, and couer the * candlesticke of light with his lampes and his snuffers,* and his snoffedishes, and all the oyle vessels thereof, which they occupie about it.
- 10 So they shal put it, and all the instrumēt thereof in a couering of badgers skins, and put it vpon the * barres.
- e The Ebrewe worde signifieth an instrument made of two staves or barres f Which was to burne incense read Exod 30. 1.*
- 11 Also vpon the golden altar they shal spreade a cloth of blew filke, and couer it with a couering of badgers skins, & put to the barres thereof.
- 12 And they shal take all the instruments of the ministerie wherewith they minister in the Sanctuarie, and put them in a cloth of blew filke, and couer them with a couering of badgers skins, & put them on the barres.
- 13 Also they shal take away the ashes from the altar, & spread a purple cloth vpon it,
- 14 And shal put vpon it all the instruments thereof, which they occupie about it: the censers, the fleshhokes & the besomes, and the basens, euen all the instruments of the altar: & they shal spread vpon it a couering of badgers skins, & put to the barres of it.
- g Of the burnt offering.*
- 15 And whē Aarón & his sonnes haue made an end of couering the h Sanctuarie, and all the instruments of the Sanctuarie, at the remouing of the hoste, afterwarde the sonnes of Kohāth shal come to beare it, but they shal not i touche any holy thing lest they dye. - 17 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moyses and to Aarón, saying,
- 18 Ye shal not cut of the tribe of y families of y Kohathites from among y Leuites:
- l Committing by your negligence that the holy things be not wel wrapped, and so they by touching thereof perish. m Shewing what part euerie man shal beare.*
- 19 But thus do vnto them, that they may liue & not dye, when they come nere to the moste holy things: let Aarón and his sonnes come and appoint m them, euerie one to his office, and to his charge.
- 20 But let them not go in, to se when the Sanctuarie is folden vp, lest they dye.
- 21 ¶ And y Lord spake vnto Moyses, saying,
- 22 Take also the summe of the sonnes of Gershón, euerie one by y houses of their fathers throughout their families:
- 23 From thirtie yere olde and about, vntil fiftie yere olde shalt thou nōbre them, all that n entre into y assemblie for to do seruice in y Tabernacle of y Congregation.
- n Which were receiued into the companye of them that ministered in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.*
- 24 This shalbe the seruice of the families of the Gershonites, to serue and to beare.
- 25 They shal beare y curtaines of the Tabernacle, & the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation, his couering, and the couering of badgers skins, that is on hie vpon it, and y vaile of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:
- o Which taile hāged betwene y Sāctuarie and the court.*
- 26 The curtaines also of the court, and the vaile of the entring in of the gate of the court, p which is nere the Tabernacle & nere the altar round about, with their cordes, and all the instrumentes for their seruice, and all that is made for them: so shal they serue.
- p Which court compassed bothe the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation & y altar of burnt offering.*
- 27 At the commandement of Aarón and his sonnes shal all the seruice of the sonnes of y Gershonites be done, in all their charges and in all their seruice, & ye shal appoint them to kepe all their charges.
- 28 This is the seruice of the families of y sonnes of the Gershonites in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watch shalbe vnder the q hand of Ithamār the sonne of Aarón the Priest.
- q Vnder the charge and ouersight.*
- 29 ¶ Thou shalt number the sonnes of Merarí by their families, & by the houses of their fathers:
- 30 From thirtie yere olde & about, euen vnto fiftie yere olde shalt thou nōbre them, all that entre into the assemblie, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Cōgregation.
- 31 And this is their office & charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: the * boardes of Exod. 26. 28. the Tabernacle with the barres thereof, and his pillars, and his sockets.
- 32 And the pillars round about the court, with their sockets and their pins, and their cordes, w all their instrumentes, euen for all their seruice, & by r name ye shal rekē the instrumentes of their office & charge.
- r Ye shal make an inuento- rie of all the things, w ye comit to their charge.*
- 33 This is the seruice of the families of the sonnes of Merarí, according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation vnder the hād of Ithamār the sonne of Aarón the Priest.
- 34 ¶ Then Moyses and Aarón and the princes of the Congregation nombred the sonnes of y Kohathites, by their families and by the houses of their fathers,
- 35 Frō thirtie yere olde & about, euen vnto fiftie yere olde, all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
- 36 So the s nombre of them throughout their families were two thousand, seven hundred and fiftie.
- s Ebr. The nombre of them.*
- 37 These are the nombres of the families of the Kohathites, all that serue in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, which Moyses and Aarón did number according to the commandemēt of the Lord by the t hand of Moyses.
- t God appointing Moyses to be y minister & excecutor thereof.*

- 38 Also the numbers of the sonnes of Gershón throughout their families and houses of their fathers,
- 39 From thirtie yere olde and vpward, euen vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into the assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
- 40 So the numbers of them by their families, & by the houses of their fathers were two thousand six hundred & thirtie.
- 41 These are the nōbers of y families of y
sones of Gershón: of all that did seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, whome Mosēs & Aarón did nōber according to the commandement of the Lord.
- 42 ¶ The nōbers also of the families of the sonnes of Merari by their families, & by the houses of their fathers,
- 43 Frō thirtie yere olde & vpward, eue vnto fiftie yere olde: all that entre into y assemblie for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
- 44 So the numbers of them by their families were thie thousand, & two hundred.
- 45 These are y summes of y families of the sonnes of Merari, whome Mosēs & Aarón nōbred according to the commandemēt of the Lord, by the hand of Mosēs.
- 46 So all the numbers of the Leuites, which Mosēs, & Aarón, & the princes of Israēl nombred, by their families & by the houses of their fathers,
- 47 Frō thirtie yere olde & vpward, euen to fiftie yere olde, euerie one that came to do his dutie, office, seruice and charge in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
- 48 So the numbers of them were eight thousand five hundred and foure score.
- 49 According to the cōmandement of y
Lord by y hād of Mosēs did Aarón nōber thē, euerie one according to his seruice, & according to his charge. Thus were thei of that tribe nōbred, as the Lord commāded Mosēs. C H A P. V.

¹ The lawe of the consecraciō of the Nazarite. ²⁴ The manner to blesse the people.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moſes, saying;

2 Speake vnto the children of Israēl, and say vnto them, When a man or a woman doeth separate theſe felues to vowe a vowe of a Nazarite to separate him ſelfe vnto the Lord,

^a Which separated them ſelues from the world, & dedicated them ſelues to God: whose figure was accomplished in Christ.

3 He shal absteyne frō wine & ſtōg drinke, and shal drinke no ſōwre wine nor ſōwre drinke, nor shal drinke anie licour of grapes, nether shal eat fresh grapes nor dried.

4 As long as his abſtynence endureth, shal he eat nothing y^e is made of the wine of y^e vine, nether the kernels, nor the huske.

5 While he is ſeparate by his vowe, the rasure shal not come vpon his head, vntil the dayes be out, in the which he separateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he shal be holie, and shal let the lockes of the heere of his head growe.

6 During the time that he separateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he shal come at no dead body:

^b As at burials, or mournings.

7 He shal not make him ſelfe vncleane at the death of his father, or mother, brother, or ſiſter: for the consecraciō of his God is vpon his head.

^c In that he ſuffered his heere to growe, he ſignified y^e he was consecrated to God.

8 All the dayes of his ſeparaciō he shal be holy to the Lord.

^d Which is where there is a ſigne that he is dedicated to God.

9 And if anie dye ſodely by him, or he be ware, then the head of his consecraciō shal be defiled, and he shal ſhaue his head in the day of his clenſing: in the ſeuenth day he shal ſhaue it.

10 And in the eight day he shal bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons to the Priest, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

11 Then the Priest shal prepare the one for a ſin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, & shal make an atonement for him, becauſe he ſinned by the dead: ſo shal he halowe his head the ſame day,

^e By being preſent, where the dead was.

12 And he shal consecrate vnto the Lord the daies of his ſeparaciō, and shal bring a lambe of a yere olde for a trespaſs offering, and the firſt 2 daies shal be voyde: for his consecraciō was defiled.

^f Beginning at the eight day, when he is purified.

13 ¶ This then is the lawe of the Nazarite: When the time of his consecraciō is out, he shal come to the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation,

^g So that he shal beginne his vowe anewe.

14 And he shal bring his offering vnto the Lord, an he lambe of a yere olde without blemish for a burnt offering, and a ſhe lābe of a yere olde without blemish for a ſin offering, and a ram without blemish for peace offerings,

15 And a basket of vnleauened bread, of cakes of fine floure, mingled with oyle, and wafers of vnleauened bread anointed with oyle, with their meat offering, and their drinke offerings:

^{Leu. 2, 15}

16 The which the Priest shal bring before the Lord, and make his ſin offering and his burnt offering.

17 He shal prepare alſo the ram for a peace offering vnto the Lord, with the basket of vnleauened bread, and the Priest shal make his meat offering, and his drinke offering.

18 And y^e Nazarite shal ſhaue the head of his consecraciō at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and shal take the heere of the head of his consecraciō, and put it in the fire, which is vnder the peace offering.

19 Then the Priest shal take the ſodē ſoulder of the ram, and an vnleauened cake out of the basket, & a wafer vnleauened, and put them vpon the hands of the Nazarite, after he hath ſhaue his consecraciō.

¹ For the heere, which was consecrated to y^e Lord, might not be caſt into anie profane place.

6 Take the Leuites from among the children of Israél, and purifie them.

7 And thus shalt thou do vnto them, when thou purifiest them, Sprinkle water of purificacion vpon them, & let them shauce all their flesh, and wash their clothes: so they shalbe cleane.

c In Ebrewes, it is called the water of sinne, because it is made to purge sinne, as Chap. 19, 9.

8 Then they shal take a yong bullocke with his meat offering of fine floure, mingled with oyle, and another yong bullocke shalt thou take for a sinne offering.

9 Then thou shalt bring the Leuites before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and assemble all the Congregation of the children of Israél.

d That thou maiest do this in presence of them all.

10 Thou shalt bring the Leuites also before the Lord, & the children of Israél shal put their hands vpon the Leuites.

e Meanig, certeine of them in the name of the whole.

11 And Aarón shal offer the Leuites before the Lord, as a shake offering of the childre of Israél, that they may execute the seruice of the Lord.

12 And the Leuites shal put their hands vpon the heades of the bullockes, and make thou the one a sinne offering, & the other a burnt offering vnto the Lord, that thou maiest make an atonement for the Leuites.

13 And thou shalt set the Leuites before Aarón and before his sonnes, and offer them as a shake offering to the Lord.

14 Thus thou shalt separate the Leuites from among the children of Israél, & the Leuites shalbe mine.

- 12 Of the tribe of Ioséph, ^{to wit,} of the tribe of Manasséh, Gaddí the sonne of Sufí:
- 13 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiél the sonne of Gemallí:
- 14 Of the tribe of Ashér, Sethúr the sonne of Michaél:
- 15 Of the tribe of Naphtalí, Nabbí the sonne of Vophsí:
- 16 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuél the sonne of Machí.
- ^{c Which in number were twelue, according to the twelue tribes} 17 These are the names of the ^e mē, which Mosés sent to spie out the land: and Mosés called the name of Oshéa the sonne of Nun Iehoshúa.
- 18 So Mosés sent them to spie out the land of Canáan, and said vnto thé, Go vp this way toward the South, and go vp into the mountaines,
- ^{Or, high country.} 19 And consider the land what it is, and the people that dwel therein, whether they be strong or weake, ether few or many,

- ^{Or, the valley of Eshcol, that is, of grapes.} 25 That place was called the riuer Eshcól because of the clustre of grapes, which the children of Israél cut downe thence.
- 26 Then after fourty daies they turned againe from searching of the land.
- 27 And they went and came to Mosés and to Aarón & vnto all the Cōgregacion of the children of Israél, in the wilderness of

- 29 Neuertheles the people be strong that dwel in the land, and the cities ^{are} walled and exceeding great: and moreover, we sawe the ^k sonnes of Anák there.
- 30 The Amalekites dwel in ^l Southecōtrey, and the Hittites, and the Iebusites, and the Amorites dwel in the mountaines, and the Canaanites dwel by the Sea and by the coste of Iorden.
- ^{Or, murmuring against Mosés.} 31 Then Caléb killed the people ^{before} Mosés, & said, Let vs go vp at once, and possesse it: for vndoubtedly we shal ouercome it.
- 32 But the men, that went vp with him, said, We be not able to go vp against the people: for they are stronger then we.
- 33 So they brought vp an euil reporte of the lād which they had searched for the children of Israél, saying, The land which we haue gone through to searche it out, is a land that ^{eateth} vp the inhabitants thereof: for all the people that we sawe in it, are men of great stature.
- ^{l The gyantes were so cruel that they spoiled & killed one another, and those that came to them} 34 For there we sawe gyātes, the sonnes of Anák, ^{which come} of the gyantes, so that we seemed in our sight like greshoppers: and so we were in their fight.

11 Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt and couereth the face of the earth: come now, curse them for my sake: so it may be that I shal be able to ouercome them in battel, and to driue them out.

f He warned him by a dreame y he shulde not consent to the kings wicked request

12 And God f said vnto Balaám, Go not thou with them, nether curse the people, for they are blessed.

13 And Balaám rose vp in the morning, and said vnto the princes of Balák, Returne vnto your land: for the Lord hathe refused to giue s me leaue to go with you.

g Els he shewed him selfe willing, couetousnes had so blinded his heart.

14 So the princes of Moáb rose vp, and wēt vnto Balák, and said, Balaám hathe refused to come with vs.

15 ¶ Balák yet sent againe mo princes, and more honoi able then they.

16 Who came to Balaám, and said to him, Thus saith Balák the sonne of Zippór, h Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from coming vnto me.

h The wicked seke by all means to further their naughty enterprises, though they knowe that God is against them

17 For I wil promote thee vnto great honour, and wil do whatsoeuer thou sayest vnto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Balaám answered, and sayd vnto the seruantes of Balák, * If Balák wolde giue me his house ful of siluer and golde, I can not go beyonde the woide of the Lord my God, to do lesse or more.

Chap 24. 13.

19 But now, I pray you, tary here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord wil say vnto me i more.

i Because he tempted God to require his contrary to his commandement, his petition was granted, butt turned to his owne cōdemnation.

20 And God came vnto Balaám by night, and said vnto him, If the mē come to call thee, rise vp, and go with them: but onely what thing I say vnto thee, that shalt thou do.

21 So Balaám rose vp early, and sadled his asse, and went with the princes of Moáb.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he k went: & the Angel of the Lord stode in the way to be against him, as he rode vpon his asse, and his two seruantes were with him.

k Moved rather with couetousnes, thē to obey God.

23 And * when the asse sawe the Angel of l Lord stād in the way, and his sworde drawn in his hand, the asse turned out of l waye and went into the field, but Balaám smote the asse, to turne her into the way.

l Pet. 2. 16. Jude 11.

24 1 Again the Angel of the Lord stode in a path of the vineyardes, having a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other.

1 The seconde time.

25 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe vnto the wall, and dashed Balaams fote against the wall: wherefore he smote her againe.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord went further, and stode in a narowe place, where was no way to turne, either to the right hand, or to the left.

27 And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she lay downe vnder Balaám:

m Job

therefore Balaám was very wrath, and smote the asse with a staffe.

28 Then the Lord m opened the mouth of m the asse, and she said vnto Balaám, What haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smitten me nowe thre times?

m Gaue her power to speake.

29 And Balaám said vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I wolde there were a sworde in mine hand, for now wolde I kil thee.

30 And the asse said vnto Balaám, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon n since thy first time vnto this day? haue I vsed at anie time to do thus vnto thee? Who said, Nay.

n Since thou hast bene my master

31 And the Lord o opened the eies of Balaám, and he sawe the Angel of the Lord standing in the way with his sworde drawē in his hand: then he bowed him selfe, and fel flat on his face.

o For whose eyes the Lord doeth not open, they can nether see his anger, nor his loue.

32 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto him, Wherefore hast thou now smitten thine asse thre times? beholde, I came out to withstand thee, because p thy way is not straight before me.

p Bothe thy heart is corrupt and thine enterprise wicked.

33 But the asse sawe me, and turned fro me now thre times: for els, if she had not turned fro me, surely I had euē now slaine thee, and saued her aliue.

34 Then Balaám said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I haue sinned: for I wist not that thou stodest in the way q against me: now therefore if it displease thee, I wil turne q home againe.

q Or, before me, or, so meete me.

q Elu I wil reuertune to me

35 But the Angel said vnto Balaám, Go with the men: but r what I say vnto thee, that shalt thou speake. So Balaám went with the princes of Balák.

r Because his heart was euil his charge was renewed, that he shulde not pretend ignorance.

36 And when Balák heard that Balaám came, he went out to mete him vnto a citie of Moáb, which is in the r border of Arnón, euen in the vtmost coste.

r Nere the place, where the Israelites camped.

37 Then Balák said vnto Balaám, Did I not send for thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not vnto me? am I not able in dede to promote thee vnto honour.

38 And Balaám made answer vnto Balák, Lo, I am come vnto thee, & can I now say s anie thing at all? the worde that God putteth in my mouth, that shal I speake.

s Of my selfe I can speake nothing: onely what God reueleth y wil I utter, seme it good or bad 39 So Balaám went with Balák, and they came vnto the citie of Huzóth.

40 Then Balák offred bullockes, and sheepe, and sent t thereof to Balaám, and to t princes that were with him.

t Or, of freese: or, a populus cūctis.

AND Balaám said vnto Balák, Buylde me here seuen altars, and prepare me here seuen bullockes, and seuen rams.

And Balák did as Balaám said, and Balaám and Balaám offred on euery altar a bullocke and a ram.

Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Stand by the burnt offering, & I wil go, if so be that the Lord wil come and mete me: & whatsoever he sheweth me, I wil tel thee: so he went for the alone.

And God ^b met Balaám, and Balaám said vnto him, I haue prepared seuen altars, & haue offred vpon euery altar a bullocke and a ram.

And the Lord ^e put an answer in Balaás mouth, and said, Go againe to Balák, and say on this wise.

So when he returned vnto him, lo, he stode by his burnt offering, he, & all the princes of Moáb.

Then he vttered his ^a parable, and said, Balák the King of Moáb hathe broght me from ^c Aíam out of the mountaines of the East, saying, Come, curse Iakób so. my sake: come, and ^d detest Israél.

How shal I curse, where God hathe not cursed? or how shal I detest, where ^e Lord hathe not detested?

For fró the top of the rocks I did se him, and from the hils I did beholde him: lo, the people shal dwel by them selues, and shal not be rekened among the ^f nacions.

Who can tel the ^g dust of Iakób, and the number of the fourth parte of Israél? Let me ^h dye the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his.

Then Balák said vnto Balaám, What hast thou done vnto me? I toke thee to curse mine enemies, and beholde, thou hast blessed them altogether.

And he answered, and said, Must I not take hede to speake that, which the Lord hathe put in my mouth?

And Balák said vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me vnto another place, whence thou maiest se them, and thou shalt se but the vtmost parte of them, and shalt not se them all: therefore curse the out of that place for my sake.

¶ And he broght him into ⁱ Sede-sophím to the top of Pisgáh and buylt seuen altars, & offred a bullocke, & a ram on euery altar.

After, he said vnto Balák, Stand here by thy burnt offering, and I wil mete the Lord yonder.

And the Lord met Balaám, and ^j put an answer in his mouth, and said, Go againe vnto Balák, and saie thus.

And when he came to him, beholde, he stode by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moáb with him: so Balák said vnto him, What hathe the Lord said?

And he vttered his parable, & said, Rise vp, Balák, and heare: hearken vnto me, thou sonne of Zippór.

God is not as man, that he shulde lie, neither as the sonne of man that he shulde repent: hathe he said, and shal he not do it? and hathe he spoken, and shal he not accomplish it?

Beholde, I haue receiued commandement to blesse: for he hathe blessed, & I can not alter it.

He seeth none iniquitie in Iakób, nor seeth no transgression in Israél: the Lord his God is with him, & the ^k ioyful shoute of a King is among them.

God broght them out of Egypt: their strength is as an vnicorne.

For there is no forcerie in Iakób, nor soothsaying in Israél: ^l according to this time it shalbe said of Iakób and of Israél, What hathe God wrought?

Beholde, the people shal rise vp as a lió, and lift vp him self as a yong lion: he shal not lie downe, til he eat of the preie, and til he drinke the blood of the slaine.

¶ Then Balák said vnto Balaám, Nether curse, nor blesse them at all.

But Balaám answered, and said vnto Balák, Tolde not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that must I do?

¶ Againe Balák said vnto Balaám, Come, I pray thee, I wil bring thee vnto another place, if so be it wil please God, that thou maiest thence curse them for my sake.

So Balák broght Balaám vnto the top of Peór, that looketh toward Ieshmón.

Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Make me here seuen altars, and prepare me here seuen bullockes, and seuen rams.

And Balák did as Balaám had said, and offred a bullocke and a ram on euery altar.

- 33 And their meat offering and their drinke offerings for the bullockes, for the rams, & for the lambes according to their number, after their maner,
- 34 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering and his drinke offering.
- 35 ¶ In the eight day, ye shal haue a solemn assemblie: ye shal do no seruile worke therein,
- 36 But ye shal offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire for a swete sauour vnto the Lord, one bullocke, one ram, & seuen lambes of a yere olde without blemish,
- 37 Their meat offering and their drinke offerings for the bullocke, for the ram, & for the lambes according to their number, after the maner,
- 38 And an he goat for a sin offering, beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drinke offering.
- 39 These things ye shal do vnto y^e Lord in your feastes, beside your h vowes, & your fire offerings, for your burnt offerings, & for your meat offerings, & for your drinke offerings and for your peace offerings.
- h Beside y^e sacrifices y^e shall vowe or offer of your owne mindes.

31 And Moses and Eleazár the Priest did as the Lord had commanded Moses.

32 And [¶] bootye, to wit, the rest of the praise which the men of warre had spoiled, was ^x hundredeth seuentie and five thousand ¹ shepe,

33 And [¶] euentie and two thousand beues,

34 And thre score and one thousand asses,

35 And two and thirtie thousand persones, in all of women that had [¶] lye by no man.

36 And the halfe, to wit, the parte of them that went out to warre touching the number of shepe, was thie hundredeth seuen and thirtie thousand, and five hundredeth.

37 And the ^m Lords tribute of the shepe was six hundredeth and seuentie and five.

38 And the beues were six and thirtie thousand, whereof the Lords tribute was seuentie and two.

39 And the asses were thirtie thousand and five hundredeth, whereof the Lords tribute was thre score and one:

40 And ^a of persones sixtene thousand, whereof [¶] Lords tribute was two & thirtie persones.

41 And Moses gaue [¶] tribute of the Lords offering vnto Eleazár the Priest, as [¶] Lord had commanded Moses.

45 And thirtie thousand asses, and five hundredeth,

46 And sixtene thousand persones.

47 Moses, I say, toke of the halfe that pertained vnto the [¶] children of Israel, one taken out of fiftie, bothe of the persones & of the cattel, and gaue them vnto the Leuites, which haue the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

48 ¶ Then the captaines which were ouer thousands of the hoste, the captaines ouer the thousands, and the captaines ouer the hundreds came vnto Moses:

49 And said to Moses, Thy seruants haue taken the summe of the men of waire which are vnder [¶] our autoritie, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

50 ¶ We haue therefore broght a present vnto the Lord, what euerie man founde of iewels of golde, bracelets, and cheines, rings, eare rings, and ornaments of the legs, to make an atonement for our soules before the Lord.

51 And Moses and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of them, and all waight iewels.

52 And all the golde of [¶] offering that thei offred vp to the Lord, (of the captaines ouer thousands and hundreds) was sixtene thousand seuen hundredeth & fiftie shekels,

53 (For the men of waire had spoiled, euerie man for him [¶] self)

54 And Moses and Eleazár the Priest toke the golde of the captaines ouer the thousands, and ouer the hundreds, and broght it into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for a [¶] memorial of the children of Israel before the Lord.

dren of Reubén came, & spake vnto Moyses and to Eleazár the Priest, and vnto the princes of the Congregation, saying,

3 The land of Ataróth, and Dibón, and Iazer, and Nímáth, and Heshbón, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Nebó, and Beón,

4 Which countrey the Lord smote before the Congregation of Israél, is a land mete for cattel, and thy seruants haue cattel:

5 Wherefore, said thei, If we haue founde grace in thy sight, let this land be giuen vnto thy seruants for a possession, & bring vs not ouer Iordén.

6 And Moyses said vnto the childre of Gad, and to the children of Reubén, Shal your brethren go to warre, and ye tary here?

7 Wherefore now? discouraige ye y heart of the children of Israél, to go ouer into the land, which the Lord hath giuen the?

8 Thus did your fathers when I sent them from Kadés-barnéa to se the land.

9 For *when they went vp euen vnto the ryuer of Efnól, and sawe the land: they discouraged the heart of the children of Israél, that thei wolde not go into the lād, which the Lord had giuen them.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the same day, and he did sweare, saying,

11 None of the men that came out of Egypt* from twentie yere olde and aboue, shal se the land for the which I sware vnto Abraham, to Izhák, and to Iaakób, because thei haue not * wholie folowed me:

12 Except Caleb the sonne of Iephunnéh the Kenesite, & Ioshúa the sonne of Nun: for thei haue constantly folowed the Lord.

13 And the Lord was verie angry with Israél, and made them wander in the wilderness fortie yeres, vntil all the generacion that had done * euil in the sight of the Lord were consumed.

14 And beholde, ye a e risen vp in your fathers steade as an encrease of sinneful me, stil to augment the fearce wrath of the Lord, toward Israél.

15 For if ye turne away fró following him, he wil yet againe leaue the people in y wilderness, and ye shal destioye all this folke.

16 And thei went nere to him and said, We wil buylde shepe foldes here for o shepe, and for our cattel, and cities for our children.

17 But we our selues wil be ready armed to go before the children of Israél, vntil we haue brought them vnto their * place: but our children shal dwel in the defenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

18 We wil not returne vnto our houses, vntil the children of Israél haue inherited, euerie man his inheritance.

19 Nether wil we inherit with the beyóde Iordén and on that side, because our inheritance is fallen to vs on this side Iordén Eastward.

20 ¶ And Moyses said vnto them, If ye wil do this thing, and go armed before the Lord to warre:

21 And wil go euerie one of you in harness ouer Iordén before the Lord, vntil he hath cast out his * enemies from his sight:

22 And vntil the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shal returne and be innocent toward the Lord, and toward Israél: and this land shalbe your possession before the Lord.

23 But if ye wil not do so, beholde, ye haue sinned against the Lord, and be sure, that your sinne i wil finde you out.

24 Builde you then cities for your children and foldes for your shepe, and do that ye haue spoken.

25 Then the children of Gad & the children of Reubén spake vnto Moyses, sayig, Thy seruants wil do as my lord commandeth:

26 Our children, our wiues, our shepe, and all our cattel shal remaine there in the cities of Gileád, 27 But * thy seruants wil go euerie one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord sayeth.

28 So concerning them, Moyses * commanded Eleazár the Priest, & Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israél:

29 And Moyses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, and the children of Reubén, wil go with you ouer Iordén, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is subdued before you, ye shal giue them the land of Gileád for a possession:

30 But if thei wil not go ouer with you armed, then thei shal haue their possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Reubén answered, saying, As the Lord hath said vnto thy seruants, so wil we do.

32 We wil go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the possession of our inheritance may be to vs on this side Iordén.

33 ¶ So Moyses gaue vnto the, euen to the childre of Gad, & to the children of Reubén, & to half the tribe of Manasséh the sonne of Ioséph, y kingdome of Sihón King of the Amorites, and the kingdome of Og, King of Bashán, the land with the cities thereof and coastes, euen the cities of the countrey round about.

CHAP. XXXIII.
1 Two & fourtie journeyes of Israel are nombred 52 They are commanded to kil the Canaanites

1 These are the 4 journeyes of the childré of Israél, which went out of the land of Egypt according to their bandes vnder the hand of Moses and Aaron.

2 And Moses wrote their going out by their journeyes according to the commā- dement of the Lord: so these are the jour- neies of their going out.

3 Now they* departed frō Ramefés 5 first moneth, ^{euen} 5 fifteth day of the first mo- neth, on the mo:owe after the Passouer: & the children of Israél went out with an lue hand in the sight of all the Egyp- tians.

4 (For the Egyptians buried all their first borne, which the Lord had smitten amōg them: vpon their ^b gods also the Lord did execucion.)

5 And the children of Israél remoued from Ramefés, and pitched in Succóth.

6 And they departed from* Succóth, & pit- ched in Ethám, which is in the edge of the wildernes.

7 And they remoued from Ethám, & tur- ned againe vnto^c Pi-hahiróth, which is before Baal-zephón, and pitched before Migdól.

8 And they departed from before Hahi- róth, and* went through the middes of the Sea into the wildernes, and went thre dayes journey in the wildernes of Ethám, and pitched in Maráh.

9 And they remoued from Maráh, and ca- me vnto* Elím, and in Elím were twelue fountains of water, and seuentie palme trees, and they pitched there.

10 And they remoued from Elím, and cam- ped by the red Sea.

11 And they remoued from the red Sea, & laye in the* wildernes of Sín.

12 And they toke their journey out of the wildernes of Sín, and set vp their tentes in Dopikáh.

13 And they departed from Dopikáh and lay in Alúsh.

14 And they remoued from Alúsh, and lay in* Rephidim, where was no water for y^e people to drinke.

15 And they departed from Rephidim, and pitched in the* wildernes of Sínai.

16 And they remoued from the desert of Si- nai, and pitched* in Kibroth Hattaauáh.

17 And they departed frō Kibroth Hatta- auáh, and lay at Hazeróth.

18 And they departed from Hazeróth, and pitched in Rithmáh.

19 And they departed from Rithmáh, and pitched at Rimmón Paréz.

20 * And they departed from Rimmón Pa- rez, and pitched in Libnáh.

21 And they remoued from Libnáh, & pit- ched in Rissáh.

22 And they iourneied from Rissáh, & pit- ched in Kehelathah.

23 And they went from Kehelatháh, & pit- ched in mount Shápher.

24 And they remoued frō mount Shápher, and lay in Haradáh.

25 And they remoued from Haradáh, and pitched in Makhelóth.

26 And they remoued from Makhelóth, & lay in Taháth.

27 And they departed from Taháth, & pit- ched in Taráh.

28 And they remoued from Taráh, & pit- ched in Mithkáh.

29 And they wét from Mithkáh, & pitched in Hashmonáh.

30 And they departed from Hashmonáh, & lay in Moseróth.

31 And they departed from Moseróth, and pitched in Bene-iaakan, 32 And they remoued from Bene-iaakan, & lay in Hor-hagidgád.

33 And they went from Hor-hagidgád, & pitched in Iorbáthah.

34 And they remoued from Iorbáthah, & lay in Ebronáh.

35 And they departed from Ebronáh, and lay in Ezion-gáber.

36 And they remoued from Ezion-gaber, & pitched in the* wildernes of Zín, which is Kadésh.

37 And they remoued from Kadésh, & pit- ched in mount Hor, in the edge of the lād of Edóm.

38 * (And Aaron the Priest went vp in to mount Hor at the commandement of the Lord; and diéd there, in the fourtieth ye- re after the children of Israél were come out of the land of Egypt, in the first day of the 4 fifth moneth.

3. The coastes and borders of the land of Canaan.

17. Certaine men are assigned to deuide the land.

1. And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2. Commande the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When ye come into the land of Canaan, this is the land that shal fall vnto your inheritance: that is, the land of Canaan with the coastes thereof.

* And your Southquarter shalbe from the wilderness of Zin, to the borders of Edom: so that your Southquarter shalbe from the salt Sea coast Eastward:

4. And the border shal compass you from the South to Maaleh-akrabbim, and reach to Zin, & go out from the South to Kadesh-barnéa: thence it shal stretch to Hazar-addar, and go along to Azmon.

5. And the border shal compass from Azmon vnto the riuer of Egypt, and shal go out to the sea.

6. And your Westquarter shal be the great sea: euen that border shalbe your West-coast.

7. And this shal be your Northquarter: ye shal make out your border from the great sea vnto mount Hor.

8. From mount Hor ye shal point out til it come vnto Hamath, and the end of the coast shalbe at Zedad.

9. And the coast shal reach out to Ziphron, & go out at Hazar-enan. this shalbe your Northquarter.

10. And ye shal make out your Eastquarter from Hazar-enan to Shepham.

CHAP. XXXV.

2 Unto the Leuites are giuen cities and suburbs. 11 The cities of refuge 16 The lawe of murder. 30 For one mans finnes shal no man be condemned.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses in ý plaine of Moáb by Iordén, toward Ierichó, saying,

2 *Commande the children of Israél, that they giue vnto the Leuites of the inher- itance of their possession, cities to dwell in: ye shal giue also vnto the Leuites the suburbs of the cities round about them.

3 So they shal haue the cities to dwell in, & then suburbs shalbe for their cattel, and for their substance, & for all their beastes.

4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shal giue vnto the Leuites, from the wall of the citie outwarde, shalbe a thousand cubites round about.

5 And ye shal measure without the citie of the Eastside, two thousand cubites: and of the Southside, two thousand cubites: & of the Westside, two thousand cubites: & of the Northside, two thousand cubites: & the citie shalbe in the mddes. this shalbe the measure of the suburbs of their cities.

6 And of the cities which ye shal giue vnto the Leuites, there shalbe six cities for refuge, which ye shal appoint, that he which killeth, may flee thither: & to them ye shal adde two and fourty cities mo.

7 All the cities which ye shal giue to ý Leuites, shalbe eight and fourty cities: them shal ye giue with their suburbs.

8 And concerning the cities which ye shal giue, of the possession of the children of Israél: of many ye shal take mo, and of fewe ye shal take lesse: euerie one shal giue of his cities vnto the Leuites, according to his inheritance, which he inheri- teth.

9 ¶ And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying, 10 Speake vnto the children of Israél, and say vnto them, * When ye be come ouer Iordén into the land of Canáan, 11 Ye shal appoint you cities, to be cities of refuge for you, that the slayer, which slayeth anie persone vnwares, may flee thither.

12 And these cities shalbe for you a refuge from the auenger, that he which killeth, dye not, vntil he stand before the Cõgre- gacion in iudgement.

13 And of the cities which ye shal giue, six cities shal ye haue for refuge.

14 Ye shal appoint thre on this side Ior- dén, and ye shal appoint thre cities in the land of Canáan which shalbe cities of re- fuge.

15 These six cities shalbe a refuge for the children of Israél, and for the stranger, and for him that dwelleth among you, that euerie one which killeth anie per- son vnwares, may flee thither.

16 *And if one smite an other with an in- strument of yron that he dye, he is a mur- derer, & the murderher shal dye ý death.

17 Also if he smite him by casting a stone, wherewith he may be slaine, and he dye, he is a murderher, and the murderher shal dye the death.

18 Or if he smite him with an hád weapon of wood, wherewith he may be slaine, if he dye, he is a murderher, and the murderher shal dye the death.

19 The reuenger of the blood him selfe shal slay the murderher: when he meteth him, he shal slay him.

20 But if he thrust him of hate, or hurle at him by laying of wait, that he dye,

21 Or smite him through enemitie with his hand, that he dye, he that smote him shal dye the death: for he is a murderher: the re- uenger of the blood shal slay the murder- rer when he meteth him.

22 But if he pushed him vnaduisedly, and not of hatred, or cast vpon him anie thing, without laying of wait,

23 Or anie stone (whereby he might be slaine) and sawe him not, or caused it to fall vpon him, and he dye, & was not his ene- mie, nether fought him anie harme,

24 Then the Congregation shal iudge be- twene the slayer & the auenger of blood according to these lawes.

25 And the Congregation shal deliuer the slayer out of the hand of the auenger of blood, and the Congregation shal restore him vnto the citie of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shal abide there vnto the death of the hie Priest, which is anointed with the holy oyle.

An ordre for the marriage of the daughters of Zelophehad 7 The inheritance colde not be giuen from one tribe to another.

a It seemeth y^e tribes contended who might marry theire daughters to haue their inheritance: and therefore the sonnes of Ioseph proposed the matter to Moses.

THen ^a the chief fathers of the familie of the sonnes of Gilead, the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasséh, of the families of the sonnes of Ioseph, came, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Israél, Chap. 27.1. Ios. 17.3. Meaning Moses.

2 And said, *The Lord commanded ^b my lord to giue the land to inherite by lot to the children of Israél: and my lord was commanded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother vnto his daughters.

3 If they be married to anie of the sonnes of the ether tribes of the childre of Israél then shal their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of our fathers, & shal be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe. so shal it be taken away from the lot of our inheritance.

4 Also when the Iubile of the children of Israél commeth, then shal their inheritance be put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereof they shalbe: so shal their inheritance be take away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

c Signifying y^e at no time it colde retorne for in y^e Iubile all things returned to their owne tribes.

5 Then Moses commanded the children of Israél, according to the worde of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sonnes of Ioseph haue sayd ^d wel.

d For the tribe colde not haue continued in the inheritance which was the maintenance thereon: shuld haue bene abalinated to others.

6 This is the thing that the Lord hath commanded, concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, They shal be wyues, to whome they thinke best, oney to the familie of the tribe of their father shal they mary:

7 So shal not the inheritance of the children of Israél remoue from tribe to tribe, for euery one of the children of Israél shal ioyne him selfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And euery daughter that possesseth anie inheritance of the tribes of the children of Israél, shalbe wife vnto one of the familie of the tribe of her father: that the children of Israél may enioye euery man the inheritance of their fathers.

e When there is no male to inherite.

9 Nether shal the inheritance go about from tribe to tribe: but euery one of the tribes of the children of Israél shal sticke to his owne inheritance.

10 As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad.

11 For *Mahláh, Tirzáh, and Hogláh, and Milcáh, and Noáh the daughters of Zelophehad were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes,

Chap. 27.2.

12 They were wyues to certaine of the families of the sonnes of Manasséh the sonne of Ioseph: so their inheritance remained in the tribe of the familie of their father.

13 These are the ^f commandements and lawes which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, vnto the children of Israél in the plaine of Moáb, by Iordén toward Ierichó.

THE FIFTH BOKE OF

Mofés, called* Deuteronomie.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church is liuely set forth in this boke. For albeit through their ingratitude and sundry rebellions against God, for the space of forty yeres, Deu. 9, 7, they had deserved to haue bene cut of from the nōber of his people, and for euer to haue bene deprived of the vse of his holy worde, & sacraments: yet he did euer preserue his Church euen for his owne mercies sake, and wolde stil haue his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore he bringeth them into the land of Canaan, destroyeth their enemies, giueth them their countrey, townes, and goodes, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers (whose infidelitie, idolatrie, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had moste sharply punished) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and kepe his lawe without adding thereto or diminishing there from. For by his worde he wolde be knowen to be their God, and they his people: by his worde he wolde gouerne his Church, and by the same they shulde learne to obey him. By his worde he wolde discerne the false Prophet from the true, light from darknes, error from knollage, and his owne people from all other nations and infideles: teaching them thereby to refuse and detest, destroy and abolish whatsoeuer is not agreable to his holy wil, seme it otherwise neuer so good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cause God promised to raise vp Kings and gouernours, for the setting forth of this worde and preseruacion of his Church: giuing vnto them an especial charge for the executing thereof: whome therefore he willett to exercise them selues diligently in the continuall studie and meditation of the same: that they might learne to feare the Lord, loue their subiects, abhorre couetousnes and vice, and whatsoeuer offendeth the maiestie of God. And as he had to fore instructed their fathers in all things appertaining, bothe to his spiritual seruice, and also for the maintenance of that sociētie which is betwene men: so he prescribeth here anewe, all suche lawes and ordinances, which either concerne his Diuine seruice, or els are necessarie for a comon weale: appointing vnto euery estate and degree their charge and duetie: as wel, how to rule and lue in the feare of God, as to nourish friendship toward their neighbours, and to preserue that ordre which God hathe established among men: threatening with all, moste horrible plagues to them that transgress his commandements, and promising all blessings & felicitie to suche as obserue and obey them.

* That is, a seconde lawe: so called, because the Lawe w^{ch} God gaue in mount Sinai, is here repeated, as though it were a newe Law and this boke is a commentarie or exposition of the said commandments.

43 And whē I tolde you, ye wolde not heare, but rebelled against the commandemēt of the Lord, and were presumptuous, and went vp into the mounteine.

44 Then the Amorites which dwelt in that mounteine came out against you, & chased you (as bees vse to do) and destroyed you in Scir, euē vnto Hormah.

45 And when ye came againe, ye wept before the Lord, but the Lord wolde not ^z heare your voyce, nor incline his eares vnto you.

z Because ye rather thewed, your hypocritic, then true repentance: rather lamētug: y^e losse of your brethren, thē repenting for your finnes.

46 So ye abode in Kadés a long time, according to the time that ye had remained before.

Then ^a we turned, and toke our iourney into the wilderness, by the waie of y red Sea, as the Lord spake vnto me: and we compassed mount Seir ^b a long time.

² And the Lord spake vnto me, saying,

³ Ye haue compassed this mountaine long ynough: turne you Northwarde.

⁴ And warne thou the people, saying, Ye shal go through the ^c coast of your brethren the children of Esäu, which dwel in Seir, and they shal be afraid of you: take ye good hede therefore.

⁵ Ye shal not prouoke them: for I wil not giue you of their land so muche as a fote breadth, * because I haue giue mount Seir vnto Esäu for a possession.

⁶ Ye shal bye meat of them for money to eat, and ye shal also procure water of the for money to drinke.

⁷ For y Lord thy God hath ^d blessed thee in all y woikes of thine hād: he knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness, & the Lord thy God hath bene with thee this foitie yere, and thou hast lacked nothing.

¹⁰ The ^h Emims dwelt therein in times past, a people great, & many, and tall, as the Anakims.

¹¹ They also were taken for gyantes as the Anakims: whome the Moabites call Emims.

¹³ Now rise vp, said I, and get you ouer the riuier * Zerēd: and we went ouer the riuier Zerēd.

¹⁴ The ⁱ space also wherein we came from Kadesh-barnea vntil we were come ouer the riuier Zerēd, was eight and thirtie yeres, vntil all the generacion of the men of warre were wasted out from among the hoste, as the Lord sware vnto them.

¹⁵ For in dede the ^j hand of the Lord was against them, to destroye them frō amōg the hoste, til they were consumed.

¹⁶ ¶ So when all the men of warre were consumed and dead from among the people:

¹⁷ Then the Lord spake vnto me, saying, ¹⁸ Thou shalt go through Ar the coast of Moāb this day:

²⁰ That also was taken for a land ^k of gyants: for gyants dwelt therein a foie time, whome the Ammonites called Zamzumims:

²¹ A people that was great, & many, & tall, as the Anakims: but the Lord destroyed them before them, & they succeded them in their inheritance, and dwelt in their stede:

²³ And the Auims which dwelt in Hazerim enue vnto Azzāh, the Caphtorims which came out of Caphtor destroyed them, and dwelt in their stede.

²⁶ Then I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemōth vnto Sihōn King of Heshbōn, with wordes of peace, saying, ²⁷ ¶ Let me passe through thy land: I wil go by the hie way: I wil nether turne vnto the right hand nor to the left.

²⁸ Thou shalt sel me meat for money, for to eat, and shalt giue me water for money for to drinke: onely I wil go through on my fote,

4 And we toke all his cities the same time, nether was there a citie which we toke not from them, euen thre score cities, and all the countrey of Argób, the kingdome of Og in Bashán.

b At villages & small townes. 5 All these cities were fenced with hie walles, gates and barres, beside b vnwal led townes a great many.

6 And we ouerthrewe them, as we did vnto Sihón King of Heshbón, destroying euerie citie, with men, c women, & children.

c Because this was Gods appointemēt, therefore it may not be iudged cruel. 7 But all the cattel and the spoile of the cities we toke for our selues.

8 Thus we toke at that time out of the hād of two Kings of the Amorites, the land that was on this side Iordén from the riuer of Arnón vnto mount Hermón:

9 (Which Hermón the Sidoniās call Shi rión, but the Amorites call it Shenír)

10 All the cities of the plaine and all Gi-

11 For onelie Og King of Bashán remained of the remnant of the gyants, d who se bed was a bed of yron: is it not at Rabbáth among the children of Ammón: the length thereof is nine cubites, and foure cubites the bredth of it, after the cubite of a man.

12 And this land which we possessed at that time, from Aroér, which is by the riuer of Arnón, and halfe mount Gileád, *and the cities thereof, gaue I vnto the Reubenites and Gadites.

13 And the rest of Gileád, and all Bashán, the kingdome of Og, gaue I vnto the half tribe of Manasséh: euen all the couctrey of Argób with all Bashán, which is called, The land of gyantes.

14 Iair the sonne of Manasséh toke all the countrey of Argób, vnto the coastes of Geshuri, and called them after his owne name, Bashán, Hauoth Iair vnto c this day.

15 And I gaue parte of Gileád vnto Machir.

16 And vnto the Reubenites and Gadites I gaue the rest of Gileád, and vnto the riuer of Arnón, halfe the riuer and the borders, euen vnto the riuer f Iabbók, which is the border of the children of Ammón:

22 Ye shal not feare the: for the Lord your God, he shal fight for you.

23 And I besought the Lord the same time, saying,

CHAP. IIII.

- ¹ An exhortacion to obserue the Lawe without adding thereto or diminishing. 6 There standeth our wisdom. 9 We must teache it to our children. 15 No image ought to be made to worship. 26 Threatnings against them that forsake the Law of God. 37 God chose the Iude because he loued their fathers. 43 I he thre cities of refuge.

¹ Now therefore hearken, o Istraél, vnto the ordinances and to the lawes w^h I teache you to ^a do, that ye may liue and go in, & possesse the land, which the Lord God of your fathers giueth you.

^a For this doctrine standeth not in bare knowledge, but in practise of life.

^b Think not to be more wise then I am

^c God will not be serued by halues, but will haue full obedience

^d Gods iudgements executed vpon other idolaters ought to serue for our instructio.

^e And were not idolaters.

2 Ye shal ^b put nothing vnto the worde which I commande you, neither shal ye take ought there from, that ye may kepe the commandements of the Lord your God which I commande you.

3 Your ^d eyes haue sene what the Lord did because of Baal-Peór, for all the men that followed Baal-Peór, the Lord thy God hathe destroyed euerie one fro amog you.

4 But ye that did cleaue vnto ^f Lord your God, are aliue euerie one of you this day.

5 Beholde, I haue taught you ordinances, and lawes, as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye shulde do euen so with in the land whither ye go to possesse it.

6 Kepe them therefore, and do them: for that is your ^f wisdom, and your vnderstanding in the sight of the people, which shal heare all these ordinances, and shal say, "Onely this people is wise, and of vnderstanding and a great nation."

daies of thy life: but teache the thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes:

10 Forget not the day that thou stodest before the Lord thy God in Horéb, when ^h Lord said vnto me, Gather me the people together, and I wil cause them heare my wordes, that they may learne to feare me all the dayes that they shal liue vpon the earth, and that they may teache their children:

11 Then came you nere & ⁱ stode vnder the mountaine & the mountaine ⁱ burnt with fire vnto the middes of heauen, and there was dardnes, cloudes and mist.

12 And the Lord spake vnto you out of the middes of the fire, and ye heard the voyce of the wordes, but sawe no similitude, saue a voyce.

13 Then he declared vnto you his couenant which he commanded you to ^k do, euen the ten commandements, and wrote them vpon two tables of stone.

14 And the Lord commanded me that same time, that I shulde teache you ordinances and lawes, which ye shulde obserue in the land, whither ye go, to possesse it.

15 Take therefore good hede vnto your selues: for ye sawe no ^l image in the day that the Lord spake vnto you in Horéb out of the middes of the fire:

16 That ye corrupt not your selues, & make you a grauen image or representation of anie figure: whither it be the likenes of male or female,

17 The likenes of anie beast that is on earth or the likenes of anie fethered foule that flieth in the aire:

18 Or the likenes of anie thing that creepeth on the earth, or the likenes of anie fish that is in the waters beneth the earth,

19 And lest thou lift vp thine eyes vnto heauen, and when thou seest the sunne and the moone and the starres with all the hoste of heauen, shuldest be driuen to worshipping them and serue them, which the Lord thy God hathe ^m distributed to all people vnder the whole heauen.

20 But the Lord hathe také you and brought you out of the ⁿ yron fornace: out of Egypt to be vnto him a people and inheritance, as appeareth this day.

21 And the Lord was angry with me for your wordes, and sware that I shulde not go ouer Iordén, & that I shulde not go in vnto that good land, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance.

22 For I must dye in this land, and shal not go ouer Iordén: but ^o ye shal go ouer, and possesse that good land.

23 Take hede vnto your selues, lest ye forget the couenant of the Lord your God w^h he made with you, & lest ye make you anie grauen image, or likenes of anie thing, as

- 26 I will call heauen and earth to recorde against you this day, that ye shall shortly perish from the land, whereunto ye go ouer Iordén to possesse it: ye shall not prolong your daies therein, but shall vtterly be destroyed.
- 27 And the Lord shall scatter you among the people, & ye shall be left fewe in number among the nations, whether the Lord shall bring you:
- 28 And there ye shall serue gods, euē the worke of mans hand, wood, & stone, which neither see, nor heare, nor eat, nor smell.
- 29 But if from thence thou shalt seke the Lord thy God, thou shalt finde him, if thou seke him with all thine heart, and with all thy soule.
- 30 When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come vpon thee, at the length, if thou returne to the Lord thy God, and be obedient vnto his voyce,
- 31 (For the Lord thy God is a merciful God) he will not forsake thee, neither destroye thee nor forget the couenant of thy fathers, which he swore vnto them.
- 32 For inquite now of the daies ye are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man vpon the earth, and aske from the one end of heauē vnto the other, if there came to passe suche a great thing as this, or whether anie suche like thing hath bene heard.
- 33 Did euer people heare his voyce of God speaking out of the middes of a fire, as thou hast heard, and liued?
- 34 Or hath God assayed to go & take him a nation from among nations, by tentations, by signes, and by wonders, and by warre, and by a mighty hand, & by a stretched out arme, and by great feare, according vnto all that the Lord your God did vnto you in Egypt before your eyes?
- 35 Vnto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest knowe, that the Lord he is God, and that there is none but he alone.
- 36 Out of heauē he made thee heare his voyce to instruct thee, & vpon earth he shewed thee his great fire, and thou heardest his voyce out of the middes of the fire.
- 37 And because he loued thy fathers, therefore he chose their sede after them, and hath brought thee out of Egypt in his sight, by his mighty power,
- 38 To thrust out nations greater and mightier than thou, before thee, to bring thee in, and to giue thee their land for inheritance: as appeareth this day.
- 39 Vnderstand therefore this day, and consider in thine heart, that the Lord, he is God in heauen aboue, and vpon the earth beneath: there is none other.
- 40 Thou shalt kepe therefore his ordinances, and his commandements which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy childre after thee, and that thou maiest prolong thy dayes vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for euer.
- 41 ¶ Then Moses separated thre cities on this side of Iordén toward the sonne rising:
- 42 That the slayer shoulde flee thither, which had killed his neighbour at vnwares, and hated him not in time past, might flee, I say, vnto one of those cities, and liue:
- 43 That is, * Bézer in the wildernes, in the plaine countrey of the Reubenites: and Ramóth in Gileád among the Gadites: & Golán in Bashán among them of Manasséh.
- 44 ¶ So this is the lawe which Moses set before the children of Israël.
- 45 These are the witnesses, and the ordinances, and the lawes which Moses declared to the children of Israël after they came out of Egypt,
- 46 On this side Iordén, in the valey ouer against Beth-peór, in the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbón, whome Moses and the children of Israël smote, after they were come out of Egypt:
- 47 And they possessed his land, and the lād of * Og King of Bashán, two Kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Iordén toward the sonne rising:
- 48 From Aroér, which is by the banke of the riuer Arnón, euē vnto mount Sión, which is Hermón,
- 49 And all the plaine by Iordén Eastward, euē vnto the Sea, of the plaine, vnder the * springs of pishgáh.

Thou ſhalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord wil

Kepe the Sabbath day, to ſanctifie it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee.

Six daies ^f thou ſhalt labour, and ſhalt all the chief of your tribes, and your Elders:

And ye ſaid, Beholde, the Lord our God hath ſhewed vs his glorie & his greatnes, & ^{} we haue heard his voyce out of ^ſ mid-des of the fire: we haue ſene this day that God doeth talke with man, and he ^{} li-ueth.

Now therefore, why ſhulde we dye: for this great fire wil conſume vs: if we heare the voyce of the Lord our God anie more, we ſhal dye.

For what ^ſ fleſh was there euer, that heard the voyce of the liuing God ſpeaking out of the middes of the fire as we haue, & liued?

Go thou nere and heare all that ^ſ Lord our God ſaith: and declare thou vnto vs all that the Lord our God ſayeth vnto thee ^{*} and we wil heare it, and do it.

Then the Lord heard the voyce of your wordes, when ye ſpake vnto me: and the Lord ſaid vnto me, I haue heard the voyce of the wordes of this people, which they haue ſpoken vnto thee: they haue wel ſaid, all that they haue ſpoken.

* Oh ^k that there were ſuch an heart in them to feare me, and to kepe all my com-mandementes alway: that it might go wel uer.

Go, ſay vnto them, Returne you into

But ſtand thou here with me, & I wil tel thee all the commandements, and the ordinances, and the lawes, which thou ſhalt teache them: that they may do them in the land which I giue them to poſſeſſe it.

Take hede therefore, that ye do as the Lord your God hath commanded you:
turne not aſide to the right hand nor to the left,

But walke in all the wayes which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may ^m liue, and that it may go wel with you: & that ye may prolong your

Chap. 11, 18.

c Some read, y shall whet them vpon thy children: to wit, that they may printe the more depely in memorie.

Or, signes of remembrance.

d That when y entrest in, thou maiest remember them.

e Let not welthe and ease cause thee to forget Gods mercies, whereby thou wast deliuered out of miserie. f We must feare God, serue him onely, and confesse his Name, which is done by swearing lawfully.

g By denying of his power refusing lausful meanes, & abusing his graces.

1 These now are the comandements, ordinances, and lawes, which the Lord your God commanded me to teache you, that ye might do them in the land whether ye go to possesse it:

2 That thou mightest ^a feare the Lord thy God, and kepe all his ordinances, and his commandments which I commade thee, thou, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne all the dayes of thy life, euen that thy dayes may be prolonged.

3 Heare therefore, o Israél, and take hede to do it, that it may go wel with thee, and that ye may increase mightly ^b in the land that floweth with milke and hony, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

4 Heare, o Israél, The Lord our God is Lord onely,

5 And ^{*} thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might.

6 ^{*} And these wordes which I commande thee this day, shalbe in thine heart.

7 And thou shalt ^c rehearse them continually vnto thy children, and shalt talke of them when thou tariest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou lyeest downe, and when thou risest vp:

8 And thou shalt binde them for a signe vpon thine hand, and they shalbe ^e as frontlets betwene thine eyes.

9 Also thou shalt write them vpon the ^d postes of thyne house, and vpon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land, which he swa-re vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhák, and Iakób, to giue to thee, with great and goodly cities which thou buyldedst not,

11 And houses ful of all maner of goods which thou filledst not, and wels digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and oliue trees which thou plantedst not, and when thou hast eaten and art ful, 12 Beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, fro the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and serue him, & shalt ^f sweare by his Name.

14 Ye shal not walke after other gods, after anie of the gods of the people which are round about you, 15 (For the Lord thy God is a ielous God among you:) lest the wrathe of the Lord thy God be kindeled against thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.

16 Ye shal not ^g tempt the Lord your God, as ye did tempt him in Massáh:

17 But ye shal kepe diligently the comman-demets of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his ordinances which he hath commanded thee,

18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the ^h sight of the Lord: that thou maiest prosper, and that thou maiest go in, and possesse that good land which the Lord swa-re vnto thy fathers,

19 To cast out all thine enemies before thee, as the Lord hath said.

20 When ⁱ thy sonne shal aske thee in time to come, saying, What meane these testimonies, and ordinances, and lawes, which the Lord our God hath commanded you?

21 Then thou shalt say vnto thy sonne, We were Pharaohs bondmen in Egypt: but the Lord brought vs out of Egypt with a mighty hand.

22 And the Lord shewed signes and wonders great & euil vpon Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his housholde, before our eyes,

23 And ^k brought vs out from thence, to bring vs in, and to giue vs the land which he swa-re vnto our fathers.

24 Therefore the Lord hath commanded vs, to do all these ordinances, & to feare ^l the Lord our God, that it may go euer wel with vs, & that he may preserue vs a liue as at this present.

25 Moreouer, this shal be our ⁱ righteousnes before the Lord our God, if we take hede to kepe all these commandments, as he hath commanded vs.

CHAP. VII.

2 And the Lord thy God shal giue them ^a before thee, then thou shalt smite them: thou shalt vtterly destroy the: thou shalt make no ^{*} couenant with them, nor haue compassion on them,

3 Nether shalt thou make mariages with them, nether giue thy daughter vnto his sonne nor take his daughter vnto thy sonne.

2 God humbleth the Israelites to trie what they haue in their heart. 3 God chastiseth them as his childre 14 The heart ought not to be proude for Gods benefites 19 The forgetfulness of Gods benefites causeth destruction.

1 Y E shal kepe all the commandements which I comande thee this day, for to do the: that ye may liue, & be multiplied, and go in, and possesse the land which the Lord swaie vnto your fathers.

a Shewing y

3 Therefore he humbled thee, and made thee hungry, & fed thee with man which thou knewest not, nether did thy fathers knowe it, that he might teache thee that man liueth not by bread onely, but by euerie worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doeth a man liue.

6 Therefore shalt thou kepe the commandments of the Lord thy God, that thou maist walke in his wayes, and feare him.

Or, meritt.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a lād in the which are riuers of water and fountaines, & depths that spring out of valeis and mountaines:

8 A land of wheat and barley, and of vineyardes, and figtrees, & pomgranates: a lād of oyle oliue and honey:

f Where there are mines of metall

9 A lād wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcetie, nether shalt thou lacke anie thing therein: a lād whose stones are y^o, & out of whose mountains thou shalt digge brasie.

g For to receiue Gods benefices, & not to be thankfull, is to cōtēne God
in them.

10 And when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God for the good land, which he hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keping his commandemēts, and his lawes, and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day:

12 Lest when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, & hast buylt goodly houses & dwelt therein,

13 And thy beastes, and thy shepe are increased, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, & all that thou hast is encreased,

h By attributing

14 Then thine heart^h be lifted vp and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, 16 Who fed thee in y^e wildernes with *MAN, which thy fathers knewe not,) to humble thee, and to proue thee, that he might do thee good at thy latter end.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after other gods, & serue them, and worship them, I^k testifie vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish.

20 As the naciōs which the Lord destroyeth before you, so ye shal perish, because ye wolde not be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

4 God doeth them not good for their owne righteousness, but for his owne sake 7 Moses putteth them in remembrance of their sinnes 17 The two tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

3 Vnde stand therefore that this day the Lord thy God is he which^c goeth out before thee as a consuming fire: he shal destroy them, and he shal bring them downe before thy face: so thou shalt cast thē out and destroy them sodenly, as y^e Lord hath said vnto thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart (after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out before thee) saying, For my^d righteousness y^e Lord hath brought me in, to possesse this land: but for y^e wickednes of these naciōs the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

d Man of him-

5 For thou entrest not to inherit their land for thy righteousness, or for thy vpriht heart, but for the wickednes of those naciōs, the Lord thy God doeth cast thē out before thee, and that he might perfourme the worde which the Lord thy God sware vnto thy fathers, Abrahám, Izhák, and Iakób.

6 Vnderstand therefore, that the Lord thy God giueth thee not this good land to possesse it for thy righteousness: for thou art a^e stifnecked people.

e Like stubbe-

7 Remember, & forget not, how y^e prouokedst the Lord thy God to angre in the wildernes: fince the day that thou didest depart out of the land of Egypt, vntil ye came vnto this place ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

f He proueth

9 When I was gone vp in to the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables, I say, of y^e couenāt, which the Lord made with you: and I abode in the mouēt forty dayes and fortie nightes, & I nether ate bread nor yet dranke water:

Exod. 34, 16.

12 And the Lord said vnto me, * Arise, get thee downe quicklye from hence: for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue ^h corrupt their wayes: they are fone turned out of the way, which I commanded them: they haue made the a molten image.

13 Furthermore, the Lord spake vnto me, saying, I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

Signifying ^h the prayers of ^h faithful are a barre to staie Gods anger, ^h he cōsume not all.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroye the, and put out their name from vnder heauē, and I wil make of thee a mightie nacion, and greater then they be.

15 So I returned, and came downe from the Mount (& the Mount burnt with fire, and the two Tables of the couenāt were in my two hands)

16 Then I looked, & beholde, ye had sinned against the Lord your God: for ye had made you a molten calf, and had turned quickly out of the ^k way which the Lord had commanded you.

k That is, frō the Law: where- in he declar- eth what is ^h cause of our p-ardition.

17 Therefore I toke the two Tables, & cast them out of my two hands, and brake the before your eyes.

18 And I fel downe before the Lord, fortie daies, and fortie nights, as before: I neither ate bread nor dranke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye had committed, in doing wickedly in the sight of ^h Lord, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraid of the wrath and indignacion, wherewith the Lord was moued against you, euen to destroye you) yet the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 Likewise the Lord was verie angry with Aarōn, euen to destroye him: but at that time I prayed also for Aarōn.

l Whereby he sheweth what danger they are in, ^h haue aueritie, & resist not wickednes

21 And I toke your sinne, I meane the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, and stamped him and grounde him small, euen vnto verie dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the riuer, that descended out of the ^m Mount.

23 Likewise when the Lord sent you from Kadesh-barnēa, saying, Go vp, and possesse the land which I haue giuen you, the ye ^o rebelled against the commandemēt of the Lord your God, and belued him not, nor hearkened vnto his voyce.

24 Ye haue bene rebellious vnto the Lord, since the daie that I knewe you.

o Whereby as signified that God requireth earnest continuance in pray-er.

25 Then I fel downe before the Lord ^o fortie daies and fortie nights, as I fel downe before, because the Lord had said, that he wolde destroye you.

26 And I prayed vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, destroye not thy people & thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatnes whome ^h hast brought out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

27 Remember thy seruants Abrahām, Iz- hāk, and Iaakōb: loke not to the stuburnes of this people, nor to their wickednes, nor to their sinne, p The godlie in their pray-ers grōue on Gods promises, & cōfesse their sinnes.

28 Lest the countrey, whence thou broughtest them, say, * Because the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, or because he hated them, he caried them out, to slaye them in the wilderness.

3 And I made an Arke of ^a shittim wood, ^a Which wood: is of long con- tinuance. and hewed two Tables of stone like vnto the first, and went vp into the Mountaine, and the two Tables in mine hand.

4 Then he wrote vpon the Tables accord- ing to the first writing (the ten commā- dements, which the Lord spake vnto you in the Mount out of the middes of the fi- re, in the daye of the ^b assemblie) and the Lord gaue them vnto me.

11 But the Lord said vnto me, Arise, go forth in the iourney before the people, that thei may go in and possesse the land, which I swaie vnto their fathers to giue vnto them.

12 ¶ And now, Israël, what doeth the Lord thy God f require of thee, but to feare the Lord thy God, to walke in all his wayes, and to loue him, and to serue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule?

13 That thou kepe the commandements of the Lord, and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day, for thy welth?

14 Beholde, heauen, and the heauen of heauens, the Lords thy God, and the earth, with all that therein is.

15 Notwithstanding, the Lord set his delite in thy fathers to loue them, and dyd chose their sede after them, even you aboue all people, as appeareth this day.

16 ¶ Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and harden your necks no more.

17 For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, mightie, & terrible, which accepteth no^{*} persones nor taketh reward:

18 Who doeth right vnto the fatherles and widowe, and loueth the stranger, giuing him sode and rayment.

19 Loue ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

20 ¶ Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God: thou shalt serue him, and thou shalt cleaue vnto him, and shalt sweare by his Name.

21 He is thy praise, and he is thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thine eyes haue sene.

22 Thy fathers went downe into Egypt with fewentie persones, & now the Lord thy God hath made thee, as the^{*} starres of the heauen in multitude.

1 An exhortacion to loue God, and kepe his Lawe 10 The praises of Canaan. 18 To meditate continually the wordes of God. 19 To teache is vnto the children. 26 Blessing and cursing

1 Therefore thou shalt loue the Lord thy God, and shalt kepe that, which he commandeth to be kept: that is, his ordinances, and his Lawes, and his commandements alwaie.

2 And consider this day (for I speake not to your children, which haue nether knowne nor sene) the chastisemēt of the Lord your God, his greatnes, his mightie hand, and his stretched out arme,

3 And his signes, and his actes, which he did in the middes of Egypt vnto Pharaoh the King of Egypt and vnto all his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, vnto their horses and to their charets, when he caused the waters of the red Sea to ouerfloe them, as thei pursued after you, and the Lord destroyed them vnto this day:

5 And what he did vnto you in the wilderness, vntil ye came vnto this place:

6 And what he did vnto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Reuben, when the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them with their householdes and their tents, and all their substance that thei had in the middes of all Israël.

7 For your eyes haue sene all the great actes of the Lord which he did.

8 Therefore shal ye kepe all the commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and possesse the land whether ye go to possesse it:

9 Also that ye may prolong your daies in the land, which the Lord swaie vnto your fathers, to giue vnto them and to their sede, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 ¶ For the land whether thou goest to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence ye came, where thou sowedst thy sede, and wateredst it with thy^d fete as a garden of herbes:

11 But the land whether ye go to possesse it, is a land of mountaines and vallis, and drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doeth the Lord thy God care for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are alwaies vpon it, from the beginning of the yere, even vnto the end of the yere.

13 ¶ If ye shal hearken therefore vnto my commandements, which I commande you this day, that ye loue the Lord your God & serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule, 14 I also wil giue raine vnto your land in due time, the first raine and the latter, that thou maiest gather in thy wheat, and thy wine, and thine oyle.

15 Also I wil sed grasse in thy fields for thy cattel, that thou maiest eat, and haue ynough.

16 But beware lest your heart^f deceaue you, and lest ye turne aside, and serue other gods, and worship them,

17 And so y^e angre of the Lord be kindled against you, and he shut vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yelde not her frute, & ye perish quickly from tar of the Lord thy God; and the blood of thine offerings shal be powred vpon the altar of the Lord thy God, & thou shalt eat the flesh.

28 Take hede, and heare all these wordes which I command thee, y it may go wel with thee, and with thy children after thee for euer, when y doest that which is good & right in the sight of the Lord thy God.

29 When the Lord thy God shal destroy the nations before thee, whether thou goest to possesse them, & thou shalt possesse them and dwel in their land,

30 Beware, lest thou be taken in a snare after the, after that they be destroyed before thee, & lest thou aske after their gods, saying, How did these nations serue their gods, that I may do so likewise?

31 Thou shalt not do so vnto the Lord thy God: for all abomination, which the Lord hateth, haue they done vnto their gods: for they haue burned bothe their hathe commanded thee,

18 That they teache you not to do after all their abominacions, which thei haue done

gainst the Lord your God.

19 ¶ When thou hast besieged a citie long

1 IF one be founde ^{*} slayne in the land,

2 Then thine Elders and thy Iudges shal come forth, and measure vnto the cities

3 And let the Elders of that citie, which ^{is} next vnto the slayne man, take out of the droue an heifer that hathe not bene put to 4 And let the Elders of that citie bring the

5 Also the Priests the sonnes of Leui (whome blood from thee, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

10 ¶ When thou shalt go to warre against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God shall deliuer them into thine hands, and thou shalt take them captiues,

11 And shalt se among the captiues a beautiful woman, and hast a desire vnto her, & woldest take her to thy wife,

12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house, ^d and she shall haue her head, and pare her nailes,

^d Signifying that her former life must be changed before she could be ioyned to the people of God
^e As having renounced parents and country
^f This only was permitted in the warres: otherwise the Israelites could not marry strangers.

13 And she shall put of the garment that she was taken in, and she shall remaine in thine house, ^e and bewaile her father & her mother a moneth long: and after that shalt thou go in vnto her, and marry her, and she shall be thy ^f wife.

14 And if thou haue no fauour vnto her, then ^g thou maiest let her go whether she wil, but thou shalt not sell her for money, nor make marchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.

^g This declarereth that the pluralitie of wiues came of a corrupt affection.

15 ¶ If a man haue two wiues, one loued and another ^h hated, and they haue borne him children, bothe the loued and also the hated: if the first borne be the sonne of the hated,

^h Or, while the issue of the hated liueth

16 Then when the time cometh, that he appointeth his sonnes to be heyres of that which he hathe, he may not make the sonne of the beloued first borne before the sonne of the hated, which is ⁱ his first borne:

ⁱ As much as to two of the others

17 But he shall acknowledge the sonne of ^j his hated for ^j his first borne, & giue him ^k double porcion of all that he hathe: for he is the first of his strength, and to ^k him belongeth the right of the first borne.

^k Except he be unworthy, as was Reuben Isakobs sonne.

18 If anie man haue a sonne that is stubbornne and disobedient, which wil not hearken vnto the voyce of his father, nor the voyce of his ^l mother, and they haue chastened him, and he wolde not obey them,

^l For it is the mothers due: also to instruct her children.

19 Then shall his father and his mother take him, and bring him out vnto the Elders of his citie, and vnto the gate of the place where he dwelleth,

20 And shall say vnto the Elders of his citie, This our sonne is stubbornne and disobedient, and he wil not obey our admonition, he is a riotous, and a drunkard.

^m Which death was also appointed for blasphemers and idolaters: so that to disobey the parents is more horrible.

21 Then all the men of his citie shall ⁿ stone him with stones vnto death: so thou shalt take away euil from among you, that all Israel may heare it and feare.

ⁿ For Gods Lawe by his death is satisfied, and nature abhorreth crueltie Gal 3.13.

22 ¶ If a man also haue committed a trespass worthy of death, and is put to death, & thou hangest him on a tree, 23 His body shall not remaine ^o all night vpon ^o the tree, but thou shalt bury him ^o the same day: for the ^o curse of God is on him that is hanged: Defile not therefore thy land, ^o thy Lord thy God giueth thee to inherit.

^o He commandeth to haue care of our neighbours goods.

^p The woman may not weare mans apparel, nor man the womans. ^q Of the dam and her yong birdes. ^r Why they should haue batlements. ^s Not to mixe diuers kinds together. ^t Of the wife not being founde a virgine. ^u The punishment of adulterie.

¶ Thou ^a shalt not se thy brothers oxen ^a nor his shepe go astray, and ^a withdrawe thy selfe from them, but shalt bring them againe vnto thy brother.

2 And if thy brother be not ^b nere vnto thee, or if thou knowe him not, then ^b thou shalt bring it into thine house, and it shall ^b remaine with thee, vntil thy brother seke after it: then shalt thou deliuer it to him againe.

3 In like maner shalt ^c thou do with his ^c asse, and so shalt thou do with his raiment, and shalt so do with all losse things of thy brother, which he hath loste: if thou hast found them, thou shalt not withdrawe thy selfe from them.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not se thy brothers asse nor his oxen fall downe by the way, and withdrawe thy selfe from them, but shalt lifte them vp with him.

5 ¶ The ^d woman shall not weare that which pertaineth vnto the man, neither shall a man put on womans raiment: for all that ^d do so, are abomination vnto the Lord thy God.

6 ¶ If thou finde a birdes nest in the way, in anie tree, or on the ground, whether they be yong or egges, and the dam sitting vpon the yong, or vpon the egges, ^e thou shalt not take the dam with the yong,

7 But shalt in anie wise let the dam go: and take the yong to thee, ^e thou maiest prosper and prolong thy dayes.

8 ¶ When thou buydest a newe house, thou shalt make a batlement on thy roof, that thou lay not blood vpon thine house, if anie man fall thence.

9 ¶ Thou shalt not ^f sowe thy vineyard with diuers kinds of seedes, lest thou defile the increase of the seede which thou hast sown, and the frute of the vineyard.

10 ¶ Thou shalt not plowe with an oxen and an asse together.

11 ¶ Thou shalt not weare a garment of diuers sortes, as of wellé and lincé together.

12 ¶ Thou shalt make thee fringes vpon the foure quarters of thy vestment, wherewith thou couerest thy selfe.

13 ¶ If a man take a wife, and when he hath her, he hate her,

14 And lay ^g slanderous things vnto her charge, and bring vp an euil name vpon her, an ^g I say, I took this wife, and when I came to her I found her not a maid, 15 Then shall the ^h man and the ^h woman be ^h brought to the ^h Lord thy God.

maidés virginitie vnto the Elders of the citie to the gate.

16 And the maidés father shal say vnto the Elders, I gaue my daughter vnto this mā to wife, and he hateth her:

17 And lo, he laieth slanderous things vnto her charge, sayig, I found not thy daughter a maid: lo, these are the tokens of my daughters virginitie: and they shal sprede y^e vesture before the Elders of the citie.

18 Thē the Elders of the citie shal take that man and chastice him, 19 And shal condemne him in an hundred shekels of siluer, and giue them vnto the fatherⁱ of y^e maid; because he hathe broght vp an euil name vpo a maid of Israël: & she shal be his wife, & he may not put her away all his life.

20 ¶ But if this thing be true, that the maide be not found a virgin,

21 Then they shal bring forth the maide to the dore of her fathers house, and the men of her citie shal stone her with stones to death: for she hathe wrought follie in Israël, by playing the whore in her fathers house: so thou shalt put euil away from among you.

Leuit. 20, 10. 22 ¶ If a man be found lying with a womā married to a man, then they shal dye euen bothe twaine: so wil the man that lay with the wife, and the wife: so thou shalt put away euil from Israël.

23 ¶ If a maide be betrothed vnto an housband, and a man finde her in the towne and lie with her,

24 Then shal ye bring them bothe out vnto y^e gates of the same citie, and shal stone them with stones to death: the maide because she cryed not, being in the citie, and y^e man, because he hathe humbled his neighbours wife: so thou shalt put away euil from among you.

25 ¶ But if a man finde a betrothed maide in the field, and force her, and lye with her, then the man that lay with her, shal dye alone:

26 And vnto the maide thou shalt do nothing, because there is in the maide no cause of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour and wondeth him to death, so^k is this matter.

27 For he found her in the fields: the betrothed maide cryed, and there was no man to succour her.

Exod. 22, 16. 28 ¶ If a man finde a maide that is not betrothed, and take her, and lye with her, & they be founde, 29 Then the man that lay with her, shal giue vnto the maidés father fifty shekels of siluer: and she shal be his wife, because he hathe humbled her: he can not put her away all his life.

30 ¶ No man shal take his fathers wife, nor shal vncouer his fathers skirt.

and looked on our aduersitie, and on our labour, and on our oppresion.

8 And the Lord brought vs out of Egypt in a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, with great terribleness, bothe in signes & wonders.

9 And he hath brought vs into this place, and hath giuen vs this land, euē a land that floweth with milke and hony.

f In token of a thankful heart, & mindfull of this benefite.

10 And now, lo, I f haue brought the first frutes of the land which thou, O Lord, hast giuen me, and thou shalt set it before the Lord thy God, and worship before ŷ Lord thy God:

g Signifying ŷ God giueth vs not goods for our felues only, but for their vŷes also, which are committed to our charge.

11 And thou shalt reioyce in all the good things which ŷ Lord thy God hath giuen vnto thee and to thine household, ŷ and the Leuite, and the stranger that is among you.

12 ¶ When thou hast made an end of tithing all the tithes of thine increase, the third yere, which is the yere of tithing, and hast giuen it vnto the Leuite, to the stranger, to the fatherles and to the widowe, that they may eat within thy gates, and be satisfied, h Without hypocrisy.

13 Then thou shalt h say before the Lord thy God, I haue brought the halowed thing out of mine house, & also haue giue it vnto ŷ Leuites & to the strangers, to the fatherles, and to the widowe, according to all thy h commandements which thou hast commanded me: I haue h transgressed none of thy commandements, nor forgotten them.

k Or, for anie necessitie. l By putting them to anie prophane vŷe.

14 I haue not eaten thereof in my k mourning, nor suffred ought to perish l through vnclennes, nor giuen ought thereof for the dead, but haue hearkened vnto ŷ voyce of the Lord my God: I haue done m after all that thou hast commanded me.

m As farre as my sinfull nature wolde suffer: for els, as Dauid & Paul say, there is not one iust, Psal 14.4. rom 3.10.

15 Loke downe from thine holy habitaciō, euē from heauen, & blesse thy people Israēl, and the land which thou hast giuen vs (as thou swaŷt vnto our fathers) the lād that floweth with milke and hony.

16 ¶ This day the Lord thy God doeth cōmande thee to do these ordinances, and lawes: kepe them therefore, and do them with n all thine heart, and with all thy soule.

n With a good & simple conscience.

Chap. 7. 8. ŷ 14. 2.

17 *Thou hast set vp the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walke in his wayes, and to kepe his ordinances, and his commandements, and his lawes, and to hearken vnto his voice.

o Signifying ŷ there is a mutual bōde betwene God & his people.

18 *And the Lord hath set thee vp this day, to be a precious people vnto him (as he hath promised thee) & that thou shuldest kepe all his commandements, Chap 4. 7. Chap 7. 6. Ver 13. 11.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 They are cōmanded to write the Law vpon stones for a remembrance, ŷ Also to buyld an altar. 13 The curŷings are giuen on mount Ebāl

1 Then Moŷes with the Elders of Israēl a commanded the people, saying, Kepe all the commandements, which I commande you this day.

a As Gods minister & charged w the lawe

2 And when ye shal passe ouer Iordē vnto the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, thou shalt set thee vp great stones, & plaister them with plaister,

3 b And shalt write vpon the all the wordes of this Lawe, when thou shalt come ouer, that thou maiest go into the land w the Lord thy God giueth thee: a lād that floweth with mylke and hony, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

b God wolde ŷ his Law shulde be set vp in the borders of the lād of Canaan, that all ŷ looked there: so might knowe that ŷ land was due to his seruice.

4 Therefore when ye shal passe ouer Iordē, ye shal set vp these stones, which I cōmande you this day in mount Ebāl, & thou shalt plaister them with plaister.

5 *And there shalt thou buyld vnto ŷ Lord thy God an altar, euē an altar of stones: ŷ shalt lift none cyron instrument vpon the.

Exod 20. 25. 10/11 8. 31.

c The altar shulde not be curiously wrought, because it shulde cōtinue but for a time: for God wolde haue but one altar in Iudāh.

6 Thou shalt make the altar of ŷ Lord thy God of whole stones, and offer burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord thy God.

7 And thou shalt offer peace offerings, and shalt eat there and reioyce before ŷ Lord thy God:

8 And thou shalt write vpon the stones all the wordes of this Lawe, d wel, and plainly.

d That euerie one may wel read it and vnderstand it.

9 ¶ And Moŷes & the Priests of the Leuites spake vnto all Israēl, saying, Take heed & heare, O Israēl: this day thou art become the people of the Lord thy God.

10 Thou e shalt hearken therefore vnto the voyce of the Lord thy God, and do his cōmandements and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day.

e This condition God hath bōde thee vnto, that if ŷ wilbe his people, thou must kepe his Lawes.

11 ¶ And Moŷes charged the people the same day, saying,

12 These shal stand vpon mount Gerizzim, to blesse the people when ye shal passe ouer Iordē: Simeōn, & Leui, & Iudāh, & Issachār, & f Iosēph, & Beniamin.

f Meaning Ephraim & Manassēh

13 And these shal stand vpon mount Ebāl to g curse: Reuben, Gad, & Aŷher, & Zabulūn, Dan, & Naphtali.

g Signifying, that if they wolde not obey God for loue, they shulde be made to obey for fear.

14 And the Leuites shal answer & say vnto all the men of Israēl with a loude voyce, 15 ¶ Cursed be ŷ mā ŷ shal make anie carued or moltē h image, which is an abominacion vnto ŷ Lord, the worke of ŷ hāds of ŷ crafteŷma, & putteth it in a secret place: And all the people shal answer, & say: So be it.

- 18 Cursed be he that maketh the ^lblinde go out of the way: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 19 Cursed be he that hindreth the right of the stranger, the fatherles, & the widowe: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 20 Cursed be he that lieth with his fathers wife: for he hathe vncouered his fathers ^mskirt: And all ^y people shal say: So be it.
- 21 Cursed be he that lieth with anie beast: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 23 Cursed be he that lieth with his ⁿmother in lawe: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 24 Cursed be he that smiteth his neighbour ^osecretly: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 25 *Cursed be he that taketh a rewarde to put to death innocent blood: And all the people shal say: So be it.
- 26 *Cursed be he that consumeth not all ^y wordes of this Lawe, to do them: And all the people shal say: So be it.

58 ¶ If thou wilt not kepe and do all the wordes of this Lawe (that are written in this booke) & feare this glorious & feareful Name THE LORD THY GOD, 59 Then the Lord wil make thy plagues wonderful, & the plagues of thy fede, even great plagues and of long continuance, & sore diseases, and of long duranee.

60 Moreover, he wil bring vpon thee all the diseases of Egypt, wherof thou wast afraid, and they shall cleaue vnto thee.

61 And euerie sickness, and euerie plague, which is not written in the booke of this Lawe, wil the Lord heape vpon thee, vntil thou be destroyed.

63 And as the Lord hath reioyced ouer you, to do you good, & to multiplie you, so he wil reioyce ouer you, to destroye you, and bring you to nought, and ye shall be rooted out of the land, whether thou goest to possesse it.

64 And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, fro the one end of the worlde vnto the other, and there thou shalt serue other gods, which thou hast not knownen nor thy fathers, even wood and stone.

65 Also among these nations thou shalt finde no rest, nether shall the sole of thy fote haue rest: for the Lord shall giue thee there a trembling heart, and loking to returne til thine eyes fall out, & a sorowful minde.

66 And thy life shall hang before thee, and thou shalt feare bothe night and day, and shalt haue none assurance of thy life.

67 In the morning thou shalt say, Wolde God it were euening, and at euening thou shalt say, Wolde God it were morning, for the feare of thine heart, which thou shalt feare, and for the sight of thine eyes, which thou shalt se.

CHAPTER XXX.

^z The people are exhorted to obserue the commandments. 10 The whole people from the highest to the lowest are comprehended vnder Gods couenāt 19 The punishment of him that flattereth him selfe in his wickednes. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

1 These are the wordes of the couenāt which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab beside the couenāt which he had made with them in Horēb.

2 ¶ And Moses called all Israel, & said vnto them, Ye haue sene all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh and vnto all his seruants, & vnto all his land,

3 The great tentacions which thine eyes haue sene, those great miracles and wonders:

4 Yet the Lord hath not giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eyes to se, and cares to heare, vnto this day.

5 And I haue led you fourtie yere in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxed olde vpon you, nether is thy shoe waxed olde vpon thy fote.

6 Ye haue eaten no bread, nether dronke wine, nor strong drinke, that ye might knowe, how that I am y Lord your God.

7 After ye came vnto this place, and Sihon King of Heshbōn, and Og King of Bashan came out against vs vnto battel, and we slew them,

8 And toke their land, and gaue it for an inheritance vnto the Reubenites, and to y Gadites, & to the half tribe of Manassēh.

9 ¶ Kepe therefore the wordes of this couenāt & do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye shall do.

10 Ye stand this day euerie one of you before the Lord your God: your heades of your tribes, your Elders and your officers, even all the men of Israel:

11 Your children, your wiues, & thy stranger that is in thy campe fro the hewer of thy wood, vnto the drawer of thy water,

12 That thou shuldest passe into the couenāt of the Lord thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day, 13 For to establish thee this day a people vnto him selfe, & that he may be vnto thee a God, as he hath said vnto thee, and as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Izhāk, and Iaakōb.

14 Nether make I this couenāt, and this othe with you onely, 15 But aswel with him that standeth here with vs this day before y Lord our God, as with him that is not here with vs this day.

16 For ye knowe, how we haue dwelt in the land land of Egypt, and how we passed through the middes of the nacions, which ye passed by.

17 And ye haue sene their abominacions & their idoles (wood, and stone, siluer & golde) which were among them,

18 That there shulde not be among you mā nor woman, nor familie, nor tribe, which shulde turne his heart away this day from the Lord our God, to go & serue the gods of these nacions, & that there shulde not be among you ^aanie roote that bringeth fourth gall and wormewood, ⁱ Suche sinne, as the bitter frute thereof might choke & destroye you ^{Mr. Bassier.}

^k For as he is thirsty, desireth to drinke much, so he followeth his appetites, seeketh by all means, & yet can not be satisfied.

19 So that when he heareth the wordes of this curse, he ^bblesse him selfe in his heart, saying, I shal haue peace, although I walke according to the stubbernes of mine owne heart, thus adding ^kdrunkennes to thirst.

20 The Lord wil not be merciful vnto him, but then the wrath of the Lord and his ielousie shal smoke against that man, and euerie curse that is written in this booke, shal light vpon him, and the Lord shal put out his name from vnder heauen, 21 And the Lord shal separate him vnto euil out of all the tribes of Israēl, according vnto all the curses of the couenant, that is written in the booke of this Lawe.

ⁱ Gods plagues vpon the that rebell against him, shal be so strange, that all ages shal be astonished.

22 So that the ^lgeneracion to come, ^{euen} your children, that shal rise vp after you, and the stranger that shal come from a far land, shal say, when they shal see the plagues of this land, and the diseases thereof, wherewith the Lord shal smite it:

23 (For all that lād shal burne with brimstone and salt: it shal not be sown, nor bring fourth, nor anie grasse shal growe therein, like as in the ouerthrowing of ^{*}Sodom, & Gomorah, Admah, & Zeboim, which the Lord ouerthrewe in his wrath and in his angre)

Gene. 19. 25.

24 Then shal all nacions say, ^{*}Wherefore hathe the Lord done thus vnto this land? how feare is this great wrath?

25 And they shal answer, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers, which he had made with them, when he broght them out of the lād of Egypt,

26 And went and serued other gods & worshipped them: ^{euen} gods which they knewe not, & which had giuen them nothing,

^{Mr.} which had not giuen them a land to possess

ⁱⁿ Moses hereby reprooueth their curiosities, which seek those things which are only known to God: & their negligence, that regard not that, which God hath reuelled vnto them, as the Lawe.

27 Therefore the wrath of the Lord waxed hote against this land, to bring vpon it euerie curse that is written in this booke.

28 And the Lord hathe rooted them out of their land in angre, and in wrath, and in great indignacion, and hathe cast them into another land, as ^aappeareth this day.

29 The ^msecret things belong to the Lord our God, but ^ythings reueiled belong vnto vs, and to our children for euer, that we may do all the wordes of this Lawe.

CHAP. XXX.

¹ Mercie shewed when they repent. 6 The Lord doeth circumsise the heart 11 All excuse of ignorance is taken away. 19 Life and death is set before the. 26 The Lord is their life which obey him.

¹ Now when all these things shal come vpon thee, ^either the blessing or the curse which I haue set before thee, and ^y shalt ^aturne into thine heart, among all ^y nacions whether the Lord thy God hathe driuen thee,

^a By calling to remembrance, both his mercies & his plagues

2 And shalt returne vnto ^y Lord thy God, and obey his voyce in all that I commaunde thee this day: thou, & thy children with all thine ^b heart and with all thy soule,

^b Intere repentance is none hypocritic.

3 Then ^y Lord thy God wil cause thy captiues to returne, and haue compasison vpon thee, & wil returne, to gather thee out of all the people, where ^y Lord thy God had scattered thee.

4 Though thou werest cast vnto the vtmost parte of ^e heauen, from thence wil ^y Lord thy God gather thee, & from thence wil he ^d take thee,

^c Euen to the worldes end.

5 And the Lord thy God wil bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possesse it, and he wil shewe thee fauour, and wil multiplie thee ^a boue thy fathers.

^d And bring thee into thy countrey.

6 And the Lord thy God wil ^e circumsise thine heart, and the heart of thy fede, that thou maist loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, that thou maist liue.

^e God wil purge all thy wicked affections: & thing is not in thine owne power to do.

7 And the Lord thy God wil lay all these curses vpon thine enemies, and on them, that hate thee, and that persecute thee.

8 ^f Returne thou therefore, & obey the voyce of the Lord, & do all his commandements, which I commande thee this day.

^f If we wil haue God to worke in vs with his holy spirit, we must turne againe to him by repentance.

9 And ^y Lord thy God wil make thee plentiful in euerie woike of thine hand, in ^y frute of thy body, and in the frute of thy cattel, and in the frute of the land for thy welth: for ^y Lord wil turne againe & ^{re}ioyce ouer thee to do thee good, as he ^{re}ioyced ouer thy fathers,

^g He meaneth not that God is subiect to these passions, to reioyce or to be sad: but he wileth this manner of speech to declare the loue which beareth vnto vs.

10 Because thou shalt obey the voyce of the Lord thy God, in keeping his commandements, & his ordinances, which are written in the booke of this Lawe, when thou shalt returne vnto the Lord thy God with all thine heart & with all thy soule.

11 ¶ For this commandement which I commande thee this day, is ^h not hid fro thee, neither is it farre of.

^h The Law is so euident that none can pretend ignorance.

12 It is not in heauen, that thou shuldest say, ^{*}Who shal go vp for vs to heauen, and bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may do it?

^{Rem. 10. 6.} By heauen & sea he meaneth places most farre distant.

13 Neither is it beyonde the ⁱ sea, that thou shuldest say, Who shal go ouer the sea for vs, & bring it vs, and cause vs to heare it, that we may do it?

Euen the ¹⁴ But the ^k worde is velle nere vnto thee: ^{eu}en in thy mouth & in thine heart, for to do it.

¹⁵ Beholde, I haue set before thee this day life & good, death and euil.

¹⁶ In that I commande thee this day, ^m to loue the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, & to kepe his commandments, & his ordinances, & his lawes ^y thou maifest

ⁿ liue & be multiplied, and that the Lord thy God may blesse thee in the land, whether thou goest to possesse it.

¹⁷ But if thine heart turne away, so that ^y wilt not obey, but shalt be seduced & worship other gods, and serue them,

¹⁸ I pronounce vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish, ye shal not prolong your dayes in the lād whether thou passest ouer Iordén to possesse it.

Chap 4. 26. ¹⁹ * I call heauen & earth to recorde this day against you, that I haue set before you life and death, blessing and cursing. therefore ^o chose life, that ^{bo}th thou & thy sede may liue,

² And said vnto them, I am an hundreth & twentie yeie olde this day: I can no more go out & in: also ^y Lord hathe said vnto me, * Thou shalt not go ouer this Iordén.

³ The Lord thy God he wil go ouer before thee: he wil destroy these nacions before thee, & thou shalt possesse them * Ioshua, he shal go before thee, as the Lord hathe said.

⁴ And the Lord shal do vnto the, as he dyd to * Sihón & to Og Kings of the Amorites, & vnto their lād whome he destroyed.

⁵ And the Lord shal giue the ^b before you that ye may do vnto them according ⁿ to euerie * commandment, which I haue commanded you.

⁶ Plucke ^v vp your hearts therefore, and be strong: dread not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God him selfe doeth go with thee: he wil not fayle thee, nor forsake thee.

⁷ * And Moses called Ioshua, and said vnto him in the sight of all Israél; Be ^e of a good courage and strong: for ^u ou shalt go with this people vnto the land which the Lord hathe sworne vnto their fathers, to giue them, and thou shalt giue it them to inherit.

⁸ And the Lord him selfe doeth ^d go before thee: he wil be ^w with thee: he wil not fayle thee, neither forsake thee: feare not ^{therefo}re, nor be discomfited.

¹⁰ And Moses commanded them, saying, * Euen ^{seuenth} yeie ^e * whē ^y yeie of freedom ^{shalbe} in the feast of the Tabernacles:

¹¹ When all Israél shal come to appeare ^e before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shal chose, thou shalt read this Lawe before all Israél that they may heare it.

¹² Gather the people together: men, & women, and children, and thy stranger: that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and that they may learne, and feare the Lord your God, and kepe, and obserue all ^y wordes of this Lawe,

¹⁴ * Then the Lord said vnto Moses, Beholde, thy dayes are come, that thou must dye: Call Ioshua, & stand ye in the Tabernacle of the Congregation that I may giue him a ^{charge}. so Moses & Ioshua wēt, and stode in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

¹⁵ And the Lord appeared in ^y Tabernacle, in the pillar of a cloude: & the pillar of the cloude stode ouer the dore of the Tabernacle.

¹⁷ Wherefore my wrath wil waxe hore against them at ^y day, & I wil forsake them, & wil ^h hide my face ^f from them: then they shalbe consumed, and many aduersities & tribulations shal come vpon them: so then they wil say, Are not these troubles come vpon me, because God is not with me?

¹⁸ But I wil surely hide my face in ^y day, because of all the euil, which they shal commit, in ^y they are turned vnto other gods.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teache it the children of Israhel: put it in their mouthes, that this song may be my witness against the children of Israhel.

20 For I will bring them into the lād (which I sware vnto their fathers) that floweth with milke and hony, and they shall eat, and fill them selues, and waxe fat: then shall they turne vnto other gods, and serue them, and contemne me, & breake my couenant.

21 And then when manie aduersities and tribulations shall come vpon them, this song shall answer them to their face as a witness: for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouthes of their posteritie: for I knowe their imaginacion, which they go about euen now, before I haue brought them into the land which I sware.

22 ¶ Moses therefore wrote this song the same day and taught it the children of Israhel.

23 And God gaue Ioshua the sonne of Nun a charge, and said, Be strong, and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israhel into the land, which I sware vnto them, and I will be with thee.

24 ¶ And when Moses had made an end of writing the wordes of this Lawe in a booke vntill he had finished them,

25 Then Moses commanded the Leuites, which bare the Ark of the couenant of the Lord, saying,

26 Take the booke of this Law, and put ye it in the side of the Ark of the couenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 For I knowe thy rebellion and thy stiffe necke: behold, I being yet aliue with you this day, ye are rebellious against the Lord: how much more then after my death?

28 Gather vnto me all the Elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speake these wordes in their audience, and call heauen and earth to recorde against them.

29 For I am sure that after my death ye will vtterly be corrupt and turne from the way, which I haue commanded you: therefore euil wil come vpon you at the length, because ye wil commit euil in the sight of the Lord, by prouoking him to anger through the worke of your hādes.

30 Thus Moses spake in the audience of all the Congregation of Israhel the wordes of this song, vntill he had ended them.

3 For I will publish the Name of the Lord: giue ye glorie vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the mighty God: for all his wayes are iudgement. God is true, and without wickednes: iust, & righteous is he.

5 They haue corrupted them selues toward him by their vice, not being his children, but a frowarde and crooked generacion.

6 Do ye so rewarde the Lord, o foolish people and vnwise? is not he thy father, that hath bought thee? he hath made thee, and proportioned thee.

THE BOKE OF IOSHUA.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this boke the holy Ghost setteth moste liuely before our eyes the accomplishment of Gods promyses, who as he promised by the mouthe of Moses, that a Prophet shulde be raised vp vnto the people like vnto him, whome he willeth to obey, Deut. 18. 15: so he sheweth him selfe here true in his promyses, as at all other times, and after the deathe of Moses his faithful seruant, he raiseth vp Ioshua to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that nether they shulde be discouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor haue occasion to distrust Gods promyses hereafter. And because that Ioshua might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people also might haue none occasion to grudge, as though he were not approued of God: he is adorned with moste excellent giftes and graces of God, bothe to gouerne the people with counsell, and to defend them with strength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captaine or a faithful minister. So he overcometh all difficultes and bringeth them in to the land of Canaan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuident among the people & appointeth their borders: he establisheth lawes and ordinances, and putteth them in remembrance of Gods manifold benefites, assuring them of his grace and fauour, if they obey God, and contrariwise of his plagues and vengeance, if they disobey him. This historie doeth represente Iesus Christ the true Ioshua, who leadeth vs into eternal felicitie, which is signified vnto vs by this land of Canaan. From the beginning of the Genesis to the end of this boke are contained 2597 yeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abraham out of Caldea 363. and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genesis containeth 2390. Exodus 140. the other thre boke of Moses 40. Ioshua 27. So the whole maketh 2597 yeres.

^a The beginning of this boke dependeth on the last chap. of Deut. which was written by Ioshua as a preparation to his historie.

Now after ^a the death of Moses the seruant of the Lord, ^a the Lord spake vnto Ioshua the sonne of Nun, Moses minister, saying,

2 Moses my seruant is dead: now therefore arise, go ouer this Iordan, thou, and all this peo-

CHAP. II.

- 6 Be strong and of a good courage: for vnto this people shalt thou deuide the land for an inheritance, which I swaie vnto thou fathers to giue them.
- 7 Onely be thou strong, and of a moste valiant courage, that thou maiest obserue and do according to all the Lawe which Moses my seruant hath commadéd thee: *thou shalt not twine away from it to the right hád, nor to the left, that thou maiest prosper whether soeuer thou goest.
- 8 Let not this booke of the Lawe departe out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou maiest obserue & do according to all that is written therein: for thou shalt thou make thy way prosperous, & then shalt thou haue good successe.
- 9 Haue not I commanded thee, saying, Be strong and of a good courage, f. are not nor be discouraged: for I the Lord thy God wil be with thee, whether soeuer thou goest.
- 10 ¶ Then Ioshúa commanded the officers of the people, saying,
- 11 Passe through the hoste, and commande the people, saying, Prepare you vitales: for after three daies ye shal passe ouer this Iordén, to go in to possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth you to possesse it.
- 12 ¶ And vnto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to halfe the tribe of Manasséh spake Ioshúa, saying,
- 13 *Remember the worde, which Moses the seruant of the Lord commadéd you, saying, The Lord your God hath giuen you rest, and hath giuen you this land.
- 14 ¶ Your wiues, your childre, & your cattel shal remaine in the land which Moses gaue you on this side Iordén: but ye shal go ouer before your brethren armed, all that be men of warre, & shal helpe them,
- 15 Vntil the Lord haue giuen your brethré rest, as wel as to you, & vntil thei also shal possesse the land, which the Lord your God giueth them: then shal ye returne vnto the land of your possession and shal possesse it, which land Moses the Lords seruant gaue you on this side Iordén toward the sunne rising.
- 16 Then thei answered Ioshúa, saying, All that thou hast commanded vs, we wil do, and whether soeuer thou sendest vs, we wil go.
- 17 As we obeyed Moses in all things, so wil we obey thee: onely the Lord thy God be with thee as he was with Moses.
- 18 Whosoever shal rebelle against thy commandement, and wil not obey thy wordes in all that thou commandest him, let him be put to death: onely be ströng & of good courage.

^d For they looked daily to remoue ^e the Lords comanement which thing they were newe circumcised, colde not do without great danger

Nom. 14. 23.

6 For the children of Israël walked fourty yeres in the wilderness, til all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: vnto whome the Lord sware, that he wolde not shewe the land, ^{*} which the Lord had sworne vnto their fathers, that he wolde giue vs, even a land that floweth with milke and honie.

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their steade, Ioshúa circumcised: for they were vncircumcised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an end of circumcising all the people, they abode in the places in the cāpe til they ^{*} were whole.

^e For their sore was so grievous, that they were not able to remoue ^f By bringing you into this promised land contrary to the wicked opinion of the Egyptians or the foreskin, whereby you were like to the Egyptians.

9 After, the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, This day I haue taken away the ^f shame of Egypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgál, vnto this day.

10 ¶ So the childre of Israël abode in Gilgál, and kept the feast of the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaine of Ierichó.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the lād, on the morow after the Passeouer, vnleauened bread, and parched corne in the same day.

12 And the MAN ceased on the morow after they had eaten of the corne of the land, nether had the children of Israël MAN anie more, but did eat of the fruite of the land of Canaan that yere.

13 ¶ And when Ioshúa was by Ierichó, he lift vp his eyes and looked: and beholde, there stood a ^{*} man against him, hauing a sworde drawn in his hand: and Ioshúa went vnto him, & said vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

CHAP. VI.

3 The Lord instructeth Ioshúa what he shoulde do, as touching Ierichó. 6 Ioshúa commandeth the Priests and warriors what to do. 20 The walles fall. 22 Rahab is saued. 24 All is burnt saue golde and metal. 26 The curse of him that buyldeth the citie.

1 NOW Ierichó was ^a shut vp, & ^b closed, because of the children of Israël, none might go out nor entre in.

2 And ^y Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Beholde, I haue giuen into thine hand Ierichó and the King thereof, and the strong men of warre.

3 All ye therefore that be men of warre, shal compass the citie, in going round about ^y citie ^d once: thus shal you do six dayes;

4 And seuen Priests shal beare seuen trumpets of ^e rams hornes before the Arke: & the seuenth day ye shal compass the citie seuen times, and the Priests shal blowe with the trumpets.

5 And when they make a lōg blast with the rams horne, & ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, all the people shal shoute with a great shoute: then shal the wall of the citie fall downe flat, and the people shal ascend vp, euerie man streight before him.

6 ¶ Then Ioshúa the sonne of Nun called the Priests & said vnto them, Take vp the Arke of the couenant, & let seuen Priests beare seuen trumpets of rams hornes before the Arke of the Lord.

7 But he said vnto the people, ^f Go and compass the citie: and let him that is armed, go forthe before ^y Arke of the Lord.

8 ¶ And when Ioshúa had spoken vnto the people, the seuen Priests bare the seuen trumpets of rams hornes, and went forthe before the Arke of the Lord, and blew with the trōpēts, and the Arke of the couenant of the Lord followed them.

9 ¶ And the men of armes wēt before the Priests, that blew the trumpets: then the ^g gathering hoste came after the Arke, as they went and blew the trumpets.

10 (Now Ioshúa had commāded the people, saying, Ye shal not shoute, nether make anie noyse with your voice, nether shal a worde procede out of your mouth, vntil the day that I say vnto you, Shoute, then shal ye shoute)

11 So the Arke of the Lord compassed the citie, and went aboute it ^h once: then they returned into the hoste, and lodged in the campe.

12 And Ioshúa rose early in the morning, & the Priests bare the Arke of the Lord:

10 And Ioſhua roſe vp early in ^{the} morning, and ^d nombred the people: and he and the Elders of Iſraél went vp before the people ^{againſt} Aí.

11 Alſo all the men of warre that were with him wēt vp & diue nere, and came againſt the citie, & pitched on the Northſide of Aí: and there was a valley betwene them and Aí.

12 And he toke about ſiue thouſand men, & ſet them to lie in wayt betwene Beth-él & Aí, on the Weſtſide of the citie.

13 And the people ſet all the hoſte that was on the Northſide againſt the citie, & the lieis in wayte on the Weſt, againſt the citie: & Ioſhua went the ſame night into ^{the} middes of the valley.

14 ¶ And whe the King of Aí ſawe it, then the men of the citie haſted & roſe vp early, and went out againſt Iſraél to battel, he & all his people at the time appointed, before the plaine: for he knewe not that ^{he} lay in waite againſt him on the backſide of the citie.

15 Then Ioſhua and all Iſraél ^{as} beaten before the, fled by the way of the wildernes.

16 And all the people of the citie were called together, to purſue after them: & they purſued after Ioſhua, and were drawn away out of the citie,

17 So that there was not a man left in Aí, nor in Beth-él, that went not out after Iſraél: and they left the citie open, & purſued after Iſraél.

18 The Lord ſaid vnto Ioſhua, ^{Stretch}che out the ſpeare that is in thine hand toward Aí: for I wil giue it into thine hand: and Ioſhua ſtretched out the ſpeare that he had in his hand, toward the citie.

19 And thei that lay in waite, aroſe quickly out of their place, & ran aſſone as he had ſtretched out his hand, and they entred into the citie, and toke it, and haſted, and ſet the citie on fire.

20 And the men of Aí looked behinde the, & ſawe it: for lo, the ſmoke of the citie aſcended vp ^{to} heauen, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: for ^{the} people that fled to the wildernes, turned backe vpon the purſuers.

21 When Ioſhua and all Iſraél ſawe that they that lay in wait, had takē the citie, & that the ſmoke of the citie mounted vp, then they turned againe and ſlewe the me of Aí.

And when all the Kings ^a were beyond Iordén, in the mountaines & in the vallis, and by all the coastes of the great Sea ouer against Lebanón (as the Hittites, & the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hittites, & the Jebusites) heard thereof,

They gathered them selues together, to fight against Ioshúa, & against Israél with one accord.

*But the inhabitants of Gibeón heard what Ioshúa had done vnto Ierichó, and to Aí.

And therefore they wrought craftely: for they went, and fained them selues embassadours and toke olde sackes vpon their asses, and olde bottels for wine, bothe rent & bounde vp,

And olde shooes and clouted vpon their fete: also the raiment vpon them was olde, & all their prouision of bread was dried, & moulded.

So they came vnto Ioshúa into the hoste to Gilgál, & said vnto him, and vnto the men of Israél, We be come from a farre countrey: now therefore make a league with vs.

Then the men of Israél said vnto the Hittites, It may be that thou dwellest among vs, how then can I make a league with thee?

And they said vnto Ioshúa, We are thy seruants. Then Ioshúa said vnto the, Who are ye? & whence come ye?

And they answered him, From a very far countrey thy seruants are come for the Name of the Lord thy God: for we haue heard his fame & all that he hath done in Egypt,

And all that he hath done to the two Kings of the Amorites that were beyond Iordén, to Sihón King of Heshbón, & to Og King of Bashán, which were at Ashtaróth.

Wherefore our Elders, and all the inhabitants of our countrey spake to vs, saying, Take vitales with you for the iourney, & go to mete them, & say vnto them, We are your seruants: now therefore make ye a league with vs.

This our bread we toke it hot with vs for vitales out of our houses, the day we departed to come vnto you: but now behold, it is dried, and it is moulded.

Also these bottels of wine which we filled, were new, and lo, they be rent, and these our garments and our shooes are olde, by reason of the exceeding great iourney.

And these men accepted their tale concerning their vitales, & counselled not with the mouth of the Lord.

So Ioshúa made peace with them, & made a league with the, that he wolde suffer them to liue: also the Princes of the Congregation sware vnto them.

But at the end of thre daies, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

And the children of Israél toke their iourney, and came vnto their cities the third day, and their cities were Gibeón, & Chephthah, & Beeróth & Kiriathearím.

And the children of Israél sware them not, because the Princes of the Congregation had sware vnto them by the Lord God of Israél: wherefore all the Congregation murmured against the Princes.

Then all the princes said vnto all the Congregation We haue sware vnto the by the Lord God of Israél: now therefore we may not touche them.

But this we wil do to them, & let them liue, lest the wrath be vpon vs because of the othe which we sware vnto them.

And the Princes said vnto them againe, Let them liue, but they shal hewe wood, & drawe water vnto all the Congregation, as the Princes appoint them.

Ioshúa then called them, and talked with them, and said, Wherefore haue ye beguiled vs, saying, We are verie farre from you, when ye dwel among vs?

Now therefore ye are cursed, and there shal none of you be freed frō being bondmen, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the house of my God.

And they answered Ioshúa and said, Because it was tolde thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had commanded his seruant Moses to giue you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land out of your sight, therefore we were exceeding sore afraid for our liues at the presence of you, & haue done this thing:

And beholde now we are in thine hand: do as it seemeth good & right in thine eyes to do vnto vs.

Then so did he vnto them, and deliuered them out of the hand of the children of Israél, that they slewe them not.

And Ioshúa appointed them that same daie to be hewers of wood, & drawers of water for the Congregation, & for the altar of the Lord vnto this day, in the place which he shulde chuse.

ⁿ That is for the sacrificies.

NOW whē Adoni-zédék King of Ierusalém had heard how Ioshúa had taken Aí and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Ierichó and to the King thereof, so he had done to * Aí and to the King thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeón had made peace with Israël, and were among them,

Then thei feared exceedingly for Gibeón was a great citie, as one of the roial cities: for it was greater then Aí, and all the men thereof were mightie.

Wherefore ^a Adoni-zédék King of Ierusalém sent vnto Hohám King of Hebrón, and vnto Pirám King of Iarmúth, and vnto Iapía King of Lachísh, and vnto Dcbír King of Eglón, saying, Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeón: for thei haue made peace with Ioshúa and with the children of Israël.

Therefore the fiue Kings of the Amorites, the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachísh, and the King of Eglón gathered them selues together, & went vp, thei with all their hostes, & besieged Gibeón, and made ^b warre against it.

And the mé of Gibeón sent vnto Ioshúa, ^c enē to the hoste to Gilgál, saying, Withdrawe not thine hand frō thy seruants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the Kings of the Amorites which dwel in the mountaines, are gathered together against vs.

So Ioshúa ascended from Gilgál, he, and all the people of waire with him, and all the men of might.

¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, ^e Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shal stand against thee.

Ioshúa therefore came vnto them sodenly: for he went vp from Gilgál all y night. And the Lord discomfited them before Israël, & slewe them with a great slaughter at Gibeón, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth-horón, and smote them to Azekáh and to Makkedáh.

And as thei fled frō before Israël, & were in the going downe to Beth-horón, y Lord cast downe great stones from heauē vpō them, vntil Azekáh, & thei dyed: ^d thei were more that dyed with the haylestones, then they whome the children of Israël slewe with the sworde.

¶ Then spake Ioshúa to the Lord, in the day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the children of Israël, and he said in the sight of Israël, * Sunne, staie thou in Gibeón, and thou moone, in the valley of Aialón.

And the sunne abode, & the moone stode

stil, vntil the people auenged them selues vpō their enemies: (Is not this written in the boke of * Iashér) so the sunne abode in the middes of the heauen, and hasted not to go downe for a whole day.

And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord ^f fought for Israël.

¶ After, Ioshúa returned, and all Israël with him vnto the campe to Gilgál:

But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedáh.

And it was tolde Ioshúa, saying, The fiue Kings are foude hyd in a caue at Makkedáh.

Then Ioshúa said, Roule great stones vpon the mouthe of the caue, and set men by it for to kepe them.

But stand ye not stil: followe after your enemies, and ^g smite all the hindemost, suffre them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God hath giuen them into your hand.

And when Ioshúa and the children of Israël had made an end of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter til they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities,

Then all the people returned to the campe, to Ioshúa at Makkedáh in ^h peace: no man moued his tongue against the children of Israël.

After, Ioshúa said, Open the mouthe of the caue, & bring out these fiue Kings vnto me for the of the caue.

And thei did so, and broght out those fiue Kings vnto him for the of the caue, ⁱ euen the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachísh, and the King of Eglón.

And when thei had broght out those Kings vnto Ioshúa, Ioshúa called for all the men of Israël, and said vnto the chief of y men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your fete vpō the ^k neckes of these Kings: & thei came nere and set their fete vpon their neckes.

And Ioshúa said vnto them, Feare not, nor be faint hearted, ^l but be strong and of a good courage: for thus wil the Lord do to all your enemies, against whome ye fight.

So then Ioshúa smote them, and slewe them, and hanged them on fiue trees, and thei hanged stil vpon the trees vntil the eueing.

And at the going downe of the sunne, Ioshúa gaue commandement, that thei shulde take * them downe of the trees, & cast them into the caue (wherein thei had bene hid) and thei layed great stones vpō the caues mouthe, which remaine vntil this day.

thou hast followed constantly the Lord my God.

¹⁰ Therefore beholde now, the Lord hath kept me alieue, as he promised: this is the fourty and fift yere since the Lord spake this thing vnto Moses, while the children of Israël wandred in the wildernes: and now lo, I am this day fourscore and fife yere olde:

¹¹ And yet am I as strong at this time, as I was whē Moses sent me: as strong as I was then, so strong am I now, either for warre, or for gouernement.

¹² Now therefore giue me this mountaine whereof the Lord spake in y day (for thou headedst in that daie, how the Anakims were there, and the cities great and walled) * if so be the Lord wil be with me, that I may driue them out, as the Lord said.

¹³ Then Ioshúa blessed him, and gaue vnto Caléb the sonne of Iephunnéh, Hebrón for an inheritance.

¹⁵ And the name of *Hebrón was beforetime, Kiriath-arbá: which Arbá was a great man among the Anakims: thus the land ceased from warre.

& the endes of this coast are to the ^d Sea.

12 And the Westborder is to the great Sea:
so this border shalbe the bondes of the childre of Iudáh round about, according to their families.

13 ¶ And vnto Caléb the sonne of Iephúnéh did Ioshúa giue a parte amög the childre of Iudáh, as the Lord commanded him, euen *Kiriath-arbá of the father of Anák, which is Hebrón.

14 And Caléb droue thence thre sonnes of Anák, Sheshái, and Ahimán, and Talmái, the sonnes of Anák.

15 And he went vp thence to the inhabitáts of Debír: and the name of Debír before time was Kiriath-sépher.

17 And Othniél, the sonne of Kenáz, the brother of Caléb toke it: and he gaue him Achfáh his daughter to wife.

18 And as she wét in to him, she moued him, to aske of her father a field: & she lighted of her asse, & Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou.

19 Thé she answered, *Giue me a blessing:
for thou hast giue me the South cōtrei:
giue me also sprigs of water. And he gaue her y^e springs aboue & the sprigs benethe.

- 8 And this border goeth from Tappúah Westwa:d vnto the riuer Kanáh, and the ends thereof are at the Sea: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of

- 9 And the ^e separate cities for the childré of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasséh, all the cities with their villages.
- 10 And they cast not out the Canaanite that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanite

CHAP. XVII.

The porcion of the halfe tribe of Manasséh. 3 The daughters of Zelophehad 13 The Canaanites are become tributaries 14 Manasseh and Ephraim require a greater porcion of heritage.

- 1 THIS was also the lot of the tribe of Manasséh: for he was the ^{*} first borne of Ioséph, to wit, of Machir y^e first borne of Manasséh, and the father of Gileád: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gi-leád and Bashán.

- 2 And also ^a of the ^a rest of the sonnes of Manasséh by their families, euen of the sonnes of Abiézer, and oí the sonnes of Hélek, and of the sonnes of Azriél, and of the sonnes of Shéchem, and of the sonnes of Hépher, and of the sonnes of Shemidá:
these were the males of Manasséh, the sonne of Ioséph according to their families.

- 3 ¶ But Zelophehad the sonne of Hépher, ^{Now 26,35.}
the sonne of Gileád, the sonne of Machir, ^{27,1, and} the sonne of Manasséh, had no sonnes, but ^{36,2.} daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Malhá, and Noáh, Hógláh, Milcháh and Tirzáh:

- 4 Which came before Eleazár the Priest, and before Ioshúa the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord cōmanded Moisés to giue vs an inheritance among our ^b brethren: therefore according to the cōmandement of the Lord he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

- 5 And there fel ten porcions to ^c Manasseh, beside the land of Gileád and Bashán, which is on the other side Iordén,

- 6 Because the daughters of Manasséh did inherit among his sonnes: and Manassehs other sonnes had the land of Gileád.

- 7 ¶ So the borders of Manasséh were from Ashér to Micmetháh y^e Beth before Shechem, & this border goeth on y^e right hád, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-tappúah.

- 8 The land of Tappúah belonged to Manasséh, but ^d Tappúah beside the border of Manasséh belongeth to the sonnes of Ephraim.

- 9 Also this border goeth downe vnto the riuer Kanáh Southward to the riuer. these cities oí Ephraim are among the cities of Manasséh: and the border of Manasséh is on the Northside of the riuer, and the ends of it are at the ^e Sea,

- 10 The South pertaineth to Ephraim, and the North to Manasséh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in Ashér Northwa:d, and in Issachár Eastward.

- 11 And Manasséh had in Issachar and in Asher, Beth-shean & her townes, & Ibleám, & her townes, & the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dó: with the townes thereof, & the inhabitants of Thaanách with her townes, & the inhabitants oí Megiddó wth the townes of the same, euen thre countreys.

- 12 Yet the childré of Manasséh could not destroy those cities, but the Canaanites dwelled in that land.

- 13 Neuertheles, when the children of Is-raél were sit ong, they put the Canaanites vnder tribute, but cast the not out wholly.

^b According to my father Iacob's prophesie, Genes. 48, 19.

ⁱ If this moue be not large ynough, why doest not thou get more by destroying Gods enemies, as he hath commanded?

15 Ioshua then answered them, If thou be muche people, get thee vp to the wood, & cut trees for thy selfe there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the gyats, ⁱ if moue Ephraim be tonarowe for thee.

16 Then the children of Ioseph said, The mountaine wil not be ynough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwel in the lowe countrey haue charrets of yron, as wel they in Beth-shean, and in the townes of the same, as they in the valley of Izreel.

17 And Ioshua spake vnto the house of Ioseph, to Ephraim, & to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power, and shalt not haue one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine shalbe thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it downe: and the ends of it shalbe thine, & thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charrets, and though they be strong.

^k So that thou shalt enlarge thy porcion thereby.

CHAP. XVIII.

ⁱ The Tabernacle set in Shiloh ⁴ Certaine are sent to deuide the land to the other seuen tribes. ¹¹ The lot of the children of Benjamin.

ⁱ And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Shiloh: for they set vp the ^a Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was subiect vnto them.

^a For they had now removed it from Gilgal and set it in Shiloh.

ⁱ Now there remained among the children of Israel seuen tribes, to whome ^b they had not deuided their inheritance.

^b As Eleazar, Ioshua & the heades of the tribes had done to Iudah, Ephraim and halfe of Manasseh.

ⁱ Therefore Ioshua said vnto the children of Israel, How long are ye so slacke to entre and possesse the land which the Lord God of your fathers hathe giuen you.

ⁱ Giue from among you for euery tribe thre men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, and walke through the land, and distribute it according to ^c their inheritance, and returne to me.

^c That is, into seuen portions, to euery tribe one.

ⁱ And that they may deuide it vnto them into seuen partes, (Iudah shal abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioseph shal ^d stand in their coastes at the North)

^d For these had their inheritance already appointed.

ⁱ Ye shal describe the land therefore into seuen partes, & shal bring them hether to me, & I wil cast lottes for you here before the ^e Lord our God.

^e Before the Arke of the Lord.

ⁱ But the Leuites shal haue no part among you: for the ^f Priesthode of the Lord is their inheritance: also Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manasseh haue receiued their inheritance beyōde Iordan Eastward, which Moses the seruāt of the Lord gaue them.

^f That is, the sacrifices and offerings, Chap. 18, 14.

ⁱ Then the men arose, and went their way: and Ioshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Departe, and go through the land, and ^g describe it, and returne to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.

^g By writing the names of euery countrey and citie.

ⁱ So the men departed, and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seuen partes in a booke, and returned to Ioshua into the campe at Shiloh.

ⁱ Then Ioshua ^h cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord, and there Ioshua deuided the land vnto the children of Israel, according to their portions:

^h That euery one shulde be content wth Gods appointment.

ⁱ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came forth according to their families, and the coast of their lot lay ⁱ betwene the children of Iudah, and the children of Ioseph.

ⁱ Their inheritance bordered vpon Iudah and Ioseph.

ⁱ And their coast on the Northside was from Iordan, and the border went vp to the side of Iericho on the Northparte, & went vp through the mountaines Westward, and the ends thereof are in the wildernesses of Beth-auen:

ⁱ And this border goeth along from thence to Luz, ^k even to the Southside of Luz (the same is ^k Beth-el) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addar, nere the moue, that lieth on the Southside of Beth-horon the nether.

^k Which was in the tribe of Ephraim another Beth-el was in the tribe of Manasse.

ⁱ So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the moue that lieth before Beth-horon Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kirjath-baal (which is Kirjath-earim) a citie of the children of Iudah: this is the Westquarter.

ⁱ And the Southquarter is from the end of Kirjath-earim, and this border goeth out ^l Westward, and cometh to the fountaine of waters of Nephtoa.

^l Or in the Str.

ⁱ And this border descendeth at the end of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Beth-hinnom, which is in the valley of the ^m gyantes Northward, & descendeth into the valley of Hinnom by the side of ⁿ Iebusi Southward, and goeth downe to En-rogel,

^m Or, Rephaim.

ⁿ Or, Ierusalem.

ⁱ And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to ^o En-shemesh, & stretcheth to Geliloth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the ^p stone of Bohan the sonne of Reuben.

^o Which is in the tribe of Ephraim.

^p Chap. 15, 6.

ⁱ So it goeth along to the side ouer against the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

ⁱ After, this border goeth along to the side of Beth-hoglah Northward: & the ends thereof, that is, of the border, reache to the point of the salt Sea Northward, and to the ^q end of Iordan Southward: this is the Southcoast.

^q To the very streit, where the river runneth into the salt Sea.

20 Also

20 Also Iordén is the border of it on the Eastside : this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín by the coastes thereof round about according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Beniamín according to their families, are Ierichó, and Beth-hogláh, and the valley of Keziz,

22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemarím, and Beth-él,

23 And Auím, and Paráh, and Ophráh,

24 And Chephát, Ammonái, and Ophni, & Gabá: twelue cities with their villages.

25 Gib-ón, and Ramáh, and Beeróth,

26 And Mizpéh, and Chephiráh, and Mozáh,

27 And Rékem, and Irpeél, and Taraláh,

28 And Zelá, Eléph, and Icbusi, (which is

^a Which was not wholly in the tribe of Beniamín, but part of it was also in the tribe of Iudáa.

^a Ierusalém) Gibáth, and Kiriáth: fourtene cities with their villages : this is the inheritance of the children of Beniamín according to their families.

1 And the seconde lot came out to Simeón, ^{euen} for the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families: and their inheritace was in the ^a middes of the inheritance of the children of Iudáh.

^a According to Iacob's promise, that he shoulde be scattered among the other tribes, Gen 49.7.

2 Now they had in their inheritance, Beer-sheba, & Sheba, and Moladáh,

4 And E'tolád, and Bethúil, and Hoimáh,

5 And Ziklág, and Beth-ma'cabóth, and Hazar-susah,

6 And Beth-lebaóth, and Sharuhén: thirtene cities with their villages.

7 Ain, Remmón, and Ether, & Ashán: foure cities with their villages.

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities, vnto Baalathbeer, and

^b Ráma: Southwarde. this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeón according to their families.

9 Out of the porcion of the children of Iudáh ^c came the inheritance of the childre of Simeón: for the parte of the children of Iudáh was to ^b muche for them: therefore the children of Simeón had their inheritance within their inheritance.

^b But this large porcion was given them by Gods providence, to declare their increase in time to come.

10 ¶ Also the third lot arose for the children of Zebulun according to their families: and the coastes of their inheritace came to Saríd,

^c Meaning, to the side the great Sea.

11 And their border goeth vnto Westwarde, ^{euen} to Maraláh, and reacheth to Dabbásheth, & meeteth with the riuér that lyeth before Iokneám,

12 And turneth from Saríd Eastwarde

towarde the sunne rising vnto the border of Chisloth tabór, & goeth out to Dabériáth, and ascendeth to Iaphía, 13 And from thence goeth along Eastwarde towarde the sunne rising to Gittáh hépher to Ittáh kazín, and goeth forth to Rimmón, and turneth to Neáh.

14 And this border compasseth it on the Northside to Hannathón, and the ends thereof are in the valley of Iiphtah-él, 15 And Kattáth, and Nahallál, and Shimlón, and Idaláh, and ^d Beth-léhem: twelue cities with their villages.

^d There was another Beth-léhem in the tribe of Iudáh.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun according to their families: ^{that is,} these cities and their villages.

17 ¶ The fourthe lot came out to Issachár, ^{euen} for the children of Issachár according to their families.

18 And their coast was Izre'elah, and Cheshullóth, and Shuném,

19 And Hapharáim, and Shíon, and Anaharáth,

20 And Harabbíth, & Kishíon, and Abez,

21 And Reméth, and ^e Enganním, and En-haddáh, and Beth-pazzéz.

^e There was another city of this name in the tribe of Iudáh for vnder diuers tribes certaine cities had all one name, and were distinguished by the tribe only.

22 And this coast reacheth to Tabór, and Shahazimáth, and Beth-shémesh, and the ends of their coast reache to Iordén: sixtene cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the childre of Issachár according to their families: ^{that is,} the cities, and their villages.

24 ¶ Also the fifté lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ashér according to their families.

25 And their coast was Helcáth, and Halí, and Beten, and Achsháph,

4 And I gaue vnto Izhāk, Iaakōb & Esāur: and I gaue vnto *Esāur mount Seir, to possesse it: but *Iaakōb and his children wēt downe into Egypt.

5 *I sent Mosēs also and Aarōn, and I plagued Egypt. & whē I had so done among them, I brought you out.

Exod 14.9.

7 Then they cryed vnto the Lord, and he put "a darcknes betwene you & the Egyptiāns, and brought the Sea vpon them, and couered them: so your eyes haue sene what I haue done in Egypt: also ye dwelt in the wildernes "a long season.

THE BOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit there is nothing that more prouoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasing and heinous that can turne backe Gods loue from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred into the land of Candan, and sawe the trueth of Gods promises performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefites and giuing thanks for the same, they fell to moste horrible obliuion of Gods graces, contrarie to their sol-mne promises made vnto Ioshúa, and so prouoked his vengeance (as muche as in them stode) to their utter destruction. Whereof as they had moste euident signes by the mutabilitie of their state: for he suffered them to be moste cruelly vexed and torment: d by tyrants: he pulled them from libertie, and cast them into slauerie, to the intent they might fele their owne miseries and so call vnto him and be deliuered. Yet to shewe that his mercies indure for euer, he raised vp from time to time suche as shoulde deliuer them and assure them of his fauour and grace, if they wolde turne to him by true repentance. And these deliuerers the Scripture calleth Iudges, because they were executers of Gods iudgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised vp, as it semed best to God, for the gouernance of his people. They were twelue in number besides Ioshúa, and gouerned from Ioshúa vnto Saúl the first King of Israel. Ioshúa and these vnto the tyme of Saúl ruled 336 yeres. In this boke are manie notable points declared, but two especially: first, the battel that the Church of God hath for the maintenance of true religion against idolatrie and superstition: next, what great danger that commune wealthis in, when as God giueth not a magistrate to reteine his people in the purities of religion and in true seruice.

Iudah is preferred.

Iudges.

C H A P. I.

After Ioshua was dead, Iudah was constitute captain. 6 Adoni-bézek is takē. 14 The request of Achish. 16 The children of Keni. 19 The Canaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

a By the iudgement of Vrim: read Exo. 28, 30. nom. 27, 21. 1 Sam. 28, 6. b Who shalbe our Captaine

After y Ioshua was dead, y childre of Israël asked the Lord, saying: Who shal go vp for vs against the Canaanites, to fight against them?

2 And the Lord said, Iudah shal go vp: beholde, I haue giuen the land into his hand.

c For the tribe of Simeon had their inheritance within y tribe of Iudah, 1oth. 19, 1.

3 And Iudah said vnto Simeon his brother, Come vp with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites: and I likewise wil go with thee into thy lot: so Simeon went with him.

4 Then Iudah went vp, and the Lord deliuered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hands, and they slawe of them in Bézek ten thousand men.

e Or, the lord of Bézek.

5 And they founde Adoni-bézek in Bézek: and they fought against him, and slew the Canaanites, and the Perizzites.

d This was Gods iust iudgement, as the tyrant him self confessed, y as he had done, so did he receive, Luc. 24, 19.

6 But Adoni-bézek fled, and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut of the thumbs of his hands and of his fete.

7 And Adoni-bézek said, Seuentie Kings hauing the thumbs of their hands and of their fete cut of, gathered bread vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hathe rewarded me. so they brought him to Ierusalém, and there he dyed.

8 (Now the children of Iudah had fought against Ierusalém, and had takē it & smitten it with the edge of the sword, and had set the citie on fire)

e Which was after ward buylt againe, & possesse d by y Iebusites, 2. Sam. 5, 6.

9 ¶ Afterwarde also the children of Iudah went downe to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in y mountaine, and toward the South, and in the lowe countrey.

f These three were gyats, & the children of Anak.

10 And Iudah wēt against the Canaanites, that dwelt in Hebrón, which Hebrón beforetime was called *Kiriath-arbá: and they slawe Sheshái, and Ahimán & Talmai.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debír, and the name of Debír in olde time was Kiriath-sépher.

12 And Caléb said, He y smiteth Kiriath-sépher, & taketh it, euen to him wil I giue Achsáh my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniél the sonne of Kenáz Calébs yonger brother toke it, to whome he gaue Achsáh his daughter to wife.

g Read Iosh. 25, 18.

14 And whē she came to him, she moued him to aske of her father a field, & she lighted of her asse, and Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 And she answered him, Giue me a blessing: for thou hast giuen me a South contrei, giue me also springs of water: and Caléb gaue her the springs aboue and the springs beneth.

16 ¶ And the children of h Keni Mosés father in lawe went vp out of the citie of the palmetrees with the children of Iudah, into the wilderness of Iudah, that lieth in the South of Arád, and went and dwelt among the people.

h This was one of the names of Mosés father in lawe, read Nom. 19, 29.

17 But Iudah went with Simeon his brother, and they slewe the Canaanites that inhabited Zepháh, and vtterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie *Hormáh.

Nom. 21, 8.

18 Also Iudah toke Azzáh with the coastes thereof, & Askelón with the coastes thereof, and Ekron with the coastes thereof.

i These cities & others were afterward possessed of the Philistines, 1. Sam. 6, 17.

19 And the Lord was with Iudah, and he possessed the mountaines: for he coulde not driue out the inhabitants of the valleys, because they had charrets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebrón vnto Caléb, as *Mosés had said, and he expelled thence the thre sonnes of Anak.

Nom. 34, 39. Iosh. 14, 13.

21 But the children of Beniamín did not cast out the Iebusites, that k inhabited Ierusalém: therefore the Iebusites dwel with the children of Beniamín in Ierusalém vnto this day.

k For after y the tribe of Iudáh had burnt it, they build it againe.

22 ¶ They also that were of the house of Ioséph, went vp to Beth-él, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the house of Ioséph caused to vewe Beth-él (and the name of the citie beforetime was *Luz)

Gen. 28, 19.

24 And the spies sawe a man come out of the citie, & they said vnto him, Shewe vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, * and we wil shewe thee mercie.

Iosh. 2, 14.

25 And when he had shewed them the way into the citie, they smote the citie with y edge of the sword, but they let the man & all his householde departe.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and buylt a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 ¶ Nether did Manasséh destroy Bethsheán with her townes, nor Taanách with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Lbleám with her townes, nether the inhabitants of Megiddó with her townes: but the Canaanites dwelled still in that land.

Iosh. 17, 12.

28 Neuertheles when Israël was strong, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 ¶ Likewise Ephraím expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gézer among them.

Iosh. 16, 10.

30 ¶ Nether did m Zebulún expel the inhabitants of Kitrón, nor the inhabitants of m That is the tribe of Zebulun, as is also to be vnderstand of y rest.

of Nahalól, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 ¶ Neither did Ashér cast out the inhabitants of Acchó, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahláb, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbáh, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehób, 32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.

3 But made them pay tribute as y others did.

33 ¶ Neither did Naphtalí drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anáth, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: neuertheles the inhabitants of Beth-shémesh, and of Beth-anáth became tributaries vnto them.

Or, afflicted him.

34 And the Amorites droue the children of Dan into the mountaine: so that they suffred them not to come downe to the valley.

Or, wolde not

35 And the Amorites dwelt stil in mount Héies in Aialón, and in Shaalbim, and when the hand of Iosephs familie preuailed, they became tributaries:

Meaning, when he was stronger than they.

36 And the coast of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbim, even from Sélah and vpwarde.

Which was a citie in Arabia, or, as some read, from the rocks.

C H A P. I I.

The Angel rebuketh the people, because they had made peace with the Canaanites. 11 The Israelites set to idolatrie after Ioshuas death. 14 They are deliuered into the enemies hands. 16 God deliuereth them by Iudges 22 Why God suffred idolaters to remaine among them.

a That is, messenger, or Prophet, as some think, Phisachas.

And an Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgál to Bochím, & said, I made you to go vp out of Egypt, & haue brought you vnto the land which I had swoine vnto your fathers, and said, I wil neuer breake my couenant with you.

Deut 7, 2.

Deut. 12, 3.

2 *Ye also shal make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, *but shal breake downe their altars: but ye haue not obeyed my voyce. Why haue ye done this?

Iosh. 23, 13.

3 Wherefore, I said also, I wil not cast the out before you, but they shalbe as thornes vnto your sides, and their gods shalbe your destruction.

Or, sad.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord spake these wordes vnto all the children of Israël, the people list vp their voyce, and wept.

Or, weeping

5 Therefore they called the name of that place, Bochím, and offred sacrifices there vnto the Lord.

b After that he had deuoted to euery man his portion by lot, Josh 24, 28.

6 ¶ Now when Ioshúa had sent the people away, the children of Israël went euerie mā into his inheritance to possesse the land.

7 And the people had serued the Lord all the daies of Ioshúa, and all the daies of the Elders that outlyued Ioshúa, which had sene all the great workes of the Lord that he did for Israël.

c Meaning, the wonders & miracles.

8 But Ioshúa the sonne of Nun the scrúat of the Lord dyed, when he was an hūdreth and ten yeres olde:

9 And they buryed him in the coastes of his inheritance, in Timnath-héies in mount Ephráim, on the Northside of mount Gáash.

d Héies by turning the letters backward is Serch. as Josh. 24, 28.

10 And so all that generacion was gathered vnto their fathers, and another generacion arose after them, which nether knewe the Lord, nor yet the workes, which he had done for Israël.

11 ¶ The children of Israël did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, and serued Baalim, e That is, a manner of idolatry.

12 And forsoke the Lord God of their fathers, which broght them out of the land of Egypt, & followed other gods, enē the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto them, & prouoked the Lord to angre.

13 So they forsoke the Lord, & serued Baal and Ashtaróth.

f These were idols, which had the forme of an ewe of shepe among the Sidonians.

14 And the wrath of the Lord was hote against Israël, and he deliuered them into the hands of spoilers, that spoiled them, & he solde them into the hands of their enemies round about the, so that their colde shal no longer stand before their enemies.

g Psal 44, 13.

15 ¶ Whether soeuer they went out, the hand of the Lord was sore against them, as the Lord had said, & as the Lord had sworne vnto them: so he punished them sore.

g In all their enterprises h The vengeance.

16 ¶ Notwithstanding, the Lord raised vp Iudges, which deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressors.

i Or, deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressors.

17 But yet they wolde not obey their Iudges: for they went a whoring after other gods, and worshipped them, & turned quickly out of the way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandments of the Lord: they did not so.

j Meaning, from the true religion.

18 And when the Lord had raised them vp Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and deliuered them out of the hand of their enemies all the daies of the Iudge (for the Lord had compassion of their groanings, because of them that oppressed them & tormented them)

k Elc reprimand k Seeing their crueltie.

19 Yet when the Iudge was dead, they returned, and did worse then their fathers, in following other gods to serue them and worship them: they ceased not from their owne inuencions, nor from their rebellious way.

l Chap 3, 12. m Or, corrupt. the wayes.

20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël, & he said, Because this people hatne transgressed my couenant, which I commanded their fathers, & haue not obeyed my voyce,

21 Therefore wil I no more cast out before them any of the nations, which Ioshúa left when he dyed, n As the Hittites, Iubusites, Amorrhites, &c.

^a So ^h bothe outward enemies and false Prophets are but a tryal to proue ^o faith, ^{Deut. 32. 17.}

That through them I may ^m proue Israél, whether they wil kepe the way of the Lord, to walke therein, as their fathers kept it, or nor.

So the Lord left those nacions, & droue them not out immediatly, nether deliuered them into the hand of Ioshúa.

C H A P. III.

^T Hese now are the nacions which the Lord left, that he might proue Israél by them (^{euen} as many of Israél as had not knownen all the ^a warres of Canaan,

^a Which were ached by ^h hand of God, ² and not by the power of man.

Onely to make the generacions of the children of Israél to knowe, and to teache them warre, which douteles their predecessors knewe ^b not)

^b For their trusted in God & he fought for them.

Fiue princes of the Philistims, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hiuites that dwelt in mount Lebanón, from mount Báal hermón vnto one come to Hamath.

And these remained to proue Israél by them, to wit, whether they wolde obey the commandements of the Lord, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

And the children of Israél dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hittites, & the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites,

^a Contrary to Gods commandement, Deut. 7. 1.

And they toke ^c their daughters to be their wiues, and gaue their daughters to their sonnes, and serued their gods.

^d Trees or woods erected for idolatrye.

¶ So ^h children of Israél did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, & forgate the Lord their God, & serued Baalim, and ^a Ashtoroth.

^{Or, de sepultura.}

Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israél, and he solde them into the hád of Chushán rishatháim King of Arám-naharáim, & the childre of Israél serued Chushán rishatháim eight yeres.

¶ And when the children of Israél cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred vp a sauour to the children of Israél, and he sauéd them, ^{euen} Othniel the sonne of Kenáz, Calebs yonger brother.

^e He was risen vp by the Spirit of the Lord.

^{Or, Syria.}

And the ^c Spirit of the Lord came vpó him, and he iudged Israél, and went out to warre: & the Lord deliuered Chushán rishatháim King of Arám into his hand, and his hand preuailed against Chushán rishatháim.

^f That is, 32. vnder Ioshua, & 8. vnder Othniel.

So the land had rest ^f fourtie yeres, and Othniel the sonne of Kenáz dyed.

^g So ^h the enemies of Gods people haue no power over them, but by Gods appointment.

¶ The children of Israél againe committed wickednes in ^h sight of the Lord: & the Lord ^h strengthened Eglón King of Moáb against Israél, because they had committed wickednes before the Lord.

And he gathered vnto him the children of Ammón, and Amalék, and went and smote Israél, and they possessed the cite of palmetrees.

So the children of Israél serued Eglón King of Moab eightene yeres.

But when the children of Israél cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred them vp a sauour, Ehúd the sonne of Gerá the sonne of Iemini, a man ^{lame} of his right hand: and the children of Israél sent a present by him vnto Eglón King of Moab.

^{Or, Benjamin.}
^{Or, he had a}

And Ehúd made him a dagger with two edges of a cubite length, and he did gird it vnder his raymēt vpon his right thigh,

^{Or, caused a dagger to be made.}

And he presented the gift vnto Eglón King of Moab (and Eglón ^{was} a very fat man)

And whē he had now presented the present, he sent away the people that bare the present,

But he turned againe from the ^b quarris, that were by Gilgál, and said, I haue a secret errand vnto thee, ^o King. Who said, Kepe ^c silence: and all that stode about him, went out from him.

^h Or, as some read, from the places of idoles.

ⁱ Til all be departed.

Then Ehúd came vnto him, (& he sate alone in a somer parler, which he had) & Ehúd said, I haue a message vnto thee fró God. Then he arose out of his throne,

And Ehúd put forthe his left hand, and toke the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly,

So that the hafte went in after the blade: and the fat closed about the blade, so that he colde not drawe the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

Then Ehúd gate him out ^{into} the porch, and shut the dores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

^{Or, hand.}

And when he was gone out, his seruants came: who seing that ^h dores of the parler were locked, they said, Surely he doeth his easment in his somer chambre.

^{Or, he came out with his feet.}

And they taried til they were ashamed: and seing he opened not the dores of the parler, they toke the key, and opened the, and beholde, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

So Ehúd escaped (while they taried) and was passed the quarris, and escaped vnto Seirath.

And when he came home, ^{he} blew a trumpet in mount Ephráim, and the children of Israél went downe with him from the mountaine, and he went before them.

^{Or, caused the trumpet to be blown, & to be blown.}

Then said he vnto them, Followe me: for the Lord hathe deliuered your enemies, ^{euen} Moáb into your hand. So they went downe after him, and toke the passages fages of Iordén toward Moáb, and suf-fied not a man to passe ouer.

<sup>Or, it is g. And

The song and thanksgiving of Deborah and Barák after the victorie

- 1 Then sang Deborah, and Barák the sonne of Abinóam the same day, saying,
- 2 Praise ye the Lord for the auenging of Israël, & for the ^a people that offered the selues willingly.
- 3 Heare, ye Kings, hearken ye princes: I, ^{uen} I wil ling vnto y Lord: I wil ling praise vnto the Lord God of Israël.
- 4 Lord, * when thou wentest out of Seir, when thou departedst out of the field of *Edóm, the earth trembled, & the heauens rained, the cloudes also dropped water.
- 5 *The mountaines melted before y Lord, *as did that Sinái before the Lord God of Israël.
- 6 In the dayes of *Shamgár the sonne of Anáth, in y dayes of *Iaél the hye wayes were ^b vnoccupied, and the trauelers walked through bywayes.
- 7 The townes were not inhabited: they decayed, I say, in Israël, vntil I Deborah came vp, which rose vp a ^c mother in Israël.
- 8 They chose newe gods: then was warre in the gates. Was there a ^d shilde or speare sene among fourtie thousand of Israël?
- 9 Mine heart is set on the gouerners of Israël, & on them that are willing among y people: praise ye the Lord.
- 10 Speake ye that ride on ^e white asses, ye y dwell by Middín, and that walke by the waye.
- 11 For the noyse of the archers ^f appaised among the drawers of water: there shal they rehearse y righteousness of the Lord, his righteousness of his townes in Israël: then did the people of the Lord go downe to the gates.
- 12 Vp Deborah, vp, arise, & sing a song: arise Barák, & lead ^h thy captiuitie captiue, thou sonne of Abinóam.
- 13 For they that remaine, haue dominion ouer the mightie of the people: the Lord hath giuen me dominion ouer the strong.
- 14 Of Ephráim their roote arose against Amalek & after thee, Beniamin ⁱ that fight against thy people, ^j Amalek: of Machir came rulers, and of Zebulún they that handle the penne of the ^k witer.
- 15 And the Princes of Issachái were with Deborah, & ^l Issachár, and also Barák: he was set on his fete in the valley: for the diuisions of Reubén were great ^m thoghtes of heart.
- 16 Why abodest thou among the shepoldes, to heare the bleatings of the flockes? for the diuisions of Reubén were great thoghtes of heart.
- 17 ⁿ Gileád abode beyonde Iordén: & why doeth Dan remaine in shippes? Ashér sa- re on the seashore, and taried in his ^o decayed places.
- 18 But the people of Zebulún and Naphtá- lí haue ieopardie their liues vnto the death in the hye places of the field.
- 19 The Kings came & fought: the fought the Kings of Canáan in Taanách by the waters of Megiddó: they receiued no gaine of ^p money.
- 20 They fought from heauen, ^{uen} the star- res in their courses fought against Sis- ferá.
- 21 The riuer Kishón ^q swept them away, that ancient riuer the riuer Kishón. ^r My soule, thou hast marched valiantly.
- 22 Then were the horschoues broken with the oft beating together of their mighty men.
- 23 Curse ye Meróz: (said the Angel of the Lord) curse the inhabitants thereof, be- cause they came not to helpe the Lord, to helpe the Lord against the mightie.
- 24 Iaél the wife of Heber the Kenite shal be blessed aboute ^s other women: blessed shal she be aboute women dwelling in tents.
- 25 He asked water, & she gaue him mil- ke: she brought forth ^t butter in a lordly dish.
- 26 She put her hand to the naile, and her right hand to the workemans hammer: with the hammer smote she Sisferá: she smote of his head, after she had wounded, & pearced his temples.
- 27 He bowed him downe at her fete, he fel downe, & lay still: at her fete he bowed him downe, and fel: and when he had sonke downe, he lay there ^u dead.
- 28 The mother of Sisferá looked out at a window, and cryed through the lattesse, Why is his charet so long a coming? why tary the ^v wheles of his char: ets?
- 29 Her wise ladyes answered her, Yea. ^w She answered her selfe with her owne wor- des.
- 30 Haue they not gotten, & they deuide the spoyle? euerie man hath a maide or two. Sisferá hath a praye of diuers couloured garments, a praye of sondy coulours made of needle worke: of diuers coulours of needle worke on bothe sides, ^x for the chief of the spoyle.
- 31 So let all thine enemies perish, ^y Lord: but they that loue him, shal be as the ^z sunne when he riseth in his might, and the lād had rest for tie yeies.

CHAP. VI.

1 Israël is oppressed of the Midianites for their wickednes. 14 Gideon is sent to be their deliverer. 37 He af- keth a signe.

1 Afterward the children of Israël com- mitted wickednes in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gaue the into the han- des of Midían seven ye es.

6 So was Israël exceedingly impouerished by the Midianites: therefore the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord.

7 ¶ And when the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 The Lord sent vnto the children of Israël a Prophet, who said vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israël, I haue brought you vp frō Egypt & haue brought you out of the house of bondage, 13 To whome Gideón answered, Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs? and where be all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hathe forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of the Midianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said, Go in this thy might, & thou shalt saue Israël out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

g Or, familie.

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, whereby shal I saue Israël? beholde, my father is poore in Manasséh, and I am the least in my fathers house.

16 Then the Lord said vnto him, I wil therefore be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, then shewe me a signe, that thou talkest with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntil I come vnto thee, and bring mine offering, & lay it before thee. And he said, I wil tary vntil thou come againe.

19 ¶ Then Gideón went in, & made ready a kid, & vnleauened bread of an Epháh of floure, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

*h Of Epháh

20 And the Angel of God said vnto him, Take the flesh and the vnleauened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and powre out the broth: and he did so.

21 ¶ Thē the Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he held in his hand, and touched the flesh & the vnleauened bread: and there arose vp fire out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the vnleauened bread: so the Angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

*i By y power

22 And when Gideón perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideón then said, Alas, my Lord God: * for because I haue sene an Angel of the Lord face to face, I shal dye.

*Exode 33, 20,
chap 13, 22.*

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: feare not, thou shalt not dye.

24 Then Gideón made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, Iehouáh shalom: vnto this day it is in Ophrah, of the fathers of the Ezrites.

j Or, the Lord of peace.

25 ¶ And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, & another bullocke ^k of seuen yeres olde, and destroy the altar of Baal that thy father hathe, and cut downe the groue that is by it,

27 Then Gideón toke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: but because he feared to do it by day for his fathers housholde and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the seconde bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they said one to another, Who hathe done this thing? & when they inquired and asked, they said, Gideón the sonne of Ioásh hathe done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie said vnto Ioásh, Bring out thy sonne, that he may dye: for he hathe destroyed the altar of Baal, & he also cut downe the groue that was by it.

¹³ ¶ So Gideón & some of Ioásh returned from battel, ^j the sunne being yet high,

¹⁴ And toke a seruante of the men of Succóth, and inquired of him: and he ^k wrote to him the princes of Succóth & the Elders thereof, ^l euen seuentie and seuen men.

¹⁵ And he came vnto the men of Succóth, and said, Beholde Zébah and Zalmunna, by whome ye wpbraided me, saying, Are ^h thy hands of Zébah & Zalmunna already in thine háds, that we shulde giue bread vnto thy weay men?

¹⁶ Then he toke the Elders of the citie, & thornes of the wildernes & breers, & ^m did teare the men of Succóth with them.

¹⁷ Also he brake downe the towre of ⁿ Penuél, and slewe the men of the citie.

¹⁸ ¶ Then said he vnto Zébah & Zalmunna, What manner of mé were they, whom ye slew at Tabór? and they answered, As thou art, so were they: ^o enemie one was like the children of a King.

h We came all out of one belly: therefore I will be revenged.

19 And he said, They were my brethren, euen my ^k mothers children: as the Lord liueth, if ye had saued their liues, I wolde not slay you.

20 Then he said vnto Iéther his first borne sonne, Vp, and slay them: but the boy drewe not his sworde: for he feared, because he was yet yong.

l Meaning, that they wolde be rra out of their paine at once, or els to haue a valiant man to puthē to death.

10r, collers

21 Then Zébah and Zalmunná said, Rise thou, and fall vpon vs: for ^l as the man is, so is his strength. And Gideón arose and slewe Zébah and Zalmunná, & toke away the ^m ornaments, that were on their camels neckes.

m That is, thy posteritie

22 ¶ Then the men of Israél said vnto Gideón, Reigne thou ouer vs, bothe thou, & thy sonne, & thy ⁿ sonnes sonne: for thou hast deliuered vs out of y^e hád of Midián.

23 And Gideón said vnto them, I wil not reigne ouer you, nether shal my childre reigne ouer you, but the Lord shal ⁿ reigne ouer you.

n His intent was to shewe him selfe thankfull for this victorie by restoring of religion, which, because it was not according as God had cōmāded, turned to their destruction.

24 Againe Gideón said vnto them, I wolde desire a request of you, that you wolde giue me euerie man the earings of his praye (for they had golden earings because they were Ismaelites)

25 And they answered, We wil giue them. And they spred a garmēt, & did cast therein euerie man the earings of his praye.

26 And the weight of the golden earings that he required, was a thousand and seuen hundredeth shekels of golde, beside collers, ^o and iewels, and purple raiment that was on the Kings of Midián, and beside the cheynes, that were about their camels neckes.

10r, fesse balder.

o That is, such things as pertained to y^e vie of the tabernacle.

27 And Gideón made an ^p Ephód thereof, and put it in Ophrah his citie: & all Israél wēt a whoring there after it, which was the destruction of Gideón and his house.

28 Thus was Midián broght lowe before y^e childre of Israél, so that they lift vp their heads nomore: and the countrey was in quietnes forty yeres in the dayes of Gideón.

29 ¶ Thé Ierubbáal the sonne of Ioásh wēt, and dwelt in his owne house.

p By which came out of his thigh.

30 And Gideón had seuentie sonnes ^q begottē of his body: for he had manie wiues.

31 And his concubine that was in Shechém, bare him a sonne also, whose name he called Abimélech.

32 So Gideón the sonne of Ioásh dyed in a good age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Ioásh his father in Ophrah, of the ^r father of the Ezrites.

q Which citie belonged to the familie of the Ezrites.

33 But when Gideón was dead, the children of Israél turned away and wēt a whoring after Baalím, and made ^s Baal-berith their god.

s That is Baal to, whom they had bounde them selues by covenant.

34 And the children of Israél remembred not the Lord their God, which had deliuered them out of the hands of all their enemies on euerie side.

35 Nether ^t shewed they mercie on the house of Ierubbáal, or Gideón, according to all the goodnes which he had shewed vnto Israél.

r They were vnmindful of God, and vnkyned to vard him, by whom they had receyued so great a benefite.

CHAP. IX.

1 Abimélech vsurpeth the kingdom, and putteth his brethren to death 7 Iothám propoſeth a parable.

23 Hatred betwene Abimélech & the Shechemites.

26 Gaú conspireth against him, and is overcome.

33 Abimélech is wounded to death by a woman.

1 THEN Abimélech the sonne of Ierubbáal went to Shechém vnto his ^a mothers brethren, and cōmuned with them, and with all the familie, and house of his mothers father, saying, a To praſſe with his kind-folkes for the attaining of y^e kingdom.

2 Say, I pray you, in the audience of all the men of Shechém, whether is better for you, that all y^e sonnes of Ierubbáal, which are seuentie persones, reigne ouer you, ether that one reigne ouer you? Remember also, that I am your ^b bone, and your flesh.

b Of your kindred by my mothers side.

3 Then his mothers brethren spake of him in the audiēce of all the men of Shechém, all these wordes: and their heartes were moued to followe Abimélech. for said they, He is our brother.

4 And they gaue him seuentie pieces of siluer out of the house of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimélech hired ^c vaine and light fellowes which followed him.

c Or, idle fellows and vacabonds.

5 And he went vnto his fathers house at Ophrah, and ^c slewe his brethren, the sonnes of Ierubbáal, about seuentie persones vpon one stone: yet Iothám the yongest sonne of Ierubbáal was left: for he hid him selfe.

c Thus tyrſes to establish their vniuersal power spare not the innocent blood, 1. King 10, 7. 2. chro 21, 4.

6 ¶ And all the men of Shechém gathered together with all the house of ^d Milló, and came and made Abimélech King in the plaine, where the stone was erected in Shechém.

d Which was as the towne house or comhal, which he calleth the towne of Shechém vers 494

7 And when they tolde it to Iothám, he went and stode in the top of mount Gerizim, and lift vp his voyce, and cryed, and said vnto them, Hearken vnto me, you men of Shechém, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 ^e The trees wēt forthe to anointe a King ouer them, and said vnto the oliue tre, Reigne thou ouer vs.

e By this parable he declareth, that those that are not ambitious, are most worthy of honour, and that the ambitious abuse their honour bothe to their owne destruction and others.

9 But the oliue tre said vnto them, Shulde I leaue my fatnes, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and go to auance me about the trees?

10 Then the trees said to the fig tre, Come thou, and be King ouer vs.

11 But the fig tre answered them, Shulde I forsake my swetenes, and my good frute, and go to auance me about the trees?

12 Then

- 12 Then said the trees vnto the vine, Come thou & be King ouer vs.
- 13 But the vine said vnto them, Shulde I leaue my wine, whereby I cheare God and man, and go to auance me aboue the trees?
- 14 Thé said all the trees vnto the bramble, Come thou and reigne ouer vs.
- 15 And the bramble said vnto the trees, If ye wil in dede anoint me King ouer you, come, & put your trust vnder my shadow: and if not, the ^f fire shal come out of the bramble, and consume the cedres of Lebanon.
- 16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimélech King, & if ye haue dealt wel with Ierubbáal & with his house, & haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his hands,
- 17 (For my father fought for you, and^a aduentured his life, & deliuered you out of the hands of Midíán.
- 18 And ye are risen vp against my fathers house this day, and haue slayne his children, ^{about} seuentie persones vpon one stone, & haue made Abimélech the sonne of his maideferuant, King ouer the men of Shechém, because he is your brother)
- 19 If ye then haue delt truely and purely with Ierubbáal, and with his house this day, then ^s reioyce ye with Abimélech, and let him reioyce with you.
- 20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimélech, and consume the men of Shechém and the house of Milló: also let a fire come for the fró the men of Shechém, & from the house of Milló, and consume Abimélech.
- 21 And Iothám ranne away, and fled, & wēt to Beér and dwelt there for feare of Abimélech his brother.
- 22 So Abimélech reigned thre yere ouer Israël.
- 23 But God ^h sent an euil spirit betwene Abimélech, and the men of Shechém: and the mé of Shechém brake their promes to Abimélech,
- 24 That the crueltie towards the seuentie sonnes of Ierubbáal & their blood might come and be laide vpon Abimélech their brother, which had slayne them, and vpon ^y men of Shechém, which had aided him to kil his biethren.
- 25 So ^y men of Shechém set men in waite for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: and it was tolde Abimélech.
- 26 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd came with his brethien, and they went to Shechém: and the men of Shechém put their confidence in him.
- 27 Therefore thei ⁱ went out into the field, & gathered in their grapes & troade them, and made mery, and went into the house of their gods, and did eat & drinke, and cursed Abimélech.
- 28 Thé Gáal the sonne of Ebéd said, Who is Abimélech? and who is Shechém, that we shulde serue him? Is he not the sonne of Ierubbáal? & Zebúl is his officer? Serue rather the men of Hamór the father of Shechém: for why shulde we serue him?
- 29 Now wolde God this people were vnder mine hád: then wolde I put away Abimélech. And he said to ^k Abimélech, Increase thine armie, and come out.
- 30 ¶ And when Zebúl the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gáal the sonne of Ebéd, his wrath was kindled.
- 31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimélech ^priuely, saying, Beholde, Gáal the sonne of Ebéd and his brethren be come to Shechém, and beholde, they fortifie the citie against thee.
- 32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and ^y people that is with thee, & lie in wayte in the field.
- 33 And rise early in the morning as soone as the sunne is vp, and assalt the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shal come out against thee, do to him ^{what} thou canst.
- 34 ¶ So Abimélech rose vp, & all the people that were with him by night: and they laie in waite against Shechém in foure bandes.
- 35 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd went out and stode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimélech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, fró lying in waite.
- 36 And when Gáal sawe the people, he said to Zebúl, Beholde, there come people downe from the tops of the mountaines: and Zebúl said vnto him, The ^l shadowe of the mountaines seme men vnto thee.
- 37 And Gáal spake againe, & said, Se, there come folke downe ^{by} the middle of the land, & an other band cometh by the way of the plaine of ^{Meonenim}.
- 38 Then said Zebúl vnto him, Where is now thy mouth, that said, Who is Abimélech, that we shulde serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.
- 39 And Gáal ^m went out before the men of Shechém, and fought with Abimélech.
- 40 But Abimélech pursued him, & he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen and wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.
- 41 And Abimélech dwelt at Arumáh: and Zebúl thrust out Gáal and his brethren that they shulde not dwel in Shechém.
- 42 ¶ And on the morowe, the people went out into the field: which was tolde Abimélech.
- 43 And he toke the ⁿ people, and deuided them into thre bandes, and laid waite in the fields, and looked, & beholde, the people were come out of the citie, & he rose vp against them, and smote them.

- 44 And Abimélech, and the bandes that were with him, rushed forward, & stode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and the two other bandes ranne vpon all the people that were in the field and slewe them.
- 45 And when Abimélech had fought against the citie all that day, he toke the citie, and slewe the people that was therein, & destroyed the citie and sowed salt in it.

^a That it should be vnsuccesful and neuer serue to any use.

^p That is, of Baal-berith, as Chap. 34.

- 46 ¶ And when all the men of the towre of Shechem heard it, they entred into an holde of the house of the god Berith.
- 47 And it was tolde Abimélech, that all the men of the towre of Shechem were gathered together.
- 48 And Abimélech gate him vp to mount Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him: and Abimélech toke axes with him and cut downe boughes of trees and toke them, and bare them on his shoulder, and said vnto the folke that were with him, What ye haue sene me do, make haste, and do like me.

^q Meaning that all were destroyed, as well they in the towre as the other.

- 49 The all the people also cut downe euery man his bough, and followed Abimélech, & put them to the holde, and set the holde on fire wth them: so all the men of the towre of Shechem dyed also, about a thousand men and women.

- 50 ¶ Then went Abimélech to Tebéz, and besieged Tebéz, and toke it.

- 51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, and thither fled all the men and women, and all the chief of the citie, and shut it to them, and went vp to the top of the towre.

- 52 And Abimélech came vnto the towre & fought against it, and went hard vnto the dore of the towre to set it on fire.

^s Sam. 17, 21.

- 53 But a certaine woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon Abimelechs head, & brake his braine pan.

- 54 The Abimélech called hastily his page that bare his harnes, and said vnto him, Drawe thy sworde & slay me, that me say not of me, A woman slewe him. And his page thrust him through, and he dyed.

^r Thus God by such miserable death taketh vengeance on tyrants euen in this life.

- 55 And when the men of Israël sawe that Abimélech was dead, they departed euery man vnto his owne place.

- 56 Thus God rendred the wickednes of Abimélech, which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuenth brethren.

- 57 Also all the wickednes of the me of Shechem did God bring vpon their heades. So vpon the came the curse of Iotham the sonne of Ierubbáal.

^t For making a tyrant their king.

CHAP. X.

^s Tolá dyeth. ^s Iair also dyeth. ¹⁷ The Israelites are punished for their sinnes: ¹⁰ They crye vnto God, ¹⁶ And he heareth their prayer.

After Abimélech there arose to defend Israël, Tolá, the sonne of Puah, the sonne of Dodó, a man of Issachar which dwelt in Shamir in mount Ephraim.

^{or, his name.}

- 2 And he iudged Israël thre and twentie yere and dyed, & was buried in Shamir.

^{Or, governed.}

- 3 ¶ And after him arose Iair a Gileadite, & iudged Israël two and twentie yere.

- 4 And he had thirtie sonnes that rode on thirty assecoltes, & they had thirty cities, which are called Hauoth-Iair vnto this day, and are in the land of Gilead.

^a Signifying, they were men of autoritie.

^{Or, the sonnes of Iair, as Deu. 32, 14.}

- 5 And Iair dyed, & was buried in Kamón.

- 6 ¶ And the childre of Israël wrought wickednes againe in the sight of the Lord, & serued Baalim and Ashtaroth, and the gods of Aram, and the gods of Zidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistims, and forsoke the Lord and serued not him.

^{Chap. 2, 21. & 3, 7. & 4, 1. & 6, 1. & 13, 1. Chap. 2, 17. Or, 5, 11, 12.}

- 7 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israël, and he solde them into the hands of the Philistims, and into the hands of the children of Ammon:

^{Or, deliuered.}

- 8 Who from that yere vexed and oppressed the children of Israël eightene yeres, b euen all the children of Israël that were beyonde Iordén, in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead.

^b As the Reubenites, Gadites, & half the tribe of Manasséh.

- 9 Moreover the children of Ammon went ouer Iordén to fight against Iudáh, and against Beniamin, and against the house of Ephraim: so Israël was sore tormented.

- 10 Then the children of Israël cryed vnto the Lord, saying, We haue sinned against thee, eue because we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

^c They prayed to the Lord & confessed their sinnes.

- 11 And the Lord said vnto the children of Israël, did not I deliuer you from the Egyptians & from the Amorites, from the children of Ammon & from the Philistims?

^d By stirring them vp some Prophet, as Chap. 6, 8.

- 12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maobites did oppresse you, & ye cryed to me and I saued you out of their hands.

- 13 Yet ye haue forsaken me, and serued other gods: wherefore I wil deliuer you nomore.

^{Deut. 32, 15. serm. 2, 13.}

- 14 Go, and crye vnto the gods which ye haue chosen. let them saue you in the time of your tribulacion.

- 15 And the children of Israël said vnto the Lord, We haue sinned: do thou vnto vs whatsoeuer please thee: onely we pray thee to deliuer vs this day.

^e That is, from this present danger.

- 16 Then they put away y^e strange gods from among them & serued y^e Lord. & his soule was grieved for the miserie of Israël.

^f This is true repentance to put away the euil, & to serue God aright.

- 17 Then the childre of Ammon gathered the felues together, & pitched in Gilead: and the children of Israël assembled them felues, felues, and pitched in Mizpéh.

- 18 And the people and princes of Gileád said one to an other, Whosoever wil begin the bartel against the childré of Ammón, the same shal be * head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

Chap. 12, 6.

CHAP. XI.

- 2 Iphtáh being chased away by his brethren, was after made captaine ouer Israël. 30 He maketh a rashe vowe. 32 He vanquisheth the Ammonites. 39 And sacrificeth his daughter according to his vowe.

^a Ebr. a man of mightie force. ^b Or, a sailor.

- 1 Then Gileád begate Iphtáh, & Iphtáh the Gileadite was ^a a valiant man, but the sonne of an ^b harlot.

^a That is, of an harlot, as ver. 1.

- 2 And Gileads wife bare him sonnes, and when ^c y womā's childré were come to age, they thrust out Iphtáh, and said vnto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our fathers house: for thou art ^c y sonne of a ^d strange womā.

^b Where the gouernour of the countrey was called Tob.

- 3 Then Iphtáh fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of ^b Tob: and there gathered ydle fellowes to Iphtáh, and ^e went out with him.

^c Ioyned with him, as some thinke, against his brethren.

- 4 ¶ And in proceſſe of time the children of Ammón made warre with Israël.

^d Or, ambassadors, sent for that purpose.

- 5 And whē the children of Ammón fought with Israël, ^d the Elders of Gileád went to fet Iphtáh out of the land of Tob.

^e Men oft times are constrained to desire helpe of them, whome before they haue refused. ^f Oft tymes those things, w^{ch} me reſe^t, God choſeth to do great enterprises by.

- 6 And they said vnto Iphtáh, ^e Come and be our captaine, that we may fight with the children of Ammón.

- 7 Iphtáh then answered the Elders of Gileád, Did not ye hate me, and ^f expel me out of my fathers house: how then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulation?

- 8 Then the Elders of Gileád said vnto Iphtáh, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou maieſt go with vs, & fight against the children of Ammón, & be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gileád.

- 9 And Iphtáh said vnto the Elders of Gileád, If ye bring me home againe to fight against ^g y children of Ammón, if the Lord giue them before me, shal I be your head?

^g Ebr. be the leader.

- 10 And ^g y Elders of Gileád said to Iphtáh, The Lord ^h be witnes betwene vs, if we do not according to thy wordes.

- 11 Then Iphtáh went with the Elders of Gileád, and the people made him head and captaine ouer them: and Iphtáh rehearsed all his wordes before the Lord in Mizpéh.

- 12 ¶ Then Iphtáh sent messengers vnto the King of the children of Ammón, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me, to fight in my land?

^h Numb. 21, 13.

- 13 And the King of the children of Ammón answered vnto the messengers of Iphtáh, * Because Israël toke my lād, whē they came vp frō Egypt, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and vnto Iordén: now therefore restore those lands, quietly.

ⁱ Ebr. in peace.

- 14 Yet Iphtáh sent messengers againe vnto the King of the children of Ammón,

- 15 And said vnto him, Thus saith Iphtáh, * Israël toke not the land of Moáb, nor the ⁱ land of the children of Ammón. ⁱ Dent. 2, 9.

- 16 But when Israël came vp from Egypt, and walked through the wilderness vnto the red Sea, then they came to Kadésh.

- 17 * And Israël sent messengers vnto the ^j King of Edóm, saying, Let me, I pray thee, go through thy lād: but the King of Edóm wold not consent: and also they sent vnto the King of Moáb, but he wolde not: therefore Israël abode in Kadésh. ^j Num. 20, 25.

- 18 Then they went through the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edóm, and the land of Moáb, and came by the Eastside of ^k y lād Moáb, and pitched on the other side of Arnón, * and came not within ^k y coast of ^k Moáb: for Arnón was ^k y border of Moáb. ^k Numb. 21, 13. ^k 22, 24.

- 19 Also Israël * sent messengers vnto Sihón, ^l King of the Amorites, the King of He-

- shbón, & Israël said vnto him, Let vs passe, we pray thee, by thy lād vnto our ^l place. ^l Or, our way, ^l He raised the not to go through his countrey.

- 20 But Sihón ^m consented not to Israël, that ^m he shulde go through his coast: but Sihón gathered all his people together, and pitched in Iaház, and fought with Israël.

- 21 And the Lord God of Israël gaue Sihón and all his folke into the hands of Israël, and they smote the: so Israël possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey.

- 22 And they possessed * all the coast of the ⁿ Amorites, from Arnón vnto Iabbók, and from the wilderness euen vnto Iordén.

- 23 Now therefore the Lord God of Israël hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israël, & shuldest thou possesse it?

- 24 Woldest not thou possesse that which Chemósh thy god gueth thee to possesse? So whomeſoever the ^o Lord our God dri-

- ueth out before vs, them wil we possesse. ^o For we ought more to beleue and obey God, the thug- ^o thinge idoles. ^o Numb. 22, 2. ^o dent. 23, 4. ^o 15/16 24, 9.

- 25 * And art thou now farre better then Balaák the sonne of Zippor King of Moáb: did he not strue with Israël and fight against them, ^p Meaning their to wives.

- 26 When Israël dwelt in Heshbón and in her townes, and in Aroér & in her townes, and in all the cities that are by the coasts of Arnón, thre hundredth yerces: why did ye not then recouer ^q them in that space? ^q To punish the offender.

- 27 Wherefore, I haue not offended thee: but thou doest me wróg to warre against me. The Lord the Iudge ^r be iudge this day ^r betweene the children of Israël, and the children of Ammón. ^r To punish the offender.

- 28 Howebeit the King of the children of Ammón hearkened not vnto the wordes of Iphtáh, which he had sent him.

- 29 ¶ Then the ^s Spirit of the Lord came ^s vpon Iphtáh, & he passed ouer to Gileád and to Manasséh, and came to Mizpéh in ^s strength and ^s 21/26.

Gileád, and from Mizpéh in Gileád he went vnto the children of Ammón.

^m As the A-postle commē-deth Iphtáh for his worthy enterprise in deliuering the people, Ebr. 11.
32: so by his rash vowe & wicked performance of the same, his victo-rie was defaced: and here we see that the sinnes of the godly do not utterly extinguish their faith.

30 And Iphtáh ^m vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammón in to mine hands,

Thē that thing that commeth out of the dores of mine house to mete me, when I come home in peace from the children of Ammón, shal be the Lords, and I wil offer it for a burnt offering.

And so Iphtáh went vnto the children of Ammón to fight against them, and the Lord deliuered them into his hands.

And he smote them from Aroér euē til y come to Minnith, twentie cities, and so forthe to Abél of the vineyardes, with an exceeding great slaughter. Thus the chil-drē of Ammón were humbled before the children of Israël.

Now whē Iphtáh came to Mizpéh vnto his house, beholde, his daughter came out to mete him with timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: he had none other sonne, nor daughter.

And when he sawe her, he rent his clothes, and said, Alas my daughter, thou hast brought me low, & art of thē that trouble me: for I haue opened my mouthe vnto
the Lord, and can not go backe.

And she said vnto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouthe vnto the Lord, do with me as thou hast promised, seeing that the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammón.

Also she said vnto her father, Do thus much for me: suffice me two monethes, that I may go to the mountaines, and bewaile my virginittie, I and my fellowes.

And he said, Go: and he sent her away two monethes: so she went with her companions, and lamented her virginittie vpō the mountaines.

And after the end of two monethes, she turned againe vnto her father, who did with her according to his vowe which he had vowed, and she had knowen no man, and it was a custome in Israël.

The daughters of Israël went yere by yere to lament the daughter of Iphtáh the Gileadite, foure dayes in a yere.

CHAP. XII.

6 Iphtáh killeth two & fortie thousand Ephraimites.
8 After Iphtáh succedeth Ibzán, 11 Elón, 13 And Abdón.

And the men of Ephráim gathered thē selues together, and went Northward and said vnto Iphtáh, Wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammón, and didest not call vs to go with thee? we wil therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

And Iphtáh said vnto thē, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammón, and when I called you, ye de-liuered me not out of their hands.

So when I sawe y^e ye deliuered me not, I put my life in mine hāds, & went vpon the children of Ammón: so y^e Lord deliuered them into mine hands. Wherefore thē are ye come vpō me now to fight against me?

Then Iphtáh gathered all the men of Gileád, and fought with Ephráim: & the men of Gileád smote Ephráim, because they said, Ye Giliadites are runagates of Ephráim among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.

Also the Giliadites toke the passages of Iordén before the Ephraimites, and when the Ephraimites that were escaped, said, Let me passe, then the men of Gileád said vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he said, Nay,

Thē said they vnto him, Say now Shib-boleth: and he said, Sibboleth: for he col-de not so pronounce: then they toke him, and slewe him at the passages of Iordén:
and there fel at that time of the Ephrai-mites two and forty thousand.

And Iphtáh iudged Israël six yere: then died Iphtáh the Giliadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gileád.

After him Ibzán of Beth-léhem iudged Israël,

Who had thirtie sonnes and thirtie daughters, which he sent out, and toke in thirtie daughters from abroad for his sonnes.
and he iudged Israël seven yere.

Then Ibzán dyed, and was buried at Beth-léhem.

And after him iudged Israël Elón, a Zebulonite, and he iudged Israël ten yere.

Then Elón the Zebulonite dyed, & was buried in Aiialón in the countrey of Ze-bulún.

And after him Abdón y^e sonne of Hillél the Pirathonite iudged Israël.

And he had fortie sonnes & thirtie ne-wews that rode on seuentie affecoltes: and he iudged Israël eight yeres.

Then dyed Abdón the sonne of Hillél y^e Pirathonite, and was buried in Pirathón, in the land of Ephráim, in the mount of the Amalekites.

3 And the Angell of the Lord appeared vnto the woman, and ſaid vnto her, Beholde now, thou art baren, and beareſt not: but thou ſhalt conceiue, and beare a ſonne.

Nomb 6, 2. 4 And nowe therefore beware* that thou drinke no wine, nor ſtrong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing.

1 Sam 1, 11. 5 For lo, thou ſhalt conceiue and beare a ſonne, & no ſafor ſhal* come on his head: for the childe ſhal be a^b Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and he ſhal begin to ſaue Iſraél out of the hands of the Philiftims.

b Meaning, he ſhulde be ſeperate from the worlde and dedicate to God.

6 ¶ Then the wife came, & tolde her houſband, ſaying, A man of God came vnto me, and the facion of him was like the facion of y^c Angel of God exceding^c fearful, but I asked him not whence he was, nether tolde he me his name, c If ſeeth be notable to abide the fight of an Angel, how much leſſe the preſence of God?

7 But he ſaid vnto me, Beholde, thou ſhalt conceiue, and beare a ſonne, and now thou ſhalt drinke no wine, nor ſtrong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing: for the childe ſhal be a Nazarite to God from his byrth to the day of his death.

d He ſheweth him ſelfe ready to obey Gods wil, and therefore deſireth to knowe farther.

8 Then Manóah^d prayed to the Lord and ſaid, I pray thee, my Lord, let the man of God, whome thou ſenteſt, come againe now vnto vs, and reache vs what we ſhal do vnto the childe when he is borne.

9 And God heard the voyce of Manóah, & the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife, as the ſate in the field, but Manóah her houſband was not with her.

10 ¶ And the wife made haſte & ranne, and ſhewed her houſband and ſaid vnto him, Beholde, the man hath appeared vnto me, that came vnto me^e to day.

e It ſemeth y^e the Angel appeared vnto her twice in one day

11 And Manóah aroſe and went after his wife, and came to the^f man, and ſaid vnto him, Art thou the man that ſpakeſt vnto the woman? and he ſaid, Yea.

f He calleth him man, becauſe he ſo ſemed, but he was Chriſt the eternal worde, which at his time appointed becauſe man.

12 Then Manóah ſaid, Now let thy ſaying come to paſſe: but how ſhal we orde the childe, and do vnto him?

13 And y^e Angel of the Lord ſaid vnto Manóah, The woman muſt beware of all that I ſaid vnto her.

14 She may eat of nothing that cometh of the vine: ſhe ſhal not drinke wine nor ſtrong drinke, nor eat anie^g vncleane thing: let her obſerue all that I haue commanded her.

g Anie thing forbidden by the Lawe

15 Manóah then ſaid vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let vs reſtaine thee, vntil we haue made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the Angel of the Lord ſaid vnto Manóah, Though thou make me abide, I wil not eat of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offering, offer it vnto the^h Lord: for Manóah knewe not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

h Shewing y^e he ſought not his owne honor, but Gods, whoſe meſſenger he was.

17 Againē Manóah ſaid vnto y^e Angel of y^e

Lord, What is thy name, y^e whē thy ſaying is come to paſſe, we may honour thee?

18 And y^e Angel of the Lord ſaid vnto him, Why aſkeſt y^e thus after my name, which is ſecret?

Or, my name is ſeete?

19 Then Manóah toke a kid with a meat offering, and offered it vpon a ſtone vnto the Lord: and the Angel didⁱ wonderouſly, whiles Manóah and his wife loked on.

i God ſent fire from heauen to conſume their ſacrifice, to confirme their faith in his promes.

20 For when the flame came vp towarde heauen from the altar, the Angel of the Lord aſcended vp in the flame of the altar, and Manóah and his wife beheld it, & fel on their faces vnto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manóah and his wife) The Manóah knewe that it was an Angel of y^e Lord.

22 And Manóah ſaid vnto his wife, *We ſhal ſurely dye, becauſe we haue ſene God.

Exod 33, 16 chap 6, 22.

23 But his wife ſaid vnto him, If the Lord wolde kil vs, he wolde not haue receiued a burnt offering, and a meat offering of our hands, nether wolde he haue ſhewed vs all theſe things, nor wolde now haue tolde vs anie ſuche.

k Theſe graces y^e we haue receiued of God, & his accepting of our obedience, are ſure tokens of his loue toward vs. ſo y^e nothing can hurt vs

24 ¶ And the wife bare a ſonne, and called his name Samſón: and the childe grewe, & the Lord bleſſed him.

Or, so come vnto him at diuers times.

25 And the Spirit of y^e Lord began to ſtrengthen^l him in the hoſte of Dan, betwene Zoráh, and Eſhtaól.

C H A P. XIII.

2 Samſón deſireth to haue a wife of the Philiftims. 6 He killeth a lyon. 12 He propoundeth a riddle. 19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forſaketh him and taketh another.

1 N OW Samſón went downe to Timnath, and ſawe a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiftims,

2 And he came vp and tolde his father and his mother, and ſaid, I haue ſene a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philiftims: now therefore giue me her to wife.

lbr take her for me to wife.

3 The his father and his mother ſaid vnto him, Is there neuer a wife among y^e daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou muſt go to take a wife of the vncircūciſed Philiftims? And Samſón ſaid vnto his father, Giue me her, for ſhe pleaſeth me wel.

a Though his parents did indely reprove him, yet it appeareth y^e this was y^e ſecret worke of the Lord, verſ. 4 4 But his father and his mother knewe not that it came of the Lord, that he ſhulde ſeek an occaſion againſt the^b Philiftims: for at that time the Philiftims reigned ouer Iſraél.

b To fight againſt the for the deliuerance of Iſraél.

5 ¶ Then went Samſón and his father and his mother downe to Timnath, and came to y^e vineyardes at Timnath: & beholde, a yong lyon roared vpon him.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he tare him, as one ſhulde haue rent a kid, and had nothing in his hand, nether tolde he his father nor his mother what he had done.

7 And he went downe, and talked with the woman which was beautiful in the eyes of Samſón.

Or, to take her to his wife.

8 ¶ And within a fewe dayes, whē he returned to receiue her, he went aside to se the carkeis of the lyon: and beholde, there was a swarme of bees, and hony in the body of the lyon.

9 And he toke thereof in his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and to his mother, and gaue vnto them, and they did eat: but he tolde not them, that he had taken the hony out of the bodie of y^e lyon.

*a Meaning, when he was married.
c That is, her parents or friends.*

10 So his father went downe vnto the woman, and Samſón made there a d^d feast: for so vſed the yong men to do.

11 And when e^e they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 Then Samſón said vnto them, I wil now put forthe a riddle vnto you: & if you can declare it me within seven dayes of the feast, and finde it out, I wil giue you thirtie shetes, and thirtie f^f change of garmets.

f To weare at feastes, or solemne dayes.

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then shal ye giue me thirtie shetes and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put forthe thy riddle, that we may heare it.

14 And he said vnto them, Out of the eatter came meat, and out of the strong came swetenes: & they colde not in thre dayes expounde the riddle.

g Or, drewe nere: or it was y^e fourth day.

15 And when the seuenth day was e^e come, they said vnto Samſons wife, Entise thyne housband, that he may declare vs the riddle, lest we burne thee and thy fathers house with fire. Haue ye called vs, to possesse vs? is it not so?

h Or, is impoſſible vs.

16 And Samſons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hateſt me and loueſt me not: for thou haſt put forthe a riddle vnto the h^h children of my people, and haſt not tolde it me. And he said vnto her, Beholde, I haue not tolde it my father, nor my mother, and shal I tel it thee?

i Vnto them, which are of my nation.

17 Then Samſons wife wept before him a feuen dayes, while their feast lasted: and when the seuenth day came, he tolde her, because she was importunate vpon him: so she tolde the riddle to the children of her people.

k Or, to the seuenth day, beginning at the fourth.

18 And the men of the citie said vnto him the seuenth day before the sonne went downe, What is sweter, then honie? and what is stronger then a lyon? Then said he vnto them, k^k If ye had not plowed w^w my heiffer, ye had not founde out my riddle.

l If ye had not vſed the helpe of my wife.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he went downe l^l to Ashkelon, and slewe thirtie men of them & spoiled the, and gaue change of garments vnto them, which expounded the riddle: & his wrath.

20 The Samſons wife was giuen to his companion, whome he had vſed as his friend.

CHAP. XV.

4 Samſon tieth firebrādes to the foxe tails. 6 The Philistims burne his father in lawe & his wife. 15 With the iawebone of an asse he killeth a thousand men. 19 Out of a great tothe, in the iawe God gaue him water.

1 B^But within a while after, in the time of wheat haruest, Sāſón viſited his wife with a kid, saying, I wil a^a go into my wife into the chāber: but her father wolde not suffre him to go in.

a That is, wil vſe her as my wife.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou haddest hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companion. Is not her yonger sister fairer then she? take her, I pray thee, in stead of the other.

3 The Samſón said vnto them, Now am I more b^b blameles the the Philistims: therefore wil I do them displeasure.

b For through his fathers in laws occasion, he was moued againe to take vengeance of y^e Philistims.

4 ¶ And Samſón went out, & toke thre hundred foxes, and toke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrand in the middes betwene two tailles.

5 And when he had set the brandes on fier, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistims, and burnt vp bothe the c^c riekes & the standing corne with the vineyardes & oliues.

c Or, that w^h was reaped & gathered.

6 Then the Philistims said, Who hathe done this? And they answered, Samſón the sonne in lawe of the d^d Timnite, because he had taken his wife, & giuen her to his companion. Then the Philistims came vp and e^e burnt her and her father with fire.

d Or, y^e citize of Timnath.

7 And Samſón said vnto them, Though ye haue done this, yet wil I be auenged of you, and then I wil cease.

*e So y^e wicked punish not vice for loue of iustice, but for feare of dāgers, w^h els might come to them.
f Or, boſſeme & fersmen.*

8 So he smote them h^hippe and thigh with a mighty plague: then he went and dwelt in the toppe of the rocke Etām.

9 ¶ Then y^e Philistims came vp, & pitched in Iudāh, & were spred abroad in Lēhi.

g Or, camped.

10 And the men of Iudāh said, Why are ye come vp vnto vs? And they answered, To f^f binde Samſón are we come vp, and to do to him as he hathe done to vs.

f And so being our prisoners, to punish him.

11 Then thre thousand men of Iudāh wēt to the toppe of the rocke Etām, and said to Sāſón, Knowest thou not that y^e Philistims are rulers ouer vs? Wherefore then haſt y^e done thus vnto vs? And he answered the, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto the.

g Suche was their grosse ignorance, that they iudged Gods great benefite to be a plague vnto them.

12 Againe they said vnto hī, We are come to binde thee, and to deliuer thee into the hand of the Philistims. And Samſón said vnto them, Sweare vnto me, that ye wil not fall vpon me your selues.

h Thus they had rather betray their brother, then vſe y^e means that God had giue for their deliuerance.

13 And they answered him, saying, No, but we wil binde thee and h^h deliuer thee vnto their hand, but we wil not kil thee.

And

And they bound him with two newe cordes, and broght him from the rocke.

14 When he came to Léhi, the Philistims shouted againt him, and the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and the cordes that were vpon his armes, became as flaxe that was burnt with fire: for the bandes losed from his hands.

i That is, of an asse lately slayne.

15 And he found a newe iawebone of an asse, and put forth his hand, and caught it, and slewe a thousand men therewith.

16 Then Samson said, With the iawe of an asse are heapes vpon heapes: wth the iawe of an asse haue I slayne a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, he cast away the iawebone out of his hand, & called that place, Ramath-Léhi.

Or, the lifting vp of the iawe. k Whereby appeared, y he did these things in faith, & so wth a true zeal to glorifie God & deliuer his countrey.

18 And he was fore a thirst, and called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast giuen this great deliuerance into the hand of thy seruant: and now shal I dye for thirst, and fall into the hands of the vncircumcised?

19 Then God brake the cheeke to the, that was in the iawe, and water came thereout: and when he had dronke, his Spirit came againe, and he was reuiued: wherefore the name thereof is called, En-hakkoré, w^{ch} is in Léhi vnto this day.

CHAP. XVI.

9 Samson carieth away the gates of Azzah. 18 He was deceiued by Delilah. 30 He pulleth downe the house vpon the Philistims, and dyeth with them.

a One of 5.5. chief cities of y Philistims.

1 T^HEN went Samson to Azzah, & sawe there an harlot, & went in vnto her.

Or, visiter. b That is, he lodged wth her.

2 And it was tolde to the Azzathites, Samson is come hether. And they went about, & layed wait for him all night in the gate of the citie, and were quiet all the night, saying, Abide til the morning earely, and we shal kil him.

3 And Samson slept til midnight, & arose at midnight, and toke the dores of the gates of the citie, and the two postes and lift them away with the barres, and put them vpon his sholders, and caried them vp to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

Or, place.

4 ¶ And after this he loued a woman by y^e riuier of Sorék, whose name was Delilah:

5 Vnto whome came the princes of y Philistims, and said vnto her, Entise him, and se wherein his great strength lieth, and by what meane we may ouercome him, that we may binde him, and punishe him, and euerie one of vs shal giue thee eleuen hundred^r shekels of siluer.

c Of y value of a shekel read Gen. 23. 15.

6 ¶ And Delilah said to Samson, Tel me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bounde, to do the hurt.

7 Samson then answered vnto her, If they binde me with seuen greene cordes that were neuer dryed, thē shal I be weake, and be as an other man.

8 And the princes of y Philistims broght her seuē greene cordes that were not drye, and she bound him therewith.

d Certaine Philistims in a secret chamber.

9 (And she had d men lysing in wayte wth her in y chāber) Then she said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he brake the cordes, as a thread of towne is broken, when^e it feleth fire: so his strength was not knowne.

e Whē fire cometh nere it.

10 ¶ After Delilah said vnto Samson, Se, y^e hast mocked me and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, tel me wherewith y^e mightest be bound.

f Though her falsehood tended to make him, lose his life, yet his affection so blinded him y^e he coulde not be ware.

11 Then he answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes y^e neuer were occupied, then shal I be weake, and be as another man.

12 Delilah therefore toke newe ropes, and bound him therewith, and said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson: (& men lay in wait in the chāber) & he brake them from his armes, as a threde.

g It is impossible, if we giue place to our wicked affections, but at length we shal be destroyed.

13 ¶ Afterward Delilah said to Samson, Hether to thou hast beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tel me how thou mightest be bound. s And he said vnto her, If thou plattest seuen lockes of mine head with the thredes of the woufe.

14 And she fastened it with a pinne, & said vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and went away with the pinne of y webbe and the woufe.

h For this Samson vsed to saye, I loue thee.

15 Againe she said vnto him, How canst thou say, h I loue thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these thre times, and hast not tolde me wherewith thy great strength lieth.

16 And because she was importunate vpon him with her wordes continually, and vexed him, his soule was peined vnto y death.

i Thus his immoderate affections towards a wicked woman caused him to lose Gods excellent gifts, & become slauē vnto the, whome he shulde haue ruled.

17 Therefore he tolde her all his heart, & said vnto her, There neuer came rasor vpon mine head: for I am a Nazarite vnto God frō my mothers wombe: therefore if I be shauen, my strength wil go from me, & I shal be weake, & be like all other men.

18 And whē Delilah sawe that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent, & called for the Princes of y Philistims, saying, Come vp once againe: for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the princes of the Philistims came vp vnto her, and broght the money in their hands.

k Not for the losse of his heere, but for y contempt of y ordinance of God, w^{ch} was y cause y God departed from him.

19 And she made him slepe vpon her knees, & she called a man, & made him to shauē of y seuen lockes of his head, & she begā to vexē hī, & his strength was gone frō hī.

20 Then she said, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his slepe, and thought, I wil go out now as at other times, & shake my selfe, but he knewe not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Therefore the Philistims toke him, and put out his eyes, and broght him downe to Azzáh, and bound him with fetters: and he did grunde in the prison house.

22 And the heere of his head begā to growe againe after that it was shauen.

23 Then the princes of the Philistims gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice vnto Dagón their god, and to reioyce: for they said, Our god hath deliuered Samsón our enemy into our hāds.

24 Also when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our hands our enemy and destroyer of our countrey, which hath slaine manie of vs.

25 And when their heartes were mery, they said, Call Samsón, that he may make vs pastime. So they called Samsón out of the prison house, and he was a laughing stocke vnto them, and they set him betwene the pillars.

26 Then Samsón said vnto the seruant that led him by the hand, Lead me, that I may touche the pillars that the house standeth vpon, and that I may leane to them.

27 (Now the house was ful of men & women, and there were all the princes of the Philistims: also vpon the rooffe were about three thousand men & women that behelde while Samsón played)

28 Then Samsón called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me: O God, I beseeche thee, strengthen me at this time onely, that I may be at once auenged of the Philistims for my two eyes.

29 And Samsón layed holde on the two middle pillars whereupō the house stode, and on which it was borne vp: on the one with his right hand, and on the other with his left.

30 Then said Samsón, Let me lose my life with the Philistims: and he bowed him wth all his might, and the house fel vpon the princes, and vpon all the people that were therein. so the dead which he slue at his death were mo then they which he had slayne in his life.

31 Then his brethren, and all the house of his father came downe and toke him, and broght him vp & buried him betwene Zoráh and Eshtaól, in the sepulchre of Manóah his father: now he had iudged Israël twentie yeres.

CHAP. XVII.

Michahs mother according to her worde made her sonne two idoles. He made his sonne a Priest for his idoles. And after he hired a Leuite.

1 There was a man of mount Ephráim, whose name was Michah,
2 And he said vnto his mother, The eleuen hundredth shekels of siluer that were taken from thee, for the which thou cursedst, & spakdest it, euē in mine hearing, behold, the siluer is with me, I toke it. Then his mother said, Blessed be my sonne of the Lord.

3 And when he had restored the eleuen hundredth shekels of siluer to his mother, his mother said, I had dedicate y^e siluer to y^e Lord of mine hand for my sonne, to make a grauen and molten image. Now therefore I wil giue it thee againe.

4 And whē he had restored the money vnto his mother, his mother toke two hundredth shekels of siluer, and gaue them to the founder, which made thereof a graue and molten image, and it was in the house of Michah.

5 And this man Michah had an house of gods, & made an Ephód, & Teraphim, and consecrated one of his sonnes, who was his Priest.

6 In those daies there was no King in Israël, but euerie man did that, which was good in his owne eyes.

7 There was also a yong mā out of Bethléhem Iudáh, of the familie of Iudáh: who was a Leuite, and sojourned there.

8 And the man departed out of the citie, out of Bethléhem Iudáh, to dwel where he colde finde a place: and as he iourneied, he came to mount Ephráim to the house of Michah.

9 And Michah said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And the Leuite answered him, I come from Bethléhem Iudáh, and go to dwel where I may finde a place.

10 Then Michah said vnto him, Dwel wth me, and be vnto me a father and a Priest, and I wil giue thee ten shekels of siluer by yere, and a sute of apparel, & thy meat and drinke. So the Leuite went in.

11 And the Leuite was content to dwel wth the man, and the yong man was vnto him as one of his owne sonnes.

12 And Michah consecrated the Leuite, & the yong man was his Priest, and was in the house of Michah.

13 Then said Michah, Now I knowe that y^e Lord wil be good vnto me, seing I haue a Leuite to my Priest.

f Or the trust of Dan.

f Because thei before had had good success, th^{at} i woulde y^e their brethren shulde be encouraged by hearing y^e same tidings.

2 Therefore the children of Dan sent of their familie, fise men out of their coasts, euen men expert in warre, out of Zoráh & Eshtaól, to vewe the land and sear- che it out, and said vnto them, b Go, and sear- che out the land. Then thei came to mount Ephraím to the house of Micháh and lodged there.

3 When thei were in the house of Micháh, thei knewe the c voyce of the yong man the Leuite: and being tuined in thether, thei said vnto him, Who broght thee he- ther? or what makest thou in this place? & what hast thou to do here?

4 And he answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Micháh with me, and hathe hired me, and I am his Priest.

5 Againe thei said vnto him, Aske counfel now of god, that we may knowe whether the way which we go, shal be prosperous.

6 And the Priest said vnto them, d Go in peace: for y^e Lord guideth your way which ye go.

7 Then the fise men departed and came to Laísh, and sawe the people that were therein, which dwelt careles, after the man- ner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, be- cause no man made any trouble in the land, or vsurped any dominion: also they were far from the Zidonians, and had no busines with other men.

8 ¶ So thei came againe vnto their brethr^e to Zoráh and Eshtaól: and their brethren said vnto them, What haue ye done?

9 And thei answered, Arise, that we may go vp against them: for we haue sene the land, and surely it is very good, and e do ye sit still? be not slouthful to go and enter to possesse the land.

10 (If ye wil go, ye shal come vnto a care- les people, and the countrey is large) for God hathe giuen it into your hand. It is a place which doeth lacke nothing that is in the worlde.

11 ¶ Then there departed thence of the fa- milie of the Danites, from Zoráh and from Eshtaól, six hundreth men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And thei went vp, & pitched in Kiriáth iearím in Iudáh: wherefore they called that place, Mahanah-Dan vnto this day: and it is behinde Kiriáth iearím.

13 And thei went thence vnto mount Ephraím, and came to the house of Mi- cháh.

14 Then answered the fise men, that wēt to spie out the countrey of Laísh, and said vnto their brethren, f Knowe ye not, that there is in these houses an Ephód, & Teraphím, and a grauen and a molten image? Now therefore consider what ye haue to do.

15 And thei turned thetherwarde and came to the house of the yong man the Leuite, euen vnto the house of Micháh, and salu- ted him peaceably.

16 And the six hundreth men appointed with their weapons of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stode by the en- tring of the gate.

17 Then the fise men that went to spie out the land, went in thether, and toke the g grauen image and the Ephód, and the Teraphím, and the molten image: and the Priest stode in the entring of the gate with the six hundieth men, that were ap- pointed with weapons of waire,

18 And the other went into Michahs house and fet the grauen image, the Ephód, and the Teraphím, and the molten image. Then said the Priest vnto them, What do ye?

19 And thei answered him, Holde thy pea- ce: laye thine hand vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be our father and Priest. Whether is it better that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto the house of one man, or that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto a tribe and to a familie in Israël?

20 And the Priests heart was glad, and he toke the Ephód and the Teraphím, and the grauen image, and went among the h people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children and the cattel, and the substā- ce i before them.

22 ¶ When thei were farre of frō the hou- se of Micháh, the men that were in the houses nere to Michahs house, gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan, 23 And cryed vnto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and said vnto Mi- cháh, What ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrye?

24 And he said, Ye haue taken away my k gods, which I made, and the Priest, and go your waies: & what haue I more? how then say ye vnto me, What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dan said vnto him, Let not thy voyce be heard among vs, lest l angry fellowes runne vpon thee, & thou lose thy life with the liues of thine hous- holde.

26 So the children of Dan went their waies: and when Micháh sawe that they were to strong for him, he turned, & went backe vnto his house.

27 And thei toke the l things which Mi- cháh had made, and the Priest which he had, and came vnto Laísh, vnto a quiet people and without mistrust, and smote the with the edge of the sworde, & burnt

³ And her husband arose and went after her, to speake friendly vnto her, and to bring her againe: he had also his seruant with him, and a couple of asses: and she broght him vnto her fathers house, and when the yong womans father sawe him, he reioyced of his comming.

⁴ And his father in lawe, the yong womans father reteineth him: and he abode with him thre daies: so they did eat & drinke, and lodged there.

⁵ ¶ And when the fourth day came, they arose early in the morning, & he prepared to departe: then the yong womans father said vnto his sonne in lawe, * Comforte thine heart with a morfel of bread, and then go your way.

⁶ So they sate downe, & did eat and drinke bothe of them together. And the yong womans father said vnto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tary all night, & let thine heart be mery.

⁷ And when the mā rose vp to departe, his father in lawe was earnest: therefore he returned, and lodged there.

⁸ And he arose vp early the fiftē day to departe, & the yong womans father said, * Comforte thine heart, I pray thee: and

10 But the man wolde not tary, but arose and departed, & came ouer against Iebús, (which is Ierusalém) and his two asses laden, and his concubine were with him.

11 When they were nere to Iebús, the day was fore spent, and the seruant said vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, & let vs turne into this citie of the Iebusites, & lodge all night the: e.

13 And he said vnto his seruant, Come, and let vs drawe nere to one of these places, that we may lodge in Gibeah or in Ramáh.

14 So they went forward vpon their way, and the sunne went downe vpon them nere to Gibeah, which is in Beniamin.

15 ¶ Then they turned thether to go in and lodge in Gibeah: and when he came, he sate him downe in a strete of the citie: for there was no man that toke them into his house to lodging.

16 And beholde, there came an olde man from his worke out of the field at euen, and the man was of mount Ephráim, but dwelt in Gibeah: and the men of the place were the children of * Iemini.

¹ The Israelites assemble in Mizpēh, to whom the Leuite declareth his wrong ~ 13 They sent for them that did the vilense. 25 The Israelites are wisely overcome, 46 And at length get the victorie

¹ Then * all the childrē of Israēl wēt out and the Congregation was gathered together as ^a one man, from Dan to Bēr sheba, with the land of Gilead, vnto the Lord in Mizpēh.

2 And the ^l chief of all the people and all the tribes of Israēl assembled in the Congregation of the people of God foure hundred thousand foremen ^y & diue sword. (Now the children of Benjamin heard that the childrē of Israēl were gone vnto Mizpēh) Then the children of Israēl ^d said, How is this wickednes committed?

4 And the same Leuite, the womans husband that was slaine, answered and said, I came vnto Gibeah that is in Benjamin with my concubine to lodge,

5 And the ^{mē} of Gibeah arose against me, and beset the house round about vpon me by night, thinking to haue slaine me, and haue forced my concubine that she is dead.

6 Then I toke my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent ^e her through out all the countrey of the inheritance of Israēl: for they haue committed abominacion and vilenie in Israēl.

7 Beholde, ye are all children of Israēl: giue your aduise, and counsel herein.

8 The all ^y people arose as one mā, saying, There shal not a man of vs go to his tent, nether anie turne into his ^f house.

9 But now this is that thing which we wil do to Gibeah: we wil go vp by lot against it,

10 And we wil take ten men of the hundred throughout all the tribes of Israēl, and an hundred of the thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand to bring ^g a vitaille for the people that they may do (when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin) according to all the vilenie, that it hath done in Israēl.

11 So all the men of Israēl were gathered against the citie, knit together, as one mā.

12 And the tribes of Israēl sent mē through all the ^h tribe of Benjamin, saying, What wickednes is this ^y is committed among you?

13 Now therefore deliuer vs those wicked men which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away euil from Israēl: but the children of Benjamin wolde not obey the voyce of their brethren the children of Israēl.

14 But the children of Benjamin gathered them selues together out of the cities vnto Gibeah, to come out and fight against the children of Israēl.

15 And the children of Benjamin were nombred at that time out of the cities six and twentie thousand men that diue sworde, beside the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were nombred seven hundred chosen men.

16 Of all this people were seven hundred chosen men, being * left handed: all these colde sling stones at an heere breadth, and not faile.

17 Also ^y men of Israēl, beside Bēiāmin, were nombred foure hundred thousand mē that drewe sworde, euen all men of warre.

18 And the children of Israēl arose, & wēt vp ^k to the house of God, & asked of God, saying, Which of vs shal go vp first to fight against the children of Benjamin? And the Lord said, Iudā shal be first.

19 Then the childrē of Israēl arose vp early and camped against Gibeah.

Chap 3.23.

^k That is, to Arke, which was in Shiloh: some thinke, in Mizpēh, as verf. 4.

20 And the men of Israël went out to battel against Beniamín, and the men of Israël put the selues in array to fight against them beside Gibeáh.

21 And the children of Beniamín came out of Gibeáh, & slewe downe to the grounde of the Israelites that day ¹ two and twentie thousand men.

22 And the people, the men of Israël plucked vp their hearts, and set their battel againe in array in the place where they put them in array the first day.

23 (For the children of Israël had gone vp and wept before the Lord vnto ^y euening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shal I go againe to battel against the children of Beniamín my brethren? & the Lord said, Go vp against them)

24 ¶ Then the children of Israël came nere against the children of Beniamín the seconde day.

25 Also the seconde day Beniamín came forth to mete the out of Gibeáh, & slewe downe to the groude of the childré of Israël againe eightene thousand men: " all they colde handle the sworde.

26 Then all the children of Israël went vp & all the people came also vnto the house of God, & wept and faste there before the Lord & fasted that day vnto the euening, and offred burnt offrings & peace offrings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israël asked the Lord (for ^m there was the Aike of the couenant of God in those dayes, 28 And Phinehás the sonne of Eleazár, the sonne of Aarón ^a stode before it at that time) saying, Shal I yet go anie more to battel against the childré of Beniamín my brethren, or shal I cease? And the Lord said, Go vp: for tomorowe I wil deliuer them into your hand.

29 And Israël set men to lye in wait round about Gibeáh.

30 And the children of Israël went vp against the children of Beniamín the third day, and put them selues in array against Gibeáh, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Beniamín coming out against the people, were ^o drawe from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kil as at other times, even by the wayes in the field (whereof one goeth vp to the house of God, & the other to Gibeáh) vpon a thirtie men of Israël.

32 (For the childré of Beniamín said, They are fallen before vs, as at the first. But the children of Israël said, Let vs flee & plucke them away from the citie vnto the hie p wayes)

33 And all the men of Israël rose vp out of their place, & put them selues in array at Baál tamár: and the men that lay in waite of the Israelites came forth of their place, even out of the medowes of Gibeáh, 34 And they came ouer against Gibeáh, ten thousand chosen men of all Israël, & the battel was sore: for they knewe not that the ^q euil was nere them.

35 ¶ And ^y Lord smote Beniamín before Israël, and the children of Israël destroyed of the Beniamites the same day fise and twentie thousand and an hundreth men: all they colde handle the sworde.

36 So the childré of Beniamín sawe that they were striken downe: for the men of Israël ^r gaue place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beside Gibeáh.

37 And they that lay in waite halted, and brake forth towarde Gibeáh, and the embushment ^r drewe them selues along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sworde.

38 Also the men of Israël had appointed a certaine time with the embushmets, that they shulde make a great flame, and smoke rise vp out of the citie.

39 And whē the men of Israël retired in the battel, Beniamín began to ^r smite and kil of the men of Israël about thirtie persons: for they said, Surely they are striken downe before vs, as in the first battel.

40 But when the flame began to arise out of the citie, as a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascende vp to heauen.

41 Then ^y men of Israël turned ^t againe, and the men of Beniamín were attoned: for they saw that euil was nere vnto the.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Israël vnto the way of the wildernes, but the battel ouertoke them: also they which came out of the cities, slewe them ^u among them.

43 Thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them ^v at ease, and ouerran them, euen ouer against Gibeáh on the Eastside.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamín eightene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wildernes vnto the rocke of Rimmón: and the Israelites ^x glained of them by the way fise thousand mé, & pursued after the vnto Gidóm, & slewe two thousand mé of the,

46 So that all that were slaine that day of Beniamín, were ^y fise and twentie thousand men that drewe sworde, which were all men of warre:

THE BOKE OF RVTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This boke is intituled after the name of Ruth: which is the principall persone spoken of in this treatise. Wherein also figuratiuely is set forth the state of the Church which is subiect to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God giueth good, and ioyful issue: teaching vs to abide with patience til God deliuer vs out of troubles. Herein also is ascribed howe Iesus Christ, who according to the flesh ought to come of Dauid, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lord Iesus did vouchesafe to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condicison, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto vs thereby that the Gentiles shoulde be sanctified by him and ioynd with his people, and that there shoulde be but one shepsfode, and one shepherde. And it semeth that this historie apperteineth to the time of the Iudges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimélech goeth with his wife and childre into the land of Moab. 2 He and his sonnes dye. 3 Naomi and Ruth come to Beth-léhem.

^a Ebr. iudged.

^a In the land of Canaan. ^b In the tribe of Iudáh, which was also called Beth-léhé Ephrathah, because there was another citie so called in the tribe of Zebulun.

IN the time that the iudges ruled, there was a dearth in the land, and a mā of Beth-léhem Iudáh went for to sojourne in the cōtrei of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 And the name of the mā was Elimélech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sonnes, Mahlón, & Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-léhem Iudáh: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 Then Elimélech the housbād of Naomi dyed, & she remained with her two sonnes, 4 Which toke them wiues of the Moabites: the ones name was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeres.

^c By this wonderful prouidence of God Ruth became one of Gods household, of whome Christ came.

5 And Mahlón and Chilion dyed also bothe twaine: so the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, & of her housbād.

6 ¶ Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for she had heard say in the countrey of Moab, that the Lord had visited his people, and giuen them bread.

^d By sending them plentie againe.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in lawe with her, and they wēt on their way to returne vnto the land of Iudáh.

8 Thē Naomi said vnto her two daughters in lawe, Go, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: for the Lord shewe fauour vnto you, as ye haue done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grante you, that you may finde rest, ether of you in the house of her housbād. And when she kissed them, they list vp their voyce and wept.

^e Hereby it appeareth that Naomi by dwelling among idolaters was waxen colde in her zeale of God, & rather hathe respect to the ease of her body then to her comfort of her soule.

10 And they said vnto her, Surely we will returne with thee vnto thy people.

11 But Naomi said, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause wil you go with me: are there anie mo sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your housbands?

12 Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an housbād. if I shulde saie, I haue hope, & if I had an housbād this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes, 13 Wolde ye tary for them, til they were of age: wolde ye be differred for them from taking of housbands? nay my daughters: for it griueth me muche for your sakes, for the hād of the Lord is gone out against me.

^f Or, more then you.

14 Then they list vp their voyce, and wept againe, and Orpah kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode stil with her.

^f When she toke leaue & departed.

15 And Naomi said, Beholde, thy sister in lawe is gone backe vnto her people & vnto her gods: s returne thou after thy sister in law.

^g No persuasions can preuaile to turne the backe fro God whome he hathe chosen to be his.

16 And Ruth answered, Intreat me not to leaue thee, nor to departe from thee: for whither thou goest, I wil go: and where thou dwellest, I wil dwell: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

17 Where thou dyest, wil I dye, and there wil I be buried. the Lord do so to me & more also, if ought but death departe thee & me.

18 ¶ When she sawe that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 So they went bothe vntil they came to Beth-léhé: & whē they were come to Beth-léhem, it was noised of them through all the citie, and thei said, Is not this Naomi?

^h Whereby appeareth that she was of a great familie & of good reputation.

20 And she answered thei, Call me not Naomi, but call me Mará: for the Almighty hathe giuen me muche bitternes.

ⁱ Or, be afflicted. ^j Or, bitter.

21 I wēt out ful, & the Lord hathe caused me to returne empty: why call ye me Naomi, seeing the Lord hath hūbled me, & the Almighty hathe broght me vnto aduersitie.

22 So Naomi returned and Ruth the Moabite her daughter in law with her, when she came out of the countrey of Moab: & they came to Beth-léhem in the beginning of barley haruest.

ⁱ which was in the moneth Nisan, that cometh part of March & parte of April.

CHAP. II.

Ruth gathereth corne in the fieldes of Boáz. 1 The gentleness of Boáz toward her.

Then Naomis housband had a kinsman, one of great power of the familie of Elimélech, & his name was Boáz.

^a Bothe for vertue, and for riches.

And

^b This her husband's declaration of her great affection toward her mother in law, for as much as she spareth no painful diligence to get both their livings.

^c Or, certain handfells.

^d That is, Take heed in what field they do reape

^e Even of the Moabites, who are enemies to Gods people.

^f Signifying that she shall never want any thing if she put her trust in God & live under his protection.

^g Which she brought home to her mother in law

2 And Ruth ^f Moabitess said vnto Naomi, I pray thee, let me go to ^h ⁱ field, & gather earres of corne after hⁱ, in whose sight I find fauour. And she said vnto her, Go my daughter.

3 ¶ And she went, & came & gleaned in ^j field after the reapers, & it came to passe, that she met wth the portion of the field of Bóaz, who was of ^k familie of Elimélech.

4 And beholde, Bóaz came from Beth-léhem, and said vnto the reapers, The Lord be with you: & they answered him, The Lord blesse thee.

5 Th^e said Bóaz vnto his seruāt ^l ^m was appointed ouer ⁿ reapers, Whose maid is this?

6 And the seruāt that was appointed ouer the reapers, answered, and said, It is the Moabitish mayd, that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Móab:

7 And she said vnto vs, I pray you, let me gleane and gather after the reapers' amōg the sheaues: so she came, and hathe continued from that time in the morning vnto now, saue ^o she taried a litle in the house.

8 ¶ Then said Bóaz vnto Ruth, Hearest thou, my daughter? go to none other field to gather, neither go from hence: but abide here by my maidens.

9 ¶ Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reape, and go thou after the ^p ^q ^r ^s ^t ^u ^v ^w ^x ^y ^z ^{aa} ^{ab} ^{ac} ^{ad} ^{ae} ^{af} ^{ag} ^{ah} ^{ai} ^{aj} ^{ak} ^{al} ^{am} ^{an} ^{ao} ^{ap} ^{aq} ^{ar} ^{as} ^{at} ^{au} ^{av} ^{aw} ^{ax} ^{ay} ^{az} ^{ba} ^{bb} ^{bc} ^{bd} ^{be} ^{bf} ^{bg} ^{bh} ^{bi} ^{bj} ^{bk} ^{bl} ^{bm} ^{bn} ^{bo} ^{bp} ^{bq} ^{br} ^{bs} ^{bt} ^{bu} ^{bv} ^{bw} ^{bx} ^{by} ^{bz} ^{ca} ^{cb} ^{cc} ^{cd} ^{ce} ^{cf} ^{cg} ^{ch} ^{ci} ^{cj} ^{ck} ^{cl} ^{cm} ^{cn} ^{co} ^{cp} ^{cq} ^{cr} ^{cs} ^{ct} ^{cu} ^{cv} ^{cw} ^{cx} ^{cy} ^{cz} ^{da} ^{db} ^{dc} ^{dd} ^{de} ^{df} ^{dg} ^{dh} ^{di} ^{dj} ^{dk} ^{dl} ^{dm} ^{dn} ^{do} ^{dp} ^{dq} ^{dr} ^{ds} ^{dt} ^{du} ^{dv} ^{dw} ^{dx} ^{dy} ^{dz} ^{ea} ^{eb} ^{ec} ^{ed} ^{ee} ^{ef} ^{eg} ^{eh} ^{ei} ^{ej} ^{ek} ^{el} ^{em} ^{en} ^{eo} ^{ep} ^{eq} ^{er} ^{es} ^{et} ^{eu} ^{ev} ^{ew} ^{ex} ^{ey} ^{ez} ^{fa} ^{fb} ^{fc} ^{fd} ^{fe} ^{ff} ^{fg} ^{fh} ^{fi} ^{fj} ^{fk} ^{fl} ^{fm} ^{fn} ^{fo} ^{fp} ^{fq} ^{fr} ^{fs} ^{ft} ^{fu} ^{fv} ^{fw} ^{fx} ^{fy} ^{fz} ^{ga} ^{gb} ^{gc} ^{gd} ^{ge} ^{gf} ^{gg} ^{gh} ^{gi} ^{gj} ^{gk} ^{gl} ^{gm} ^{gn} ^{go} ^{gp} ^{gq} ^{gr} ^{gs} ^{gt} ^{gu} ^{gv} ^{gw} ^{gx} ^{gy} ^{gz} ^{ha} ^{hb} ^{hc} ^{hd} ^{he} ^{hf} ^{hg} ^{hh} ^{hi} ^{hj} ^{hk} ^{hl} ^{hm} ^{hn} ^{ho} ^{hp} ^{hq} ^{hr} ^{hs} ^{ht} ^{hu} ^{hv} ^{hw} ^{hx} ^{hy} ^{hz} ^{ia} ^{ib} ^{ic} ^{id} ^{ie} ^{if} ^{ig} ^{ih} ⁱⁱ ^{ij} ^{ik} ^{il} ^{im} ⁱⁿ ^{io} ^{ip} ^{iq} ^{ir} ^{is} ^{it} ^{iu} ^{iv} ^{iw} ^{ix} ^{iy} ^{iz} ^{ja} ^{jb} ^{jc} ^{jd} ^{je} ^{jf} ^{jj} ^{jk} ^{jl} ^{jm} ^{jn} ^{jo} ^{jp} ^{jq} ^{jr} ^{js} ^{jt} ^{ju} ^{jv} ^{jw} ^{jx} ^{ky} ^{kz} ^{la} ^{lb} ^{lc} ^{ld} ^{le} ^{lf} ^{lg} ^{lh} ^{li} ^{lj} ^{lk} ^{ll} ^{lm} ^{ln} ^{lo} ^{lp} ^{lq} ^{lr} ^{ls} ^{lt} ^{lu} ^{lv} ^{lw} ^{lx} ^{ly} ^{lz} ^{ma} ^{mb} ^{mc} ^{md} ^{me} ^{mf} ^{mg} ^{mh} ^{mi} ^{mj} ^{mk} ^{ml} ^{mm} ^{mn} ^{mo} ^{mp} ^{mq} ^{mr} ^{ms} ^{mt} ^{mu} ^{mv} ^{mw} ^{mx} ^{my} ^{mz} ^{na} ^{nb} ^{nc} nd ^{ne} ^{nf} ^{ng} ^{nh} ⁿⁱ ^{nj} ^{nk} ^{nl} ^{nm} ⁿⁿ ^{no} ^{np} ^{nq} ^{nr} ^{ns} ^{nt} ^{nu} ^{nv} ^{nw} ^{nx} ^{ny} ^{nz} ^{oa} ^{ob} ^{oc} ^{od} ^{oe} ^{of} ^{og} ^{oh} ^{oi} ^{oj} ^{ok} ^{ol} ^{om} ^{on} ^{oo} ^{op} ^{oq} ^{or} ^{os} ^{ot} ^{ou} ^{ov} ^{ow} ^{ox} ^{oy} ^{oz} ^{pa} ^{pb} ^{pc} ^{pd} ^{pe} ^{pf} ^{pg} ^{ph} ^{pi} ^{pj} ^{pk} ^{pl} ^{pm} ^{pn} ^{po} ^{pp} ^{pq} ^{pr} ^{ps} ^{pt} ^{pu} ^{pv} ^{pw} ^{px} ^{py} ^{pz} ^{qa} ^{qb} ^{qc} ^{qd} ^{qe} ^{qf} ^{qg} ^{qh} ^{qi} ^{qj} ^{qk} ^{ql} ^{qm} ^{qn} ^{qo} ^{qp} ^{qq} ^{qr} ^{qs} ^{qt} ^{qu} ^{qv} ^{qw} ^{qx} ^{qy} ^{qz} ^{ra} ^{rb} ^{rc} rd ^{re} ^{rf} ^{rg} ^{rh} ^{ri} ^{rj} ^{rk} ^{rl} ^{rm} ^{rn} ^{ro} ^{rp} ^{rq} ^{rr} ^{rs} ^{rt} ^{ru} ^{rv} ^{rw} ^{rx} ^{ry} ^{rz} ^{sa} ^{sb} ^{sc} ^{sd} ^{se} ^{sf} ^{sg} ^{sh} ^{si} ^{sj} ^{sk} ^{sl} sm ^{sn} ^{so} ^{sp} ^{sq} ^{sr} ^{ss} st ^{su} ^{sv} ^{sw} ^{sx} ^{sy} ^{sz} ^{ta} ^{tb} ^{tc} ^{td} ^{te} ^{tf} ^{tg} th ^{ti} ^{tj} ^{tk} ^{tl} tm ^{tn} ^{to} ^{tp} ^{tq} ^{tr} ^{ts} ^{tt} ^{tu} ^{tv} ^{tw} ^{tx} ^{ty} ^{tz} ^{ua} ^{ub} ^{uc} ^{ud} ^{ue} ^{uf} ^{ug} ^{uh} ^{ui} ^{uj} ^{uk} ^{ul} ^{um} ^{un} ^{uo} ^{up} ^{uq} ^{ur} ^{us} ^{ut} ^{uu} ^{uv} ^{uw} ^{ux} ^{uy} ^{uz} ^{va} ^{vb} ^{vc} ^{vd} ^{ve} ^{vf} ^{vg} ^{vh} ^{vi} ^{vj} ^{vk} ^{vl} ^{vm} ^{vn} ^{vo} ^{vp} ^{vq} ^{vr} ^{vs} ^{vt} ^{vu} ^{vv} ^{vw} ^{vx} ^{vy} ^{vz} ^{wa} ^{wb} ^{wc} ^{wd} ^{we} ^{wf} ^{wg} ^{wh} ^{wi} ^{wj} ^{wk} ^{wl} ^{wm} ^{wn} ^{wo} ^{wp} ^{wq} ^{wr} ^{ws} ^{wt} ^{wu} ^{wv} ^{ww} ^{wx} ^{wy} ^{wz} ^{xa} ^{xb} ^{xc} ^{xd} ^{xe} ^{xf} ^{xg} ^{xh} ^{xi} ^{xj} ^{xk} ^{xl} ^{xm} ^{xn} ^{xo} ^{xp} ^{xq} ^{xr} ^{xs} ^{xt} ^{xu} ^{xv} ^{xw} ^{xx} ^{xy} ^{xz} ^{ya} ^{yb} ^{yc} ^{yd} ^{ye} ^{yf} ^{yg} ^{yh} ^{yi} ^{yj} ^{yk} ^{yl} ^{ym} ^{yn} ^{yo} ^{yp} ^{yq} ^{yr} ^{ys} ^{yt} ^{yu} ^{yv} ^{yw} ^{yx} ^{yy} ^{yz} ^{za} ^{zb} ^{zc} ^{zd} ^{ze} ^{zf} ^{zg} ^{zh} ^{zi} ^{zj} ^{zk} ^{zl} ^{zm} ^{zn} ^{zo} ^{zp} ^{zq} ^{zr} ^{zs} ^{zt} ^{zu} ^{zv} ^{zw} ^{zx} ^{zy} ^{zz}

THE FIRST BOKE OF Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

According as God had ordeined Deut. 17, 14. that when the Israelites shoulde be in the land of Canaan, he wolde appoint them a King: so here in the first boke of Samuel is declared the state of this people vnder their first King Saúl, who not content with that ordre, which God had for a time appointed for the gouernement of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent that might be as other nacions & in a greater assurance as they thoght: not because they might the better thereby serue God, as being vnder the safegarde of him, which did repr^sent Iesus Christ the true deliuerer: therefore he gaue them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule ouer them, that they might learne, that the persone of a King is not sufficient to defend them, except God by his power preserue and kepe them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people & sendeth the continual warres bothe at home and abroad. And because Saúl, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercie towarde him, but rather disobeyed the worde of God and was not zealous of his glorie, he was by the voice of God put downe from his state, and Dauid the true figure of Mesiáh placed in his steade, whose patience, modestie, constancie, persecucion by open enemies, fained friends, and dissembling flatterers are left to the Church and to euery member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state ad vocation.

CHAP. I.

- 1 The genealogie of Elkanáh father of Samuél 2 His two wiues. 3 Hannáh was baren and prayed to the Lord. 15 Her answer to Eli. 20 Samuél is borne. 24 She deoth dedicate him to the Lord.

a There were two Ramaths, so that in this citie in mount Ephraim were Zophim: that is, the learned men and Prophets.

Here was a man of one of the two ^a Ramathaim Zophim, of mount Ephraim, whose name was Elkanáh the sonne of Ietohám, the sonne of Elihu, the sonne of Tóhu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephraimite:

- 2 And he had two wiues: the name of one was Hannáh, and the name of the other Peninnáh: and Peninnáh had childre, but Hannáh had no children.

Deut. 16, 16. 3 * And this man went vp out of his citie euery yere, to worship & to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in ^b Shilóh, where were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophní and Phinehás Priests of the Lord.

¶ For the Arke was there at that time.

- 4 And on a day, whē Elkanáh sacrificed, he gaue to Peninnáh his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters porcions, c Some read, a porcion with an heauy cheere.

- 5 But vnto Hânáh he gaue a worthy ^c porcion: for he loued Hannáh, and the Lord had made her baren.

- 6 ¶ And her aduersarie vexed her sore, for asmuche as she vpbraided her, because the Lord had made her baren.

- 7 (And so did he yere by yere) & as oft as she wēt vp to the house of ^d the Lord, thus she vexed her, that she wept and did not eat.

- 8 Then said Elkanáh her housbād to her, Hannáh, why wepest thou? and why eatest thou not? & why is thine heart troubled?

d Let this suffice thee, that I love thee no lesse, then if I hadest many children.

- 9 So Hannáh rose vp after that they had eaten and dronke in Shilóh (and Eli the Priest sat vpō a stole by one of ^e the postes of the Temple of the Lord)

e That is, of the house, where the Arke was.

- 10 And she was troubled in her minde, and prayed vnto the Lord, and wept sore:

- 11 Also she vowed a vowe, & said, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt loke on the trouble of thine handmayd, and remēber me, and not forget thine handmayd, but giue me vnto thine handmayd a manchild, then I wil giue him vnto the Lord all the daies of his life, * and there shal no raser come vpon his head.

Nomb 6, 1. iudg. 13, 5.

- 12 And as she continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

- 13 For Hânáh spake in her heart: her lippes did moue onely, but her voyce was not heard: therefore Eli thoght she had bene drunken.

- 14 And Eli said vnto her, How long wilt thou be dronké? Put away thy dronkenes from thee.

- 15 Then Hannáh answered and said, Nay my lord, but I am a woman troubled in spirit: I haue drōke neiher wine nor stōg drinke, but haue * powred out my soule before the Lord.

^f That is, pray vnto the Lord for me

18 She said againe, Let thine handmaid finde ^f grace in thy sight: so the woman went her way, and did eat, and loked no more sad.

19 ¶ Then they rose vp early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramáh. Now Elkanáh knewe Hannáh his wife, and the Lord ^z remembred her.

22 But Hannáh went not vp: for she said vnto her housbād, I wil tary vntil the childe be weined, then I wil bring him that he may appeare before the Lord, & there abide for euer.

23 And Elkanáh her housband said vnto her, Do what semeth thee best: tary vntil thou hast weined him: onely the Lord accomplish his ⁱ worde. So the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke vntil she weined him.

^{Or, grieved.}

19 And his daughter in lawe Phinehás wife was with childe^{ere} her tuel: and when she heard the report that the Arke of God was taken, and that her father in lawe & her housband were dead, she bowed her selfe, and traueled: for her paines came vpon her.

^{Or, to crye out}

ⁱ And ferled her body toward her trauel

20 And about the time of her death, the women that stode about her, said vnto her, Feare not: for thou hast boine a sonne: but she answered not, nor regarded it.

^{Or, No glorie, or, where is the glorie}

21 And she named the childe Ichabód, saying, The glorie is departed from Israél, because the Arke of God was taken, & because of her father in lawe and her housband.

^k She vntered her great sorrowe by repe-ning her wronges.

22 She said againe, ^k The glorie is departed frō Israél: for the Arke of God is takē.

CHAP. V.

2 The Philistims bring the Arke into the house of Dagón, which idole fel downe before it 6 The men of Ashdód are plagued. 8 The Arke is caryed into Gath and after to Ekron.

1 Then the Philistims toke the Arke of God and caryed it from Eben ézer vnto Ashdód,

^g Which was one of the five principall cities of the Philistims

^b Which was their chief idole, & as some write, from ^f nauil down-ward was like a fische, and vpwarde like a man

2 Euen the Philistims toke the Arke of God, and broght it into the house of Dagón, and set it by Dagón.

3 And when they of Ashdód rose the next day in the morning, beholde, Dagón was fallen vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and they toke vp Dagón, and set him in his place againe.

4 Also they rose vpearly in the morning the next day, & beholde, Dagón was fallē vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and the head of Dagón and the two palmes of his hands were cut of vpon the thresholde: onely the stumpe of Dagón was left to him.

5 Therefore the Priests of Dagón, and all that come into Dagon's house treade not on the thresholde of Dagón in Ashdód, vnto this day.

^c Thus in steade of acknowledging ^f true God by this miracle, they fall to a farther superstition Psal 78, 66.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Ashdód, and destroyed them, and smote them with emerods, bothe Ashdód, and the coastes thereof.

7 And whē the men of Ashdód sawe this, they said, Let not the Arke of the God of Israél abide with vs: for his hand is fore vpon vs and vpon Dagón our god.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the princes of the Philistims vnto them, and said, What shal we do with the Arke of the God of Israél? And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israél be caryed about vnto Gath: & thei caryed the Arke of the God of Israél about.

9 And when they had caryed it about, the hand of the Lord was against the citie with a very great destruction, and he smote the men of the citie bothe small and great, & they had emerods in their secret partes.

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Ekron: and as sone as the Arke of God came to Ekron, the Ekronites cryed out, saying, They haue broght the Arke of ^f God of Israél to vs to slay vs and our people.

11 Therefore they sent, and gathered together all the princes of the Philistims and said, Send away the Arke of the God of Israél, and let it returne to his owne place, that it slay vs not and our people: for there was a destruction & death through out all the citie, & the hād of God was very sore there.

12 And the men that dyed not, were smittē with the emerods: and the crye of the citie went vp to heauen.

CHAP. VI.

1 The time that the Arke was with the Philistims which they sent againe with a gift 12 It cometh to Beth-shémesh. 17 The Philistims offer golden emerods 19 The men of Beth-shémesh are stricken for looking into the Arke.

1 So the Arke of the Lord was in ^f country of the Philistims a seuen monethes.

2 And the Philistims called the Priestes & the sothsaiers, saying, What shal we do wth the Arke of the Lord? tel vs wherewith we shal send it home againe?

3 And they said, If you send away the Arke of ^f God of Israél, send it not away emptye, but giue vnto it ^b a sinne offering: then shal ye be healed, and it shalbe knowne to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

4 Then said they, What shalbe the sinne offering, which we shal giue vnto it? And they answered, Five golden emerods and five golden mice, according to the number of ^f Princes of the Philistims: for one plague was on you all, & on your princes.

5 Wherefore ye shal make the similitudes of your emerods, and the similitudes of your mice that destroye the lād: so ye shal giue glorie vnto the God of Israél, that he may take his hād from you, and from your gods, and from your land.

6 Wherefore then shulde ye harden your heartes, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their heartes, when he wrought

^d Though thei had felt Gods power & were affracted thereof, yet they wolde farther trie hi, which thing God turned to their destruction & his glorie.

^e The wicked, when they fele the hand of God, grudge & reiecte him, where ^f godly humble themselves & crye for mercie

^a Thei thought by continuance of time ^f plague wolde haue ceased and so wolde haue kept ^f Arke still

^b The idolaters confesse there is a true God who punisheth sinne iustly.

^c This is Gods iudgement vpon the idolaters, that knowing the true God thei worship him not aright.

The Arke returneth.

wonderfully among them, * did they not let them go, and they departed?

7 Now therefore make a newe carte, and take two melche kine, on whome there hath come no yoke: & tye the kine to the carte, and bring the calves home from them.

d Meaning y goldē emerods and the golden mice.

8 Then take the Arke of the Lord, and set it vpon the carte, and put the ^d iewels of golde which ye giue it for a sinne offering in a coffer by the side thereof, and send it away, that it may go.

e The God of Israél.

9 And take hede, if it go vp by the way of his owne coast to Beth-shémesh, it is ^e he that did vs this great euil: but if not, we shal knowe then, that it is not his hād that smote vs, but it was a ^f chance that happened vs.

f The wicked attribute almost all things to fortune and chance, whereas in dede there is nothing done without Gods providence & decree.

10 And the men did so: for they toke two kine that gaue milke, and tyed them to the carte and shut the calves at home.

11 So they set the Arke of the Lord vpon the carte, and the coffer with the mice of golde, and with the similitudes of their emerods.

g For the trial of the matter

12 And the kine went the streight way to Beth-shémesh, & kept one path and lowed as they went, & turned nether to the right hand nor to the left: also the princes of the Philistims went after s thē, vnto the borders of Beth-shémesh.

13 Now they of Beth-shémesh were reaping their wheat haruest in the valley, & they lift vp their eyes, and spyed the Arke, and reioyced when they sawe it.

h To wit, the men of Beth-shémesh, w were Israélites.

14 ¶ And the carte came into the fiede of Ioshúa a Bethshemite, & stode stil there. there was also a great stone, and ^h they claue the wood of the carte and offred the kine for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

15 And the Leuites toke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the iewels of golde were, & put them on the great stone, and the men of Beht-shémesh offred burnt offering, and sacrificed sacrifices that same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philistims had sene it, they returned to Ekrón the same day.

i These were the five principal cities of the Philistims which were not all cōque- red vnto the time of Dauid.

17 ¶ So these are the goldē emerods, which the Philistims gaue for a sinne offering to the Lord: for Ashdód one, for Gazá one, for Askelón one, for Gath one, & for Ekrón one,

18 And goldē mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Pilistims, belonging to the five princes, bothe of walled townes and of townes vnwalled, vnto the great stone of ⁱ Abél, whereon they set the Arke of the Lord: which stone remaineth vnto this day in the field of Ioshúa the Bethshemite.

j Or, the plaine, or lamentation.

19 And he smote of the men of Beth-shémesh, because they ^k had looked in the Arke of the Lord: he slewe euen among the people fiftie thousand men and thre score and ten men. and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine y people with so great a slaughter.

k For it was not laulful to anie ether to touche or to se it, saue onely to Aaron & his sonnes, Num. 4, 15 & 20.

20 Wherefore the men of Beth-shémesh said, Who is able to stand before this holy Lord God? and to whome shal he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-iearim, saying, The Philistims haue brought againe the Arke of the Lord: come ye downe & take it vp to you.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Arke is brought to Kiriath-iearim. 3 Samuél exhorteth the people to forsake their sinnes and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philistims fight against Israél & are overcome 16 Samuél iudgeth Israél.

1 THEN the men of ^a Kiriath-iearim came, and toke vp the Arke of the Lord, and brought it into the house of Abinadab in the hil: and they sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to kepe the Arke of the Lord.

a A cite in y tribe of Iudā, called also Kiriath bāal, Iosh. 15, 69.

2 (For while the Arke abode in Kiriath-iearim, the time was long, for it was twētie yeres) and all the house of Israél lamented ^b after the Lord.

b Lamented for their sinnes & followed the Lord.

3 ¶ Thē Samuél spake vnto all the house of Israél, saying, If ye be come againe vnto the Lord with all your hearte, * put away the strange gods frō among you, & * Ashtaróth, and direct your hearts vnto the Lord, and serue him * onely, and he shal deliuer you out of the hand of the Philistims.

Iosh. 24, 15: Iudg. 2, 13.

4 Then the children of Israél did put away * Baalim and Ashtaróth, and serued the Lord onely.

Iudg. 2, 18.

5 And Samuél said, Gather all Israél to Mizpéh, and I wil pray for you vnto y Lord.

c For Shiloh was now desolate, because the Philistims had taken thence the Arke

6 And they gathered together to Mizpéh, and ^d drewe water and powred it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, & said there, We haue sinned against the Lord And Samuél iudgeth the children of Israél in Mizpéh.

d The Chaldee text hath, y thei drewe water out of their heart: that is, wept abundantly for their sinnes.

7 When the Philistims heard that the children of Israél were gathered together to Mizpéh, the princes of the Philistims wēt vp against Israél: and when the children of Israél heard that, they were afraid of the Philistims.

8 And the children of Israél said to Samuél, Cease not to ^e crye vnto the Lord our God for vs, that he may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistims.

e Signifying y in the prayers of the godlie there ought to be a vehement zeale.

9 Then Samuél toke a sucking lambe, and offred it all together for a burnt offering vnto vnto the Lord, and Samuél cryed vnto the Lord for Israël, and the Lord heard him.

f Accordig to the prophecie of Hannah Samuels mother, Chap 2, 10.

10 And as Samuél offred the burnt offering, the Philistims came to fight against Israël: but the Lord f thundred with a great thundie that day vpon the Philistims, & scatred them: so they were flaine before Israël.

g Which was a great rocke ouer against Mizpéh.

11 And the men of Israël went from Mizpéh and pursued the Philistims, and smote them vntil they came vnder Beth-car.

12 Then Samuél toke a stone and pitched it betwene Mizpéh and s Shen, and called y name thereof, Ebén ézer, and he said, Hitherto hathe the Lord holpen vs.

13 ¶ So y Philistims were broght vnder, & they came nomore againe into the coastes of Israël: and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistims all the dayes of Samuél.

h Meaning, y Philistims,

14 Also the cities which the Philistims had taken from Israël, were restored to Israël, from Ekión euen to Gath: & Israël deliuered the coastes of the same out of the hands of the Philistims: & there was peace betwene Israël & the h Amorites.

15 And Samuél iudged Israël all the dayes of his life,

16 And went about yere by yere to Beth-él, and Gilgál and Mizpéh, and iudged Israël in all those places.

i Which was not contrary to the Lawe: for as yet a certeyne place was not appointed 17 Afterward he returned to Ramáh: for there was his house, & there he iudged Israël: also he buylt an altar there vnto the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Samuél maketh his sonnes iudges ouer Israël, who followe not his steppes: 5 The Israelites aske a King: 11 Samuél declareth in what state they shulde be vnder the King: 19 Notwithstanding they aske one still, & the Lord willet Samuél to grant vnto them.

a Because he was not able to beare the charge

1 W^HE Samuél was now become old, he a made his sonnes iudges ouer Israël.

2 (And the name of his eldest sonne was b Ioél, and the name of the seconde Abiáh) euen iudges in Beer-sheba.

3 And his sonnes walked not in his waies but turned aside after lucie and * toke rewardes, and peruered the iudgement.

c For there his house was, Chap 7, 17

Ose 13, 10. act 13, 21.

d Because they were not content w the ordre y God had appointed, but wolde be gouerned as were y Gentiles.

4 ¶ Wherefore all the Elders of Israël gathered them together, & came to Samuél vnto c Ramah,

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy waies: * make vs now a King to iudge vs like all nacions.

6 But the thing d displeased Samuél, when they said, Giue vs a King to iudge vs: and Samuél prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord said vnto Samuél, Heare the voice of the people in all that they shal say vnto thee: for they haue not cast thee away, but they haue cast me away, that I shulde not reigne ouer them.

8 As thei haue euer done since I broght the out of Egypt euen vnto this day, (and haue forsaken me, and serued other gods) euen so do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearké vnto their voyce: howbeit yet e testifie vnto them & shewe the maner of the King that shal reigne ouer them.

e To proue if they wil forsake their wicked purpose.

10 ¶ So Samuél tolde all the wordes of the Lord vnto the people that asked a King of him.

11 And he said, This shalbe the f maner of the King that shal reigne ouer you: he wil take your sonnes, and appoint them to his charets, and to be his hoisemen, and some shal runne before his charet.

f Not y Kings haue this autoritie by their office, but that suche as reigne in Gods wrath shulde vsurpe this ouer their brethren contrary to the Lawe Deu 17, 20.

12 Also he wil make them his captaines ouer thousandes and captaines ouer fifties, and to eare his grounde, and to reape his haruest, & to make instruments of ware, and the things that serue for his charets.

13 He wil also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he wil take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he wil take the tenth of your fede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his Eunuches, and to his seruants.

g Or, chief offe.

16 And he wil take your men seruants and your maid seruants, and the chief of your yong men, and your asses, and put them to his woike.

17 He wil take the tenth of your shepe, and ye shalbe his seruants.

18 And ye shal crye out at that day, because of your King, whome ye haue chosen you, and the Lord wil not s heare you at that day.

g Because ye repent not for your finnes, but because ye smite for your afflictions, whereinto ye cast your telles willingly.

19 But y people wolde not heare the voyce of Samuél, but did say, Nay, but there shalbe a King ouer vs.

20 And we also wil be like all other nacions, and our King shal iudge vs, & go out before vs, and fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuél heard all the wordes of the people, he rehearsed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord said to Samuél, Hearken vnto their voyce, and make them a King And Samuél said vnto the men of Israël, Go euerie man vnto his citie.

There was now a man of Beniamín a mightie in power named * Kish the sonne of Abiél, the sonne of Zerór, & sonne of Bechoiáth, the sonne of Aphíah, the sonne of a man of Ieminí.

And he had a sone called Saúl, a ^b goodly yong man and a faíre: so that among the children of Isiaél there was none good-lier then he: from the sholders vpward he was hier then anie of the people.

And the asses of Kish Saules father were lost: therefore Kish said to Saúl his sonne, Take now one of the seruants with thee,
and arise, go, and seke the asses.

So he passed through mount Ephraím & went through the land of Shalisháh, but they found them not. Then they went through the land of Shalím, and there they were not: he went also through the land of Ieminí, but they found them not.

When they came to the land of ^d Zuph, Saúl said vnto his seruant that was with him, Come and let vs returne, lest my father leaue the care of asses, and take thought for vs.

And he said vnto him, Beholde now, in this citie is a man of God, and he is an honorable man: all that he saíeth commeth to passe: let vs now go thither, if so be that he can shewe vs what way we may go.

Then said Saúl to his seruant, Wel then, let vs go: but what shal we bring vnto the man? For the bread is spent in our vessels, and there is no present to bring to the mā of God: what haue we?

And the seruant answered Saúl againe, & said, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth parte of a shekle of siluer: that wil
I giue the man of God, to tel vs our way.

(Beforetime in Is. aél when a man went to like an answer of God, thus he spake, Come, & let vs go to the ^f Seer: for he that is called now a Prophet, was in ^g y olde time called a Seer.)

The said Saúl to his se uant, Wel said, come, let vs go: so they went into the ci-tie where the man of God was.

¶ And as thei were going vp the hie way to the citie, they founde maydes that came out to drawe water, and said vnto the,
Is there here a Seer?

And they answered them, and said, Yea:
lo, he is before you. make haste now, for he came this day to the citie: for there is an offring of the people this day in the hie place.

When ye shal come into the citie, ye shal finde him streight way yer he come vp to the hie place to eat: for the people wil not eat vntil he come, because he wil ^h bleffe & sacrifice: and then eat: they that be bidden to the feast: now therefore go vp: for euē now shal ye finde him.

Then they went vp into the citie, and when they were come into the middes of the citie, Samuél came out against them, to go vp to the hie place.

¶ But the Lord had reueiled to Samuél ^{Chap 15. 2.} secretly (a day before Saúl came) say- ^{act 13. 21.}
ing, <sup>"Ebr in his Tomorowe about this time I wil send thee a man out of the land of Beniamín:

him shalt thou anoint to be gouernour ouer my people Isiaél, & he may saue my people out of the hands of the Philistims:
for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crye is come vnto me.

When Samuél therefore sawe Saúl, the Lord answered him, Se, this is the man whome I spake to thee of, he shal rule my people.

Then went Saúl to Samuél in the mid-des of the gate, and said, Tel me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

And Samuél answered Saúl, and said, I am the Seer: go vp before me vnto the hie place: for ye shal eat with me to-day. and tomorowe I wil let thee go, & wil tel thee all that is in thine heart.

And as for thine asses & were lost thre dayes ago, care not for them: for they are founde, and ^k on whome is set all the desi-e of Israél: is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers house?

¶ But Saúl answered, and said, Am not I the sonne of Ieminí of the smalest tribe of Israél? & my familie is the least of all the families of & tribe of Beniamín. Wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

And Samuél toke Saúl and his seruant, and broght them into the ^m chamber, and made them sit in the chiefe place among them that were bidden: which were about thirtie persones.

And Samuél said vnto the cooke, Bring whereof I said vnto thee, Kepe it with thee.

And the cooke toke vp the shoulder, &

And Samuél said, Beholde, that which is left, set it before thee & eat: for hitherto hathe it bene kept for thee, saying, Also I with Samuél that day.

And whē they were come downe frō the

Then Samuél toke a vial of oyle and powred it vpon his head, & kissed him, and said, Hathe not the Lord anointed thee to be gouernour ouer his inheritance?

2 When thou shalt departe from me this day, thou shalt finde two men by Rahels sepulchre in the border of Benjamin, eué at Zelzáh, & thei wil say vnto thee, The asses which y wentest to seke, are founde: & lo, thy father hathe left the care of the asses, and soroweth for you, saying, What shal I do for my sonne?

3 Then shalt thou go forth from thence and shalt come to the plaine of Tabór, and there shal mete thee thre mē going vp to God to Beth-el: one caryyng thre kiddes, & another caryyng thre loaues of bread, and another caryyng a bottle of wine:

11 Therefore all the people that knewe him before, when thei sawe that he prophecied among the Prophets, said eche to other, What is come vnto the sonne of Kish? Is Saúl also among the Prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered, and said, But who is their father? Therefore it was a prouerbe, Is Saúl also among the Prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of propheciying, he came to the hie place.

15 And Sauls vncle said, Tel me, I pray thee, what Samuél said vnto you.

16 Then Saúl said to his vncle, He tolde vs plainly that the asses were founde: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuél spake, tolde he him nor.

17 And Samuél assembled the people vnto the Lord in Mizpéh,

18 And he said vnto the children of Israël, Thus saith the Lord God of Israël, I haue brought Israël out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 But ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulacions: and ye said vnto him, No, but appoint a King ouer vs. Now therefore stand ye before the Lord according to your tribes and according to your thousands.

20 And when Samuél had gathered together all the tribes of Israël, the tribe of Benjamin was taken.

21 Afterwarde he assembled the tribe of Benjamin according to their families, & the familie of Matrí was taken. So Saúl the sonne of Kish was taken, and when thei fought him, he colde not be founde.

22 Therefore thei asked the Lord againe, if that man shulde yet come thether. And the Lord answered, Beholde, he hathe hid him selfe among the stuffe.

23 And thei anne, and brought him thence: and when he stode among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders vpward.

24 And Samuél said to all the people, Se ye not him, whome the Lord hathe chosen, that there is none like him among all the people. And all the people showed and said, God saue the King.

25 Then Samuél tolde the people the duetie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and layed it vp before the Lord, & Samuél sent all the people away euery man to his house.

26 Saúl also went home to Gibeáh, & there followed him a band of men, whose heart God had touched,

27 But the wicked men said, How shal he saue vs? So thei despised him, and brought him no presentes: but he held his roque.

1 Nahásh the Ammonite warreth against Iabésh Gileád, who asketh helpe of the Israelites: 6 Saul promisseth helpe: 11 The Ammonites are slayne. 14 The kingdome is remoued.

a After that Saul was chosen King: for feare of whom they asked a King, as Chap 12, 12.

Then Nahásh the Ammonite ^a came vp, and besieged Iabésh Gileád: and all the men of Iabésh said vnto Nahásh, Make a couenant with vs, and we wil be thy seruants.

2 And Nahásh the Ammonite answered them, On this condicion wil I make a couenant with you, that I may thrusse out all your ^b right eyes, & bring that shame vpon all Israél.

b This declarerh, that the more nere that tyrants are to their destruction, the more cruell they are.

3 To whome ^y Elders of Iabésh said, Giue vs seven daies respekt, that we may send messengers vnto all the coastes of Israél: & then if no man deliuer vs, we wil come out to thee.

4 ¶ Then came the messengers to Gibeáh of Saúl, & tolde these tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people lift vp their voyces and wept.

5 And beholde, Saúl came following the cartel out of the field, & Saúl said, What ayleth this people, ^y thei wepe? And thei tolde him the tidings of the mé of Iabésh.

c God gaue him the spirit of strength & courage to go against this tyrant.

6 Then the Spirit of God ^c came vpon Saúl, when he heard those tidings, and he was exceeding angry,

7 And tooke a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the coastes of Israél by the hands of messengers, saying, Whosoeuer commeth not forthe after Saúl, and after ^d Samuél, ⁵ so shal his oxen be serued. 10 Therefore the men of Iabésh said, Tomorowe we wil come out vnto ^f you, & ye shal do with vs all that pleaseth you.

f That is, to y Ammonites, dissembling that they had hope of aide.

11 ¶ And when the morowe was come, Saúl put the people in thre bands, & thei came in vnto the hoste in the morning watch, & slewe the Ammonites vntil the heate of the day: and thei that remained, were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

12 Then the people said vnto Samuél, ⁸ Who is he that said, Shal Saúl reigne ouer vs? bring those mé that we may slaye them.

g By this victorie the Lord wone y hearts of the people to Saúl.

13 But Saúl said, There shal no man ^h dye this day: for to day the Lord hath saued Israél.

h By shewing mercie he thought to ouercome their malice.

14 ¶ Then said Samuél vnto the people, Come, that we may go to Gilgál, & renew the kingdome there.

15 So all the people went to Gilgál, and made Saul King there before the Lord in Gilgál: and there thei offered ⁱ peace offerings before the Lord: and there Saúl & all the mé of Israél reioyced exceedingly.

Therefore the Lord sent Ierubbáal & Bedan & Iphtáh, & Samuél, & deliuered you out of the hands of your enemies on euerie side, and ye dwelled safe.

Notwithstanding when you sawe, that Nahásh the King of the children of Ammon came against you, ye said vnto me, No, but a King shal reigne ouer vs: whē yet the Lord your God was your King.

Is it not now wheate haruest? I wil call vnto the Lord, and he shal send thundre and raine, that ye may perceiue and se, how that your wickednes is great, which ye haue done in the sight of the Lord in asking you a King.

Then Samuél called vnto the Lord, and the Lord sent thundre and raine the same day: and all the people feared the Lord & Samuél exceedingly.

And all the people said vnto Samuél, Pray for thy seruants vnto the Lord thy God, that we dye not: for we haue sinned in asking vs a King, beside all our other finnes.

¶ And Samuél said vnto y people, Feare not. (ye haue in dede done all this wickednes, yet departe not from following the Lord, but serue y Lord with all your heart,

The Philistims are smitten of Saul & Ionathán. 13 Saul being disobedient to Gods commandement is shewed of Samuél that he shal not reigne. 19 The great seruice, wherein the Philistims kept the Israelites.

Saul now had bene King a one yere, & she reigned b two yeres ouer Israël.

Then Saul chose him thre thousand of Israël: & two thousand were with Saul in Michmásh, and in mount Beth-él, and a thousand were with Ionathán in Gibeáh of Benjamin: and the rest of the people he sent euerie one to his tent.

And Ionathán smote the garison of the Philistims, that was in the c hil: and it came to the Philistims eares: and Saul blew the d trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Heare, o ye Ebrewes.

And all Israël heard say, Saul hath destroyed a garison of the Philistims: wherefore Israël was had in abominació with the Philistims: and the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgál.

¶ The Philistims also gathered them felues together to fight with Israël, thirtie thousand charrets and six thousand horseme: for the people was like the sand which is by the seas side in multitude, and came vp, and pitched in Michmásh Eastwarde from e Beth-áuen.

And whē the men of Israël sawe that they were in a strait (for the people were in distresse) the people hid thē selues in caues, & in holdes, & in rockes, & towres, & in pittes.

And some of the Ebrewes went ouer Iordén vnto the land of f Gad & Gileád: and Saul was yet in Gilgál, and all the people for feare followed him.

And he taried seue dayes, according vnto the time that Samuél had appointed: but Samuél came not to Gilgál, therefore the people were g scared f: om him.

And Saul said, Bring a burnt offring to me and peace offerings: and he offered a burnt offring.

And as sone as he had made an end of offring the burnt offring, beholde, Samuél came. and Saul went forth to mete him, to salute him.

And Samuél said, What hast thou done? Then Saul said, Because I sawe that the people was h scared from me, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philistims gathered thē selues together to Michmásh, Therefore said I, The Philistims wil come downe now vpon me to Gilgál, and I haue not made supplicacion vnto the Lord. I was bolde therefore and offered a burnt offring.

15 ¶ And Samuél arose, and gate him vp frō Gilgál in ¹ Gibeáh of Beniamín: & Saúl nombred the people that were foude with him, about six hundreth men.

16 And Saúl and Ionathán his sonne, & the people that were founde with them, had their abiding in Gibeáh of Beniamín: but the Philistims pitched in Michmásh.

17 And there came out of the hoste of the Philistims ^h thre bādes to destroy, one bāde turned vnto the way of Ophráh vnto the land of Shuál,

18 And another bande turned toward the way to Beth-horón, and the ^m thirde bāde turned toward the way of the coast that loketh toward the valley of Zeboím, toward the wildernes.

19 Thē there was no smith founde through out all the land of Israël: for the Philistims said, Lest the Ebrewes make them swordes or speares.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites wēt downe to the Philistims, to sharpen euerie man his share, his mattocke, & his axe and his weding hooke.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattockes, and for the pickeforkes, & for the axes and for to sharpen the goades.

22 So when the day of battel was come, there was nether ⁿ sworde nor speare founde in the hands of anie of the people that were with Saúl & with Ionathán: but onely with Saúl and Ionathán his sonne was there founde.

23 And the garison of the Philistims came out to the passage of Michmásh.

CHAP. XIII.

14 Ionathán and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight. 24 Saúl bindeth the people by an othe, not to eat til euening. 32 The people eat with the blood. 38 Saúl would put Ionathán to death. 45 The people deliuer him.

1 Then on a day Ionathán the sonne of Saúl said vnto the yong man that bare his armour, ^a Come and let vs go ouer toward the Philistims garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

2 And Saúl taryed in the border of Gibeáh vnder a pomegranate tre, which was in Migrón, and the people that were with him, were about six hundreth men.

3 And Ahiah the sonne of Ahitúb, * Ichabods brother, the sonne of Phinehás, the sonne of Elí, was the Lords Priest in Shiloh, and ware an Ephód: and the people knewe not that Ionathán was gone.

4 ¶ Now in the way whereby Ionathán sought to go ouer to ^y Philistims garison, there was a ^c sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the name of the one was called Bozéz, & the name of the other Séneh.

5 The one rocke stretched frō the North toward Michmásh, & the other was from the South toward Gibeáh.

6 And Ionathán said to the yong man that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these ^b vncircumcised: it may be that the Lord wil worke with vs: for it is ^c not hard to the Lord ^d to saue with manie, or with fewe.

7 And he that bare his armour, said vnto him, do all that is in thine heart: go where it pleaseth thee: beholde, ^e I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

8 Then said Ionathán, Beholde, we go ouer vnto those men, and wil shewe our selues vnto them.

9 ^d If they say on this wise to vs, Tarie vntil we come to you, then we wil stand stil in our place, and not go vp to them.

10 But if they say, Come vp vnto vs, then we wil go vp: for ^e the Lord hath deliuered them into our hand: and this shal be a signe vnto vs.

11 So they bothe shewed them selues vnto the garison of the Philistims: and the Philistims said, Se, the Ebrewes come out of ^f ^g holes wherein they had hid the selues.

12 And the men of the garison answered Ionathán, & his armour bearer, and said, Come vp to vs: for we wil shewe you a thing. Then Ionathán said vnto his armour bearer, Come vp after me: for the Lord hath deliuered them into the hand of Israël.

13 So Ionathán went vp vpon ^f his hands and vpon his fete, and his armour bearer after him: and some fel before Ionathán, & his armour bearer slewe others after him.

14 So the ^h first slaughter which Ionathán and his armour bearer made, was about twentie mē within that cōpasse, as it were within halfe an acre of land which two oxen plowe.

15 And there was a feare in the hoste, and in the field, and amōg all the people: the garison also, and they that went out to spoile, were afayed them selues: and the earth ^h trembled: for it was stricken with feare by God.

16 ¶ Thē the watchmen of Saúl in Gibeáh of Beniamín sawe: and beholde, the multitude was discomfited, and smitten as they went.

18 And Saúl said vnto Ahiáh, Bring hither the Arke of God (for y^e Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israël)

19 ¶ And while Saúl talked vnto the Priest, the noise, that was in the hoste of the Philistims, spread farther abroad, & encreased: therefore Saúl said vnto the Priest, Withdrawe thine hand.

20 And Saúl was assembled with all the people that were with him, and they came to the battel: & beholde, * euerie mans sward was against his fellowe, and there was a very great discomfiture.

21 Moreouer y^e Ebiewes that were with the Philistims before time, & were come with them into all partes of the hoste, euē they also turned to be with the ^h Israelites that were with Saúl and Ionathán.

22 Also all the men of Israël which had hid them selues in mount Ephráim when they heard, that the Philistims were fled, they followed after them in the battel.

23 And so the Lord sauéd Israël that day: and the battel continued vnto Beth-áuen.

24 ¶ And at that time the men of Israël were pressed with hunger: for Saúl charged the people with an othe, saying, ⁱ Curfed be the man y^e eateth "foode til nyght, that I may be auenged of mine enemies: so none of the people tasted ^{any} sustenance.

25 And all they of the lād came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, & beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his hād to his mouth: for the people feared the ^m othe.

27 But Ionathán heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hād, and dipt it in an hony cōbe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his ⁿ eyes receyued sight.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made y^e people to sweare, saying, Curfed be the man that eateth sustenance this day: and the people were faint.

29 Then said Ionathán, My father hathe troubled the land: se now how mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a litle of this hony:

30 How muche more, if the people had eatē to day of the spoyle of their enemies which they founde: for had there not bene now a greater slaughter among the Philistims?

31 ¶ And they smote y^e Philistims that day, from Michmásh to Aialón: and the people were exceeding faint.

32 So the people turned to the spoyle, and toke shepe, & oxen, and calues, & slewe the on the ground, and the people did eat the * with the blood.

33 Then men told Saúl, saying, Beholde, the people sinne against the Lord, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye haue trespassed: p^roule a great stone vnto me this day.

34 Againe Saúl said, Go abroad among y^e people, & bid them bring me euerie man his oxe, and euery mā his shepe, and slaye them here, and eate and sinne not against the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people broght euery man his oxe in his hand that night and slewe them there.

35 Then Saúl made an altar vnto the Lord, & that was the first altar that he made vnto the Lord.

36 ¶ And Saúl said, Let vs go downe after the Philistims by night, and spoyle them vntil the morning shine, and let vs not leaue a mā of them. And they said, Do whatsoever thou thinkest best. Then said the Priest, Let vs draw nere hither vnto God.

37 So Saúl asked of God, saying, Shall I go downe after the Philistims? wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israël? But he answered him not at that time.

38 ¶ And Saúl said, * All "ye chief of y^e people, come ye hither, and knowe, and se by whome this sinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liueth, which saueth Israël, though it be done by Ionathán my sonne, he shal dye the death. But none of all the people answered him.

40 Then he said vnto all Israël, Be ye on one side, & I and Ionathán my sonne will be on the other side. And the people said vnto Saúl, Do what thou thinkest best.

41 Then Saúl said vnto the Lord God of Israël, Giue a perfet lot. And Ionathán & Saúl were taken, but the people escaped.

42 And Saúl said, Cast lot betwene me and Ionathán my sonne. And Ionathán was taken.

43 Then Saúl said to Ionathán, Tel me what thou hast done. And Ionathán told him, and said, I tasted a litle hony with y^e end of the rod, that was in mine hand, & lo, I must dye.

44 Againe Saúl answered, God do so and more also, vnles y^e dye y^e death, Ionathán.

45 And the people said vnto Saúl, ¶ Shal Ionathán dye, who hathe so mightely deliuered Israël? God forbid. As y^e Lord liueth there shal not one heere of his head fall to the ground: for he hathe wrought wth God this day. So the people deliuered Ionathán that he dyed not.

² Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I remember what Amalék did to Israël, * how they layed wait for them in the way, as they came vp from Egypt.

⁴ That this might be an example of Gods vengeance against the that deale cruelly with his people.

⁴ And Saúl assembled the people, and nombred them in Teláim, two hundred thousand fotemen, and ten thousand men of Iudáh.

⁵ Or, where their number by the lambs, which they brought Or, forgets in the valley.

⁵ And Saúl came to a citie of Amalék, and set watch at the riuer.

⁶ Which were the posterie of Iethró Moyses father in lawe
⁷ For Iethró came to visit them and gaue them good counsel, Exod. 18, 19.

⁷ So Saúl smote the Amalekites from Hailáh as thou comest to Shur; that is before Egypt, ⁸ And toke Agág the King of the Amalekites aliue, and destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.

⁹ But Saúl and the people spared Agág, & the better shepe, and the oxen, and the fat beastes, and the lambes, and all that was good, & they wolde not destroye the: but euery thing that was vile & noight worthe, that they destroyed.

¹⁰ ¶ The came the worde of the Lord vnto Samuél, saying,

¹¹ It repenteth me that I haue made Saúl King: for he is turned from me, & hath not performed my commandements. And Samuél was moued, & cryed vnto the Lord all night.

¹² God in his eternal cõseil neuer chãgeth, nor repenteth, as ver. 29. though he seemeth to vs to repent, whene any thing contrary to his temporal election.

¹² And when Samuél arose early to mete Saúl in the morning, one tolde Samuél, saying, Saul is gone to Carmél: and beholde, he hath made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgál.

¹³ ¶ The Samuél came to Saúl, & Saúl said vnto him, Blessed be y of the Lord, I haue fulfilled the cõmandement of the Lord.

¹⁴ This is y nature of hypocrites, to be impudẽt against the truth, to condemne others, & iustifie thei selues.

¹⁴ But Samuél said, What meaneth then y bleating of the shepe in mine eares, & the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

¹⁶ Againe Samuél said to Saúl, Let me tell thee what the Lord hath said to me this night. And he said vnto him, Say on.

¹⁷ Meaning of base condition, as Chap 9, 21.

¹⁸ And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, & said, Go, and destroye those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntil thou destroye them.

¹⁹ Now wherefore hast thou not obeyed y voyce of the Lord, but hast turned to the praye, and hast done wickedly in the fight of the Lord?

²¹ He standeth most ipudẽtly in his owne defence bothe against God & his owne conscience.

²¹ But y people toke of the spoyle, shepe, & oxen, & the chiefest of the things which shulde haue bene destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgál.

²² And Samuél said, Hath y Lord as great pleasure in burnt offerings & sacrifices, as when the voyce of y Lord is obeyed? beholde, * to obey is better then sacrifice, and to hearken is better then the fat of rammes.

²³ Eccles. 4, 17. Job 6, 7.

k This was not true repentance, but dissimulation, fearing y^e losse of his kingdome

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord.

26 But Samuél said vnto Saúl, I wil not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the worde of the Lord, & the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be Kīg ouer Israél.

27 And as Samuél turned him selfe to go away, he caught y^e lap of his coat, & it rēt.

28 Then Samuél said vnto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Israél from thee this day, & hath giuen it to thy neighbour, that is better then thou.

30 Then he said, I haue sinned: but honour me, I pray thee, before the Elders of my people, & before Israél, & turne againe wth me, that I may worship the Lord thy God.

31 ¶ So Samuél turned againe, and followed Saúl: and Saúl worshipped the Lord.

7 God regardeth the heart 13 The Spirit of the Lord commeth vpon Dauid. 14 The wicked spirit is sent vpon Saúl. 19 Saúl sendeth for Dauid.

a Signifying, y^e we ought not to shewe ourselves more pittiful then God, nor to lament thē, whom he hath cast off.

1 The Lord thē said vnto Samuél, How long wilt y^e mourne for Saúl, ^a seing I haue cast him away from reigning ouer Israél: thine horne with oyle and come, I wil find thee to Ishái the Bethlehemite: for I haue prouided me a King among his sonnes.

2 And Samuél said, How can I go ^a for if Saúl shal heare it, he wil kil me. Then the Lord answered, Take an heifer wth thee, & say, I am come ^b to do sacrifice to y^e Lord.

b That is, to make a peace offering, which might be done though y^e Arke was not there.

3 And call Ishái to the sacrifice, and I wil shewe thee what y^e shalt do, & y^e shalt anoint vnto me him whome I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuél did y^e the Lord bade him, & came to Beth-léhem, and the Elders of the towne were ^c astonied at his comming, & said, Commeſt thou peaceably?

c Fearing, lest some grievous crime had bene committed, because y^e Prophet was not wont to come thither.

5 And he answered, Yea: I am come to do sacrifice vnto the Lord: sanctifie your selues, & come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Ishái and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliáb, and said, Surely the Lords ^d Anointed is before him.

d Thinking, y^e Eliáb had bene appointed of God to be made King

7 But the Lord said vnto Samuél, Loke not on his cōtinance, nor on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the ^e heart.

15 And Sauls seruāts said vnto hī, Beholde now, y^e euil spirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our lord therefore commande thy seruants, that are before thee, to seke a man, that is a conning player vpon the harpe: that when the euil spirit of God commeth vpon thee, he may playe with his hand, & thou maiest be easēd.

17 Saúl then said vnto his seruāts, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play wel, & bring him to me.

18 Then answered one of his seruants, and said, Beholde, I haue sene a ^h sonne of Ishái, a Bethlehemite, that can playe, & is ittiōg, valiāt & a mā of warie & wise in matters, & a comely personē, & y^e Lord is with hī.

21 And Dauid came to Saúl, and stode before him: and he loued him very wel, and he was his armour bearer.

22 And Saúl sent to Ishái, saying, Let Dauid now remaine with me: for he hath founde fauour in my fight.

23 And so when the euil spirit of God came vpon Saúl, Dauid toke an harpe and plaied with his hand, & Saúl was refreshed, & was eased: for the euil spirit departed from him.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The Philistims make warre against Israél. 10 Goliáth defieth Israél. 17 Dauid is sent to his brethren. 34 The strength and boldnes of Dauid. 47 The Lord saueh not by sword nor speare. 50 Dauid killeth Goliáth and the Philistims flee.

1 NOW the Philistims gathered their armies to battel, and came together to Shochóh, which is in Iudáh, & pitched betwene Shochóh and Azekáh, in the coast of Dammim.

Or, in Ephes dammim.

2 And Saúl, and the men of Israél assembled, and pitched in the valley of Eláh, & put them selues in battel array to mete the Philistims.

Or, of the vale.

3 And the Philistims stode on a mountaine on the one side, and Israél stode on a mountaine on the other side: so a valley was betwene them.

4 Betwene the two camps.

4 ¶ Then came a mā betwene them: bothe out of the tentes of the Philistims, named Goliáth of Gath: his height was six cubits and an hand breadth,

Or, vale of place.

5 And had an helmet of brasse vpo his head, and a brigandine vpon him: and the weight of his brigandine was five thousand shekels of brasse.

6 That is, 156 lib 4 ounces, after halfe an ounce the shekel & 600 shekels weight amounteth to 12 lib 3 quarters 40 grains.

6 And he had bootes of brasse vpo his legges, & a shilde of brasse vpo his shoulders.

7 And the shafte of his speare was like a weauers beame: and his speare head weyed six hundreth shekels of yron: and one bearing a shilde went before him.

8 And he stode, and cryed against the hoste of Israél, and said vnto them, Why are ye come to set your battel in array? am not I a Philistim, and you seruants to Saúl? chose you a mā for you, & let him come downe to me.

Or, finite me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and kil me, then wil we be your seruants: but if I ouercome him, and kil him, then shal ye be our seruants, and serue vs.

10 Also the Philistim said, I defie the hoste of Israél this day: giue me a man, that we may fight together.

Or, bid to battel.

11 When Saúl and all Israél heard those wordes of the Philistim, they were discouraged, and greatly afayed.

Chap. 18.

12 ¶ Now this Dauid was the sonne of an Ephrathite of Beth-léhem Iudáh, named Ishái, which had eight sonnes: and this mā was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saúl.

Or, he was called. And among the Iudas here office.

13 And the thre eldest sonnes of Ishái went and followed Saúl to the battel: and the names of his thre sonnes that wēt to battel, were Eliáb the eldest, & the next Abinadáb, and the third Shammáh.

14 So Dauid was the least: and the thre eldest went after Saúl.

15 Dauid also went, but he returned from Saúl to fede his fathers shepe in Beth-léhem.

c To serue Saúl, as chap 16. ver. 19.

16 And the Philistim drewe nere in y morning, and euening, and continued fourtie dayes.

17 And Ishái said vnto Dauid his sonne, Take now for thy brethren an Ephláh of this parched corne, and these ten cakes, and runne to the hoste to thy brethren.

d Though Ishái ment one thing, yet Gods providence directed Dauid to another end.

18 Also cary these ten fresh cheses vnto the captaine, and loke how thy brethren fare, and receiue their pledge.

e If they haue laied anething to gage for their necessitie, redeme it out.

19 (Then Saúl and they, and all the men of Israél were in the valley of Eláh, fighting with the Philistims)

20 ¶ So Dauid rose vp early in the mornig, and left the shepe with a keper, and toke and went as Ishái had commanded him, & came within the compasse of the hoste: & the hoste went out in array, and showed in the battel.

21 For Israél and the Philistims had put them selues in array, armie against armie.

22 And Dauid left the things, which he bare, vnder the hands of the keper of the carriage, and ran into the hoste, & came, and asked his brethren how they did.

e Or, vessel. f Or, of peace.

23 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man that was betwene the two armies, came vp, (whose name was Goliáth the Philistim of Gath) out of the armie of the Philistims, and spake suche wordes, & Dauid heard them.

Or, valley. g As are above rehearsed ver. 2, & 9.

24 And all the men of Israél, when they sawe the man, ran away from him, & were fore afayed.

25 For euery man of Israél said, Sawe ye not this man that cometh vpo euery man to reuile Israél? is he come vp: and to him that killeth hī, wil the King giue great riches, and wil giue him his daughter, yea, and make his fathers house fre in Israél.

10 Or, 15, 200. h From taxes & payments.

26 ¶ Then Dauid spake to the men that stode with him, and said, What shalbedone to the man that killeth this Philistim, and taketh away the shame from Israél? for who is this vncircumcised Philistim, that he shulde reuile the hoste of the liuing God?

h This dishonour y he doeth to Israél.

27 And the people answered him after this maner, saying, Thus shal it be done to the

the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliáb his eldest brother heard whē he spake vnto the men, & Eliáb was very angry with Dauid, and said, Why comest thou downe hether? and with whom hast thou left those fewe shepe in the wilderness? I knowe thy pride and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to se the battel.

For his fathers sending was a iuste occasion, & also he told him self inwardly moued by Gods Spirit.

29 Then Dauid said, What haue I now done? Is there not a cause?

30 And he departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the former wordes.

31 ¶ And then that heard the wordes which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saúl, which caused him to be broght.

32 So Dauid said to Saúl, Let no mā's heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, and fight with this Philistim.

Here Saran saith Dauids faith by the confidence of Saul.

33 And Saul said to Dauid, Thou art not able to go against this Philistim to fight with him: for thou art a boye, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

Dauid by the experience y he hadde had in time past of Gods helpe, nothing doubting to overcome this danger, seing he was zealous for Gods honour.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saúl, Thy seruant kept his fathers shepe, and there came a lyon and likewise a beare, and toke a shepe out of the flocke, 35 And I went out after him & smote him, & toke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the bearde, and smote him, and slewe him.

For by these examples he sawe that the power of God was w him.

36 So thy seruant slewe bothe the lyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philistim shalbe as one of them, seing he hath railed on y hoste of the liuing God.

37 ¶ Moreouer Saul said, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he wil deliuer me out of the hand of this Philistim. Then Saúl said vnto Dauid, Go, and the Lord be with thee.

Or, assured

38 And Saúl put his rayment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

39 Thē giued Dauid his sworde vpon his rayment, and began to go: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saúl, I can not go with these: for I am not accustomed, wherefore Dauid put them of him.

To y intent that by these weake meanes God might only be knowe to be y autor of this victorie.

40 Then toke he his staffe in his hand, and chose him fise smothe stones out of a brooke, and put them in his shepherdes bag or skuppe, & his sling was in his hād, and he drewe nere to the Philistim.

41 ¶ And the Philistim came & diewe nere vnto Dauid, and the man that bare the shield went before him.

42 Now when the Philistim looked about and sawe Dauid, he disdained him: for he was but yong, rudely & of a comely face.

43 And the Philistim said vnto Dauid, Am

I a dog, that thou comest to me with staues? And the Philistim cursed Dauid by his gods.

He swaure by his gods that he wolde destroye him.

44 And y Philistim said to Dauid, Come to me, and I wil giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

45 ¶ Thē said Dauid to y Philistim, Thou comest to me with a sworde, and with a speare, and with a shield; but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israël, whome thou hast railed vpon.

46 This day shal the Lord close thee in mine hand, and I shal smite thee, and take thine head from thee, and I wil giue the carcases of the hoste of the Philistims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, & to the beastes of the earth, y all the worlde may knowe that Israël harhe a God, Dauid being assured bothe of his cause & of his calling, propheticall of the destruction of the Philistims.

47 And that all this assemblie may knowe, that the Lord saueh not with sworde nor with speare (for the battel is the Lords) & he wil giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistim arose to come and drawe nere vnto Dauid, Dauid hastened & ran to fight against the Philistim.

Being moued with a feruent zeale to be reuenged vpon this blasphemer of Gods Name.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and toke out a stone, & slang it and smote the Philistim in his forehead, that the stone stuck in his forehead, and he fel groueling to the earth.

50 So Dauid ouercame the Philistim with a sling and with a stone, & smote the Philistim, & slewe him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand.

Ecclesi-47.4. 1. MAC. 4.30.

51 Then Dauid ran, and stode vpon the Philistim, and toke his sworde & cut it out of his sheath, and slewe him, & cut of his head therewith. So whē the Philistims sawe, that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israël and Iudáh arose, and showed, and followed after the Philistims, vntil they came to the valley, and vnto the gates of Ekion: and the Philistims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaraim, euen to Gath and to Ekion.

Or, Gath, & Ekion.

53 And the children of Israël returned fro pursuing the Philistims, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid toke the head of the Philistim, and broght it to Ierusalém, and put his armour in his tent.

Or, house at Beth léhem.

55 ¶ When Saúl sawe Dauid go forth against the Philistim, he said vnto Abnér the captaine of his hoste, Abnér, whose sonne is this yong man? and Abnér answered, As thy soule liueth, O King, I cannot tell.

That is, of what familie & tribe is he? or els, he had forgotten Dauid, albeit he had receiued so great a benefit by him.

56 Thē the King said, Enquire thou whose sonne this yong man is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of y Philistim, the Abner toke him, & broght him before Saúl with the head of the Philistim in his hand.

58 And Saúl said to him, Whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? And Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruant Ishai the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The amitie of Ionathán and Dauid. 8 Saúl enuieth Dauid for the praise that the women gaue him 11 Saúl wolde haue slayne Dauid 17 He promiseth him Merab to wife, but giueth him Michal 27 Dauid deliuereth to Saúl two hundred foreskinnes of the Philistims. 29 Saúl feareth Dauid, seing that the Lord is with him.

1 ANd when he had made an end of speaking vnto Saúl, the ^a soule of Ionathán was knit with the soule of Dauid, and Ionathán loued him, as his owne soule.

^a His affection was fully bent toward him

2 And Saúl toke him that day, and wolde not let him returne to his fathers house.

3 Then Ionathán and Dauid made a covenant: for he loued him as his owne soule.

4 And Ionathán put of the robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Dauid, and his garments, euen to his sworde, & to his bowe, and to his girdle.

5 And Dauid went out whether soeuer Saúl sent him, & behaued him selfe ^b wisely: so that Saúl set him ouer the meé of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Sauls seruants.

^b That is, he prospered in all his doings.

6 ¶ When thei came againe, and Dauid returned from the slaughter of the ^c Philistim, the women came out of all cities of Israél, singing and dancing to mete King Saúl, with timbrels, with ^d instruments of ioye, and with rebeckes.

^c To wit, Goliath.

7 And the women sang by cours in their playe, & said, * Saúl hathe slayne his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand.

^d Ebr Answered, playing Chap. 21. 11. & 29. 5 eccl. 47. 7.

8 Therefore Saúl was exceeding wrath, and the saying displeased him, & he said, They haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, & to me thei haue ascribed ^e but a thousand, & what can he haue mote saue the kingdome?

9 Wherefore Saúl ^d had an eye on Dauid from that day forward.

^d Because he bare him enie & hatred.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the euil spirit of God came vpon Saúl, & he ^e prophesied in the middes of the house: and Dauid played with his hand like as at other times, and there ^f was a speake in Sauls hand.

^e That is, spoke as a madde man beside himselfe: for so the people abused this worde, when thei colde not vnderstand.

11 And Saúl toke the speare, and said, I wil smite Dauid ^g through to y wall. But Dauid auoyded twise out of his presence.

12 And Saúl was afraid of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saúl.

13 Therefore Saúl put him from him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, and he went ^f out and in before the people.

^f Meaning, he was captaine ouer y people.

14 And Dauid behaued him selfe wisely in all his waies: for the Lord ^g was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saúl sawe that he was very wise, he was afraid of him.

16 For all Israél and Iudah loued Dauid, because he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ The Saúl said to Dauid, Beholde mine eldest daughter Merab, her I wil giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant sonne vnto me, and ^h fight the Lords battels: for Saúl thought, Mine hand shal not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philistims shal be vpon him.

^g Fight against them y warre against Gods people

18 And Dauid answered Saúl, What am I, and what is my life, or the familie of my father in Israél, that I shulde be sonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Merab Sauls daughter shulde haue bene giue to Dauid, ^h she was giue vnto Adriel a Meholahite to wife.

^h By whome he had five sonnes, which Dauid put to death at the request of the Gironites, 2 Sam 21. 2.

20 ¶ Then Michal Sauls daughter loued Dauid: and thei shewed Saúl, & the thing pleased him.

21 Therefore Saúl said, I wil giue him her, that she may be a ⁱ snare to him, and that the had of the Philistims may be against hi. Wherefore Saúl said to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in lawe in the ^j one of the twaine.

ⁱ So his hypocricie appeareth: for vnder pretence of raunour he sought his destruction.

22 And Saúl comanded his seruants, Speake with Dauid secretly, and say, Beholde, the King hathe a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: be now therefore the Kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake these wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid said, ^k Semeth it to you a light thing to be a Kings sonne in lawe, seing that I am a poore man and of small reputacion?

^k Meaning, y he was not able to endowe his wife with riches.

24 And then Sauls seruants broght him worde againe, saying, Suche wordes spake Dauid.

25 And Saúl said, This wise shal ye say to Dauid, The King desireth no dowrie, but an hundred foreskinnes of the Philistims, to be auenged of the Kings enemies: for Saúl thought to make Dauid fall into the hands of the Philistims.

26 And when his seruants tolde Dauid these wordes, it pleased Dauid wel, to be the ^l Kings sonne in lawe: and the daies were not expued.

^l Because he thought him selfe able to compass the Kings request.

e Thus God moued bothe the sonne and daughter of this tyrant to fauour Daud agaynst their father.

Then Saúl spake to Ionathán his sonne, and to all his seruants, that they shulde kil Daud: but Ionathán Sauis sonne had a great fauour to Daud.

2 And Ionathán tolde Daud, saying, Saúl my father goeth about to slaye thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take hede vnto thy selfe vnto the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thy selfe.

3 And I wil go out, and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and wil commune with my father of thee, and I wil se what he saith and wil tel thee.

4 ¶ And Ionathán spake good of Daud vnto Saúl his father, and said vnto him, Let not the King sinne agaynst his seruāt, agaynst Daud: for he hath not sinned agaynst thee, but his workes haue bene to thee very good.

5 For he did put his life in danger, and slewe the Philistim, and the Lord wrought a great saluation for all Israhel: thou sawest it, and thou reioycst: wherefore then wilt thou sinne agaynst innocent blood, & slaye Daud without a cause?

6 Then Saúl hearkened vnto the voyce of Ionathán, and Saúl sware, As the Lord liueth, he shal not dye.

7 So Ionathán called Daud, and Ionathán shewed him all those wordes, & Ionathán brought Daud to Saúl, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶ Agayne the warre began, and Daud wēt out and fought with the Philistims, and slewe them with a great slaughter, & they fled from him.

9 ¶ And the euil Spirit of the Lord was vpon Saúl, as he sate in his house hauing his speare in his hand, and Daud played with his hand.

10 And Saúl entended to smite Daud to the wall with the speare: but he turned aside out of Sauis presence, and he smote the speare agaynst the wall: but Daud fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Saúl also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watche him, and to slaye him in the morning: & Michál Dauis wife tolde it him, saying, If thou saue not thy self this night, tomorowe thou shalt be slaine.

12 So Michál let Daud downe through a window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 Then Michál toke an image and layed it in the bed, and put a pillowe stuffed with goates heere vnder the head of it, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saúl sent messengers to take Daud, she said, He is sicke.

15 And Saúl sent the messengers agayne to se Daud, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I may slaye him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image was in the bed, with a pillowe of goates heere vnder the head of it.

17 And Saúl said vnto Michál, Why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Michál answered Saúl, He said vnto me, Let me go, or els I wil kil thee.

18 ¶ So Daud fled, and escaped, and came to Samuél to Ramáh, and tolde him all that Saúl had done to him: and he and Samuél went and dwelt in Naioth.

19 But one tolde Saúl, saying, Beholde, Daud is at Naioth in Ramáh.

20 And Saúl sent messengers to take Daud: and when they sawe a companie of Prophets prophcing, and Samuél standing as appointed ouer them; the Spirit of God fel vpon the messengers of Saúl, and they also prophced.

21 And whē it was tolde Saúl, he sent other messengers, and they prophced likewise: agayne Saúl sent the third messengers, and they prophced also.

22 Then went he him self to Ramáh, and came to a great wel that is in Sechú, and he asked, and said, Where are Samuél and Daud? and one said, Beholde, they be at Naioth in Ramáh.

23 And he went thither, euen to Naioth in Ramáh, and the Spirit of God came vpon him also, and he went prophcing vntil he came to Naioth in Ramáh.

16 So Ionathán made a bonde with the house of Dauid, saying, Let the Lord re-

17 And againe Ionathán sware vnto Dauid, because he loued him (for he loued him

24 ¶ So Dauid hid him selfe in the field: & when the first day of the moneth came, the King sate to eat meat.

25 And the King sate, as at other times vpo

Ionathán arose, and Abnér sate by Sauls thoght, Some thing hath befallen him, therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, & se my not vnto the Kings table.

*m That is a

30 Then was Saúl angry with Ionathán, & said vnto him, Thou sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I knowe, that thou hast chosen the sonne of Ishái to thy confusio and to the confusio and

*n Meaning all

31 For as long as the sonne of Ishái liueth

32 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl his father,

father, and said vnto him, Wherefore shal he dye: what hathe he done?

33 And Saúl cast a speare at him to hit him, whereby Ionathán knewe, that it was determined of his father to slaye Dauid.

34 ¶ So Ionathán arose from the table in a great angre, and did eat no meat the secód day of the moneth: for he was sory for Dauid, and because his father had reuiled him.

35 On the next morning therefore Ionathán went out into the field, and at the time appointed with Dauid, and a litle boy with him.

36 And he said vnto his boy, Runne now, seke the arrowes which I shoote, & as the boy ran, he shot an arrowe beyonde him.

37 And when the boy was come to the place where the arrowe was that Ionathán had shot, Ionathán cryed after the boy, & said, Is not the arrowe beyond thee?

38 And Ionathán cryed after the boy, Make speede, haste and stand not stil: and Ionathás boy gathered vp the arrowes, and came to his master, 39 But the boy knewe nothing: onely Ionathán and Dauid knewe the matter.

40 Then Ionathán gaue his bowe and arrowes vnto the boy that was with him, & said vnto him, Go, carie them into the citie.

41 ¶ As sone as the boy was gone, Dauid arose out of a place that was towarde the South, and fel on his face to the ground, and bowed him selfe thre times: and they kyssed one an other, and wept bothe twaine, til Dauid exceded.

42 Therefore Ionathán said to Dauid, Go in peace: that which we haue sworne bothe of vs in the Name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betwene me & thee, and betwene my seede and betwene thy seede, let it stand for euer.

43 And he arose and departed, and Ionathán went into the citie.

And there gathered vnto him all mé that were in trouble and all men that were in det, & all those that were vexed in minde, and he was their prince, and there were with him about foure hundred men.

And Dauid went thence to Mizpéh in Moáb, and said vnto the King of Moáb, I pray thee, let my father and my mother come and abide with you, til I knowe what God will do for me.

And he ^c broght them before the King of Moáb, and they dwelt with him all the while that Dauid kept him selfe in ^d the holde.

And the Prophet Gad said vnto Dauid, Abide not in the holde, but departe & go into the lād of Iudáh. The Dauid departed and came into the forest of Hárezh.

And Saul heard that Dauid was ^e discovered, and the men that were with him, and Saul remained in Gibeáh vnder a tre in Ramáh, hauing his speare in his hand, and all his men stode about him.

And Saul said vnto his seruáts that stode about him, Heare now, ye sonnes ^f of Iemini, wil the sonne of Ishái giue euerie one of you fields and vineyardes? wil he make you all captaines ouer thousands, & captaines ouer hundredths?

That all ye haue cōspired against me, and there is none that telleth me that my sonne hath made a couenant with y sonne of Ishái? & there is none of you that is sory for me, or sheweth me, that my ^g sonne hath stirred vp my seruant to lye in wait against me, as ^h appeareth this day.

The answered Doeg the Edomite (who was appointed ouer the seruants of Saul) and said, I sawe the sonne of Ishái when he came to Nob, to Ahimélech the sonne of Ahitúb,

Who asked counsel of the Lord for him & gaue him vitails, and he gaue him also the sworde of Goliáth the Philistím.

Then the King sent to call Ahimélech the Priest the sonne of Ahitúb, and all his fathers house, ⁱ to wit, ^j the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

And Saul said, Heare now, thou sonne of Ahitúb. And he answered, Here I am, my lord.

Then Saul said vnto him, Why haue ye conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishái, in that thou hast giuen him vitails, and a sworde, and hast asked counsel of God for him, that he shulde rise against me, & lye in waite as appeareth this day?

And Ahimélech answered the King, & said, Who is so faithful among all thy seruáts as Dauid, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy commandement, and is honorable in thine house?

Haue I this day first begon to aske counsel of God for him? he is far frō me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruant knewe nothing of all this, lesse nor more.

Then the King said, Thou shalt surely dye, Ahimélech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

And the King said vnto the ^k sergents that stode about him, Turne, & slaye the Priests of the Lord, because their hand also is with Dauid, and because they knewe when he fled, and shewed it not to me. But the seruáts of the King ^k wolde not moue their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.

The King said to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slewe that same day foure score and siue persones that did weare a linen Ephod:

Also Nob the citie of the Priests smote he with the edge of the sworde, bothe man and woman, bothe childe and suckling, bothe ox and asse, and shepe with the edge of the sworde.

But one of the sonnes of Ahimélech the sonne of Ahitúb (whose name was Abiathár) ^l escaped and fled after Dauid.

And Abiathár shewed Dauid, that Saul had slaine the Lords Priests.

And Dauid said vnto Abiathár, I knewe it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he wolde tel Saul. I am the cause of the death of all the persones of thy fathers house.

18 So they twaine made a couenant before the Lord, and Dauid did remaine in the wood: but Ionathán went to his house.

^c Here we see how ready we are to haften Gods promises, if y^e occasion serue neuer so little.

^d For seeing it was his owne priuate cause, he repented y^e he had touched his enemies.

^e Contrary to y^e false report of them y^e said, Dauid was Saúls enemye, he proueth himselfe to be his friend.

^f Or, the prouerbe of an ancient man.

^g For iudge.

^h Though he was a more cruel enemye to Dauid, yet by his great gentleness his conscience compelled him to yeelde.

5 And the men of Dauid said vnto him, Se, the day is come, whereof the Lord said vnto thee, Beholde, I wil deliuer thine enemye into thine hand, and thou shalt do to him as it shal seme good to thee. Then Dauid arose and cut of the lappe of Saúls garment priuely.

6 And afterwaide Dauid was touched in his heart, because he had cut of the lappe which was on Saúls garment.

7 And he said vnto his mé, The Lord kepe me from doing that thing vnto my master the Lords Anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him: for he is the Anointed of the Lord.

8 So Dauid ouercame his seruants wth these wordes, & suffred them not to arise against Saúl: so Saúl rose vp out of the caue & wét away.

9 Dauid also arose afterwaide, & went out of the caue, and cryed after Saúl, saying, O my Lord y^e King And when Saúl looked behinde him, Dauid inclined his face to the earth, and bowed him selfe.

10 And Dauid said to Saúl, Wherefore giuest thou an eare to mé's wordes, that say, Beholde, Dauid seketh euil against thee?

11 Beholde, this day thine eyes haue sene, that the Lord had deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue, and some bade me kil thee, but I had compassiō on thee, and said, I wil not lay mine hand on my master: for he is the Lords Anointed.

12 Moreouer my father, beholde: beholde, I say, the lappe of thy garmēt in mine hand: for whē I cut of the lappe of thy garmēt, I killed thee not. Vnderstand and se, that there is nether euil nor wickednes in me, nether haue I sinned against thee, yet thou huntst after my soule to take it.

13 The Lord be iudge betwene thee & me, and the Lord auenge me of thee, and let not mine hand be vpon thee.

14 According as the olde prouerbe saith, Wickednes procedeth from the wicked, but mine hand be not vpon thee.

15 After whome is the King of Israél come out? after whome dost thou pursue? after a dead dog, & after a flye?

16 The Lord therefore be iudge, & iudge betwene thee and me, and se, and pleade my cause, and deliuer me out of thine hand.

17 When Dauid had made an end of speaking these wordes to Saúl, Saúl said, Is this thy voyce, my sonne Dauid? and Saúl lift vp his voyce, and wept, 18 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast rendred me good, and I haue rendred thee euil.

19 And thou hast shewed this day, that thou hast dealt wth me: forasmuch as whē the Lord had closed me in thine hands, thou killedst me not.

20 For who shal finde his enemy, and let him departe? wherefore the Lord rendre thee good for that thou hast done vnto me this day.

21 For now beholde, I knowe that y^e shalt be King, and that the kingdome of Israél shalbe stablished in thine hand.

22 Swear now therefore vnto me by the Lord, that y^e wilt not destroy my seede after me, and that thou wilt not abolish my name out of my fathers house.

23 So Dauid sware vnto Saúl, and Saúl wét home: but Dauid and his men went vp vnto the holde.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Samuél dyeth. 3 Nabál & Abigáil 38 The Lord killeth Nabál 43 Abigáil & Ahimám Dauids wives. 44 Michal is giuen to Phaltí.

1 Then Samuél dyed, and all Israél assembled, and mourned for him, & buried him in his owne house at Ramáh. And Dauid arose and went downe to the wildernes of Parán.

2 Now in Maón was a man, who had his possession in Carmél, and the man was exceeding mighty and had thre thousand shepe, and a thousand goates: and he was sheping his shepe in Carmél.

3 The name also of the man was Nabál, & the name of his wife Abigáil, and she was a woman of singular wisdom, and beautiful, but the man was churlifh, and euil conditioned, and was of the familie of Caléb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wildernes, that Nabál did there his shepe.

5 Therefore Dauid sent ten yong men, & Dauid said vnto the yong men, Go vp to Carmél, and go to Nabál, and aske him in my name how he doeth.

6 And thus shal ye say for salutation, Bothe y^e, and thine house, and all that thou hast, be in peace, welth, and prosperitie.

7 Beholde, I haue heard, that thou hast shepers: now thy shepherds were with vs, and we did them no hurt, nether did they misse anie thing all the while they were in Carmél.

8 Aske thy seruants & they wil shewe thee. Wherefore let these yōg mé finde fauour in thine eyes: (for we come in a good season) giue, I praye thee, whatsoeuer cometh to thine hand vnto thy seruants, & to thy sonne Dauid.

9 And when Dauids yong men came, they tolde Nabál all those wordes in the name of Dauid, and helde their peace.

10 Then Nabál answered Dauids seruants, and said, Who is Dauid? and who is the sonne of Ishái? there is manie seruants now a dayes, that breake awaye euery mā from his master.

- 11 Shal I then take my bread, & my water, & my fleſh that I haue killed for my ſhe-

- 12 ¶ So Dauid's ſeruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and tolde him all thoſe things.
- 13 And Dauid ſaid vnto his men, Girde eugirded euery man his ſworde: Dauid alſo girded his ſworde. And about foure hun-

- 14 Now one of the ſeruants tolde Abigail Nabals wife, ſaying, Beholde, Dauid ſent

- 15 Notwithſtanding the men were very neither miſſed we any thing as long as we were conuerſant with them, when we were wine, and five ſhepe ready dreſſed, & five meaſures of parched corne, and an hun-

- 19 Then ſhe ſaid vnto her ſeruants, Go ye before me: beholde, I wil come after you:
yet ſhe tolde "not her houſband Nabal.
- 20 And as ſhe rode on her aſſe, ſhe came downe by a ſecret place of the mountaine, and beholde, Dauid and his men came downe againſt her, and ſhe met them.
- 21 And Dauid ſaid, In dede I haue kept all in vaine that this fellowe had in the wil-that pertained vnto him: for he hathe requited me euil for good.

- 22 So and more alſo do God vnto the ene-

- 23 And when Abigail ſawe Dauid, ſhe ha-

Dauid on her face, and bowed her ſelfe to

- 27 And now, this "bleſſing which thine

- 28 I pray thee, forgiue the treſpaſſe of thimy lord ſhalbe bounde in the "bundel of life with the Lord thy God: and the ſoule of thine enemies ſhal God caſt out, as out hathe not ſhed blood cauſeles, nor that my lord hathe "not preſe:ued him ſelfe: & whē the Lord ſhal haue dealt wel with my lord, remember thine handmayd.

- 32 Then Dauid ſaid to Abigail, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſraél, which ſent thee this day to meete me.
- 33 And bleſſed be thy counſel, and bleſſed be thou, which haſte kept me this day ſiō comming to ſhed blood, "and that mine "hand hathe not ſaued me.

- 35 Then Dauid receiued of her hand that which ſhe had brought him, & ſaid to her, Go vp in peace to thine houſe: beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue "g:anted thy petition.

^a That is, of the moste skilful and valiant soldiers.

3 And Saúl pitched in the hil of Hachiláh, which is before Ieshimón by the waye side. Now Dauid abode in the wildernes, and he sawe that Saúl came after him into the wildernes.

^{Or, as a certaine place.}

4 (For Dauid had sent out spies, & vnderstode, that Saúl was comeⁱ in very dede)

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saúl had pitched, and when Dauid beheld the place where Saúl lay, & * Abnér the sonne of Ner which was his chief captaine, (for Saúl lay in the forte, and the people pitched round about him)

Chap. 14. 10. & 17. 55.

6 Then spake Dauid, & said to Ahimélech the^b Hittite, and to Abishái the sonne of Zeruiáh, brother to^c Ioáb, saying, Who wil go downe with me to Saúl to the hoste? Then Abishái said, I wil go downe with thet.

^b Who was a stranger & not an Israelite.
^c Who afterwarde was Dauids chief captaine.

7 So Dauid & Abishái came downe to the people by night: and beholde, Saúl laye sleping within the forte, & his speare did sticke in the grounde at his^d head: and Abnér and the people lay round about him.

^{Or, his fete.}

8 ¶ Thé said Abishái to Dauid, God hath closed thine enemy into thine hand this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let me smite him once with a speare to^e the earth, and I wil not smite him^d againe.

^d Meaning, he wolde make him sure at one stroke.
^e To wit, in his owne private cause: for Iehu slew two Kings at Gods appointment, 2. King. 9. 24.

9 And Dauid said to Abishái, Destroye him not: for who can lay his hand^e on the Lords anointed, and be guiltles?

10 Moreouer Dauid said, As the Lord liueth, ether the Lord shal smite him, or his day shal come to dye, or he shal descende into battel, and perish.

11 The Lord kepe me from laying mine hand vpon the Lords anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Dauid toke the speare and the pot of water from Sauls head, & thei gate them away, and no man sawe it, nor marked it, nether did any awake, but thei were all aslepe: for^h the Lord had sent a dead slepe vpon them.

^{Or, the heady slepe of the Lord was fallen vpon them.}

13 Then Dauid went into the other side, & stode onⁱ the toppe of an hil a far of, a great space being betwene them.

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abnér the sonne of Ner, saying, Hearest thou not Abnér? Then Abnér answered, and said, Who art thou that cryest to the King?

^{Or, answered.}

15 ¶ And Dauid said to Abnér, Art not^j a man^k and who is like thee in Israél? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the King^l for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lord.

^f Esteemed me as valiant, and mete to saue the King?

16 This is not wel done of thee: as the Lord liueth, ye are^m worthy to dye, because ye haue not kept your master the Lords Anointed: and now se where the Kings speare is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

^{Or, sonnes of death.}

17 And Saúl knewe Dauids voyce, & said, Is this thy voyce, & my sonne Dauid? And Dauid said, It is my voyce, my lordⁿ O King.

^g Hereby it appeareth, y the hypocrite persecuted Dauid against his owne conscience, and contrary to his promises.

18 And he said, Wherefore doeth my lord thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euil is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beseeche thee, let my lord the King heare the wordes of his seruant. If the Lord haue stirred thee vp against me, let him smel the saour of a sacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, cursed be thei before the Lord: for thei haue cast me out this day fro abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serue other^o gods.

^h Let his anger towards vs be pacified by a sacrifice.

20 Now therefore let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Israél is come out to seke a flye, as one wolde hunt a partridge in the mountaines.

ⁱ As much as laye in them, they compelled him to idolatry, because they forced him to flee to the idolaters.

21 Then said Saúl, I haue sinned : come againe, my sonne Dauid: for I wil do thee nomore harme, because my soule was ^kprecious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue done foolishly, and haue erred exceedingly.

^k Because thou sinnedst my life this day

22 Then Dauid answered, & said, Beholde the Kings speare, let one of the yong me come ouer and fet it.

23 And let the Lord rewarde euerie man according to his ^lrighteousnes & faithfulness: for the Lord had deliuered thee into mine háds this daie, but I wolde not lay mine hand vpon the Lords anointed.

^l Thus he professeth his innocencie toward Saúl not defending his iustice in the sight of God, in whose presence none is righteous, Psal 14, 3, and 130, 3.

24 And beholde, like as thy life was much set by this day in mine eyes: so let my life be set by in the eyes of the Lord, that he may deliuer me out of all tribulacion.

25 Then Saúl said to Dauid, Blessed art thou, my sonne Dauid: for thou shalt do great things, and also preuaile. So Dauid went his way, and Saúl returned to his m place.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achísh King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklág. 8 Dauid destroyeth certeine of the Philistims. 10 Achísh is deuyed by Dauid.

1 ANd Dauid said in his heart, I shal now ^a perish one day by the hand of Saúl: is it not better for me that I saue my selfe in the land of the Philistims, and that Saúl may haue no hope of me to seke me anie more in all the coastes of Israél, and so escape out of his hand?

^a Dauid distrusteth Gods protection, and therefore fleeth vnto the idolaters, who were enemies to Gods people

2 Dauid therefore arose, and he, and the six hundred men that were with him, wet vnto Achísh the sonne of Maóch King of Gath.

3 And Dauid ^b dwelt with Achísh at Gath, he, and his men, euerie man with his household, Dauid with his two wiues, Abinóam the Izreelite, and Abigáil Nabals wife the Carmelite.

^e These were the wicked Canaanites, whom God had appointed to be destroyed.

9 And Dauid smote the land, & left nether man nor woman aliue, and toke shepe, & oxen, and asses, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achísh.

10 And Achísh said, ^g Where haue ye bené a rousing this day? And Dauid answered, Against the Southe of Iudáh, and against ^h the Southe of the ⁱ Ierameelites, & against the Southe of the Kenites.

12 And Achísh beleued Dauid, saying, ^j He hath made his people of Israél vtterly to abhorre him: therefore he shaibe my seruant for euer.

^j Or, he doeth vtterly abhorre his people.

2 Dauid hathe the chief charge promised about Achísh. 8 Saúl consulteth with a witch, and she causeth him to speake with Samuél. 18 Who declareth his rume.

1 NOW at that time the Philistims assembled their bandes and armie to fight with Israél: therefore Achísh said to Dauid, ^a Be sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battel, thou, and thy men.

^a Albeit it was a great griefe to Dauid to fight against the people of God, yet such was his infirmity, he durst not deny him

2 And Dauid said to Achísh, Surely thou shalt knowe what thy seruant can do. And Achísh said to Dauid, Surely I wil make thee keeper of mine head for euer.

3 ^{*} (Samuél was then dead, and all Israél had lamented him, and buried him in Ramáh his owne cite: and Saúl had ^b put away the sorcerers, and the sothesayers out of the land)

4 Then the Philistims assembled themselves, and came, and pitched in Shuném: and Saúl assembled all Israél, & they pitched in Gilboa.

^b According to the commandement of God, Exod 22, 18. Deut 18, 10.

5 And when Saúl sawe the hoste of the Philistims, he was afrayed, and his heart was fore astonied.

6 Therefore Saúl asked counsel of ^c the Lord, & the Lord answered him not, nether by dreames, nor by ^d Vrim, nor yet by Prophetes.

^c Meaning the high Priests, Exou 28, 30.

7 ¶ Then said Saúl vnto his seruants, Seke me a woman that hathe a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and aske of her. And his seruants said to him, Beholde, there is a woman at Endor that hathe a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saúl ^e changed him selfe, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, coniecture vnto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him vp whome I shal name vnto thee.

^e He seeketh not to God in himselfe, but is led by Satã to vnlawful meanes, which in his conscience he condemneeth

11 So Dauid and his men rose vp early to departe in the morning, and to returne into the land of the Philistims: & the Philistims went vp to Izreél.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklág. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken prisoners 6 The people woulde stone him. 8 He asketh counsel of the Lord and pursuing his enemies, recouereth the praye. 14 He deuotheth is equally, 16 And sendeth parte to his friends.

a After that he departed from Achish.

b That is, destroyed y^e citie.

1 BUt when Dauid and his men were come to Ziklág ^a the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklág, and had ^b smitten Ziklág, and burnt it with fire,

2 And had taken the women that were therein prisoners, bothe small and great, and slewe not a man, but caryed them away, and went their wayes.

c For these onely remained in the citie, when the mē were gone to warre.

3 ¶ So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their ^c wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

4 Then Dauid & the people that was with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntil they colde wepe nomore.

5 Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinóam the Izreélite, and Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Carmelite.

d Thus we se, ym troubles & aduersitie we do not consider Gods prouidence, but like raging beastes forget bothe our owne duettie and contēne Gods appointment ouer vs.

6 And Dauid was in great sorowe: for the people ^d entended to stone him, because the heartes of all the people were vexed euerie mā for his sonnes and for his daughters: but Dauid comforted him selfe in the Lord his God.

7 ¶ And Dauid said to Abiathár the Priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephód. And Abiathár brought the Ephód to Dauid.

8 Then Dauid asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I followe after this companie? shal I ouertake them? And he answered him, Followe: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and ^e recouer all.

e Though God seeme to leaue vs for a time, yet if we trust in him, we shal be sure to finde comforte.

9 ¶ So Dauid and the six hundreth mē that were with him, wēt, and came to the riuier Besór, where a parte of them abode:

10 But Dauid and foure hundreth men followed (for two hundreth abode behinde, being to wearye to go ouer y^e riuier Besór)

11 And they founde an Egyptiá in the field, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him ^f bread and he did eat, and they gaue him water to drinke.

f God by his prouidence bothe prouided for the necessitie of this poore strāger, and made him a guide to Dauid to accomplishe his enterprise.

12 Also they gaue him a fewe figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor dronke anie water in thre dayes, and thre nights.

13 ¶ And Dauid said vnto him, To whome belongest thou? and whence art thou? And he said, I am a yong mā of Egypt, and seruuant to an Amalekite: and my master left me thre daies ago, because I fellicke.

14 We roued vpon the South of Chéreth, & vpon the coast belonging to Iudáh, and vpon the South of Caléb, and we burnt Ziklág with fire.

15 And Dauid said vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie? And he said, I sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt nether kil me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I wil bring thee to this companie.

g For othes were in all ages had in moke reuerence euen among the heathen

16 ¶ And when he had brought him thither, beholde, they lay scatered abroad vpon all the earth, ^h eating and drinking, & dancing, because of all y^e great pray that thei had taken out of the land of y^e Philistims, and out of the land of Iudáh.

h The wicked in their pōpe and pleasures consider not y^e iudgement of God, which is the at hand to smite them.

17 And Dauid smote them from the twilight, euen vnto the euening ⁱ of the next morowe, so that there escaped not a man of them, saue foure hundreth yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fled.

i Some reade, & vnto y^e morowe of y^e two evening: that is, thre daies.

18 And Dauid recouered all that y^e Amalekites had takē: also Dauid rescued his two wiues.

19 And thei lacked nothing, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Dauid recouered them all.

20 Dauid also toke all the shepe, and the oxē, & they draue them before his cattel, and said, This is Dauids ^k praye.

k Which the Amalekites had taken of others, & Dauid from the besides the goods of Ziklág.

21 ¶ And Dauid came to the two hundreth mē that were to wearie for to followe Dauid: whome they had made also to abide at the riuier Besór: and they came to mete Dauid, and to mete the people that were with him: so when Dauid came nere to the people, he saluted them.

22 Then answered all the euil and wicked of the mē that went with Dauid, and said, Because they went not with vs, therefore wil we giue them none of the praye, that we haue recouered, saue to euery man his ^l wife and his children: therefore let them cary them away and departe.

l Vnder these are comprehend- ed the cattel and goods, w^{ch} appertained to euery man.

23 Then said Dauid, Ye shal not do so, my biethren, with that which the Lord hathe giuen vs, who hathe preferued vs, and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our handes.

24 For who wil obey you in this matter? but as his parte is that goeth downe to the battel, so shal his parte be, that tareth by the stufte: they shal parte alike.

m Some referre these wordes to Dauid, that he had ed an oldecu some & law, as if it were writ, It is bothe now and hathe bene euer.

25 ¶ So from that day forward hee made it a statute and a lawe in Israél, vntil this day.

26 ¶ When Dauid therefore came to Ziklág, he sent of the pray vnto the Elders of Iudáh & to his friends, saying, Se, there is a blessing for you of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

27 He sent to them of Beth-él, and to them of South Ramóth, and to them of Iattír, 28 And to them of Aroér, and to them of Siphmóth, and to them of Eshtemóa,

29 And to them of Rachál, and to them of the cities of the Ierahmeelites, and to the cities of the Kenites,

30 And to them of Hormáh, & to them of Chor-ashán, and to them of Athách, 31 And to them of Hebrón, and ^ato all the places where Dauid and his men had hanted.

^a Shewing him selfe mindful of their benefites towards him.

THE SECONDE BOKE of Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

This boke and the former beare the title of Samuel, because they conteine the conception, nativitie and the whole course of his life, and also the liues and actes of two Kings, to wit, of Saúl and Dauid, whome he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first boke containeth those things, which God broght to passe among this people vnder the gouernement of Samuel and Saúl: so this seconde boke declareth the noble actes of Dauid, after the death of Saúl, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdome: and how the same by him was wonderfully augmented: also his great troubles & dangers, which he sustained bothe within his house and without: what horrible & dangerous insurrections, vprores, & treasons were wrought against him, partly by false counsellers, fained friends & flatterers, and partly by some of his owne children and people and how by Gods assistance he overcame all difficulties, and enioyed his kingdome in rest and peace. In the persone of Dauid the Scripture seaueth forth Christ Iesus the chief King, who came of Dauid according to the flesh, and was persecuted on euery side with outward and inward enemies, as wel in his owne persone, as in his members, but at length he overcometh all his enemies and giueth his Church victorie against all power bothe spiritual & temporal: and so reigneth with them, King for euermore.

After the death of Saul, when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites and had bene two dayes in Ziklag, Beholde, a man came the third day out of the hoste from Saul with his clothes red, and earth vpon his head: & when he came to Dauid, he fel to the earth, and did obeisance.

Then Dauid said vnto him, Whence comest thou? And he said vnto him, Out of the hoste of Israel I am escaped.

And Dauid said vnto him, What is done? I pray thee, tel me. The he said, y the people is fled from the battel, and many of y people are ouerthrowen, and dead, and also Saul and Ionathán his sonne are dead.

And Dauid said vnto the yong man, that tolde it him, How knowest thou that Saul and Ionathán his sonne be dead?

Then the yong man that tolde him, answered, b As I came to mount Gilboa, beholde, Saul leane vpon his speare, and lo, the charrets and c horsemen followed hard after him.

And when he looked backe, he sawe me, and called me And I answered, Here am I.

And he said vnto me, Who art thou? And I answered him, I am an c Amalekite.

Then said he vnto me, I pray thee, come vpon me, and slaye me: for anguish is come vpon me, because my d life is yet whole in me.

So e I came vpon him, and slewe him, & because I was sure that he colde not liue, after that he had fallen, I toke the crowne that was vpon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arme, and broght the hither vnto my lord.

Then Dauid toke holde on his clothes, & rent them, and likewise all the men that were with him.

And they mourned and wept, and fasted vntil euen for Saul and for Ionathán his sonne, and for the people of the Lord, and for the house of Israel, because they were slaine with the sworde.

Afterward Dauid said vnto the yong man that tolde it him, Whence art thou? And he answered, I am the sonne of a stranger an Amalekite.

And Dauid said vnto him, * How wast thou not afrayed, to put forth the thine hand to destroy the Anoynted of the Lord?

Then Dauid called one of his yong mē, & said, Go nere, and fall vpon him. And he smote him that he dyed.

16 The said Dauid vnto him, f Thy blood be vpon thine owne head, for thine owne mouth hath testified agāst thee, saying, I haue slaine the Lords Anoynted.

17 ¶ Then Dauid mourned with this lamentation ouer Saul, and ouer Ionathán his sonne,

18 (Also he bade them teache the children of Iudá to s shoote, as it is written in y boke of * Iashtér)

19 O noble Israel, h he is slaine vpon thy hie places: how are the mighty ouerthrowen?

20 * Tel it not in Gath, nor publish it in the stretes of Ashkelón, lest the daughters of the Philistims reioyce, lest the daughters of the vncircumcised triumphe.

21 Ye mountaines of Gilboa, vpon you be nether dewe nor raine, nor i there fields of offerings: for there the shield of the mightie is cast downe, the shield of Saul, as thogh he had not bene anoynted with oyle.

22 The bowe of Ionathán neuer turned backe, nether did the sworde of Saul retorne empty from the blood of the slaine, and from the fat of the mightie.

23 Saul and Ionathán were louely and pleafant in their lues, and in their deathes they were not k deuided: they were swifter the negles, they were ströge then lions.

24 Ye daughters of Israel, wepe for Saul, which clothed you in ska: let, l with pleasures, and hanged ornaments of golde vpon your appaie.

25 How were the mighty slaine in the middes of the battel? o Ionathán, thou wast slaine in thine hie places.

26 Wo is me for thee, my brother Ionathán: very kinde hast thou bene vnto me: thy loue to me was wonderful, passing y loue of m women: how are the mighty o uerthrowen, and the weapons of waie deftroyed?

9 And made him King ouer Gileád, and ouer the Ashurites, and ouer Izreél, and ouer Ephráim, and ouer Beniamín, and ouer all Israhél.

10 Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne was fourty yere olde when he began to reigne ouer Israhél, and reigned two yere: but the house of Iudáh followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebrón ouer the house of Iudáh, was seuē yere and six monethes)

12 ¶ And Abnér the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl went out of Mahanáim to Gibeón.

13 And Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and the seruants of Dauid went out and met one an other by the poole of Gibeón: and they fite downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side of the poole.

14 Then Abnér said to Ioáb, Let the yong men now arise, and playe before vs. And Ioáb said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer twelue of Beniamín by number, which pertained to Ish-bósheth the sonne of Saúl, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euerie one caught his fellowe by the head, & thrust his sworde in his fellowes side, so they fel downe together: wherefore the place was called Helkath-hazzurim which is in Gibeón.

17 And the battel was exceeding sore that same day: for Abnér and the men of Israhél fel before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were thre sonnes of Zeruiáh there, Ioáb, and Abishái, and Asahél. And Asahél was as light on foote as a wilde roe.

19 And Asahél followed after Abnér, & in going he turned nether to the right hand nor to the left from Abnér.

20 Then Abnér looked behinde him, & said, Art thou Asahél? And he answered, Yea.

21 Then Abnér said, Turne thee ether to y right hand or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his weapons: but Asahél wolde not departe from him.

22 And Abnér said to Asahél, Departe frō me: wherefore shulde I smite thee to the ground? how shulde I be able to holde vp my face to Ioáb thy brother?

23 And when he wolde not departe, Abnér with the hindre end of the speare smote him vnder the fift rib, that the speare came out behinde him: and he fel downe there, and dyed in his place. And as manie as came to the place where Asahél fel downe and dyed, stode stil.

24 Ioáb also and Abishái pursued after Abnér: and the sunne went downe, when they were come to hil Ammah, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wildernes of Gibeón.

25 And the children of Beniamín gathered them selues together after Abnér, & were on an heape and stode on the top of anhil.

26 Then Abnér called to Ioáb, and said, Shal the sworde deuoure for euer? knowest thou not, that it wil be bitternes in the latter end? how long shal it be, or thou bid the people returne frō following their brethren?

27 And Ioáb said, As God liuerh, if thou haddest not spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euerie one backe from his brother.

28 ¶ So Ioáb blewe a trumpet, and all the people stode stil, and pursued after Israhél nomore, nether foght they anie more.

29 And Abnér and his men walked all that night through the plaine, & wēt ouer Iordan, & past through all Bithrón til they came to Mahanáim.

30 Ioáb also returned backe from Abnér: & whē he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants ninetene men and Asahél.

31 But the seruants of Dauid had smitten of Beniamín, and of Abners men, so that thre hundred and threescore men dyed.

32 And they toke vp Asahél, and buried hī in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-léhem: and Ioáb and his men wēt all night, and when they came to Hebrón, the daie arose.

CHAP. III.

1 Long warre betwene the houses of Saúl and Dauid.

2 The children of Dauid in Hebrón. 12 Abnér turneth to Dauid. 27 Ioáb killeth him.

1 There was then a long warre betwene the house of Saúl and the house of Dauid:

r Thus God wolde confirme Dauid in his kingdome by the destruction of his aduersaries.

s That is, with our intermission, induring two yeres, which was the whole reigne of Ish-bósheth.

Dauid: but Dauid waxed stronger, & the house of Saúl waxed weaker.

2 ¶ And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebrón: and his eldest sonne was Amnon of Amnonam the Izreelite, b Who is called also Dani-el. 1. Chro. 3. 1.

3 And his seconde, was^b Chilkab of Abigail the wife of Nabál the Carmelite: and the third, Absalom the sonne of Maacáh the daughter of Talmái the King of Geshúr,

4 And the fourth, Adonijáh the sonne of Aggith, and the fifth, Shephaciah the sonne of Abital, c Within seue yeres and six moneths.

5 And the sixt, Ithreám by Egláh Dauids wife: these were borne to Dauid in Hebrón.

6 ¶ Now while there was warre betwene the house of Saúl and the house of Dauid, Abnér made all his power for y^e house of Saúl.

7 And Saúl had a concubine named Rizpah, the daughter of Aijáh. And Ish-bósheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in to my fathers concubine?

d Doeſt thou esteeme me no more then a dog, for all my seruice done to thy fathers house?

8 Thē was Abnér very wrothe for the wordes of Ish-bósheth, & said, Am I a^d dogs head, which against Iudáh doſt thou we mercy this day vnto the house of Saúl thy father, to his brethren, & to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid, that thou chargest me this day with a fault concerning this woman?

e We ſe how the wicked cā not abide to be admoniſhed of their fautes, but ſeeke their diſpleaſure, & go about to bring them frō their wickednes.

9 ¶ So do God to Abnér, and more also, except, as the Lord hathe sworne to Dauid, euen so I do to him,

10 To remoue the kingdome frō the house of Saúl, that the throne of Dauid may be stablished ouer Israél, and ouer Iudáh, euen from Dan to Beer sheba.

11 And he durst nomore answer to Abnér: for he feared him.

f Or, secretly.

12 ¶ Then Abnér sent messengers to Dauid^f on his behalfe, saying, Whose is the land? Who shulde also say, Make couenant with me, & beholde, mine hand shall be with thee, to bring all Israél vnto thee.

13 Who said, Wel, I wil make a couenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that y^e ſc not my face except thou bring Michál Sauls daughter when thou comest to ſe me.

g. Sam. 18. 27.

14 ¶ Then Dauid sent messengers to Ish-bósheth Sauls sonne, saying, Deliuer me my wife Michál, which I married for^g an hundredth foreſkinnes of the Philistims.

h. Sam. 25. 44.

15 And Ish-bósheth sent, and toke her from her housbād^h Phaltiel the sonne of Laish.

16 And her housband went with her, and came weping behinde her, vnto Bahurim: then said Abnér vnto him, Go, & returne. So he returned.

i Rather for malice that he bare toward Ish-bósheth, then for loue he bare to Dauid.

17 ¶ And Abnér hadⁱ comunicaciō with the Elders of Israél, saying, Ye fought for Dauid in times past, that he might be your King.

18 Now then do it: for the Lord hathe spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I wil saue my people Israél out of the hands of the Philistims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

19 Also Abnér spake^j to Beniamín, and afterwaide Abnér went to speake with Dauid in Hebrón, concerning all that Israél was content with, and the whole house of Beniamín.

k Ebr is the eares of Beniamin

l Who chalēged the kingdome, because of their father Saúl.

20 So Abnér came to Dauid to Hebrón, hauing twenty men with him, and Dauid made a feast vnto Abnér, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abnér said vnto Dauid, I will rise vp, and go gather all Israél vnto my lord y^e King, that they may make a couenāt with thee, & that thou maieſt reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. Then Dauid let Abnér departe, who went^m in peace.

23 When Ioáb, and all the hoste that was with him were come, men tolde Ioáb, saying, Abnér the sonne of Ner came to the King, and he hathe sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioáb came to the King, and said, What hast thou done? beholde, Abnér came vnto thee, why hast thou sent him away, and he is departed?

o Here appeareth the malicious mīde of Ioáb, who wolde haue had the King to slay Abnér for his private grudge.

25 Thou knowest Abnér the sōne of Ner: for he came to disceiue thee, & to knowe thy outgoing and ingoing, and to knowe all that thou doest.

26 ¶ And when Ioáb was gone out frō Dauid, he sent messēgers after Abnér, which broght him againe frō the well of Siriah vnknowing to Dauid.

27 And when Abnér was come againe to Hebrón, Ioáb toke him aside in the gate to speake with him^p peaceably, and smote him vnder the fifth ry^e, that he dyed, for the blood of^q Afahél his brother.

Now Dauid had said y^e same day, Who-soeuer smiteth the Iebusites, & getteth vp to the gutters & smiteth the lame & blinde, which Dauids soule hateth, I wil prefferre him: * therefore they said, The blinde and the lame shal not ^d come into that house.

⁹ So Dauid dwelt in that forte, and called it the citie of Dauid, and Dauid buylt rouid about it, from ^e Milló, and inwarde.

¹⁰ And Dauid prospered and grewe: for the Lord God of hostes was with him.

¹¹ ¶ Hírá. m. also King of Ty rus sent messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they buylt Dauid an house.

¹² Then Dauid knewe, that the Lord had stablished him King ouer Israél, and that he had exalted his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

¹³ And Dauid toke him mo * concubines & wiues out of Ierusalém, after he was come from Hebrón; and mo sonnes and daughters were borne to Dauid.

¹⁸ But the Philistims came, and spread them selues in the valley of Repháim.

²⁰ ¶ * Then Dauid came to Baal perazím, and smote them there, & said, The Lord hath deuided mine enemies asondre before me, as waters be deuided asondre: therefore he called the name of that place, "Baal-perazím."

²¹ And there they left their images, & Dauid and his men * burnt them.

16 And thine house shalbe stablished and thy kingdome for euer before thee, euén thy thron shalbe ^g stablished for euer.

g This was begun in Salomon as a figure, but accomplished in Christ.

17 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, Nathán spake thus vnto Dauid.

18 Then King Dauid went in, and sate before the Lord, & said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast broght me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, o Lord God, therefore thou hast spokē also of thy seruāts house for a great while: but ^h doeth this appeeteine to ^h mā, o Lord God?

h Ebr is this the lawe of mā? h Cometh not this rather of thyre mercie, then of any worthines that can be in mā?

20 And what can Dauid say more vnto thee: for thou, Lord God, knowest thy seruant.
 21 For thy wordes sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowne vnto thy seruant.
 22 Wherefore thou art great, ó Lord God: for there is none like thee, nether is there anie god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.
 23 * And what one people in y^e earth is like thy people, like Israël: whose God went: & redeemed the to him selfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, & do for you great things, and terrible for thy *iád, ó Lord, even for thy people, whome thou redemest to thee out of Egypt, from the ¹ nacions, and their gods?
 24 For thou hast ^m ordeined thy people Israël to be thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.
 25 Now therefore, ó Lord God, confirme for euer the worde that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and his house, and do as thou hast said.
 26 And let thy Name be magnified for euer by them that shal say, The Lord of hostes is the God ouer Israël: and let the ^a house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.
 27 For thou, ó Lord of hostes, God of Israël, hast ieuiled vnto thy seruant, saying, I wil buyld thee an house: therefore haue thy seruant bene bolde to pray this prayer vnto thee.
 28 Therefore now, ó Lord God, (for thou art God, and thy wordes be true, and thou hast tolde this goodnes vnto thy seruāt)
 29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou, ó Lord God, hast spoken it: and let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer, with thy blessing.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Dauid ouercometh the Philistims, and other strange nacions, and maketh them tributaries to Israël.
 2 After this now, Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, & Dauid toke the bridle of bondage out of the hand of the Philistims.
 3 And he smote Moáb, and measured them with a corde, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with ^b two cordes to put them to death, & with one ful corde to kepe them aliue: so became the Moabites Dauids seruants, and brought gifts.
 4 Dauid smote also Hadadézer the sonne of Rehób King of Zobáb as he went to recouer his border at y^e iuer "Euphrátes.
 5 And Dauid toke a thousand and seven hundred horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and destroyed all the charets, but he reserued an hundred charets of them.

 6 Then came the Aramites of Damésk to succour Hadadézer King of Zobáb, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand men.
 7 And he put a garison in Arám of Damésk: and the Aramites became seruants to Dauid, and brought gifts. And the Lord saued Dauid wheresoeuer he went.
 8 And Dauid toke the shields of golde that belonged to the seruants of Hadadézer, and brought them to Ierusalém.
 9 And out of Bétah, and Berothái (cities of Hadadézer) Dauid brought exceeding muche brasse.
 10 Then Tóí King of Hamáth heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadadézer, 11 Therefore Tóí sent Iorám his sonne vnto King Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him because he had fought against Hadadézer, and beaten him (for Hadadézer had waite with Tóí) who brought with him vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde & vessels of brasse.
 12 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord with the siluer and golde that he had dedicate of all the nacions, which he had subdued:
 13 Of Arám, & of Moáb, and of the children of Ammón, & of the Philistims, and of Amalék, and of the spoule of Hadadézer the sonne of Rehób King of Zobáb.
 14 So Dauid gate a name after that he returned, and had slaine of the Aramites in the valley of salt eightene thousand men.
 15 And he put a garison in Edóm: throughout all Edóm put he soldiers, and all they of Edóm became Dauids seruants: and y^e Lord kept Dauid whether soeuer he wēt.
 16 Thus Dauid reigned ouer all Israël, and executed iudgement and iustice vnto all his people.
 17 And Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh was ouer the hoste, and Ioshaphát the sonne of Ahimélech was recorder.
 18 And Zadók the sonne of Ahitúb, and Ahimélech the sonne of Abiathár were y^e Priests, and Seraiah the scribe.
 19 And Benaiahú the sonne of Iehoiadá & the Cherethites & the Pelethites, & Dauids sonnes were chief rulers.

4 The messengers of Dauid are villainously entreated of the King of Ammón. 7 Ioáb is sent against the Ammonites.

3. Chr. 19.2.

1 After this, the ^{*} King of the children of Ammón dyed, & Hanún his sonne reigned in his steede.

2 Then said Dauid, I wil shewe kindnes vnto Hanún the sonne of Nabásh, as his father^{*} shewed kindnes vnto me. And Dauid sent his seruants to cōsole him for his father. So Dauids seruants came into the land of the children of Ammón.

^a The childē of God are not vniuersal of a benefice receiued

3 And the princes of the children of Ammón said vnto Hanún their lord, Thinkest thou y Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters to thee? hath he not Dauid ⁱ rather sent his seruants vnto thee, ^b to searche the citie, and to spie it out, and to ouerthrowe it?

ⁱ Ebr. Is th'is eyes dust? Dauid

4 Wherefore Hanún toke Dauids seruants, and shaued of the halfe of their bearde, & cut of their garments in the middle, euen to their buttockes, and sent them away.

^b Their arrogant malice wolde not suffer them to see the simplicitie of Dauids heart: therefore their counsel turned to the destruction of their countrey.

5 ¶ When it was tolde vnto Dauid, he sent to mete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King said, Tarie at Ierichó, vntil your beardes be growen, then retu:ne.

6 ¶ And when the children of Ammón sawe that they ^c stanke in the sight of Dauid, the children of Ammón sent and hired the Aramites of the house of Rehób, and the Aramites of Zobá, twentie thousand footemen, and of King Maacáh a thousand men, & of Ish-tób twelue thousand men.

^c That they had deserued Dauids displeasure, for y inuirtue done to his ambassadours

7 And when Dauid heard of it, he sent Ioáb, and all the hoste of the strong men.

8 And the children of Ammón came out, & put their armie in array at the entring in of the gate: & the Aramites of Zobá, and of Rehób, and of Ish-tób, and of Maacáh were by them selues in the field.

^d These were diuers parts of the countrey of Syria, whereby appeareth that the Syrians serued, where they might haue interteinement, as now the Switzers do.

9 When Ioáb sawe that the fronte of the battel was against him before and behinde, he chose of all the choise of Israél, and put them in array against the Aramites.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abishái his brother, that he might put them in array against the children of Ammón.

11 And he said, If the Aramites be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me, & if the children of Ammón be to strong for thee, I wil come and succour thee.

12 Be strong and let vs be valiant for ^e our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his eyes.

^e Here is declared wherefore warre ought to be undertaken: for the defence of true religion and Gods people.

13 Then Ioáb, & the people that was with him, ioyned in battel with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammón sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishái, and entred into the citie. so Ioáb returned from the children of Ammón, and came to Ierusalém.

15 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were smitten before Israél, they gathered them together.

CHAP. XI.

The citie Rabbah is besieged & Dauid committeth adulterie 17 Vriah is slaine 27 Dauid marieth Bathsheba.

1 And when the yere was expired in y time when Kings go forth to battel, Dauid sent Ioab, and his seruants with him, & all Israel, who destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbah:
but Dauid remained in Ierusalem.

2 And when it was evening tide, Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooffe of the Kings palace: and fro the rooffe he sawe a woman washing her selfe: and the womā was very beautiful to loke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent and inquired what woman it was: and one said, It is not this Beth-sheba y daughter of Eliam, wife to Vriah the Hittite.

4 Then Dauid sent messengers, and toke her away: and she came vnto him and he lay with her (now she was purified from her vnclennes) and she returned vnto her house.

5 And y womā conceived: therefore she sent & tolde Dauid & said, I am with childe.

6 Then Dauid sent to Ioab, saying, Send me Vriah the Hittite. And Ioab sent V-riah to Dauid.

7 And when Vriah came vnto him, Da-uid demanded him how Ioab did, & how the people fared, and how the warre proceeded.

8 Afterwarde Dauid said to Vriah, Go downto thine house, and wash thy feete.
So Vriah departed out of the Kings palace, & the King sent a present after him.

9 But Vriah slept at the dore of the Kings palace with all the seruants of his lord, and went not downto his house.

10 Then they tolde Dauid, saying, Vriah went not downto his house: and Dauid said vnto Vriah, Comest thou not from thy iourney? why didest thou not go downto thine house?

11 The Vriah answered Dauid, The Arke of Israel, and Iudā dwel in tents: and my lord Ioab and the seruants of my lord abide in the open fields. Shall I then go in to mine house to eat and drinke, and lie with my wife by thy life, & by the life of thy soule, I wil not do this thing.

12 Then Dauid said vnto Vriah, Tarry yet this daye, and tomorrow I wil send thee away. So Vriah abode in Ierusalem that day, and the morowe.

13 Then Dauid called him, & he did eat and drinke before him, & he made him drinke:
& at euē he went out to lie on his couch with the seruants of his lord, but went not downto his house.

14 And on the morowe Dauid wrote a letter to Ioab, and sent it by the hand of V-riah.

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, h Pur-ye Vriah in the forefote of the strength of the battel, & recule ye backe from him, that he may be smitten, and dye.

16 So when Ioab besieged y citie, he assigned Vriah vnto a place, where he knewe that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Ioab: & there fell of the people of the seruants of Dauid, & Vriah the Hittite also dyed.

18 Then Ioab sent and tolde Dauid all the things concerning the warre,

19 And he charged the messenger, saying,
When thou hast made an end of telling the matters of the warre vnto the King.

20 And if the Kings anger arise, so that he say vnto thee, Wherefore approached ye vnto y citie to fight? knowe ye not that they wolde hille from the wall?

21 Who smote Abimelech sonne of Ierubesheth did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon him from the wall, and he died in Thebez? why went you vnto the wall? Then say thou, Thy seruant Vriah the Hittite is also dead.

22 So the messenger went, and came and shewed Dauid all that Ioab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger said vnto Dauid, Certainly the men preuailed against vs, and came out vnto vs vnto the field, but we pursued them vnto the entering of the gate.

24 But y shooters shot fro the wall against thy seruants, and some of the Kings ser-uants be dead: and thy seruant Vriah the Hittite is also dead.

Then the Lord sent Nathán vnto Dauid, who came to him, and said vnto him, There were two men in one cite, the one riche, and the other poore.

The riche man had exceeding many shepe and oxen:

But the poore had none at all, saue one litle shepe which he had bought, & nourished vp: and it grewe vp with him, and with his children also, and did eat of his owne morsels, & dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bosome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

3 Sam. 16. 23.

Then Nathán said to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus sayth the Lord God of Israél, * I anointed thee King ouer Israél, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saúl, b For Dauid 8 succeeded Saúl in his kingdome.

And gaue thee thy lords ^b house, and thy lords ^c wiues into thy bosome, and gaue thee the house of Israél, and of Iudáh, & wolde moreouer (if that had bene to litle) haue giuen thee ^d fuche and fuche things.

c The Tewes vnderstand this of Egláh and Michal, or of Rizpáh and Michal.

Wherefore hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to do euil in his sight? thou hast killed Vriáh the Hittite with the sworde, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sworde of the ^e children of Ammón.

d That is, greater things than these: for Gods loue and benefices increase toward him, if by their ingratitude they stay him not.

Now therefore the sworde shal neuer departe from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Vriáh the Hittite to be thy wife.

e Thou hast moste cruelly giuen him into the hands of Gods enemies.

Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil raise vp euil against thee out of thine owne house, and wil * take thy wiues before thine eyes, & giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shal lye with thy wiues in the sight of this ^f sunne.

For thou didest it secretly: but I wil do this thing before all Israél, and before the sunne.

f Meaning, openly, as at none dayes.

Then Dauid said vnto Nathán, * I haue sinned against ^g the Lord. And Nathán said vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath ^g put away thy sinne, thou shalt not dye.

Ecclef. 4. 7. 23.

g For the Lord seeth but ^h the sinner wolde turne to him.

Howbeit because by this dede thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to ^h blaspheme, the childe that is borne vnto thee shal surely dye.

h In saying, that the Lord hath appointed a wicked man to reigne ouer his people.

¶ So Nathán departed vnto his house: and the Lord stroke the childe that Vriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it was sicke.

Dauid therefore besought God for the childe, and fasted and went in, and laye all night vpon the earth.

i To wit, to be prauise chabers.

Then the Elders of his house arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he wolde not, neither did he eat kmeat with them.

k Thinking by his instant prayer that God wolde haue restored his childe, but God had otherwise determined.

So on the seventh day the childe dyed: & the seruants of Dauid feared to tel him that the childe was dead: for they said, Beholde, while the childe was aliue, we spake vnto him, and he wolde not hearken vnto our voyce: how then shal we say vnto him, The childe is dead, " to vex him more?

l Ebr. & he wil do him false euil.

But when Dauid sawe that his seruants whispered, Dauid perceiued that ^m the childe was dead: therefore Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the childe dead? And they said, He is dead.

Then Dauid ⁿ arose from the earth, & washed and anointed him selfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshiped, & afterward came to his owne house, and bade that they shulde set bread before him, and he did eat.

l Shewing that our lamentations ought not to be excessive, but moderate: and ^o we must praise God in all his doings.

Then said ^m his seruants vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done? thou didest fast and wepe for the childe, while it was aliue, but whē the childe was dead, thou didest rise vp, and eat meat.

m As they considered not that God granteth manie things to the fobbes & teares of ⁿ faithfull.

And he said, While the childe was yet aliue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, Who can tel whether God wil haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue?

But now being dead, wherefore shulde I now fast? ^o Can I bring him againe anie more? I shal go to him, but he shal not returne to me.

n By this consideration apparied his sorrowe.

¶ And Dauid comforted Bath-sheba his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her, * and she bare a sonne, ^o & he called his name Salomón: also ^p the Lord loued him.

 thou maiest take it, lest r the victorie be attributed to me.
- 29 So Dauid gathered all the people together, and went against Rabbáh, and belie-ged it, and toke it.
- 30 ¶ And he toke their Kings crowne from his head, (which wayed a t talent of golde, with precious stones) & it was set on Da-uids head: and he brought away the spoile of the cite in exceeding great abundance.
- 31 And he caryed away the people that was therein, and put them vnder r sawes, and vnder yron harowes, and vnder axes of yron, and cast them into the tyle kyln: euen thus did he with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people returned vnto Ierusalem.

CHAP. XIII.

- 24 Amnón Dauids sonne defileth his sister Tamár.
 19 Tamár is comforted by her brother Absalóm.
 29 Absalóm therefore killeth Amnón.
- 1 Now after this so it was, that Absa-lóm the sonne of Dauid hauing a faire sister, whose name was a Tamár, Amnón the sonne of Dauid loued her.
- 2 And Amnón was so fore vexed, that he fel sicke for his sister Tamár: for she was a b virgin, & it semed harde to Amnón to do any thing to her.
- 3 But Amnón had a friend called Iona-dáb, the sonne of Shimeáh Dauids brother: and Ionadáb was a very subtile man.
- 4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the Kings sonne so leane frō day to day? wilt thou not tel me? Then Amnón answered him, I loue Tamár my brother Absalós sister.
- 5 And Ionadáb said vnto him, Lye downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father shal come to se thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamár come, and giue me meat, and let her dresse me in my sight, that I may se it, and eat it of her hand.
- 6 ¶ So Amnón laye downe, & made him
 selfe sicke: and when the King came to se him, Amnón said vnto the King, I pray thee, let Tamár my sister come, & make me a couple of d cakes in my sight, that I may receiue meat at her hand.
- 7 Then Dauid sent home e Tamár, saying, Go now to thy brother Amnons hou-

- se, and dresse him meat.
- 8 ¶ So Tamár went to her brother Amnons house, and he laye downe: and she toke r floure, and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.
- 9 And she toke a panne, & e powred them out before him, but he wolde not eat. The Amnón said, Cause ye euery man to go out from f me: so euery man went out frō him.
- 10 Then Amnón said vnto Tamár, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamár toke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnón her brother.
- 11 And when she had set them before him to eat, he toke her, and said vnto her, Come, lye with me, my sister.
- 12 But she answered him, Naye, my bio-ther, do not force me: for no such thing
 * ought to be done in Israël: commit not this folie.
- 13 And I, r whether shal I cause my shame to go: and thou shalt be as one s of the fooles in Israël: now therefore, I pray thee, speake to the King, for he wil not denye me vnto thee.
- 14 Howbeit he wolde not hearken vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.
- 15 Then Amnón hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith he hated her, was greater then the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnón said vnto her, Vp, get thee hence
- 16 And she answered him, There is no cause: this euil (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didest vnto me:
 but he wolde not heare her,
- 17 But called his r seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the dore after her.
- 18 (And she had a garment of h diuers coulers vpon her: for with suche garmets were the Kings daughters that were vir-gins, appareled) Then his seruant brought her out, and locked the dore after her.
- 19 And Tamár put ashes on her head & rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layed her hand on her head, & went her way crying.
- 20 And Absalóm her brother said vnto her, Hathe Amnón thy brother bene with thee? Now yet be r styl, my sister: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieue thine heart. So Tamár remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.
- 21 ¶ But when King Dauid heard all these things, he was very wrothe.
- 22 And Absalóm said vnto his brother Amnón nether good nor bad: for Absa-lóm hated Amnón, because he had forced his sister Tamár.

Or, in the place of H. is k To wit, to a banquet, thinking thereby to fulfil his wicked purpose.

23 ¶ And after the time of two yeres, Abfalóm had shepherders in Baal-hazór, which is beside Ephraím, and Abfalóm called all the Kings sonnes.

24 And Abfalóm came to the King & said, Beholde now, thy seruant hathe shepherders: I pray thee, that the King with his seruants wolde go with thy seruant.

25 But the King answered Abfalóm, Naye my sonne, I pray thee, let vs not go all, lest we be chargeable vnto thee. Yet Abfalóm laye fore vpá him: howbeit he wolde not go, but thanked him.

Ebr blessed.

26 The said Abfalóm, But, I pray thee, shal not my brother Amnón go with vs? And the King answered him, Why shulde he go with thee?

¶ Pretending to the King, Amnón was moste deare vnto him.

27 But Abfalóm was instant vpon him, and he sent Amnón with him, & all the Kings children.

28 ¶ Now had Abfalóm commanded his seruants, saying, Marke now when Amnóns heart is mery with wine, and when I say vnto you, Smite Amnón, kil him, feare not, for haue not I commanded you be bolde therefore, and play the men.

m Suche is the pride of the wicked masters, that in all their wicked commandments they thinke to be obeyed.

29 And the seruants of Abfalóm did vnto Amnón, as Abfalóm had commanded: & all the Kings sonnes arose, and euery man gate him vp vpon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And while thei were in the way, tidings came to Dauid, saying, Abfalóm hathe slayne all the Kings sonnes, and there is not one of them left.

n Lamentings, as he that felt the wrath of God vpon his house, Chap. 12, to.

31 Then the King arose, and tare his garments, and lay on the ground, and all his seruants stode by with their clothes rent.

32 And Ionadáb the sonne of Shimeáh Dauids brother answered and said, Let not my lord suppose that thei haue slayne all the yong men the Kings sonnes: for Amnón onely is dead, because Abfalóm had reported so, since he forced his sister Tamár.

¶ Ebr because he was put in Abfaloms mouth.

33 Now therefore let not my lord King take y thing so gricuously, to thinke that all the Kings sonnes are dead: for Amnón onely is dead.

¶ Or, take it so he vs. Or, bus.

34 ¶ Then Abfalóm fled: & the yong man that kept the watche, lift vp his eyes, and looked, & beholde, there came muche people by the way of the hill side behinde him.

¶ Or, one after another.

35 And Ionadáb said vnto the King, Beholde, the Kings sonnes come: as thy seruant said, so it is.

o That onely Amnón is dead.

36 And asone as he had left speaking, beholde, the Kings sonnes came, and lift vp their voyces, and wept: and the King also and all his seruants wept exceedingly sore.

p For Maacháh his mother was the daughter of this Talmái, Chap 3,; 37 But Abfalóm fled away, and went to Talmái the sonne of Ammihúr King of Geshúr: and Dauid mourned for his sonne euery day.

38 So Abfalóm fled, and went to Geshúr, & was there thre yeres.

39 And King Dauid desired to go forthe vnto Abfalóm, because he was pacified concerning Amnón, seing he was dead.

CHAP. XIII.

¶ Abfalóm is reconciled to his father by the subtiltie of Ioab. 24 Abfalóm may not see the Kings face 25 The beautie of Abfalóm. 30 He causeth Ioabs come to be burnt, and is brought to his fathers presence.

1 Then Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh perceived, that the Kings heart was toward Abfalóm,

¶ That King fauoured him.

2 And Ioáb sent to Tekóah, and broght thence a subtile woman, & said vnto her, I pray thee, faine thy selfe to moune, and now put on mourning apparel, & anoint not thy selfe with oyle: but be as a woman that had now long time mourned for the dead.

b In token of mourning: for thei vsed anointing to become cheareful.

3 And come to the King, and speake of this maner vnto him (for Ioáb taught her whar she shulde say)

¶ Ebr, put words in her mouth.

4 ¶ Then the woman of Tekóah spake vnto the King, and fel downe on her face to the ground, & did obeisance, and said, Helpe, o King.

¶ Ebr, saue.

5 Then the King said vnto her, What ayleth thee? And she answered, I am in dede a widowe, and mine housband is dead:

¶ Ebr a widowe woman.

6 And thine hádmayd had two sonnes, & they two stroue together in the field: (and there was none to parte them) so the one smote the other, and slewe him.

c Vnder this parable she describeth the death of Amnón by Abfalóm.

7 And beholde, the whole familie is risen against thine handmayd, & thei said, Deliuér him that smote his brother, that we may kil him for the soule of his brother whome he slewe, that we may destroy the heire also: so they shal quench my sparkle which is left, and shal not leaue to mine housbád nether name nor posteritie vpon the earth.

d Because she hathe slayne his brother, he ought to be slayne according to the Lawe, Gen 9, 6 exod 21, 12.

8 And the King said vnto the woman, Go to thine house, and I wil giue a charge for thee.

9 Then the woman of Tekóah said vnto the King, My lord, o King, this trespasse be on me, and on my fathers house, & the King and his throne be giltyes.

e Astonching the breache of Lawe & punisheth blood, let me beare the blame Or, innocent.

10 And the King said, Bring him to me that speaketh against thee, and he shal touche thee nomore.

11 Then said she, I pray thee, let the King remember the Lord thy God, that thou woldest not suffer many reuengers of blood to destroy, lest thei slaye my sone. And he answered, As the Lord liuerh, there shal not one heere of thy sonne fall to y earth.

f Swaere that thei shal not reuenge the blood, which are many number.

12 Then the woman said, I pray thee, let thine hádmáid speake a word to my lord the the King. And he said, Say on.

^g Why doest thou giue contrary sentence in thy soune Abfalóm?

13 Then the woman said, Wherefore then hast thou s^t thought suche a thing against the people of God? or why doest ^g King, as one which is faurie, speake this thing, that he wil not bring againe his banished?

14 For we must nedes dye, & we are as water spilt on the grounde, which can not be gathered vp againe: nether doeth God spare anie persone, yet doeth he appoint ^h means, not to cast out from him him that is expelled.

^{Or, accept.}
^h God hathe giuded waies (as sanctuaries) to saue the oft times, whome manudgeth worthy death

15 Now therefore that I am come to speake of this thing vnto my lord the King, the cause is that the people ⁱ haue made me afraide: therefore thine handmaid said, Now wil I speake vnto ^g King: it may be that the King wil performe the request of his handmaid.

16 For the King wil heare, to deliuer his handmaid out of the hand of the man that wolde destroye me, and also my soune fró the inheritance of God.

17 Therefore thine handmaid said, The worde of my lord the King shal now be comfortable: for my lord the King is euen as an ^k Angel of God in hearing of good & bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

18 Then the King answered, and said vnto the woman, Hide not fró me, I pray thee, the thing that I shal aske thee. And ^g woman said, Let my lord ^g King now speake.

^l Hast not thou done this by ^g counsel of Ioáb?

19 And the King said, Is not ^l the hand of Ioáb with thee in all this? Then the woman answered, & said, As thy soul liueth, my lord the King, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to the left from ought that my lord the King hathe spoken: for euen thy seruāt Ioáb bade me, & he put all these wordes in ^g mouthe of thine handmaid.

^{Or, none can hide ought from the King}

ⁿ I haue grāted thy request.

21 ¶ And ^g King said vnto Ioáb, Beholde now, I haue ⁿ done this thing: go then, & bring the yong man Abfalóm againe.

^{12 Ebr blessed.}

22 And Ioáb fel to the grounde on his face, and bowed him selfe, and ⁿ thanked the King. Then Ioáb said, This day thy seruāt knoweth, that I haue founde grace in thy sight, my lord the King, in that the King hathe fulfilled the request of his seruāt.

23 ¶ And Ioáb arose, and went to Geslúr, and brought Abfalóm to Ierusalém.

^o Covering hereby his affection, and shewing some parte of iustice to please ^g people.

24 And the King said, Let him ^o turne to his owne house, and not se my face. So Abfalóm turned to his owne house, and sawe not the Kings face.

25 Now in all Israél there was none to be so muche praised for beautie as Abfalóm: from the sole of his foote euen to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And whē he polled his head, (for at euerie yeres end he polled it: because it was to heauy for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the hære of his head at two hundred ^p shekels by the Kings weight.

^p Which weighed 6 l 4 ounces after halfe an ounce the shekel.

27 And Abfalóm had the sonnes, and one daughter named Tamár, which was a faire woman to loke vpon.

28 ¶ So Abfalóm dwelt ^g space of two yeres in Ierusalém, & sawe not the Kings face.

29 Therefore Abfalóm sent for Ioáb to send him to the King, but he wolde not come to him: and when he sint againe, he wolde not come.

30 Therefore he said vnto his seruants, Beholde, Ioáb harhe ^a field by my place, & harhe barly the: ein: go, & set it ^q on fire: & Abfaloms seruants set the field on fire.

^{Or, possession.}
^q The wicked are impatient in their affections, & spare no vnlawful means to compass them.

31 Then Ioáb arose, and came to Abfalóm vnto his house, and said vnto him, Wherefore haue thy seruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Abfalóm answered Ioáb, Beholde, I sent for thee, saying, Come thou hither, and I wil send thee to the King for to say, Wherefore am I come from Geslúr? It had bene better for me to haue bene there stil: now therefore let me se ^g Kings face: and ^r if there be anie trespass in me, let him kil me.

33 Then Ioáb came to the King, and tolde him: and he called for Abfalóm, who came to the King, and bowed him selfe to the grounde on his face before the King, and the King kissed Abfalóm.

The Arke returneth.

6 And on this maner did Absalóm to all Israël, ^d that came to the King for iudgement: so Absalóm ^d stole the heartes of the men of Israël.

7 ¶ And after ^e fortie yerres, Absalóm said vnto the King, I pray thee, let me go to Hebrón, and reade my vowe which I haue vowed vnto the Lord.

8 For thy seruant vowed a vowe when I remained in Geshúr, in Arám, saying, If the Lord shal bring me againe in dede to Ierusalém, I wil ^f serue the Lord.

9 And the King said vnto him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to Hebrón.

10 ¶ Then Absalóm sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israël, saying, When ye heare the sounde of the trumpet, ye shal say, Absalóm reigneth in Hebrón.

11 ¶ And with Absalóm went two hundredth men out of Ierusalém, that were ^g called: and they wēt in their simplicitie, knowing nothing.

12 Also Absalóm sent for Ahithóphel the Gilonite Dauids counseler, from his citie Gilóh, while he offred sacrifices: and the treason was great: for the people ^h encresed still with Absalóm.

13 ¶ Then came ⁱ a messenger to Dauid, saying, The heartes of the men of Israël are turned after Absalóm.

14 Then Dauid said vnto all his seruants that were with him at Ierusalém, Vp, and let vs flee: for we shal not escape fró ^k Absalóm: make spede to departe, lest he come sodenly and take vs, & bring euil vpó vs, and smite the citie with the edge of the sworde.

15 And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, thy seruants ^l are ready to do according to all that my lord the King shal appoint.

16 So the King departed and all his household ^m after him, and the King left ten concubines to kepe the house.

17 And the King went forth and all the people after him, and taried in ⁿ a place farre of.

18 And all his seruants went about him, and all the ^o Cherethites and all the Pelethites and all ^p the Gittites, ^q euen fixe húdredth men which were come after him fró Gath, went before the King.

19 Then said the King to ^r Ittái the Gittite, Wherefore comest thou also with vs? Returne and abide with the King, for thou art a stranger: departe thou therefore to thy place.

20 Thou camest yesterday, and shulde I cause thee to wander to day and go with vs? I wil go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and cary againe thy ^s brethren: mercie and ^t trueth be with thee.

21 And Ittái answered the King, and said,

As the Lord liueth, & as my lord the King liueth, in what place my lord the King shalbe, whether in death or life, euen there surely wil thy seruant be.

22 Then Dauid said to Ittái, Come, & go forwarde. And Ittái the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and ^u all the people went forward, but the King passed ouer the brooke Kidión: and all the people wēt ouer toward the way of the wildernes.

24 ¶ And lo, Zadók also ^v was there, and all the Leuites with hym, ^w bearing the Arke of the couenant of God: & they set downe ^x the Arke of God, and Abiathár wēt ^y vp vntil the people were all come out of the citie.

25 Then the King said vnto Zadók, Carie the Arke of God againe into the citie: if I shal finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he wil bring me againe, & shewe me ^z bothe it, and the ^{aa} Tabernacle thereof.

26 But if he thus say, I haue no delite in thee, beholde, ^{ab} here am I, let him do to me as semeth good in his eyes.

27 The King said againe vnto Zadók the Priest, Art not thou a ^{ac} Sacer? returne into the citie in peace, & your two sonnes with you: ^{ad} to wit, Ahimáaz thy sonne, and Ionathán the sonne of Abiathár.

28 Beholde, I wil tarie in the fieldes of the wildernes, vntil there come some worde from you to be tolde me.

29 Zadók therefore and Abiathár caryed the Arke of God againe to Ierusalém, and they taried there.

30 And Dauid went vp the mount of oliues and wept as he went vp, and had his head ^{ae} couered, and wēt barefooted: and all the people that was with him, had euerie man his head couered, and as they went vp, they wept.

31 Then one tolde Dauid, saying, Ahithóphel is one of them that haue conspired with Absalóm: and Dauid said, ^{af} O Lord, I pray thee, turne the ^{ag} counsel of Ahithóphel into foolishnes.

32 ¶ Then Dauid came to the toppe of the mount where he worshiped God: and beholde, Hushái the Archite came against him with his coate torne, & hauing earth vpon his head.

33 Vnto whome Dauid said, If thou go with me, thou shalt be a burthen vnto me.

34 But if thou returne to the citie, and say vnto Absalóm, I wil be thy ^{ah} seruant, ^{ai} O King, (as I haue bene in time past thy fathers seruant, so wil I now be thy seruant) then thou maiest bring me the counsel of Ahithóphel to noight.

3 And the King said, But where is thy masters sonne? Thē Zibá answered the King, Beholde, he remaineth in Ierusalém: for he said, This day shal the house of Israél restore me the kingdome of my father.

4 Then said the King to Zibá, Beholde, thine are all that ^{pertained} vnto Mephibós sheth. And Zibá said, I beseeche thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, & King.

5 And when King Dauid came to ^c Bahurím, beholde, thence came out a man of the familie of the house of Saúl, named Shimeí the sonne of Gerá: and he came out, and cursed.

17 Then Absalóm said to Hufháí, Is this thy kindenes to thy ^{friend}? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 Hufháí then answered vnto Absalóm, Nay, but whome the Lord, & this people, and all the men of Israél chuse, his wil I be, and with him wil I dwell.

19 And ^{moreouer} vnto whome shal I do seruice? not to his sonne: as I serued before thy father, so wil I before thee.

20 Then spake Absalóm to Ahithóphel, Giue counsell what we shal do.

21 And Ahithóphel said vnto Absalóm, Go in to thy fathers concubines, which he hathe left to kepe the house: and when all Israél shal heare, that thou art abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shal be strong.

22 So they spred Absalóm a tent vpon the top of the house, and Absalóm went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Israél.

23 And the counsell of Ahithóphel which he counseled in those dayes, was like as one had asked ¹ counsell at the oracle of God: so was all the counsell of Ahithóphel bothe with Dauid and with Absalóm.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Ahithophels counsell is ouerthrowen by Hufháí. 14 The Lord had so ordeined. 19 The Priests somes are led in the well. 22 Dauid goeth ouer Iordán. 23 Ahithóphel hangeth him selfe. 27 They bring vitails to Dauid.

3 And I wil bring againe all the people vnto thee, and when all shal returne, (^b the man whome thou sekest being slaine) all the people shal be in peace.

^c Ebr. was right in the eyes of Absalom.

4 And the saying "pleased Absalom wel, and all the Elders of Israel.

^d Ebr. what is in his mouth.

5 Thé said Absalom, Call now Hushai the Archite also, and let vs heare likewise "what he sayeth.

^e Or, given such counsel.

6 So when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Ahithóphel hathe "spoken thus: shal we do after his saying, or not? thou?

^f Hushai sheweth himselfe faithful to David, in that he reproceth this wicked counsel and purpose. ^g Or, I say all night.

7 Hushai then answered vnto Absalom, The counsel that Ahithóphel hathe giue, is not ^h good at this time.

8 For, said Hushai, thou knowest thy father, and his men, that they be strong mé, and are chafed in minde as a beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: also thy father is a valiant warriar, and wil not lodge with the people.

ⁱ Ebr. haue a breach, or rent. ^j Ebr. melt.

9 Beholde, he is hid now in some caue, or in some place: and thogh some of them be ouerthrowen at the first, yet the people shal heare, and say, The people that followe Absalom, be "ouerthrowen.

10 Then he also that is valiant whose heart is as the heart of alion, shal "shrinke and faint: for all Israël knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, stowte men.

11 Therefore my counsel is, that all Israël be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou go to battel in thine owne persone.

^k Or, we wil catch him.

12 So shal we come vpō him in some place, where we shal finde him, and "we wil vpō him as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we wil not leaue him one.

13 Moreouer if he be gotten into a citie, then shal all the men of Israël bring ropes to that citie, and we wil drawe it into the riuer, vntil there be not one smale stone found there.

^l Or, remoued.

14 ¶ Then Absalom and all the men of Israël said, The counsel of Hushai the Archite is better, then the counsel of Ahithóphel: for the Lord had "determined to destroy the "good couēsel of Ahithóphel, that the Lord might "bring euil vpon Absalom.

^m That counsel which seemed good at the first to Absalom.

15 Then said Hushai vnto Zadok and to Abiathar the Priests, Of this and that manner did Ahithóphel and the Elders of Israël counsel Absalom: and thus and thus haue I counseled.

ⁿ For by the counsel of Hushai he went to the battel where he was ^o slain.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and shewe

Dauid, saying, Tary not this night in the fieldes of the wildernes, but rather get thee "ouer, least the King be deuoured & all the people that are with him.

^p That is, ouer Iordan.

17 ¶ Now Ionathán and Ahimáaz abode by "En-rogel: (for they might not be sene to come into the citie) and a maid went, and tolde them, and they went and shewed King Dauid.

^q Or, the well of Rogel.

^r Meaning, the message from their fathers.

18 Neuertheles a yong man sawe them, and tolde it to Absalom. therefore they bothe departed quykly, & came to a más house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went downe.

19 And ^s the wife toke and spred a couering ouer the welles mowthe, and spred grounde corne thereon, that the thing shulde not be knowen.

^t Thus God sendeth succour to his in their greatest dangers.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife into the house, they said, Where is Ahimáaz and Ionathán? And the woman answered them, They be gone ouer the "broke of water. And when they had sought them, and colde not finde them, they returned to Ierusalém.

^u The Chaldee text readeth, now they haue passed the Iordán.

21 And as soon as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde King Dauid, and said vnto him, Vp, and get you quykly ouer the water: for ^v such counsel hathe Ahithóphel giuen against you.

^w To wit, to pursue thee w all haste.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Iordén¹ vntil the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Iordén.

^x They traueled all night, & by morning had all their companie passed ouer.

23 ¶ Now whē Ahithóphel sawe that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his asse, and arose, and he went home vnto his citie, and put his householde in ordre, and "hanged him selfe, and dyed, and was buried in his fathers graue.

^y Gods iust vengeance euē in this life is powred on them, which are enemies, traitours, or persecuters of his Church.

24 ¶ Then Dauid came to Mahanáim. And Absalom passed ouer Iordén, he, and all the men of Israël with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasá captain of the hoste in the stead of Ioab: which Amasá was a mans sonne named Ithra an Israelite, that wēt in to Abigál the daughter of "Nahásh, sister to Zeruiáh Ioabs mother.

^z Who was also called Ishai Dauid's father.

26 So Israël and Absalom pitched in the land of Gileád.

27 ¶ And when Dauid was come to Mahanáim, Shobi the sonne of Nahásh out of Rabbáh of the children of Ammón, and Machír the sonne of Ammiél out of Lodebár, and Barzelái the Gileadite out of Rogel

29 And

29 And they broght hony, and butter, and shepe, and cheefe of kine for Dauid and for the people that were with him, to ear: for they said, The people is hungry, & weary, and thirfty in the wildernes.

Then Dauid ^a nōbred the people that were with him, & set ouer them captaynes of thousands and captaynes of hundreds.

3 And Dauid sent forthe the third parte of the people vnder the hand of Ioáb, and the third parte vnder the hand of Abishái Ioabs brother the sonne of Zeruah: and the other third parte vnder the hād of Ittái the Gittite. & the King said vnto the people, I will go with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go fo: the: for if we flee away, they wil not regarde vs, nether wil they passe for vs, thogh halfe of vs were flaine: but thou art now worthe tē thousand of vs: therefore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

^b Signifying, y^e a good gouernour ought to be so deare vnto his people, that they wil rather iole their liues, the y^e ought shulde come vnto hi.

4 Then the King said vnto them, What semeth you best, that I wil do. So y^e King stode by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreths and by thousands.

5 And the King commanded Ioáb and Abishái, and Ittai, saying, Entreate the yong man Abfalóm gently for my sake. and all the people hearde when the King gaue all the captaynes charge concerning Abfalóm.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Israél, & the battel was in y^e wood of Ephraim:

^c So called because y^e Ephraimites (as some say) fed their cattel beyōde Iordē in this wood.

7 Where the people of Israél were flaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, euen of twentie thousand.

8 ¶ For the battel was skatred ouer all the cuntry: and the wood deuoured muche more people that day, then did the sworde.

9 ¶ Now Abfalóm met the seruants of Dauid, and Abfalóm rode vpon a mule, and the mule came vnder a great thicke oke: and his head caught holde of the oke, and he was taken vp ¶ betwene the heauen and the earth: & the mule that was vnder him went away.

^d This is a terrible exanple of Gods vengeance agaynst them that are rebels or disobedient to their parents

10 And one that sawe it, tolde Ioáb, saying, Beholde, I sawe Abfalóm hanged in an oke.

11 Then Ioáb said vnto the man that tolde him, And hast thou in dede sene why then didest not thou there smite him to the ground, and I wolde haue giuen thee tyn *shekels of siluer, and a girdle

Gen 23.15

12 Then the man said vnto Ioáb, Thogh I shulde receiue a thousand shekels of siluer in mine hād, yet wolde I not lay mine hād vpon the Kings sonne: for in our hearing the King charged thee, and Abishái, & Ittai, saying, Beware, lest anie touche the yong man Abfalóm.

16 Then Ioáb ^d blewe the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Israél: for Ioáb helde backe the people.

^d For he had putte of y^e people, which was seduced by Abfaloms flatterie.

17 And they toke Abfalóm, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layed a mighty great heape of stones vpon him: and all Israél sled euerie one to his tent.

^e Thus God turned his vaine glorie to shame.

18 Now Abfalóm in his life time had také and reared him vp a pillar, which is in the Kings dale: for he said, I haue no sonne to kepe my name in remembrance. & he called y^e pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Abfaloms place.

19 ¶ Then said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók, I pray thee, let me runne, and beare the King tidings that the Lord hathe deliuered him out of the hand of his enemies.

^g Ebr. Iudged.

20 And Ioáb said vnto him, Thou shalt not be y^e messenger to day, but thou shalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou shalt beare none: for the Kings sonne is dead.

^g For Ioáb bare a good affection to Ahimáaz, & doubted how Dauid wold take the reporte of Abfaloms death.

21 Thé said Ioáb to Cushí, Go, tel the Kíng, what thou hast sene. And Cushí bowed him selfe vnto Ioáb, and ran.

22 Thé said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók agame to Ioáb, What, I pray thee, if I also runne after Cushí? And Ioab said, Wherefore now wilt thou runne, my sonne, seing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Then he said vnto him, Rúne. So Ahimáaz ranne by the way of the plaine, and ouerwent Cushí.

^h He sate in the gate of y^e citie of Mahanaim.

24 Now Dauid sate betwene y^e two gates. And the watchman went to the toppes of the gate vpon the wall, & lift vp his eyes, and sawe, and beholde, a man came running alone.

25 And the watchman cryed, & tolde the King. And the King said If he be alone, he bringeth tidings. And he came apase, and stode nere.

ⁱ Ebr stande as one that bringeth tidings.

26 And the watcheman sawe an other man running, and the watcheman called vnto the porter, and said, Beholde, another man runneth alone. And the King said, He also bringeth tidings.

27 And the watcheman said, "Me thinketh the running of the fo: most ^{like} the running of Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók. Then the King said, He is a good man, & commeth with good tidings.

28 And Ahimáaz called, and said vnto the King, Peace be with thee: and he fel downe to the earth vpon his face before y King, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath ^e shut vp the men that lift vp their hands against my lord the King.

29 And the King said, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Ahimáaz answered, Whē Ioáb sent the Kings ^k seruant, and ^{me} thy seruāt, I sawe a great tumulte, but I knewe not what.

30 And the King said vnto him, Turne aside, & stand here. so he turned aside and stood stil.

31 And beholde, Cushí came, and Cushí said, "Tidings, my lord the King: for the Lord hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all that rose against thee.

32 Then the King said vnto Cushí, Is the yong man Absalóm safe? And Cushí answered, The enemies of my lord y King, & all that rise agāst thee to do thee hurt, be as that yong man is.

33 And the King was ^l moued, and went vp to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept: & as he went, thus he said, O my sonne Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne Absalóm: wolde God I had dyed for thee, o Absalóm, my sonne, my sonne.

7 Ioáb encourageth the King. 8 Dauid is restored 23 Shimeí is pardoned 24 Mephibósheh meeteth the King. 32 Barzelaí departeth. 41 Israél striueth with Iudáh.

And it was tolde Ioáb, Beholde, the King wepeth and mourneth for Absalóm.

2 Therefore the "victorie of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard say that day, The King sorroweth for his sonne.

3 And the people wēt that day into the ci-tie secretly, as people confounded hide them selues when they flee in battel.

4 So the King ^a hid his face, and the King cryed with a lowde voyce, My sonne Absalóm, Absalóm my sonne, my sonne.

5 ¶ Then Ioáb came into ^b the house to the King & said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruāts, which this day haue saued thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy concubines,

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, & hastest thy friendes: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither thy "princes nor seruants: therefore this day I perceiue, that if Absalóm had liued, and we all had dyed this day, that the it wolde haue pleased thee wel.

7 Now therfore vp, come out, and speake "cōfortably vnto thy situāts: for I sweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there wil not tary one man with thee this night: and that wil be worse vnto thee, then all y euil that fel on thee from thy youthe hetherto.

8 Then the King arose, & sate in the gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, saying, Beholde, the King doeth sit in the gate: & all the people came before the King: for Israél had fled euerie man to his tent.

9 ¶ Then all the people were at ^d strife throughout all the tribes of Israél, saying, The King saued vs out of the hād of our enemies, & he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistims, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalóm.

10 And Absalóm, whome we anoīte d ouer vs, is dead in battel: therefore why are ye so slowe to bring the King againe?

11 But King Dauid sent to Zadók and to Abiathár the ^e Priests, saying, Speake vnto the Elders of Iudáh and say, Why are ye behind to bring y King againe to his house, (for the saying of all Israél is come vnto the King, ^{euen} to his house) &

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Also say ye to Amasá, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? God do so to me and more also, if thou be not captaine of the hoste to me for euer in y ^f iourne of Ioáb.

14 So he bowed the heartes of all the men of Iudáh, as of one man: therfore they sent to the King, saying, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 ¶ So the King returned, & came to Iordén. And Iudáh came to Gilgál, for to go to meete the King, & to conduct him ouer Iordén.

16 ¶ And Shimeí y sonne of Gerá, the sonne of Iemini, which was of Bahurím, hastened & came downe with the men of Iudáh to meete King Dauid, 17 And a thousand men of Beniamín with him, and Zibá the seruant of the house of Saúl, and his fiftene sonnes and twentie seruants with him: and they wēt ouer Iordén before y King.

Whē thei were at the great stone, which is in Gibeón, Amasá went before them, & Iobabs garment, that he had put on, was girded vnto him, & vpon it was a sworde girded, which hanged on his loines in the sheath, & as he went, it vsed to falle out.

And Iobáb said to Amasá, Art thou my health, my brother? & Iobáb toke Amasá by the beard with his right hand to kisse him.

But Amasá toke no hede to the sworde that was in Iobabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fift rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, & smote him not the seconde time: so he dyed. then Iobáb & Abishái his brother followed after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

And one of Iobabs men stode by him, & said, He that fauoreth Iobáb, & he that is of Dauids parte, let him go after Iobáb.

And Amasá wallowed in blood in the middes of the way: & when the man sawe that all the people stode still, he remoued Amasá out of the way into a field, & cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stode still.

When he was remoued out of the way, euery man went after Iobáb, to followe after Shéba the sonne of Bichrí.

And he went through all the tribes of Israel vnto Abél, and Bethmaacháh and all places of Berim: and thei gathered together, and went also after him.

So thei came, and besieged him in Abél, nere to Bethmaacháh: and thei cast vp a mount against the citie, & the people thei of stode on the ramper, and all the people that was with Iobáb, destroyed and cast downe the wall.

Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare, I pray you, say vnto Iobáb, Come thou hither, that I may speake with thee.

And when he came nere vnto her, the woman said, Art thou Iobáb? And he answered, Yea. And she said to him, Heare the wordes of thine handmayd. And he answered, I do heare.

Then she spake thus, Thei spake in the olde time, saying, Thei shulde aske of Abél. and so haue thei continued.

I am one of them, that are peaceable & faithfull in Israel: and thou goest about to destroye a citie, and a mother in Israel: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?

And Iobáb answered, & said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I shulde deuoure, or destroye it.

The matter is not so, but a mā of mouit Ephraim (Shéba the sonne of Bichrí by name) hath lift vp his hand against the King, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, & I wil departe from the citie. And the woman said vnto Iobáb, Beholde, his head shalbe throwen to thee ouer the wall.

Then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdom, and thei cut of the head of Shéba the sonne of Bichrí, & cast it to Iobáb: then he blewe the trumpet, and thei retired from the citie, euery man to his tent: and Iobáb returned to Ierusalém vnto the King.

The Iobáb was ouer all the hoste of Israel, and Banaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá ouer the Cherethites & ouer the Pelethites,

And Adoram ouer the tribute, and Ioshaphát the sonne of Ahilúd the recorder,

And Sheiá was scribe, and Zadók and Abiathár the Priests,

And also Irá the Iairite was chief about Dauid.

13 So he brought thence the bones of Saúl and the bones of Ionathán his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saúl and of Ionathán his sonne buried they in the countrei of Beniamín in Zeláh, in the graue of Kish his facher: and when they had performed all that the King had commanded, God was then * appeased with the land.

8 ¶ These be the names of the mighty men whome Dauid had. He that sate in y seate of e wisdome being chief of the princes, was Adinó of Ezni, he slewe eight hundred at one time.

9 And after him was * Eleazár the sonne of Dodó, the sonne of Ahohí, one of the three worthies with Dauid, when they defied y Philistims gathered there to battel, when the men of Israél were f gone vp.

10 He arose and smote the Philistims vntil his hand was weary, and his hand g claue vnto the sworde: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoile.

11 After him was * Shammáh the sonne of Agé the Hararite: for y Philistims assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a field full of lentils, and the people fled fro the Philistims.

12 But he stode in the middes of the field, and defended it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue h great victorie.

13 ¶ Afterward thre of the thirty captaines went downe, and came to Dauid in the haruest time vnto the caue of Adullám, & the hoste of the Philistims pitched in the valley of Rephaím.

14 And Dauid was then in an holde, and the garison of the Philistims was then in Beth-léhem.

15 And Dauid i longed, and said, Oh, that en wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-léhem, which is by the gate.

16 The thre migty brake into the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-léhem that was by the gate, and toke & broght it to Dauid, who wolde not drinke thereof, but k powred it for an offering vnto the Lord,

17 And said, O Lord, be it far from me, that I shulde do this. Is not this y blood of the men that wet in jeopardy of their liues: therefore he wolde not drinke it. These things did these thre mighty men.

18 ¶ And Abishái the brother of Ioáb, the sonne of Zerushai, was chief among y thre, and he lifted vp his speare against thre hundred, and slewe them, and he had the name among the thre.

19 For he was moste excellent of the thre, and was their captaine. but he attained not vnto the first thre.

CHAP. XXIIII.

¹ Dauid causeth the people to be nombred. 10 He repenteth, and chuseth to fall into Gods hands 25 Seuente thousand perish with the pestilence.

^a And the wrath of the Lord was ^a against kindled against Israël, and ^b he moued Dauid against them, in that he said, Go, nomb: Israël and Iudáh.

² For the King said to Ioáb the captaine of the hoste, which was with him. Go spe-dely now through all the tribes of Israël, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba and nomber ye the people, that I may knowe the number of the people.

³ And Ioáb said vnto the King, The Lord thy God increase the people an hun dred fold: mo then they be, and that the eyes of my lord the King maye see it: but why doeth my lord the King desire this thing?

⁴ Notwithstanding the King worde preuailed against Ioáb & against the captai-nes of the hoste: therefore Ioáb & the captaines of the hoste went out from the presence of the King, to number the people of Israël.

⁵ And they passed ouer Iordén, and pitched in Aroér at the right side of the citie that is in the middes of the valley of Gad and towa ¹ Izzér.

⁶ Then they came to Gileád, and to ² Tah-um hodshi, so they came to Dan Iaan, &
so about to Zidon;

⁷ And I came to the forteresse of Ty rus and to all the cities of the Hittites and of the Canaanites, and went toward the South of Iudáh, euen to Beer-sheba.

⁸ So when they had gone about all the lād, they returned to Ierusalém at the end of nine moneths and twentie dayes.

⁹ And Ioáb deliuered the number and summe of the people vnto the King: and there were in Israël ^a eight hūdreth thousand strong m n that drewe swordes, and the men of Iudáh were ^c fine hundreth thousand men:

¹⁰ Thē Dauids heart smote him, after that he had nombred the people: and Dauid said vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: therefore now, Lord, I beseeche thee, take away the tres-passe of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

¹¹ And when Dauid was vp in the morning, the worde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids ^f Seer, saying, ¹² Go, and say vnto Dauid, Thus sayth the Lord, I offre thee thre things, chose thre which of them I shal do vnto thee.

¹³ So Gad came to Dauid, and shewed hī; and said vnto him, Wilt thou that ^g I uen ye: es famine come vpon thee in thy land, or wilt thou flee thre moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be thre daies pestilence in thy land: now aduise thee, and se, what answer
I shal giue to him that sent me.

¹⁴ And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful straite: let vs fall now into the hand of the Lord, (for his mercies are great) and let me not fall into the hād of man.

¹⁵ So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israël, from the morning euen to the time appointed: and there dyed of the people ^h 6 Dan euen to Beer-sheba seuentie thousand men.

¹⁶ And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Ierusalém to destroy it, the Lord ⁱ repēted of the euil, and said to the Angel that destroyed the people. It is sufficient, ^j holde now thine hand And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing place of Araunáh the Iebusite.

¹⁷ And Dauid spake vnto the Lord (when he sawe the Angel that smote the people) & said, Beholde, I haue sinned, yea, I haue done wickedly: but these shepe, what haue they ^k done? let me ne hand, I praye thee, be against me & against my fathers house.

¹⁸ So Gad came the same day to Dauid, and said vnto him, Go vp, reare an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Araunáh the Iebusite.

¹⁹ And Dauid (according to the saying of Gad) went vp, as the Lord had commanded.

²⁰ And Araunáh lokēd, and sawe the King and his seruants comming towarde him, and Araunáh went out, and bowed him selfe before the King on his face to the grounde,

²¹ And ¹ Araunáh said, Wherefore is my lord the King come to his seruant? Then Dauid answered, To bye the threshing floore of thee, for to buyle an altar vnto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

²² Then Araunáh said vnto Dauid, Let my lord the King take and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: be holde the oxen for the burnt offering, and charrets, and the instruments of the oxen for wood.

²³ All these things did Araunáh ^m as a King giue vnto the King: & Araunáh said vnto the King, The Lord thy God be fauo-rable vnto thee.

THE FIRST BOKE OF the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

BEcause the children of God shoulde loke for no continual rest and quietnes in this worlde, the holy Ghost setteth before our eyes in this boke the varietie and change of things, which came to the people of Israël from the death of Dauid, Salomón and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Aháb, declaring how that flourishing kingdomes, except they be preserued by Gods protection, (who then fauoreth them when his worde is truly set forth, vertue esteemed, vice punished and concorde maintained) fall to decay and come to naught: as appeareth by the diuiding of the kingdome vnder Robohám, and Ierobohám, which before were but all one people, and now by the iuste punishment of God were made two, whereof Iudáh and Beniamín came to Robohám: and this was called the kingdome of Iudáh, and the othor ten tribes helde with Ierobohám, and this was called the kingdome of Israël. The King of Iudáh had his throne in Ierusalém, and the King of Israël in Samaria, after it was buylt by Amri Ahabs father. And because our Saviour Christ according to the flesh shoulde come of the stocke of Dauid, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudáh is here described, from Salomón to Ioram the sonne of Iosaphát, who reigned ouer Iudáh in Ierusalém, as Aháb did ouer Israël in Samaria.

CHAP. I.

3 Abishág kept Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adoniah usurpeth the kingdome. 30 Salomón is anointed King. 50 Adoniah fleeth to the altar.

^a He was about 70 yere olde, 2 Sam. 5. 4.
^b For his natural heate was worne away with trauels.

Now when King Dauid was ^a olde, and stricken in yeres, they couered him w clothes, but no ^b heate came vnto him.

Wherefore his seruáts said vnto him, Let there be soght for my lord the King a yong virgin, and let her stand before the King, and cherish him: & let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

3 So they soght for a faire yong maid throughout all the coastes of Israël, and founde one Abishág ^c a Shunammite, and brought her to the King.

^c Which citie was in the tribē of Issachar.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, & cherished the King, and ministred to him, but the King knewe her not.

5 ¶ Then Adoniah the sonne of Haggith exalted him selfe, saying, I wil be King. And he gate him charets and horsemen, & ^d fifty men to runne before him.

^d Read, 2. Sam. 15. 6.

6 And his father wolde not displease him frō his childehode, to say, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly má, & his mother bare him next after Absalom.

^e Ebr. dases.

7 And he toke counsel of Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh, and of Abiathár the Priest: &

^e Ebr. his wordes were with Io-áb.

they ^e helped forward Adoniah.

^e They toke his part & fol- lowed him.

8 But Zadók the Priest, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehozadá, and Nathán the Prophet, & Shimei, & Reí, & y men of might w were with Dauid, were not w Adoniah.

9 Then Adoniah sacrificed shepe & oxen, and fat cattel by the stone of Zohéleth, which is by ^f En-rogeí, and called all his brethren the Kings sonnes, & all the men of Iudáh the Kings seruants, ^g Or, the fountaine.

10 But Nathán the Prophet, & Benaiáh, and the f mighty men, and Salomón his brother he called not.

^f As the Cherethites & Pe- lethites.

11 Wherefore Nathán spake vnto Bath-sheba the mother of Salomón, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adoniah the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our lord knoweth it not? ^h 2 Sam. 3. 4.

12 Now therefore come, & I wil now giue thee counsel, how to saue thine owne ⁱ life, and the life of thy sonne Salomón.

^g For Adoniah wil destroy thee and thy sonne, if he reigne.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto King Dauid, & say vnto him, didest not thou, my lord, ó King, sweare vnto thine hádmaid, sayig, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne? why is then Adoniah King?

14 Beholde, while y yet talkest there with the King, I also wil come in after thee, & ^j comfirmethy wordes.

^h By declaring suche things, as may further the same.

15 ¶ So Bath-sheba went in vnto the King into y cláber, & the King was very olde, and Abishág the Shunammite ministred vnto the King.

O. liiii.

16 And Bath-sheba bowed and made obeisance vnto the King. And the King said, What is thy matter?

17 And she answered him, My lord, thou swearst by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmaid, saying, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, now is Adonijah King, & now, my lord, O King, thou knowest it not.

19 And he hath offered many oxen, and fat cattel, and shepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the King, & Abiathar the Priest, & Ioab the captaine of the hoste: but Salomón thy seruant hath he not bidden.

20 And thou, my lord, O King, knowest that the eyes of all Israel are on thee, that thou shuldest tel them, who shulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him.

21 For els whē my lord the King shal slepe with his fathers, I and my sonne Salomón shal be reputed vile.

22 And lo, while she yet talked with the King, Nathán also the Prophet came in.

23 And they tolde the King, saying, Beholde, Nathán the Prophet. And when he was come in to the King, he made obeisance before the King vpon his face to the ground.

24 And Nathán said, My lord, O King, hast thou said, Adonijah shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne?

25 For he is gone downe this day, & hath slain many oxen, and fat cattel and shepe, and hath called all the Kings sonnes, & the captaines of the hoste, & Abiathar the Priest and beholde, they eat & drinke before him, and say, "God saue King Adonijah."

26 But me thy seruant, and Zadók the Priest and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and thy seruant Salomón hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the King, & thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruant, who shulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him?

28 ¶ Then King Dauid answered, & said, Call me Bath sheba. And she came into the Kings presence, and stood before the King.

29 And the King sware, saying, As the Lord liueth, who hath redeemed my soule out of all aduersitie, 30 That as I have sworn vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Salomón thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne in my place, so wil I certainly do this day.

31 Then Bath-sheba bowed her face to the earth, & did reuerence vnto the King, & said, God saue my lord King Dauid for euer.

32 ¶ And King Dauid said, Call me Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá. And they came before the King.

33 Then the King said vnto them, Take with you the seruants of your lord, and cause Salomón my sonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, & cary him downe to Gihón.

34 And let Zadók the Priest and Nathán the Prophet anoint him there King ouer Israel, and blowe ye the trumpet, and say, God saue King Salomón.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my throne: and he shal be King in my steade: for I haue appointed him to be prince ouer Israel and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá answered the King, & said, So be it, O the Lord God of my lord the King ratifie it.

37 As the Lord hath bene with my lord the King, so be he with Salomón, & exalt his throne about the throne of my lord King Dauid.

38 So Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites & the Pelethites went downe, and caused Salomón to ride vpon King Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihón.

39 And Zadók the Priest took an horn of poynt out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salomón anointed him with the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue King Salomón.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes & reioyced with great ioye, so that the earth rang with the sounde of them.

41 ¶ And Adonijah and all the gesses that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an end of eating) and when Ioab heard the sounde of the trumpet, he said, What meaneth this noise & uprore in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Ionathán the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came: & Adonijah said, Come in: for thou art a worthy man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Ionathán answered, and said to Adonijah, Verely our lord King Dauid hath made Salomón King.

44 And the King hath sent with him Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá, and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites, and they haue caused him to ride vpon the Kings mule.

45 And Zadók the Priest, and Nathán the Prophet haue anointed him King in Gihón: and they are gone vp fro thence with ioye, and the citie is moued: this is the noise

46 And Salomón also fitteth on the throne of the kingdome.

47 And moreover the Kings feruants came to blesse our lord King Dauid, saying, God make the name of Salomón more famous then thy name, & exalt his throne about thy throne: therefore the King worshipped vpon the bed.

48 And thus said the King also, Blessed be the Lord God of Israël, who hath made one to sit on my throne this day, euen in my sight.

49 Then all the gestes that were with Adonijáh, were affraid, and rose vp, & went euery man his waye.

50 ¶ And Adonijáh fearing the presence of Salomón, arose and went, and toke holde on the hornes of the altar.

51 And one tolde Salomón, sayig, Beholde, Adonijáh doeth feare King Salomón: for lo, he hath caught holde on the hornes of y altar, saying, Let King Salomón sweare vnto me this day, that he wil not slaye his feruant with the sworde.

52 Thē Salomón said, If he wil shewe him selfe a worthy man, there shal not an heere of him fall to the earth, but if wickednes be found in him, he shal dye.

53 Thē King Salomón sent, & thei broght him from the altar, and he came and did obseance vnto King Salomón. And Salomón said vnto him, Go to thine house.

CHAP. II.

1 Dauid exhorteth Salomón, and giueth charge as concerning Ioáb, Barzillai, and Shimei 10 The death of Dauid. 17 Adoniah asketh Abishag to wife 25 He is slayne. 35 Zadok was placed in Abiathars rounne.

1 Then the daies of Dauid drewe nere that he shulde dye, and he charged Salomón his sonne, saying,

2 I go the a waie of all the earth: be strong therefore, and shewe thy selfe a man,

3 And take hede to y charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his waies, & kepe his statutes, & his cōmandements, & his iudgemēts, & his testimonies, as it is written in the Lawe of Moyses, that thou maiest

* prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing whereunto thou turnest thee,

4 That the Lord may confirme his worde which he spake vnto me, sayig, If thy sonnes take hede to their way, that thei walke before me in c truethe, with all their hearts, and with all their soules, * thou shalt not (said he) want one of thy posteritie vpon the throne of Israël.

5 Thou knowest also what Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh did to me, and what he did to the two captaines of the hostes of Israël, vnto * Abner the sonne of Ner, and vnto * Amasá the sonne of Iether: whome he slewe, and shed blood of battel in peace, and e put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, & in his shooes that were on his fete.

6 Do therefore according to thy wisdome, and let thou not his hoare head go downe to the graue in peace.

7 But shewe kindenes vnto the sonnes of * Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among them that eat at thy table: f for so thei came to me when I fled from Absalom thy brother.

8 ¶ And beholde, with thee * Shimei the sonne of Gerá, the sonne of Iemini, of Bahuiím, which cursed me with an horrible curse in y day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came downe to meete me at Iordén, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, * I wil not slaye thee with the sworde.

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wise man, and knowest what thou oghtest to do vnto him: therefore y shalt cause his hoare head to go downe to the graue with s blood.

10 So * Dauid slept with his fathers, & was buried in the citie of Dauid.

11 And the daies which Dauid * reigned vpon Israël, were fourtie yeies: seuen yeres reigned he in Hebrón, and thirty & thre yeres reigned he in Ierusalém.

12 ¶ Thē sate Salomón vpon the throne of Dauid his father, and his kingdome was stablished mightely.

13 And Adonijáh the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomón: and she said, h Comcest thou peaceably? And he said, Yea.

14 He said moreover, I haue a sute vnto thee. And she said, Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israël set their faces on me, that I shulde reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, & is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I aske thee one request, refuse me not. And she said vnto him, Say on.

17 And he said, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Salomón the Kig, (for he wil not say thee naye) that he giue me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba said, Wel, I wil speake for thee vnto the King.

19 ¶ Bath-sheba therefore went vnto King Salomón, to speake vnto him for Adonijáh: and the King rose to meete her, and Matt. 8, 33. Wisd. 7, 11.

1 Salomón^a the made affinitie with Pharaoh King of Egypt, and toke Pharaohs daughter, and brought her into the^a citie of Dauid, vntil he had made an end of buylding his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Ierusalem round about.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in^b the hie places, because there was no house buylt vnto the Name of the Lord, vntil those dayes.

3 And Salomón loued the Lord, walking in the ordināces of Dauid his^c father: onely he sacrificed and offered incense in the hie places.

4 And the King wēt to^d Gibeón to sacrifice there, for that was the chief hie place: a thousand burnt offerings did Salomón offer vpon that altar.

5 In Gibeón the Lord appeared to Salomón in a dreame by night: and God said, Aske what I shal giue thee.

6 And Salomón said, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercy,^e when he walked before thee in trueth, & in righteousnes, and in vprightnes of heart with thee: & thou hast^e kept for him this great mercy, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeareth this day.

7 And now, O Lord, my God, thou hast made thy seruant King in stead of Dauid my father: and I am but a yong childe, and knowe not how to^f go out and in.

8 And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people, which^g thou hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

9 *Giue therefore vnto thy seruant an^h vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discern betwene good & bad: for who is able to iudge this thy^g mighty people?

10 And this pleased the Lord wel, that Salomón had desired this thing.

11 And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, & hast not asked for thy selfe long life, nether hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked^h thy life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heare iudgement, 12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wife and an vnderstanding heart, so that there haue bene none like thee before thee, nether after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

13 And I haue alsoⁱ giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, bothe riches and honour, so that among the Kings thereⁱ shal be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to kepe mine ordinances and my commandments,^k as thy father Dauid did walke, Chap. 15, 34 I wil prolong thy dayes.

15 And when Salomón awoke, beholde, it wasⁱ a dreame, and he came to Ierusalem, and stode before the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt offerings and made peace offerings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

16 ¶ Then came two^l harlottes vnto the King, and^k stode before him.

17 And the one woman said, Oh my lord, I & this woman dwell in one house, & I was deliuered of a childe with her in^m this house.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger was with vs in the house, saue we twaine.

19 And this womans sonne dyed in the night: for she ouerlay him.

20 And she rose at midnight, andⁿ toke my sonne from my side, while thine handmaid slept, & layed him in her bosome, & layed her dead sonne in my bosome.

21 And when I rose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, he was dead: and when I had wel considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whome I had borne.

22 Then the other woman said, Naye, but my sonne liueth, and thy sonne is dead: againe she said, No, but thy sonne is dead, & mine aliue: thus they spake before^o the King.

23 The^l said the King, She sayth, this that liueth is my sonne, & the dead is thy sonne: and^p the other sayth, Naye, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

24 Then^q the King said, Bring me a sworde: & they broght out a sworde before^o the King.

25 And the King said, Deuide ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

26 Then spake the woman, whose the liuing childe was, vnto the King, for her compassion was kindled toward her sonne, & she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and^r slay him not: but the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but deuide it.

27 Then the King answered & said, Giue her the liuing childe, and slay him not: this is his mother.

28 And all Israél heard^s the iudgement, which the King had iudged, and they feared the King: for they sawe that the wisdom of God was in him to do iustice.

Salomons prouision.

1 And King Salomón was King ouer all Israël.

2 And these were ^a his princes, ^b Azariáh the sonne of Zadók the Priest, Elihóreph and Ahíah the sonnes of Shishá scribes, Iehoshaphát the sonne of Ahilúd, the recorder,

4 And Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiadá was ouer the hoste, and Sadók and ^c Abiathár Priests,

5 And Azariáh the sonne of Nathán was ouer the officers, and Zabúd the sonne of Nathán Priest was the Kings friend,

6 And Ahishár was ouer the houtholde: & ^d Adonirám the sonne of Abdá was ouer the tribute.

7 And Salomón had twelue officers ouer all Israël, which prouided vitales for the King and his houtholde: eche man had a moneth in the yere to prouide vitales.

8 And these are their names: the sonne of Hur in mount Ephráim:

9 The sonne of Dekár in Makáz, and in Shaalbím and Beth-shémesh, and ^e Elón and Beth-hanán:

10 The sonne of Hésed in Arubóth, to whome pertained Sochóh, & all the land of Hépher:

11 The sonne of Abinadáb in all the regiõ of Dor, which had Tapháth the daughter of Salomón to wife.

12 Baaná the sonne of Ahilúd in Taanách, and Megiddó, & in all Beth-sheán, which is by Zartánah beneth Izreél, from Beth-sheán to Abel-meholáh, euen til beyonde ouer against Iokmeám:

13 The sonne of Géber in Ramóth Gilad, & his were the townes of ^f Iair, the sonne of Manasséh, which are in Gileád, and vnder him was the regiõ of Argób which is in Bashán: threscore great cities with walles and barres of brasle.

14 And Adinadáb the sonne of Iddó had to Mahanáim:

15 Ahimáaz in Naphtalí, and he toke Basmáth the daughter of Salomón to wife:

16 Baaná the sonne of Hushái in Ashér and in Alóth:

17 Iehoshaphát the sonne of Parúah in Issachár.

18 Shimeí the sonne of Eláh in Beniamín:

19 Géber the sonne of Vrí in the countrei of Gileád, the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, and of Og King of Bashán, and was officer alone in the land.

20 Iudáh and Israël were manie, as the sand of the sea in number, ^g eating, drinking, and making meary.

21 And Salomón reigned ouer all kingdomes, from the ^h Riuer vnto the land of the Philistims, and vnto the border of Egypt, and they brought presentes, and serued Salomón all the dayes of his life.

22 And Salomons vitales for one day were thirtie measures of fine floure, and threescore measures of meale:

23 Ten fat oxen, and twentie oxen of the pastures, and an hundreth shepe, beside hartes, and buckes, and bugles, and fat foule.

24 For he ruled in all the region on the other side of the Riuer, from Tiphshá euen vnto Azzáh, ouer all the Kings on the other side the Riuer: & he had peace rōude about him on euerie side.

25 And Iudáh and Israël dwelt without feare, euerie man vnder his vine, and vnder his fig tree, from Dan, euen to Beer-sheba, all the dayes of Salomón.

26 And Salomón had ⁱ fortie thousand stables of horses for his charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen.

27 And these officers prouided vitale for King Salomón, and for all that came to King Salomons table, euerie man his moneth, and they suffred to lacke nothing.

28 Barly also and strawe for the horses and mules broght they vnto the place where the officers were, euerie man according to his charge.

29 And God gaue Salomón wisdome and vnderstanding exceding muche, and a large heart, euen as the sand that is on the sea shore.

30 And Salomons wisdome excelled the wisdome of all the children of the East and all the wisdome of Egypt.

31 For he was wiser then anie man yea, ther were Ethán the Ezrahite, then Heman, then Chalcól, then Darda the sonnes of Mahól: and he was famous throughout all nations rounde about.

32 And Salomón spake thre thousand ^m proverbes: and his songs were a thousand and fise.

33 And he spake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanón, euen vnto the hyssope that springeth out of the wall: he spake also of beastes, and of foules, and of creeping things, and of fishes.

34 And there came of all people to heare the wisdome of Salomón, frō all Kings of the earth, which had heard of his wisdome.

2 And the house which Kig Salomón buylt for the Lord, was thre score cubites long, & twentie broade, and thirty cubites hie.

3 And the porche before the Temple of the house was twentie cubites long according to the breadth of the house, and ten cubites broade before the house.

4 And in the house he made windowes, broade without, and narowe within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made^c galleries rounde about, euen by the walles of the house rounde about the Té- ple and^d the oracle, and made chambres rounde about.

6 The nethermost gallerie was fiue cubites broade, and the middlemost six cubites broade, & the thinde seuē cubites broade: for he made^e restes rounde about without the house, that the beames shulde not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And whē the house was buylt, it was buylt of stone perfite, before it was brought, so that there was nether hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of yron heard in the house, while it was in buylding.

 24 The wing also of the one Cherub was five cubites, & the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites: from the vttermost parte of one of his wings, vnto the vttermost parte of the other of his wings, were ten cubites.
 25 Also the other Cherub was of ten cubites: bothe y Cherubims were of one measure and one syfe.
 26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubites, and so was the other Cherub.
 27 And he put the Cherubims within the inner house, and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the wing of y one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other Cherub touched the other wall: and their other wings touched one another in the middes of the house.
 28 And he overlaid the Cherubims with

- ¶ The Arke is borne into the Temple. 10 A cloude filleth the Temple. 15 The King blasfeth the people.

- ¶ Then King Salomón assembled the Elders of Israél, even all the heads of the tribes, the chief fathers of the childre of Israél vnto him in Ierusalém, for to

- bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the citie of Dauid, which is Ziōn.

- 2 And all the me of Israél assembled vnto King Salomón at the feast in the moneth of Ethanim, which is the seuēth moneth.

- 3 And all the Elders of Israél came & the Priests toke the Arke.

- 4 They bare the Arke of the Lord, and they bare the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle: those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

- 5 And King Salomón and all the Congregation of Israél, that were assembled vnto him, were with him before the Arke, offering shepe & beeces, which colde not be tolde, nor nombred for multitude.

- 6 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the oracle of the house, into the moste holy place, euē vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

- 7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke, & the barres thereof about.

13 Howbeit I wil not rent all y^e kingdome, but wil giue one tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Ierusalém, which I haue chosen.

^h Of the King of Edoms stocke

3 Sam 8.14.

14 ¶ Then the Lord stirred vp an aduersarie vnto Salomón, euen Hadád the Edomite, of the Kings^h seede, which was in Edóm.

ⁱ Of the Edomites

15 *For when Dauid was in Edóm, & Ioáb the captaine of the hoste had smitten all the males in Edóm, and was gone vp to bury theⁱ slayne,

16 (For six moneths did Ioáb remaine there, and all Israël, til he had destroyed all the males in Edóm)

^k Thus God referred this adolater to be a scourge to punish his peoples finnes.

17 Then this Hadad^k fled and certeine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to go into Egypt, Hadad being yet a litle childe.

18 And they arose out of Midián, & came to Parán, and toke men with them out of Parán, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaóh King of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him vntailes, and gaue him land.

^l God brought him to honour that his power might be more able to cope his enterprises against Salomons honore.

19 So Hadád^l founde great fauour in the sight of Pharaóh, & he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Tahpenés the queene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenés bare him Genubáth his sonne, whome Tahpenés wayned in Pharaohs house: & Genubáth was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaóh.

21 And when Hadád heard in Egypt, that Dauid slept with his fathers, & that Ioáb the captaine of the hoste was dead, Hadád said to Pharaóh, Let me departe, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaóh said vnto him, What hast thou lacked with me, that thou woldest thus go to thine owne countrey? And he answered, Nothing, but in any wise let me go.

23 ¶ And God stirred him vp another aduersarie, Rezón the sonne of Eliadá, which^m fled from his lord Hadadézer King of Zobáh.

^m Whē Dauid had discōfited Hadadézer & his armie.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, & had bene captaine ouer the companie, when Dauid slewe them. And thei went to Damascus, and dwelt there,ⁿ and thei made him King in Damascus.

ⁿ To wit, the mē, whome he had gathered vnto him

25 Therefore was he an aduersarie to Israël all the daies of Salomón: besides the euil that Hadád^o did, he also abhorred Israël, and reigned ouer Arám.

26 ¶ And Ieroboám^p sonne of Nebát an Ephrathite of Zeréda Salomons seruant (whose mother was called Zeruáh a widowe) lift vp his hand against the King.

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the King, when Salomón buylt Milló, he repared the broken places of the citie of Dauid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboám was a man of strength and courage, and Salomón seeing that the yong mā was mete for the worke, he made him^o ouersee: of all the laboure of the house of Ioséph.

^o He was ouersee of Salomons worke for the tribe of Ephraim and Manassah

29 And at that time, when Ieroboám went out of Ierusalém, the Prophet Ahijáh the Shilonite founde him in the way, hauing a newe garment on him, and thei two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahijáh caught the newe garment that was on him, and^p rent it in twelue pieces,

^p By these visible signes y^e Prophets wolde more depely printe their message into their hearts, to whom they were sent

31 And said to Ieroboám, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus sayth the Lord God of Israël, Beholde, I wil rét the kingdome out of the hands of Salomón, & wil giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shal haue one tribe for my seruāt Dauids sake, and for Ierusalém the citie, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israël, 33 Because thei haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Ashtaroth the god of the Zidonians, & Chemósh the god of the Moabites, and Milcóm the god of the Ammonites, & haue not walked in my wayes (to do right in mine eyes, and my statutes, & my lawes) as did Dauid his father.

^q Or, as in lawe, thus pleases me

34 But I wil not take the whole kingdome out of his hád: for I wil make him prince all his life long for Dauid my seruants sake, whome I haue chosen, & who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 *But I wil take the kingdome out of his^r sonnes hand, and wil giue it vnto thee, eue the ten tribes.

n That is, a temple, where altars were buylt for idolatrie

o Because he wolde the more binde the peoples deuotion to his idolatrie, he made a newe holy day, besides those that the Lord had appointed: in y^e Lawe.

roboám was come againe, they sent and called him vnto the assemblie, and made him King ouer all Israél: none followed the house of Dauid, but the tribe of Iudáh * onely.

21 And whē Rehoboám was come to Ierusalém, he ^h gathered all the house of Iudáh with the tribe of Beniamín an hundredth and four score thousand of chosen men (which were good warriours) to fight against the house of Israél & to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón.

22 * But the worde of God came vnto She-maiah the ¹ man of God, saying,

23 Speake vnto Rehoboám the sonne of Salomón King of Iudáh, and vnto all the house of Iudáh and Beniamín, and the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus sayth the ^k Lord, Ye shal not go vp, nor fight against your brethrin the children of Israél: retorne euerie man to his house: for this thing is done by me. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lord and returned, and departed, according to the worde of the Lord.

25 ¶ Then Ieroboám buylt Shechem in mount Ephraím, and dwelt therein, & wēt from thence, and buylt Penuél.

26 And Ieroboám thought in his heart, Now shal the kingdome retorne to the house of Dauid.

27 If this people go vp and do sacrifice in the house of the Lord ^l at Ierusalém, the shal the heart of this people turne againe vnto their lord, euen to Rehoboám King of Iudáh: so shal they kil me and go againe to Rehoboám King of Iudáh.

28 Whereupon the King toke counsel, and made two calves of golde, and said vnto them, ^m It is to muche for you to go vp to Ierusalém: beholde, o Israél, thy gods, which brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Beth-él, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people wēt (because of y^e one) euē to Dan.

31 Also he made an ⁿ house of hye places, and made Priests of the lowest of the people, which were not of the sonnes of Leuī.

32 And Ieroboám made a feast the ^o fiftēth day of the eight moneth, lyke vnto y^e feast that is in Iudáh, and offred on the altar. So did he in Beth-él and offred vnto the calves that he had made: and he placed in Beth-él the Priests of the hie places, which he had made.

33 And he offred vpon the altar, which he had made in Beth-él, the fiftēth day of the eight moneth (euen in the moneth which he had forged of his owne heart) & made a solēne feast vnto the childre of Israél & he went vp to the altar, to burne incense.

C H A P. XIII.

1 Ieroboám is reprehended of the Prophet. 4 His hand dryeth vp 15 The Prophet is seduced, 24 And is killed of a lyon. 33 The obstinacie of Ieroboám.

1 And beholde, there came ^a a man of God out of Iudáh (by the commandement of the Lord) vnto ^b Beth-él, and Ieroboám stood by the altar to offer incense.

2 And he cryed against the altar by the commandement of the Lord, and said, O altar, altar, thus sayth y^e Lord, Beholde, a childe shal be boine vnto the house of Dauid, * Iosiah by name, and vpon thee shal he sacrifice the Priests of the hie places that burne incense vpon thee, and they shal burne mens bones vpon thee.

3 And he gaue a signe y^e same time, saying, This is the ^c signe, that the Lord hathe spoken, Beholde, the altar shal rent, and the ashes that are vpon it, shal fall out.

4 And whē the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cryed against y^e altar in Beth-él, Ieroboám stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, ^d Lay holde on him: but his hand which he put forth against him, dryed vp, & he coulde not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claued asundre, & the ashes fel out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had giuen by the ^e commandement of the Lord.

6 Then the King answered, and said vnto the man of God, ^e I beseeche thee, pray vnto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for me, that mine hand may be restored vnto me. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the Kings hand was restored, and became as it was afore.

7 Thē the King said vnto the mā of God, Come home with me, that thou maist ^f dine, and I wil giue thee a rewarde.

8 But the man of God said vnto the King, If thou woldest giue me halfe thine house, I wolde not go in with thee, neither wolde I eat bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so^g was it charged me by the worde of the Lord, saying, ^f Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way & returned not by the way that he came to Beth-él.

11 ¶ And an olde Prophet dwelt in Beth-él & his sonnes came, & tolde him all y^e workes, y^e the mā of God had done that day in Beth-él, & the wordes which he had spokē vnto the King, tolde they their father.

14 And went after the man of God, and founde him sitting vnder an oke: and he said vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest fro Iudáh? And he said, "Yea."

15 Then he said vnto him, & Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor go in with thee, nether wil I eat bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the worde of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eat no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to go by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he said vnto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, and an Angel spake vnto me by the worde of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drinke water: but he lied vnto him.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eat bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the worde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And he cryed vnto the man of God that came from Iudáh, saying, Thus saith the Lord, ¹ Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandemēt which the Lord thy God commanded thee, 22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread & dronke water in the place (whereof he did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drinke any water) thy carkeis shal not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And when he had eaten bread and drōke, he saddled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whome he had brought againe.

24 And when he was gone, ^k a lyon met him by the way, and slewe him, and his bodie was cast in the way, and the asse stode thereby: the lyon stode by the corps also.

25 And beholde, men that passed by, sawe the carkeis cast in the way, and the lyon standing by the corps: and they came and tolde it in the towne where the olde Prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet, that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, he said, It is the man of God, who hath bene disobedient vnto the commandemēt of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lyon, which hath rent him and flaine him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake vnto him.

27 ¶ And he spake to his sonnes, saying,

Saddle me the asse. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and founde his body cast in the way, and the asse and the lyon stode by the corps: and the lyon had ¹ not eaten the body, nor torne the asse.

29 And y Prophet roke vp the body of the man of God, and layed it vpon the asse, and broght it againe, and the olde Prophet came to the cite, to lament and bury him.

30 And he layed his body in his ^m owne graue, & they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, bury ye me also in the sepulchre, wherein the man of God is buried: laye my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which he cryed by the worde of the Lord against the altar that is in Beth él, and against all the houses of the hie places, which are in the cities of Samaria, shal surely come to passe.

33 Howbeit after this, Ieroboam ⁿ conuerted not from his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the hie places. Who wolde, might ^o cōsecrate him selfe, and be of the Priests of the hie places.

34 And this thing turned to sinne vnto the house of Ieroboam, euen to roote it out, and destroy it from the face of the earth.

^a Chro. 14, 3.

9 ¶ And in the twentie yere of Ieroboám King of Israél reigned Afá ouer Iudáh.

10 He reigned in Ierusalém one & fourtie yere, and his mothers name was Maacháh, the daughter of Abisbalóm.

^e That is, his grand mother, as Dauid is oftentimes called farther of the, whose grand father he was.

11 And Afá did right in ^h eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

12 And he toke away the Sodomites out of the land, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made.

^d Neither kindred nor authority ought to be regarded, when they blaspheme God & become idolaters, but must be punished.

13 And he ^d put downe Maacháh his mother also from her estate, because she had made an idole in a groue : & Afá destroyed her idoles, & burnt the by the broke Kidión.

14 But they put not downe the hie places. Neuertheles Afas heart was ^e vpright with the Lord all his dayes.

^e For in that that he suffered them to worship God in other places, then he had appointed, it came of ignorance and not of malice.

15 Also he broght in the holy vessels of his father, & the things that he had dedicate vnto the house of the Lord, siluer, & golde, and vessels.

16 ¶ And there was warre betwene Afá and Baafhá King of Israél all their dayes.

17 Then Baafhá King of Israél went vp against Iudáh, and buylt ^f Ramáh, so that he wolde let none go out or in to Afá King of Iudáh.

^f Of the same purpose that Ieroboám did because the people shulde not go vp to Ierusalém lest they shulde followe Afá.

18 Then Afá toke all the siluer & the gold ^h was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, and King Afá sent them to 20 So Ben-hadád hearkened vnto King Afá, and sent the captaines of the hostes, which he had against the cities of Israél, and smote Iiôn, and Dan, and Abélberthmaacháh, and all Cinneróth, with all the land of Naphtalí.

21 And when Baafhá heard thereof, he left buylding of Ramáh, and dwelt in Tirzáb.

22 Then King Afá assembled all Iudáh, ^g none excepted. & they toke the stones of Ramáh, & the timber thereof, wherewith Baafhá had buylt, & King Afá buylt with them Géba of Beniamín and Mizpáh.

23 And the rest of all the actes of Afá, and all his might and all that he did, and the cities which he buylt, are they not writé in the boke of the Chronicles of ^h Kings of Iudáh: but in his olde age he was diseased in his ^h feece.

^h He had the goutte & puthist rather in phisicians the in the Lord.

24 And Afá slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father. And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his steade.

25 And Nadáb the sonne of Ieroboám began to reigne ouer Israél the secóde yere of Afá King of Iudáh, and reigned ouer Israél two yere.

26 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, & in his sinne wherewith he made Israél to sinne.

27 And Baafhá the sonne of Abiiáh of the house of Iffachár conspired against him, & Baafhá slewe him at Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistims: for Nadab & all Israél laid siege to Gibbethón.

28 Euen in the third yere of Afá King of Iudáh did Baafhá slay him, and reigned in his steade.

29 And when he was King, he ^h smote all the house of Ieroboám, he left non aliue to Ieroboám, vntil he had destroyed him, according to the ^h worde of ^h Lord which he spake by his seruant Ahuiáh the Shilonite,

^k So God stirred vp one tyrant to punish the wickednes of another
Chap 14, 10.

30 Because of ^h finnes of Ieroboám which he committed, and wherewith he made Israél to sinne, by his ^h prouocation, wherewith he prouoked the Lord God of Israél.

^l By causing ^h people to commit idolatrie with his catties, & so prouoking God to be angre.

31 And the residue of the actes of Nadáb and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél:

32 And there was warre betwene Afá & Baafhá King of Israél, all their dayes.

33 In the third yere of Afá King of Iudáh, began Baafhá the sonne of Abiiáh to reigne ouer all Israél in ^m Tirzáb, and reigned foure and twentie yeres.

^m Which was ^h place where the Kings of Israél remained.

34 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of Ieroboám, & in his sinne, wherewith he made Israél to sinne.

1 Of Baashá, 6 Eláh, 9 Zimrí, 16 Omrí. 31 Acháb murther Lezgebél. 34 Ierichó is buylt agayne.

1 Then the worde of the Lord came to Iehú the sonne of Hanáni against Baashá, saying,

^a Thus spake Iehú to Baashá in the Name of the Lord

^a Forasmucheas I exalted thee out of the dust, & made thee captaine ouer my people Israél, and thou hast walked in the way of Ieroboám, and hast made my people Israél to sinne, to prouoke me with their finnes,

^b Meaning, the house of Baashá
Chap. 15. 29
Chap 14. 11.

3 Beholde, I wil take away the posteritie of Baashá, and the posterie of his house, and wil make ^b thine house like the ^c house of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát.

^d Or, valiantes
2 Chron 16. 1.

4 ^e He that dyeth of Baashas stocke in the citie, him shal the dogs eat: and that man of him which dyeth in the fields, shal the foules of the ayre eat.

5 And the rest of the actes of Baashá and what he did, and his ^f power, are they not written in the boke of the ^g Chronicles of the Kings of Israél

6 So Baashá slept with his fathers, & was buried in Tirzáh, & Eláh his sonne reigned in his steade.

^c That is, the Prophet did his message

7 And ^e also by the hand of Iehú the sonne of Hanáni the Prophet came the worde of the Lord to Baashá, & to his house, that he shulde be like the house of Ieroboám, euen for all the wickednes that he did in the sight of the Lord, in prouoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed ^d him.

^d Meaning, Naáo Ieroboáms sonne

8 ^e In the six and twentie yere of Asá Kíg of Iudáh began Eláh the sonne of Baashá to reigne ouer Israél in Tirzáh, & reigned two yere.

9 And his seruant Zimrí, captaine of halfe his chariots conspired against him, as he was in Tirzáh drinking, til he was drunken in the house of ^e Arzá stuarde of his house in Tirzáh.

^e The Chaldee text hath thus, Drinking til he was drunken in the temple of Arzá & stole by his house in Tirzáh.

10 And Zimrí came & smote him & killed him in the seuen and twenty yere of Asá King of Iudáh, & reigned in his steade.

11 ^e And when he was King, and sate on his throne, he slewe all ^f house of Baashá, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, nether of his kinsfolkes nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimrí destroy all the house of Baashá, according to the worde of ^g Lord which he spake against Baashá by the hád of Iehú the ^h Prophet,

^f Nothe Hanáni his father and he were Prophetes

13 For all the finnes of Baashá, and finnes of Eláh his sonne, which they sinned and made Israél to sinne, and prouoked the Lord God of Israél with their vanities.

14 And the rest of the actes of Eláh, and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of

Israél

15 ⁱ In the seuen and twentie yere of Asá King of Iudáh did Zimrí reigne seuen dayes in Tirzáh, and the people was then in the hostes besieging Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistims.

^g Which sieg had continued from the time of Nadáb Ieroboás sonne.

16 And the people of the hoste heard say, Zimrí hath conspired, & hath also slaine the Kíg. Wherefore all Israél made Omrí the captaine of the hoste King ouer Israél that same day, euen in the hoste.

17 Then Omrí went vp from Gibbethón, and all Israél with him, and they besieged ^h Tirzáh.

^h where Zimrí kept his selfe in holde.

18 And whé Zimrí sawe, that the citie was taken, he went into the palace of the Kings house, and burnt him selfe and the Kings house with fire, & so dyed, ⁱ Ebr burnt the Kíg's house upon him.

19 For his finnes which he sinned, in doing that which is euil in the sight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboám, and in his finnes which he did, causing Israél to sinne.

20 And the rest of the actes of Zimrí, and his treason that he wrought, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél

21 ^j The were ^k people of Israél deuided into two partes: for ^l halfe ^m people followed Tibní the sonne of Gináth to make him King, & the other halfe followed Omrí.

^j That is, the people which were not at the siege of Gibbethón for there they had chosen Omrí.

22 But the people that followed Omrí, preuailed against the people that followed Tibní the sonne of Gináth: so Tibní dyed, and Omrí reigned.

23 In the one and thirtie yere of Asá King of Iudáh began Omrí to reigne ouer Israél, & reigned twelue yere. Six yere reigned he in Tirzáh.

24 And he bought the mountaine ⁿ Samaria of ^o one Shémer for two talents of siluer, and buylt in the mountaine, and called the name of the citie, which he buylt, after the name of Shémer, lord of the mountaine Samaria.

25 But Omrí did euil in the eyes of the Lord, and did ^p worfe then all that were before him.

^k For such is the nature of idolatrie, & the superstition thereof doeth daily increase, & the elder it is, the more abominable it is before God and his Church.

26 For he walked in all the way of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, and in his finnes wherewith he made Israél to sinne in prouoking the Lord God of Israél with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the actes of Omrí, that he did, and his strength that he shewed, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél

28 And Omrí slept with his fathers, & was buried in ^q Samaria: and Aháb his sonne reigned in his steade.

^l He was the first King that was buried in Samaria, after that the Kíg's house was burnt in Tirzáh.

29 Now Aháb the sonne of Omrí began to reigne ouer Israél, in the eight and thirtie yere of Asá King of Iudáh:

and Aháb ^h sonne of Omrí reigned ouer Israél in Samaria two and twentie yere.

30 And Aháb the sonne of Omrí did worse in the sight of the Lord then all that were before him.

31 For was it a light thing for him to walke in the finnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, except he toke Iezebél also the daughter of Eth-báal King of the Zidonians to ^m wife, and went and serued Baal, and worshiped him?

^m By whose meanes he fel to all wicked, & strange idolatrie, & cruel persecution.

32 Also he reared vp an altar to Báal in the house of Báal, which he had buylt in Samaria.

33 And Aháb made a groue, and Aháb proceeded, and did prouoke the Lord God of Israél more then all the Kings of Israél that were before him.

34 In his dayes did Hiél the Bethelite buylde ⁿ Ierichó: he laied the fundaciō thereof in Abirám his eldest sonne, and set vp the gates thereof in his yongest soane Segúb, according to ^h worde of the Lord which he spake ⁿ by Ioshúa the sonne of Nun.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Eliáh forewarneth of the famine so come. 4 He is fed of rauens ^s He is sent to Zarephath, where he restoreth his hostesse sonne to life

1 And Eliáh the Tishbite one of the inhabitants of Gileád said vnto Aháb,*As the Lord God of Israél liueth, before whome I ^a stand, there shalbe nether dewe nor rayne these yeres, but ^b according to my worde.

Eccles 48.3. ierem 5.16.

^a That is, whome I serue
^b But as I shal declare it by Gods reuelation.

2 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

3 Go hence, and turne thee Eastwarde, and hide thy selfe in the ^r riuier Cherith, that is ouer against Iordén, 10r, broke.

4 And thou shalt drinke of the riuier: and I haue commanded the ^c rauens to feede thee there.

^c To strengthen his faith against persecution, God requirerh to fede him more sauloufly.

5 So he went and did according vnto the worde of the Lord: for he went, and remained by the riuier Cherith that is ouer against Iordén.

6 And the rauens broght him bread & flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the euening, and he dranke of the riuier.

7 And after a while, the riuier dried vp, because there fel no raine vpon the earth.

8 ¶ And the ^d worde of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

^d As the troubles of the Saints of God are many, so his mercie is euer at hand to deliuer the.

9 *Vp, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Zidón, and remaine there: beholde, I haue commanded a widowe there to susteine thee.

^e All this was to strengthen the faith of Eliáh to the intent that he shoulde loke vpon nothing worldly, but onely trust on Gods promise.

10 So he arose, and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the citie, beholde, the widowe was there: gathering stickes: & he called her, & said, Bring me, I pray thee, a litle water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

11 And as she was going to fet it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thine hand.

12 And she said, As the Lord thy God liueth, I haue not a cake, but euen an handful of meale in a baryl, and a litle oyle in a cruse: and beholde, I am gathering ⁿ a fewe stickes for to go in, and dresse it for me & my sonne, that we may eat it, and ^t dye.

ⁿ Ebr rae.

13 And Eliáh said vnto her, Feare not, come, do as thou hast said, but make me thereof a litle cake first of all, and bring it vnto me, and afterwarde make for thee, and thy sonne.

^f For there is no hope of a ny more lustenance.

14 For thus saith the Lord God of Israél, The meale in ^h baryl shal not be waited, nether shal the oyle in the cruse be diminished, vnto the time that the Lord send raine vpon the earth.

^g God receiueh no benefite for the vse of his, but he promisseth a moste ample recompense for the same

15 So she went, and did as Eliáh said, and she did eat: so did he and her house ^h for a certeine time.

^h That is, til he had rained foode on the earth.

16 The baryl of the meale wasted not, nor the oyle was spent out of the cruse, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of Eliáh.

17 ¶ And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fel sicke, and his sicknes was so fore, that there was no ⁱ breath left in him.

ⁱ Or, that he dyed

18 And she said vnto Eliáh, What haue I to do with thee, o thou man of God? art thou come vnto me to call my sinne to remembrance, and to slaye my sonne?

^k God wolde triue whether she had learned by his merciful providence to make him her onely staye and comforte

19 And he said vnto her, Giue me thy sonne. and he toke him out of her bosome, & carried him vp into a chamber, where he abode, and laied him vpon his owne bed.

20 Thē he called vnto the Lord, & said, O Lord my God, hast thou ^k punished also this widowe, with whome I sojourne, by killing her sonne?

^k He was afflicted, left Gods Name shuld haue ben bla-phemed and his misters contemned, except he shulde haue continued his mercies, as he had begonne the, specially while he there remained.

21 And he stretched him selfe vpon the childe thre times, and called vnto ^h Lord, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this childe soule come into him againe.

22 Thē the Lord heard the voyce of Eliáh, and the soule of the childe came into him againe, and he reuiued.

23 And Eliáh toke the childe, and broght him downe out of the chamber into the house, and deliuered him vnto his mother, and Eliáh said, Beholde, thy sonne liueth.

24 And the woman said vnto Eliáh, Now

1 I knowe that thou art a man of God, and that the worde of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

^l So hard a thing it is to depēd on God, except we be confirmed by miracles.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Eliáh is sent to Aháb: 3 Obadiáh hideth an hundred

77r

Prophetes 40 Eliáh killeth all Baals prophetes as he obtaineth raine.

- ^a After that he departed from the riuer Cherath.
- ^b God had be-gone to worke his feare in his heart, but had not yet brought him to that knowledge, & is also requisit of the godly: y^e is, to professe his Name openly
- ^c God pitieth oft times the wicked for y^e godly sake, & causeth Eliáh to mete with Obadiáh, that the benchite might be knowne to be granted for Gods children sake.
- ^d I am none of the wicked persecuters, y^e thou shouldest procure vnto me suche displeasure, but serue God and fauour his children.
- ^e By my presence I wil declare y^e thou hast sinned him the truth.
- 1 After many daies, the worde of the Lord came to Eliáh, in the ^a third yere, saying, Go, shewe thy selfe vnto Aháb, and I wil send raine vpon the earth.
- 2 And Eliáh went to shewe him selfe vnto Aháb, and there was a great famine in Samaria.
- 3 And Aháb called Obadiáh the gouernour of his house: (and Obadiáh ^b feared God greatly)
- 4 For when Iezébel destroyed the Prophetes of the Lord, Obadiáh toke an húdreth Prophetes, & hid them, by fiftie in a caue, and he fed them with bread and water.
- 5 And Aháb said vnto Obadiáh, Go into the land, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers, if so be that we may finde grasse to saue the horses & the mules aliue, lest we deprive the land of the beastes.
- 6 And so thei deuided the land betwene them to walke through it. Aháb went one way by him selfe, and Obadiáh went another way by him selfe.
- 7 And as Obadiáh was in the way, beholde, Eliáh ^c met him: & he knewe him, and fel on his face, and said, Art not thou my lord Eliáh?
- 8 And he answered him, Yea, go tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here.
- 9 And he said, What haue I sinned, that thou woldest deliue thy seruant into the hand of Aháb, to slaye me?
- 10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nació or kígdom, whether my lord hathe not sent to seke thee: and when thei said, He is not here, he toke an othe of y^e kígdom and nació, if thei had not founde thee.
- 11 And now thou saist, Go, tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here.
- 12 And when I am gone fró thee, the Spirit of the Lord shal cary thee into some place that I do not knowe: so when I come and tel Aháb, if he can not finde thee, then wil he kil me: but I thy seruant ^d feare the Lord from my youth.
- 13 Was it not tolde my lord, what I did when Iezébel slewe the Prophetes of the Lord, how I hidde an hundreth men of the Lords Piophetes by fifties in a caue, & fed them with bread and water?
- 14 And now thou saiest, Go, tel thy lord, Beholde, Eliáh is here, that he may slaye me.
- 15 And Eliáh said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, before whome I stand, I wil surely shewe ^e my selfe vnto him this day.
- 16 So Obadiáh went to mete Aháb, and tolde him: and Aháb wét to mete Eliáh.
- 17 And when Aháb sawe Eliáh, Aháb said

vnto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israél?

- ^f The true ministers of God ought not onely not to suffer y^e trueth to be vnjustly skādered, but to reprove boldly y^e wicked skāderers without respect of person.
- 18 And he answered, I haue not troubled Israél, but ^f thou, and thy fathers house, in that ye haue forsaken the cōmandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.
- 19 Now therefore send, and gather to me all Israél vnto mount Carmél, and the prophetes of Báal foure húdreth & fiftie, & the prophetes of the groues foure hundreth, which eat at Iezebels table.
- 20 So Aháb sent vnto all the children of Israél, & gathered the prophetes together vnto mount Carmél.
- 21 And Eliáh came vnto all the people, & said, How long ^g halt ye betwene two opinions? If the Lord be God, followe him. but if Báal be he, then go after him. And the people answered him not a worde.
- 22 Then said Eliáh vnto y^e people, I onely remaine a Piophet of the Lord: but Baals prophetes are foure hundreth & fiftie mé.
- 23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullocks, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and laye him on the wood, but put no fyre vnder, and I wil prepare the other bullocke, and laye him on the wood, and wil put no fyre vnder.
- 24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I wil call on the Name of the Lord: and the God that answereth ^h by fyre, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is wel spoken.
- 25 And Eliáh said vnto the prophetes of Báal, Chuse you a bullocke, and prepare him first, (for ye are many) & call on the name of your gods, but put no fyre vnder.
- 26 So thei toke the one bullocke, y^e was giuen them, & thei prepared it, & called on y^e name of Báal, from morning to noone, saying, O Báal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor anie to answer: and thei ⁱ leapt vpon the altar that was made.
- 27 And at noone Eliáh mocked them, and said, Crye loud: for he is a ^k god: ether he talketh or pursueth his enemies, or is in his journey, or it may be that he slepeth, and must be ^l awaked.
- 28 And they cryed loude, and cut them selues as their maner was, with kniues and lancets, til the blood gushed out vpon them.
- 29 And when mydday was passed, and thei had prophecied vntil the offing of the evening sacrifice, there was nether voyce, nor onie to answer, nor anie that regarded.
- 30 And Eliáh said vnto all the people, Come to me. And all y^e people came to him. And he repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.
- 31 And Eliáh toke twelue stones, accordig to the number of the tribes of the sonnes S.i.
- ^g Be constant in religion, & make it not as a thing indifferēt whether ye followe God or Báal, or whether ye serue God wholly or in parte
- ^h By sending downe fire fró heauē to burne y^e sacrifice.
- ⁱ As men ranshed wth some strange spirit.
- ^k You esteeme him as a god.
- ^l He mocket their beastly madnes, which thinke that by anie instance or sure y^e dead & vile idoles can helpe their worshipers in their necessities.

Gen 32.28.
1. King. 17.34.

of Iakob; (vnto whome the worde of the Lord came, saying, * Israél shalbe thy name)

32 And with the stones he buyke an altar in the Name of the Lord: & he made a ditch rounde about the altar, as great as wolde contene two measures of fede.

Mr. Sall, which some thinke contene about three peeces, & a third parte a piece.

33 And he put the wood in order, & hewed the bullocke in peeces, and layed him on the wood,

34 And said, Fill foure barels with water, & powre it on the burnt offring and on the wood. Againe he said, Do so againe. And thei did so the seconde time. And he said, Do it the third time. And thei did it the third time.

35 And the water ran rounde about the altar: & he filled the ditch wth water also.

m Hereby he declared the excellēt power of God, who contrary to nature colde make fyre burne euen in the water, to the intent thei shulde haue none occasion to doute, that he is only God.

36 And when they shulde offer the evening sacrifice, Eliáh the Prophet came, & said, Lord God of Abraham, Izhák and of Israél, let it be known this day, that thou art the God of Israél, and that I am thy seruant, and that I haue done all these things at thy commandement.

37 Heare me, O Lord, heare me, and let this people knowe that thou art O Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe at the last.

a Though God suffer his to runne in blindness & error for a time, yet at the length he calleth the home to him by some notorious signe & worke.

38 Then the fyre of the Lord fel, and consumed the burnt offring, and the wood, & the stones, and the dust, and licked vp the water that was in the ditch.

39 And when all the people sawe it, thei fel on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Eliáh said vnto them, Take the prophetes of Báal, let not a man of them escape. And they toke them, and Eliáh brought them to the brooke Kishón, & slewe them there.

o He commanded them that as they were truly persuaded to confesse only God: so thei wolde serue him wth all their power & destroye the idolaters his enemies.

41 ¶ And Eliáh said vnto Aháb, Get thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a founde of muche raine.

42 So Aháb went vp to eat and to drinke, and Eliáh went vp to the top of Carmél: and he crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp now and loke toward the way of the Sea. And he went vp, and loke, and said, There is nothing. Againe he said, Go againe & seuen times.

p As Gods Spirit moued him to pray, so was he strengthened by the same, that he did not faint, but continued stil til he had obtained.

44 And at the seuenth time he said, Beholde, there ariseth a litle cloude out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he said, Vp, and say vnto Aháb, Make readie thy charret, and get thee downe, that the raine stay thee not.

Or here and there.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes & winde, & there was a great raine. Then Aháb went vp & came to Izreél.

46 And the hád of the Lord was on Eliáh, and he girded vp his loynes, and ran before Aháb til he came to Izreél.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Eliáh being from Izreél, is nourished by the Angel of God. 15 He is commanded to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Elishá.

q He was so strengthened wth Gods Spirit, that he ran faster then the charret was able to runne.

1 Now Aháb tolde Iezébel all that Eliáh had done, & how he had slayne all the prophetes with the sword.

a To wit, of Báal.

2 Then Iezébel sent a messenger vnto Eliáh, saying, The gods do so to me and more also, if I make not thy life like one of their liues by to morowe this time.

b Though the wicked rage against Gods children, yet he holdeth them backe, so they can not execute their malice. Or, whether his minde led him.

3 ¶ When he sawe that, he arose, and went for his life, & came to Beer-sheba, which is in Iudáh, and left his seruant there.

4 But he went a daies iourney into the wilderness, and came and sat downe vnder a iuniper tre, & desired that he might dye, and said, It is now ynough: O Lord, take my soule, for I am no better, then my fathers.

c So hard a thing it is to bridle our impaciēcie in affliction that saints colde not overcome the same.

5 And as he laie and slept vnder the iuniper tre, beholde now, an Angel touched him, and said vnto him, Vp, & eat.

6 And when he looked about, beholde, there was a cake baken on the coles, and a pot of water at his head: so he did eat and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the seconde time, and touched him, and said, Vp, & eat: for thou hast a great iourney.

d He declareth except God had nourished him miraculously, it had not bene possible for him to haue gone this iourney.

8 ¶ Then he arose, and did eat and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meat fourtie daies & fourtie nights, vnto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there he entred into a caue, & lodged there: and beholde, the Lord spake to him, and said vnto him, What doest thou here, Eliáh?

10 And he answered, I haue bene very ielous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israél haue forsaken thy couenant, broken downe thine altars, and slayne thy Prophetes with the sword: & I onely am left, and thei seeke my life to take it away.

e He complaineth, that the more zealousy heshewed him self to maintaine Gods glorie, the more cruelly was he persecuted. Rom. 11.13.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And beholde, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the winde came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake came fyre: but the Lord was not in the fyre: & after the fyre came a still and soft voyce.

f For the nature of man is not able to come neere vnto God, if he shulde appeare in his strength & full maiestie, & therefore of his mercie he submittech him selfe to our capacite.

13 And whē Eliáh heard it, he couered his face with his mantel, & went out, & stood in the entring in of the caue: & beholde, there

there came a voyce vnto him, and said,
What doest thou here, Eliáh?

g We ought not to depend on the multitude

Gods glorie, but because our duetie so requireth, we ought to do it.

14 And he answered, I haue bene very ie-lous for y Lord God of hostes, & because the children of Israël haue forsake thy couenant, cast downe thine altars and slaine thy Prophetes with the sworde, & I onely am left, and they seke my life to take it away.

Samaria is besieged. 13 The Lord promiset the vision to Aháb by a Prophet. 31 The King of Israël made peace with Ben-hadád, and is reprovē therefore by the Prophet.

Or, Syria.

1 THEN BÉ-hadád the King of Arám assembled all his armie, and two and thirtie ^a Kings with him, with horses, & charets, and went vp, and besieged Samaria, and fought against it.

a That is, gouernours, and vinces.

Or, Shemida.

2 And he sent messengers to Aháb King of Israël, into the citie,

3 And said vnto him, Thus sayeth Ben-hadád, Thy siluer and thy golde his mine:
also thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

b I am content to obey and pay tribute.

4 And the King of Israël answered, and said, My lord King, according to thy saying, ^b I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they said, Thus comandeth Ben-hadád, & sayth, When I shal send vnto thee, and cōmande, thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer & thy golde, & thy women, & thy childrē,

6 Or els I wil send my seruants vnto thee by to morow this time: and they shal sear-che thine house, and the houses of thy ser-uants: and what soeuer is pleasant in thine eyes, they shal take it in their hands, and bring it away.

e He wolde not accept his answer, except he did out of hand deliuer whatsoever he shulde aske for he sought an occasion, how to make warre against him.

7 Then the King of Israël sent for all the Elders of the land; and said, Take hede, I pray you, and se how he seeketh mischief:
for he sent vnto me for my wiues, and for my children, and for my siluer, and for my golde, and I denyed him not.

8 And all the Elders, & all the people said to him, Hearke ^e not vnto him, nor cōsēt.
9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Ben-hadád, Tel my lord the King, All that thou didest send for to thy seruant at the first time, that I wil do, but this thig
I may not do. And the messengers departed, and broght him an answer.

d They thought it their duties rather to venter their liues,
then to grant
to that thing which was not lawful, onely to satisfie the lust of a tyrāt.

10 And Ben-hadád sent vnto him, & said,

ple y followe me, for euerie mā an hādful

11 And the King of Israël answered, and said, Tel him, Let not him that girdeth his harnes, boast hī selfe, as he y putteth it of.

f Boast not before the victo-rie be gotten.
Or, Put your swords in hand.

12 And when he heard y tidings, as he was with the Kings drinking in the pavilions, he said vnto his seruāts, Bring forth ^e your engines, and thei set them against the citie.

13 ¶ And beholde, there came a Prophet vnto Aháb King of Israël, saying, Thus saith y Lord, Halt thou fine all this great multitude ^e beholde, I wil deliuer it into thine hand this day, that y maest knowe, s that I am the Lord.

sories.

14 And Aháb said, By whome? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, By the seruants of the princes of the prouinces. He said againe, Who shal ordre the battel? And he answered, Thou.

15 ¶ Then he nombred the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, and they were two hundred, two and thirtie: & after the he nombred the whole people of all the children of Israël, euen seuē thousande.

16 And they wēt out at noone: but Ben-hadád did drinke til he was drunken in the tents, bothe he & the Kings: for two & thir-tre Kings helped him.

17 So the ^h seruants of the princes of the prouinces went out first: & Ben-hadád sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

h That is, y men trained in the seruice of princes.

18 And he said, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the ser-uants of the princes of the prouinces, and the hoste wh^h followed them.

²⁰ *Ebr man.*²⁰ *Dr, Syrians.*²⁰ *With them y were appoin- ted for the preferuatiō of his persone.*²³ *Thus y wic- ked blasphe- me God: in their furie, whome not- withstandinge suffreth nor unpunished.*²⁷ *All they, y were in y bat- tel of the for- mer yere, ver. 35.*²⁸ *Who am of like power in the valley, as I am on the hills, and can as wel destroy a multitude y fewe as with manie.*³¹ *Ebr from chā- ber to chamber.*³² In signe of submission, and that we haue deserued de- ath, if he wil punish vs y rigour.

20 And they slewe euerie one his²⁰ enemye: and the²⁰ Aramites fled, and Israēl pursued them: but Ben-hadād the King of Arām escaped on an horse with his²⁰ horsemen.

21 And the King of Israēl went out, and smote the²¹ horses and charets, and with a great slaughter slewe he the Aramites.

22 (For there had come a Prophet to the King of Israēl, & had said vnto him, Go, be of good courage, and consider, and take hede what thou doest: for when the yere is gone about, the King of Arām wil come vp against thee.)

23 ¶ The seruants of the King of Arām said vnto him, Their²³ gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they ouer- came vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome them.

24 And this do, Take the Kings away, eue- rie one out of his place, and place captai- nes for them.

25 And nember thy selfe an armie, like the armie that thou hast lost, with suche hor- ses, and suche charets, and we wil fight a- gainst them in the plaine, and douteles we shal ouercome the: and he hearkened vnto their voyce, and did so.

26 And after the yere was gone about, Ben- hadād nombred the Aramites, and went vp to Aphék to fight against Israēl.

27 And the children of Israēl were nom- bred, and were all²⁷ assembled and went against them, and the children of Israēl pitched before them, like two litle flockes of kiddes: but the Aramites filled the cou- ntrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and spake vnto the King of Israēl, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Because the Aramites haue said, The Lord is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleis, therefore wil I deliuer all this great mul- titude into thine hand, and ye shal knowe that²⁸ I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen dayes, & in the seuēth day the battel was ioyned: and the children of Is- raēl slewe of the Aramites an hundreth thousand fotemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphék into the citie: and there fel a wall vpon seuen & twentie thousand men that were left: and Ben- hadād fled into the citie, and came into³⁰ a secret chamber.

31 ¶ And his seruantes said vnto him, Be- holde now, we haue heard say that the Kings of the house of Israēl are merciful Kings: we pray thee, let vs put sackcloth about our³¹ loynes, and ropes about our heades, and go out to the King of Israēl: it may be that he wil saue thy life.

32 The they girded sackcloth about their loynes, and put ropes about their heades, and came to the King of Israēl, and said, Thy seruant Ben-hadād saith, I pray thee, let me liue: and he said, Is he yet aliue? he is my brother.

33 Now the men toke diligent hede, if they³³ colde cathe any thing of him, and made haste, & said, Thy brother³³ Ben-hadād. And he said, Go, bring him. So Bē hadād came out vnto him, and he caused him to come vp vnto the charet.

34 And Ben-hadād said vnto him, The ci- ties, which my father toke frō thy father, I wil restore, and thou shalt make stretes for thee in³⁴ Damascus, as my father did in Samaria. Then said Aháb, I wil let thee go with this couenant. So he made a coue- nant with him, and let him go.

35 ¶ Then a certeine man of the³⁵ children of the Prophetes said vnto his neighbour by the comandemēt of the Lord, ¶ Smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.

36 Then said he vnto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as sone as thou art departed from me, a lyon shal³⁶ slay thee. So when he was departed frō him, a lyon found him and slewe him.

37 Then he found another man, and said, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and in smiting wounded him.

38 So the Prophet departed, and waited for the King by the way, and disguyfed him selfe with ashes vpon his face.

39 And when the King came by, he cryed vnto the King, and said, ¶ Thy seruant went into the middes of the battel: and beholde, there went away a man, whome³⁹ another man broght vnto me, & said, Kepe this man: if he be lost, and want, thy life shal go for his, or els thou shalt paye a ta- lent of siluer.

40 And as thy seruant had here and there to do, he was gone: and the King of Israēl said vnto him, So shal thy iudgement be: thou hast giuen sentence.

41 And he hasted, and toke the ashes away from his face: & the King of Israēl knew him that he was of the Prophetes:

42 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, ¶ Because thou hast let go out of thine⁴² hands a man whome I appointed to dye, thy life shal go for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the King of Israēl went to his hou- se heauy and in displeasure, and came to⁴³ Samaria.

^a After these things Nabóth the Izreelite had a vineyarde in Izreél, hard by the palace of Aháb King of Samaria.

² And Aháb spake vnto Nabóth, saying, ^a Giue me thy vineyarde, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is nere by mine house: and I wil giue thee for it a better vineyarde then it is: or if it please thee, I wil giue thee the worthe of it in money.

And Nabóth said to Aháb, The Lord kepe me from giuing the inheritāce of my fathers vnto thee.

⁴ Then Aháb came into his house heauy & in displeasure, because of the worde which Nabóth the Izreelite had spoké vnto him. for he had said, I wil not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay ^b vpon his bed and turned his face and wolde eat no bread.

⁶ And he said vnto her, Because I spake vnto Nabóth the Izreelite, and said vnto him, Giue me thy vineyarde for money, or if it please thee, I wil giue thee another vineyarde for it: but he answered, I wil not giue thee my vineyarde.

⁹ And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a ^d fast, and set Nabóth among the chief of the people,

¹⁰ And set two wicked men before him, and let the witness against him, saying, Thou didest blaspheme God and the King: the cary him out, and stone him that he may dye.

¹² They proclaimed a fast, and set Nabóth among the chief of the people,

¹³ And there came two wicked men, & sate before him: and the wicked men witnessed against Nabóth in the presence of the people, saying, Nabóth did ^b blaspheme God and the King. The they caryed him away out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he dyed.

¹⁴ Then they sent to Iezébel, saying, Nabóth is stoned and is dead.

¹⁵ ¶ And when Iezébel heard that Nabóth was stoned and was dead, Iezébel said to Aháb, ^f Vp, & take possession of the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, which he refused to giue thee for money: for Nabóth is not aliue, but is dead.

¹⁶ And when Aháb heard that Nabóth was dead, he rose to go downe to the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, to take possession of it.

¹⁷ ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto Eliiáh the Tishbite, saying,

¹⁸ Arise, go downe to mete Aháb King of Israël, which is in Samaria. lo, he is in the vineyarde of Nabóth, whether he is gone downe to take possession of it.

²¹ * Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon thee, & wil take away thy posteritie, and wil cut of from Aháb him that ^a pilleth against ^f wall, aswel him that is ^a shut vp, as him that is left in Israël, ¹ Chap. 14, 10. ² King 9, 8. ³ Sam 25, 26. ⁴ Chap. 14, 10.

²³ And also of Iezébel spake the Lord, saying, ^a The dogs shal eat Iezébel, ^b by the wall of Izreél. ³ Kin. 9, 33. ⁴ Or, for the possession.

²⁴ The dogs shal eat him of Ahabs stocke, that dyeth in the citie: and him that dyeth in the fields, shal the foules of the ayre eat.

²⁶ For he did exceedig abominably in following idoles, accordig to all that the Amorites did, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Israël.

²⁷ Now when Aháb heard those wordes, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpō him and fasted, and lay in sackcloth and went ^k softly.

²⁸ And the worde of the Lord came to Eliiáh the Tishbite, saying,

²⁹ Seest thou how Aháb is humbled before me? because he submitteth him selfe before me, I wil not bring that euil in his dayes, but in his ^l sonnes dayes wil I bring euil vpon his house. ¹ Meaning, in Iorams time, ² Kin 9, 26.

^f This example of mon-ſtree^o crueltie the holy Gōt leaneth to vs to the intent ^f we shulde abhorre all ty-rannic, and specially in them, whome nature & kinde shulde moue to be pitiful and inclined to mercie.

j The true Prophetes of God were accustomed to vse signes for the confirmation of their doctrine. Isa. 20. 1 iere 7. 2. Wherein the false Prophetes did imitate them, thinking thereby to make themselves more commedable.

AND * they continued a thre yere without warre betwene Aram and Israél.

And in the third yere did Jehoshaphat the King of Iudáh come downe to the King of Israél.

(Then the King of Israél said vnto his seruants, Knowe ye not that Ramoth Gilead was ours: and we staye, and take it not out of the hand of the King of Aram?)

And he said vnto Jehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battel against Ramoth Gilead? And Jehoshaphat said vnto the King of Israél, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and mine horses as thine horses.

Then Jehoshaphat said vnto the King of Israél, Aske counsel, I pray thee, of the Lord to day.

Then the King of Israél gathered the Prophetes vpon a foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shal I go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shal I let it alone? And they said, Go vnto the Lord shal deliuer it into the hands of the King.

And Jehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that we might inquire of him?

And the King of Israél said vnto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiiah the sonne of Imláh) by whome we may aske counsel of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophetic good vnto me, but euil. And Jehoshaphat said, Let not the King say so.

Then the King of Israél called an Eunucho, & said, Call quickly Michaiiah the sonne of Imláh.

And the King of Israél & Jehoshaphat the King of Iudáh sate either of them on his throne in their apparel in the voyde place at the entring in of the gate of Samaria, and all the Prophetes prophesied before them.

And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanáh made him hornes of yron, & said, Thus sayth the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites, vntil thou hast consumed them.

And all the Prophetes prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, & prosper: for the Lord shal deliuer it into the Kings hand.

And the messenger that was gone to call Michaiiah spake vnto him, saying, Beholde now, the wordes of the Prophetes declare good vnto the King with" one accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be like the worde of one of them, & speake thou good.

And Michaiiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer the Lord sayth vnto me, that wil I speake.

So he came to the King, and the King said vnto him, Michaiiah, shal we go against Ramoth Gilead to battel, or shal we leaue of? And he answered him, Go vp, & prosper: and the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the King.

And the King said vnto him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothig but that which is true in the Name of y Lord.

Then he said, I sawe all Israél scattered vpon the mountaines, as shepe that had no shepherd. And the Lord said, These haue no master, let euery man returne vnto his house in peace.

(And the King of Israél said vnto Jehoshaphat, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde prophetic no good vnto me, but euil?)

Againe he said, Heare thou therefore y worde of the Lord. I sawe the Lord sit on his throne, & all the hoste of heauen stode about him on his right hand and on his left hand.

And the Lord said, Who shal entise Ahab that he may go and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one said on this maner, and another said on that maner.

Then there came forth a spirit, & stode before the Lord, and said, I wil entise him. And the Lord said vnto him, Where-wit?

And he said, I wil go out, and be a false spirit in the mouthe of all his prophetes. The he said, Thou shalt entise him, & shalt also preuaile: go forth, and do so.

Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouthe of all these thy prophetes, and the Lord hath appointed euil against thee.

Then Zidkiah y sonne of Chenaanáh came nere & smote Michaiiah on y cheke, and said, When went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake vnto thee?

And Michaiiah said, Beholde, y shalt se in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chambers to hide thee.

And the King of Israél said, Take Michaiiah, & cary him vnto Amón y gouernour of the citie, and vnto Ioash the Kings sonne,

And say, thus sayth the King, Put this man in the prison house, & fede him with bread of affliction, & with water of affliction, vntil he returne in peace.

And Michaiiah said, If y returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Hearken all ye people.

So the King of Israél & Jehoshaphat the King

2 Chron. 18. 1. m This is the commune argument of y wicked, who thinke that none shulde speake against a thing, if the greater parte approue it, be they neuer so vngodlie.

n He speaketh this in derision, because y King attributed so much to the false prophetes, meaning y by experience he shulde trye that they were but flatterers.

THE SECONDE BOKE of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke conteineth the actes of the Kings of Iudáh and Israél: to wit, of Israél, from the death of Aháb vnto the last King Hoshea, who was imprisonned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the tē tribes ly the iuste plague of God for their idolatrie & disobedience to God led into captiuitie. And also of Iudáh, frō the reigne of Iehorám sonne of Iehoshaphát vnto Zedechiá who for contemning the Lords cōmandement by his Prophetes, & neglecting his sundry admonitions, by famine & other meanes was taken by his enemies, sawe his sonnes moste cruelly slaine before his face, & his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and also by the iuste vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Ierusalém was destroyed, the Temple burnt, and he and all his people were led away captiues into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods fauour towards those rulers and people which obey his Prophetes and imbrace his worde: and contrary wise of his plagues towards those commune weales which neglect his ministers and do not obey his commandementis.

CHAP. I.

9 Ahaziah by a fall falleth sicke & cōsulteth with Baalzebub 3 He is reproveth by Eliiah. 10 The captiues ouer fifty were sent to Eliiah, whereof two were burne with fyre frō heauen by his prayer. 17 Ahaziah dyeth, and Iehorám his brother succedeth him.

1 Then Moáb rebelled against Israél after the death of Aháb:

And a Ahaziah fel through the lattesse win dowe in his vpper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sicke: the he sent messengers, to whome he said, Go, & enquire of b Baalzebub the god of Ekron, if I shal recouer of this my diseafe.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Eliiah the Tishbite, Arise, & go vp to mete the messengers of the King of Samaria, and say vnto them, c Is it not because there is no God in Israél, that ye go to inquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron?

4 Wherefore thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death. So Eliiah departed.

5 And the messengers returned vnto him, to whome he said, Why are ye now returned?

6 And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, and returne vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, d Is it not because there is no God in Israél, that thou sendest to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

7 And he said vnto them, What manner of man was he which came and met you, and tolde you these wordes?

8 And they said vnto him, He was an e heerie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then said he, It is Eliiah the Tishbite.

9 Therefore the King sent vnto him a captaine ouer fifty with his fifty men, who went vp vnto him: for beholde, he sat on the toppē of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hath commanded that thou come downe.

10 But Eliiah answered, & said to the captaine ouer the fiftie, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe frō the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fiftie.

11 Againē also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fifty. Who spake, and said vnto him, h O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quickly.

12 But Eliiah answered & said vnto them, i If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fiftie. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fiftie.

13 Yet againe he sent the third captaine ouer fifty wth his fifty. And the third captaine ouer fifty went vp & came, & fel on his knees before Eliiah, & besought him, & said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my k life and the life of these thy fifty seruantes be ^l precious in thy sight.

14 Beholde, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fifty with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Eliiah, Go downe wth him, be not afrayd of his pefence. So he arose, and wēt downe with him vnto the King.

16 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub the God of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israél to inquire of his worde) therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

17 So he dyed according to the worde of n Lord which Eliiah had spoken. And n Iehorám begā to reigne in his fteade, in the seconde yere of Iehorám the sonne of Iehoshaphāt King of Iudáh, because he had no sonne.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziah, that he did, are thei not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél?

CHAP. II.

1 Eliiah deuiderth the waters with his cloke 11 He is taken vp into heauen 13 Elisha taketh his cloke & deuiderth Iordē 20 The better and venomous waters are healed 23 The children that mocke Elisha, are rent in pieces with beastes.

1 And when the Lord wolde take vp Eliiah into heauē by a whirle wind, Eliiah went with Elisha from a Gilgāl.

2 Then Eliiah said to Elisha, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Beth-el. But Elisha said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el.

n Iehoshaphāt going to battle against the Syrians, made his sonne Iehorám King in the 17 yere of his reigne: and in the 18 yere, & was the seconde yere of his sonne, Iehorám 3 sonne of Aháb reigned in Israél: and in the fiftie yere of this Iehorám Iehoshaphāt dyed and the kingdome of Iudáh was confirmed to his sonne.

a Which was 3 place where the childre of Israél were circumcised after they came ouer Iordē & had bene foure yeres in wilderness, as Iosh 5.9.

i The Spirit of prophete is giuen to him, as it was to Eliſhā.

3 And the b children of the Prophetes that were at Beth-el, came out to Eliſhā, and ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou that y^e Lord wil take thy maſter from c thine head this day? And he ſaid, Yea, I d knowe it: holde ye your peace.

4 Againe Eliſhā ſaid vnto him, Eliſhā, tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hathe ſent me to Ierichó. But he ſaid, As y^e Lord liueth, and as thy ſoule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So thei came to Ierichó.

5 And the children of the Prophetes that were at e Ierichó, came to Eliſhā, & ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou, that the Lord wil take thy maſter from thine head this day? And he ſaid, Yea, I knowe it: holde ye your peace.

6 Moreouer Eliſhā ſaid vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hathe ſent me to Iordén. But he ſaid, As the Lord liueth, & as thy ſoule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. So they went bothe together.

7 And ſittie men of the ſonnes of the Prophetes went and ſtoode on the other ſide a-farre of, and thei two ſtoode by Iordén.

8 ¶ Then Eliſhā toke his cloke, and wrapt it together, and ſmote the f waters, and they were deuided herther and thether, & thei twaine went ouer on the drye land.

9 Now when thei were paſſed ouer, Eliſhā ſaid vnto Eliſhā, Aſke what I ſhal do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Eliſhā ſaid, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit e be double vpon me.

10 And he ſaid, Thou haſt aſked an hard thing: yet if thou ſe me when I am taken from thee, thou ſhalt haue it ſo: & it not, it ſhal not be.

11 And as thei went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a chariot of fyre, and horſes of fyre, and did ſeparate them twaine. * So Eliſhā went vp by a whylle-winde into h heauen.

12 And Eliſhā ſawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the chariot of Iſraél, and the horſemen thereof: & he ſawe him no more: and he toke his owne clothes, & rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ He toke vp alſo the cloke of Eliſhā that fel from him, and returned, and ſtoode by the banke of Iordén.

14 After, he toke the cloke of Eliſhā, that fel from him, and ſmote the waters, and ſaid, Where is the Lord God of Eliſhā, and he him ſelfe? Againe alſo he ſmote the waters, and thei were ſeparated this waye and that waye: and Eliſhā went ouer.

15 And when the children of the Prophetes, which were at Ierichó, ſawe him on the other ſide, they ſaid, i The Spirit of Eliſhā doeth reſt on Eliſhā: and they came to mete him, & fel to the grounde before him,

16 And ſaid vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy ſeruants ſittie ſtrong men: let them go, we pray thee, and ſeke thy k maſter, if ſo be the Spirit of the Lord hathe taken him vp, and caſt him vpon ſome mountaine, or into ſome valley. But he ſaid, l Ye ſhal not ſend.

17 Yet they were inſtant vpon him, til he was aſhamed: wherefore he ſaid, Send. So thei ſent ſittie mē, which ſoght thre daies, but founde him not.

18 Therefore thei returned to him, (for he taried at Ierichó) and he ſaid vnto them, Did not I ſay vnto you, Go not?

19 ¶ And the men of the citie ſaid vnto Eliſhā, Beholde, we pray thee: the ſituacion of this citie is pleaſant, as thou, my lord, ſeeſt, but the water is noght, & the grounde n baren.

20 Then he ſaid, Bring me a newe cruſe, & put ſalt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the ſpring of the waters, and caſt there m the ſalt, and ſaid, Thus ſaith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death ſhal no more come thereof, neither barenes to the grounde.

22 So the waters were healed vntil this day, according to y^e worde of Eliſhā which he had ſpoken.

23 ¶ And he wēt vp from thence vnto Beth-el. And as he was going vp the waye, litle children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and ſaid vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

24 And he turned backe & looked on them, and n curſed them in the Name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the foreſt, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmél, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

 9 So went the King of Israél & the King of Iudáh, and the ^e King of Edóm, and when they had compassed the way seuen daies, thei had no water for the hoste, nor for the cattel that followed them.
 10 Therefore the King of Israél said, Alas, that ^h Lord hathe called these thre Kígs, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.
 11 But Iehoshaphát said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the King of Israels seruants answered, & said, Here is Elifhá ^h sonne of Shaphát, which ^f powred water on the hands of Eliáh.
 12 Then Iehoshaphát said, ^g The worde of the Lord is with him. Therefore the King of Israél, and Iehoshaphát, and the King of Edóm went downe to him.
 13 And Elifhá said vnto the King of Israél, ^h What haue I to do with thee? Get thee to the Prophetes of thy father and to the Prophetes of thy mother. And the King of Israél said vnto him, ⁱ Naye: for the Lord hathe called these thre Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

 15 But now bring me a minstrel. And when the minstrel ^l played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him.
 16 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley ful of dyches.
 17 For thus saith the Lord, Ye shal nether se winde nor se raine, yet the valley shal be filled with water, that ye may drinke, bothe ye and your cattel, and your beastes.
 18 But this is a ^m small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he wil giue Moáb into your hand.

20 And in the morning when the meat of- fring was offred, behold, there came wa- ter by the way of Edóm: and the countrey was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come vp to fight against them, thei gathered all that was able to put on harness, and vpwarde, and stode in their border.

"Ebr so girde him selfe with a girdle."

22 And thei rose early in the morning, whē the sunne arose vpo the water, & the Mo- abites sawe the water ouer against them, as red as blood.

^c Because I am poore and not able to pay.

3 And he said, Go, and borowe thee vessels abroade of all thy neighbours, empyre vessels, & spare not.

^d Thus God suffreth his many times to be brought to extreme neede, before he succor them, that afterwar- de they may ^h more praise his mercie.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the dore vpon thee & vpon thy son- nes, and powre out into ^e all those vessels and set aside those that are full.

^e The Prophe- t declareth he- rebv vnto her, that God neuer faileth to poude for his seruants, thei- r wiues & chil- dren, if they trust in him.

5 So she departed from him, and shut the dore vpon her, and vpon her sonnes. And they brought to her, and she powred out.

6 And when the vessels were full, she said vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There is no more vessels. And the oyle^f ceased.

7 Then she came and tolde the man of God. And he said, Go, and fel the oyle, & pay them that thou art in det vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the rest.

8 ¶ And on a time Elishá came to Shuné, & there a woman of great estimation cost: aimed him to eat bread: and as he passed by, he turned in thether to eat bread.

9 And she said vnto her housbād, Beholde, I knowe now, that this is an holie man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make^h him a litle chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed and a table & a stole, and a candlesticke, that he may turne in thether whē he commeth to vs.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thether and turned into the chamber, and laye therein;

12 And said to Gehazí his seruā, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stode before him.

13 Then he said vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, ⁱ what shal we do for thee? Is there anie thing to be spokē for thee to the King or to the captaine of the hoste? And she answered, I ^k dwel among mine owne people.

14 Againe he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazí answered, In dede she hathe: ^l no sonne, and her housband is old.

15 Thē said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stode in the dore.

16 And he said, *At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the womā conceiued, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elishá had said vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was growen, it fel on a day, that he went out to his father, & to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, ^m Mine head, mine head. Who said to his seruā, Bear him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and brought him to his mother, & he sate on her knees til noone, and dyed.

21 Then she went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the dore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her housband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the young mē & one of the asses: for I wil haste to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? ⁿ it is nether a newe moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, "All shalbe wel.

24 Then she sadled an asse, and said to her seruā, Dryue, and go forwarde: stay not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And whē the man of God saw her ouer against him, he said to Gehazí his seruā, Beholde, the Shunammite.

26 Runne now, I say, to mete her, and say vnto her, Art thou in helthe? is thine housband in helthe? & is the childe in helthe? And she answered, We are in helthe.

27 And when she came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she ^o caught him by his fete: and Gehazí went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her, and the Lord hathe hid it from me, and hathe not tolde it me.

28 Then she said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord? did I not say, Discerne me not.

29 Thē he said to Gehazí, Gird thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and go thy way: ^p if thou mete anie, salute him not: and if anie salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe said, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazí was gone before thē, & had layed the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but he nether spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to mete him, and tolde him, saying, The childe is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Elishá into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the dore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Naamán the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elisha refuseth his gifts 27 Geház is striken with leprosie, because he toke money, & raimēt of Naamán.

1 NOW was there one Naamán capitaine of the hoste of the King of Arám, a great man, and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him ^y Lord had ^a deliuered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but a lepre.

a Here appeareth that among the infidels God hath his, and also that the infidels haue them in estimation, & do good to their countrey. ^b Ebr. she was before. ^c Meaning, Elishá.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by bandes, & had taken a litle maid of the land of Israël, and she ^u serued Naamans wife.

3 And she said vnto her maistres, Wolde God my lord were with the ^b Prophet that is in Samaria. he wolde soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

c That is, Naamán tolde it to the King of Syria.

4 And ^c he went in, and tolde his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maid that is of the land of Israël.

5 And the King of Arám said, Go thy way thether, and I wil send a letter vnto the King of Israël. And he departed, and toke ^u with him ten talents of siluer, and six thousand pieces of golde, and ten chāge of raiments, d To giue this as a present to the Prophet ^e Ebr. in his hand.

6 And broght the letter to the King of Is-raél to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstād, that I haue sent thee Naamán my seruāt, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israël had red the letter, he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kil and to giue life, that he doeth send to me, that I shulde heale a man from his leprosie? wherefore confidre, I pray you, and se how he seketh a quarel against me.

8 But when Elishá the man of God had heard that the King of Israël had rent his clothes, he sent vnto the King, saying, ^e Wherefore hast thou rēt thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shal knowe, that there is a Prophet in Israël.

e The Prophet rebuketh the King because he did not consider that God was true in his promises & therefore wolde not leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, whose prayers he wolde heare, and to whome other shulde haue recourse for comforte. ^f Mans reason murmureth, when it considereth onely the signes and outward things & hath not regarde to the worde of God, which is there contained.

9 ¶ Then Naamán came with his horses, & with his charrets, and stode at the dore of the house of Elishá.

10 And Elishá sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Go and wash thee in Iordén seuen times, and thy flesh shal come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naamán was ^f wroth & went away, and said, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, He wil surely come out, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lord his God & put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abanáh and Pharpár, riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israël? may I not wash me in them, and be cleansed? So he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and said, ^g Father, if the Prophet had comāded thee a great thing, woldest thou not haue done it? how muche rather then, whē he saith to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

g This declareth that seruants ought to reuerence and loue their masters as childre their fathers, and likewise masters toward their seruants must be affectioned as toward their children Luk. 4. 27.

14 Then went he downe, and ^u washed him selfe seuen times in Iordén, according to the saying of the mā of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a litle child, and he was cleane.

15 ¶ And he turned againe to the man of God, he, and all his companie, and came & stode before him and said, Beholde, now I know that there is no God in all ^y worlde, but in Israël: now therefore, I pray thee, take ^a a rewarde of thy seruant.

^h Ebr. blessing. ⁱ So the Lord commandeth that they that receiue freely shulde giue also freely.

16 But he said, As the Lord liueth (before whome I stād) I wil not receiue it. And he wolde haue constrained him to receiue it, ^h but he refused.

He felseth his conscience wounded in being present at idoles seruice, and therefore desireth God to forgive him, lest others by his example might fall to idolatrie: for as for his owne parte he cōfesseth that he wil neuer serue arie, but the true God.

17 Moreouer Naamán said, Shal there not be giue to thy seruant two mules loade of this earth? for thy seruant wil hencefor the offer nether burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto anie other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be ⁱ merciful vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmón, to worship there, and and leaneth on mine hand, and I bowe my selfe in the house of Rimmón: when I do bowe downe, I say, in the house of 21 So Gehazí followed spedely after Naamán.

And when Naamán sawe him running after him, he light downe from the charet to mete him, and said, Is all wel?

22 And he answered, All is wel: my master hath sent me, saying, Beholde, there be come to me, euen now from mounte Ephráim two yong men of the children of the Prophetes: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of siluer, and two chāge of gaimets.

23 And Naamán said, Yea, take two talēts:
and he compelled him, and bounde two talents of siluer in two bags, with two change of garments, and gaue them vnto two of his seruāts, that they might beare them maister. And Elifhá said vnto him, Whēce wil go.

3 So he went with them, and when they ca-

4 And as one was felling of a tre, the yron fel into the water: the he cryed, & said, Alas master, it was but borrowed.

5 And the man of God said, Where fel it?
And he shewed him the place. Then he cut downe a piece of wood, and cast in thether, and he caused the yron to swimme.

6 Then he said, Take it vp to thee. And he stretched out his hand, and toke it.

7 Then the King of Arám wai red against Israēl and toke counsel with his seruāts, and said, In such and suche a place shal be my campe.

8 Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israēl, saying, Beware thou go not ouer to suche a place: for there the Aramites are come downe.

9 So the King of Israēl sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, & warned him of, and ^d saved him selfe from thence, not once, nor twise.

10 And the heart of the King of Arám was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his seruāts and said vnto them, Wil ye not shew me, which of vs bewraeth our counsel to the King of Israēl?

11 Then one of his seruāts said, None, my lord, o King, but Elifhá the Prophet that is in Israēl, telleth the King of Israēl, euen ue chamber.

12 And he said, Go, and espie where he is, that I may send and fetch him. And one tolde him, sayig, Beholde, he is in Dothán.

13 So he sent thether horses, and charets, and a mightie hoste: and they came by night, and compassed the citie.

14 And when the seruant of the má of God arose early to go out, beholde, an hoste compassed the citie with horses and charets. Then his seruant said vnto him, Alas maister, how shal we do?

15 And he answered, Feare not: for they that be with vs, are mo then they that be with them.

16 Then Elifhá prayed, & said, Lord, I be-seche thee, opē his eyes, ^h that he maie see.
And the Lord opened the eyes of the ser-uāt, & he looked, & beholde, the mountaine was ful of horses & charets of fyre round about Elifhá.

17 So they came downe to him, but Elifhá prayed vnto the Lord, & said, Smitē this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the worde of Elifhá.

21 And the King of Israél said vnto Elishá when he sawe them, ^l My father, shal I smite them, shal I smite them?

22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: dost thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sworde, & with thy bowe? but set bread and water before the, that they may eat and drinke and go to their master.

23 And he made great preparacion for the: & when they had eaten & drunken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Arám came ^m nomore into the land of Israél.

CHAP. VII.

1 Elishá propheseth plentie of vitaille and other things to Samaria. 6 The Syrians runne away, and haue no man following them. 17 The prince that wolde not beleue the worde of Elishá is troden to death.

1 Then Elishá said, Heare ye the worde of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, ^a Tomorrow this time a measure of fine floure shalbe solde for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the King ^b leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make c windows in the heauē, colde this thing come to passe? And he said, Beholde, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but y shalt not ^d eat thereof.

3 Now there were foure leprouse men at y ^e entrie in of y gate: and they said one to another, Why sit we here vntill we dye?

4 If we say, We wil entre into the citie, the famine is in the citie, & we shal dye there: and if we sit here, we dye also. Now therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if thei saue our liues, we shal liue: & if they kil vs, we are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to go to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vmoste parte of the campe of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of y Aramites to heare a ^f noise of chariots & a noise of hostes, & a noise of a great armie, so y they said one to another, Beholde, the King of Israél hath hired against vs the Kings of the Hittites, & the Kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, & left their tentes & their hostes, & their asses, euē the campe as it was, and s fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to y vmost part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eat and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went, and hid it: after they returned, and entered into another tent, & caried thence also, and went, and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We do not wel: this day is a day of good tidings, and we holde our peace. if we tary till day light, some mischief wil come vpon vs. Now therefore come, let vs go, and tel the Kings housholde.

10 So they came, & called vnto the porters of the citie, & tolde the, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, & lo, there was no man there, nether voyce of mā, but hostes

r So the wicked fall into a rage & desperation, if they finde not some remedie against their afflictions.

horses tyed and asses tyed : and the tentes are as they were.

11 And the porters cryed and declared to the Kings house within.

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said vnto his seruants, ^h I wil shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are affamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide them selues in the field, saying, When thei come out of the citie, we shal catche them aliue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take now fīue of the horses that remaine, & are left in the citie, (beholde, they are euen as all the multitude of Israēl that are left therein : beholde, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) & we wil send to se.

14 So they toke ^o two chariots of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Go and se.

15 And they went after them vnto Iordén, and lo, all the way was ful of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste : & the messengers returned, and tolde the King.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine floure was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel ^k according to ^ŷ worde of the Lord.

^k Which he spake by the mouth of Elisha verſ 1

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lord wolde make windowes in the heauen, colde it come so to passe. And he said, Beholde, ^ŷ shalt se it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him : for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed.

- 17 And the watchman that stode in the towre in Izreél, spyed the companie of Ichú as he came, and said, I se a companie. And Iehorám said, Take a horseman and send to mete them, that he may say, Is it peace?

- 19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Ichú answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turne behinde me.
- 20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but commeth not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Ichú the sonne of Nimshí: for he marcheth furiously.
- f As one that went earnestly about his enterprise.* 21 ¶ Then Iehorám said, Make readie: and his charet was made readie. And Iehorám King of Israel and Ahaziáh King of Iudáh went out ether of them in his charet against Ichú, and met him in the field of Nabóth the Izreelite.
- 22 And when Iehorám sawe Ichú, he said, Is it peace, Ichú? And he answered, What is peace? the whoredomes of thy mother Iezébel, and her witchcraftes are yet in great number.
- 23 Then Iehorám turned his hand, & fled, and said to Ahaziáh, O Ahaziáh, there is treason.
- 24 But Ichú toke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iehorám betwene the sholders, that the arrowe went through his heart: and he fel downe in his charet.
- 25 Thē said Ichú to Bidkár a captaine, Take, & cast him in some place of the field of Nabóth the Izreelite: for I remember - that when I and thou rode together after Aháb his father, the Lord^e layed this burden vpon him.

- 26 * Surely I haue sene yesterday the blood of Nabóth, and the blood of his^e sonnes, said the Lord, and I wil render it thee in this field: saith the Lord: now therefore take and cast him in the field, according to the worde of the Lord.
- 27 But when Ahaziáh the King of Iudáh sawe this, he fled by the way of the gardé house: and Ichú pursued after him, & said, Smite him also in the charet: & thei smote him in the going vp to Gur, which is by Ibleám. And he fled to Megiddó, and theredied.
- 28 And his seruants caryed him in a charet to Ierusalém, & buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in y^e citie of Daud.
- 29 ¶ And in the^e eleuenth yere of Iorám the sonne of Aháb, begā Ahaziáh to reigne ouer Iudáh.
- 30 And when Ichú was come to Izreél, Iezébel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, & looked out at a wyndow.
- 31 And as Ichú entred at the gate, she said, Had^e Zimrí peace, & slewe his master?
- 32 And he lift vp his eyes to the windowe, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or thre of her^e Eunuches looked vnto him.
- 33 And he said, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, and he spinkled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the horses, and he trode her vnder fote.
- 34 And whē he was come in, he did eat and drinke, and said, Visite now yonder cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a^e Kings daughter.
- 35 And thei went to bury her, but thei found no more of her then the skul & the fete, and the palmes of her hands.
- 36 Wherefore they came againe and tolde him. And he said, This is the worde of the Lord, which he spake^e by his seruāt Eliáh the Tishbite, saying, * In the field of Izreél shal the dogs eat the flesh of Iezébel.

4 But thei were exceedingly afraied, & said, Beholde, two Kings colde not stand before him, how shal we then stand?
5 And he that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and he that ruled the citie, and the Elders, and the bringers vp of the childre sent to Iehú, saying, We are thy seruants, and wil do all that thou shalt byd vs: we wil make no King: do what semeth good to thee.
6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, sayig, If ye be mine, & wil obey my voice, take the heades of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Izreél by tomorowe this time. (Now the Kings sonnes, euē seuentie persones were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp)
7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the Kings sonnes, and slewe the seuentie persones, and laied their heades in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Izreél.
8 ¶ Then there came a messenger & tolde him, saying, Thei haue brought the heades of the Kings sonnes. And he said, Let the lay them on two heapes at the entring in of the gate vntil the morning.
9 And whē it was day, he went out, & stode & said to all the people, Ye be ^d righteous: beholde, I conspired against my master, & slewe him: but who slewe all these?
10 Knowe now that there shal fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning y^e house of Aháb: for the Lord hathe brought to passe the things that he spake by his seruant Eliáh.
11 So Iehú slewe all that remayned of the house of Aháb in Izreél, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his priests, so that he let none of his remaine.
12 ¶ And he arose, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehú was in the waye by an house where the shepherdes did there, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziáh King of Iudah and said, Who are ye? And thei answered, We are the brethren of Ahaziáh, & go downe to salute the children of the King and the children of the queene.
14 And he said, Take them aliue. And thei toke them aliue, & slewe them at the well beside the house where y^e shepe are shorne, euē two and fourtie men, and he left not one of them.
15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb comming to mete him, and he ^s blessed him, and said to him, Is thine heart vp-right, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadáb answered, Yea, douteles. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, he toke him vp to him into the charet.

16 And he said, Come with me, and se the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ryde in his charet.
17 And when he came to Samaria, he slewe all that remained vnto Aháb in Samaria, til he had destroyed him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake to Eliáh.
18 Then Iehú assembled all the people, and said vnto them, Aháb serued ^h Báal a litle, but Iehú shal serue him muche moie.
19 Now therefore call vnto me all the prophets of Báal, all his seruants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Báal: whosoever is lacking, he shal not liue. But Iehú did it by a subtiltie to destroye the seruants of Báal.
20 And Iehú said, Proclaime a solempne assēblie for Báal. And thei proclaimed it.
21 So Iehú sent vnto all Israél, and all the seruants of Báal came, and there was not a mā left that came not. And thei came into the house of Báal, & the house of Báal was ful from end to end.
22 Then he said vnto him that had y^e charge of the vestrie, Bring forth the vestments for all the seruants of Báal. And he brought them out vestments.
23 And when Iehú went, & Iehonadáb the sonne of Recháb into the house of Báal, he said vnto the seruants of Báal, Searche diligently, and loke, lest there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Báal onely.
24 And when thei went in to make sacrifice & burnt offring, Iehú appointed fourescore men without, and said, If any of the men whome I haue brought into your hands, escape, his soule shall be for his soule.
25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offring, Iehú said to the garde, and to the captaines, Go in, slaye them, let not a man come out. And they smote the with the edge of the sworde. And the garde, and the captaines cast them out, & went vnto the ^k citie, where was the temple of Báal.
26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Báal, and burnt them.

1 ¶ Then* Athaliáh y^e mother of Ahaziáh. When she saw that her sonne was dead, she arose, & destroyed all the Kings sēde.

2 But Iehoshéba y^e daughter of King Ioram, and sist^r to Ahaziáh^b toke Ioásh the sonne of Ahaziáh, & stole him from among the Kings sonnes that shulde be slaine, bothe him and his nource, keeping them in the bed c^hamber, and they hid him from Athaliáh, so that he was not slaine.

3 And he was with her hid in the house of the Lord six yere: and Athaliáh did reigne ouer the land.

4 ¶ And the seuenth yere^d Iehoiadá sent & toke the captaines ouer hundreth, with other captaines and them of the garde, and caused them to come vnto him into the house of the Lord, & made a couenāt with thē, & toke an oth of them in the house of the Lord, & shewed thē the Kings sonne.

5 And he cōmanded thē, saying, This is it that ye must do, The third parte of y^e you, that cometh on the Sabbath, shal^f warde towarde the Kings house.

6 And another third parte in y^e gate of Sūr: and another third parte in the gate behinde them of the garde: & ye shal kepe watche in the house of Massáh.

7 And two partes of you, that is, all that go out on the Sabbath day, shal kepe y^e watche of the house of the Lord about the King.

8 And ye shal compasse the King round about, euerie man with his weapon in his hand, and whosoever commeth within the ranges, lethem be slaine: be you with the King, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundreth did according to all that Iehoiadá the Priest cōmanded, & they toke euerie man his mē that entred in to their charge on the¹ Sabbath with them that went out of it on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiadá the Priest.

10^k And the Priest gaue to the captaines of hundreth the speares and the shields that were King Dauides, and were in the house of the Lord.

12 Then he broght out¹ the Kings sonne, and put the crowne vpo him and gaue him the Testimonie, & they made him King: also they annointed him, and clapt their hands, and said, God saue the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliáh heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when she looked, beholde, the King stode by aⁿ pillar, as the maner was, and the princes and the trūpeters by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, & blew with trumpets. Then Athaliáh rent her clothes, and cryed, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiadá the Priest cōmanded the captaines of the hundreth: that had the rule of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her forthe^o of the ranges, & he that^o followeth her, let him dye by the sworde: for the Priest had said, let her not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they layed hāds on her, & she went by the way, by the w^h the horses go to the house of y^e King, and there was she slaine.

17 And Iehoiadá made a couenant betwene the Lord and y^e King, and the people, that they shulde be the Lords people: likewise betwene the¹ King and y^e people.

18 Then all the people of the land wēt into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, & his images brake they downe courageously, and slewe Mattán the priest of Baal before the¹ altars: & the Priest set a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

19 Then he toke the captaines of hundreth, and the other captaines, and the garde, and all the people of the land: and they broght the King from the house of the Lord, and came by y^e way of the gate of y^e garde to y^e V.ii.

^e He taketh from them the ordering of ^f money because of their negligence.

3 But ^b the hie places were not taken away: for the people offred yet and burnt incense in the hie places.

4 ¶ And Iehoásh said to the Priests, All the siluer of dedicate things that be brought to the house of the Lord, ^c that is, the money of them that are vnder the counte, the money that euerie man is set at, and all the money that one offreth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord,

5 Let the Priests take it to them, euerie mā of his acquaintance: and they shal repaire the broken ^d places of the house, where soeuer anie decaye is found.

6 ¶ Yet in the thre and twentieth yere of King Iehoásh the Priests had not mēded that which was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then King Iehoásh called for Iehoiadá the Priest, and the other Priests, and said vnto them, Why repaire ye not the ruines of the Temple? now therefore ^e receiue nomore money of your acquaintance, excepte ye deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

8 So the Priests consented to receiue nomore money of the people, nether to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

ⁱ For these men had onely the charge of the reparacion of the Temple, and the rest of ^j money was brought to the King, who caused these afterwarde to be made. 2 Chro. 24. 14.

14 But they gaue it to the workemē, which repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreouer, they rekened not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to be bestowed on workmen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespassse offering and the money of the sinne offerings was not brought into ^j house of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

17 ¶ Then came vp Hazaél King of Arám, and foght against Gath and toke it, and Hazaél set his face to go vp to Ierusalém.

18 And Iehoásh King of Iudáh toke all the ^k hallowed things that Iehoshaphát, & Iehorám, and Ahaziáh his fathers Kings of Iudáh had dedicate, and that he him selfe had dedicated, and all the golde that was foude in the treasures of the house of the Lord and in the Kings house, and sent it to Hazaél King of Arám, and he departed from Ierusalém.

11 And did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the finnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát that made Israël to sinne, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioásh and all that he did, and his valiant dedes, and how he foght against Amaziáh King of Iudáh, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the King of Israël?

13 And Ioásh slept with his fathers, & Ieroboám sate vpon his seat: & Ioásh was buried in Samaria among ^h Kings of Israël.

14 ¶ When Elishá fel sicke of his sicknes, whereof he dyed, Ioásh the King of Israël came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, & said, ⁱ O my father, my father, the charret of Israël, & the horseme of ^j y same.

15 The Elishá said vnto him, Take a bowe and arrowes. And he toke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he said to the King of Israël, Put thine hand vpon the bow. And he put his hand vpon it. And Elishá put his hands vpon the Kings hands, 17 And said, Open the window ^k Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elishá said, Shore. And he shot. And he said, Beholde the arrowe of the Lords deliuerance & the arrowe of deliuerance against Arám: for thou shalt smite ^l y Aramites in Aphék, til thou hast consumed them.

18 Again he said, Take the arrowes. And he toke them. And he said vnto the King of Israël, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was ^m angry with him, and said, Thou shuldest haue smitten five or six times, so thou shuldest haue smitten Arám, til thou hadest consumed it, where now thou shalt smite Arám but thrise.

20 ¶ So Elishá dyed, & they buried him. And certaine bands of the Moabites came into the land that yere.

12 This was the worde of the Lord, which he spake vnto Iehú, sayig, Thy sonnes shal sit on the throne of Israél vnto y^e fourte generation after thee. And it came so to passe.

13 ¶ Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh began to reigne in the nine and thirtieth yere of Vzziah King of Iudáh: and he reigned the space of a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahém the sonne of Gadí went vp from Tirzáh, and came to Samaria, & smote Shallúm the sonne of Iabésh in Samaria, & slew him, & reigned in his steade.

15 Concerning the rest of the actes of Shallúm, and the treason which he wrought, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israél.

16 ¶ Then Menahém destroyed Tiphsáh, and all that were therein, and the coastes thereof from Tirzáh, because they opened not to him, and he smote it, and ript vp all their women with childe.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, began Menahém the sonne of Gadí to reigne ouer Israél, & reigned ten yeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the sinne of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Israél to sinne.

19 ¶ Thē Phul the King of Asshúr came against the land: & Menahém gaue Phul a thousand talents of siluer, that his had might be with him, & establishe the kingdome in his hand.

C H A P. XVI.

¹ The seuententh yere of Pekáh the sonne of Remaliáh, ^a Aház the sonne of Iothám King of Iudáh began to reigne. ² Twentie yere olde was Aház, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father: ³ But walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, yea, & made his sonne to ^b go thorow the fyre, after the abominations of the heathē, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel. ⁴ Also he offred and burnt incense in the hie places and on the hilles, & vnder euerie grene tre. ⁵ *Then Rezin King of Arám and Pekáh sonne of Remaliáh King of Israel came vp to Ierusalem to fight: & they besieged Aház, but coulde not ouercome him. ⁶ At the same time Rezin King of Arám restored ^d Eláth to Arám, and droue the Iewes fro Eláth: so the Aramites came to Eláth, and dwelt there vnto this day. ⁷ Then Aház sent messengers to Tiglath Pilefár King of Asshúr, saying, I am thy seruant and thy sonne: come vp, and deliuer me out of the hand of the King of Arám, and out of the hand of the King of Israel which rise vp against me. ⁸ And Aház toke the siluer and the golde that was founde in the ^f house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and sent a present vnto the King of Asshúr. ⁹ And the King of Asshúr consented vnto him: and the King of Asshúr went vp against Damascus. and when he had take it, he caried the people away to Kir, and slewe Rezin. ¹⁰ And King Aház went vnto Damascus. to mete Tiglath Pilefár King of Asshúr: and when King Aház sawe the altar that was at Damascus, he sent to Vriiáh the Priest the patern of the altar, and the fashion of it, and all the workmanship thereof.

^e For ³ Lord preferred the citie and his people for his promes sake made to Dauid. ^d Which citie Azariáh had taken from the Aramites and fortified it, Chap 14,23. ^e Contrary to the admonitiō of ³ Prophet, Isa. 14,7,4. ^f Thus he spared not rospoi- le the Temple of God to haue succour of men, and wolde not once lift his heart toward God to desire his helpe, nor yet haue his Prophets counsel.

^g We see that there is no price so wicked, but he shall finde slaughter & false ministers to serue his turne.

¹² So when the King was come from Damascus, the King sawe the altar: & the King drewe nere to the altar and offred ^h the reon.

¹³ And he burnt his burnt offering, and his meat offering, & powred his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings besides the altar,

¹⁴ And set it by the brasen altar which was before the Lord, and broght it in farther before the house betwene the altar and the house of the Lord, & set it on the ⁱ Northside of the altar.

¹⁵ And King Aház commāded Vriiáh the Priest and said, Vpon the great altar set on fyre in the morning the burnt offering, and in the euen the meat offering, and the Kings burnt offering and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings: and powre thereby all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice, and the ^k brasen altar shalbe for me to inquire of God.

¹⁷ And King Aház brake the borders of the bases, and toke the caldrons from of them, and toke downe the sea from the brasen oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pavement of stones.

¹⁸ And the ^l waile for the Sabbāth (that they had made in the house) & the Kings entrie without turned he to the house of the Lord, ^m because of ³ King of Asshúr.

¹⁹ Concerning the rest of the actes of Aház, which he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

²⁰ And Aház slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, & Hezekiáh his sonne reigned in his steade.

C H A P. XVII.

³ Hoshéa King of Israel is taken. ⁴ And he and all his realme broght to the Assyrians. ¹³ For their idolatrie. ²⁴ Lions destroye the Assyrians that dwelt in Samaria. ²⁹ Euerie one worshipeth the God of his nation. ³¹ Contrary to the commandement of God.

¹ IN the twelfte yere of Aház King of Iudáh began Hoshéa the sonne of Eláth to reigne in Samaria ouer Israel, and reigned nine yeres, ² And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, ^a but not as the Kings of Israel, that were before him.

³ And Shalmanéfer King of Asshúr came vp against him, and Hoshéa became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

⁴ And the King of Asshúr founde treason in Hoshéa: for he had sent messengers to So King of Egypt, and broght no present vnto the King of Asshúr, ^b as he had done yereley:

^h Either offerings for peace or prosperitie, or of thanks giuing, as Leui 3,1, or els meaning the morning and euenig offrig, Exod 29,38, Nom 28,3; and thus he contēned the meanes and the altar which God had commanded by Salomon, to serue God after his owne fantasie. ⁱ That is, at ³ right hand as men went into the Temple.

^k Here he establisheth by commandement his owne wicked proceedings, & doeth abolish the commandement & ordinance of God.

^l Or tent, wherein they lay on ³ Sabbāth which had serued their weeke in the Temple, and so departed home. ^m Either to flatter the King of Assyria, when he shulde thus se him change the ordinance of God, or els that the Temple might be a refuge for him if ³ King shulde suddenly assaile his house.

^a Though he invented no newe idolatrie or impietie as others did yet he sought for helpe at the Egyptians. ^b God had forbidden.

^b For he had payed tribute for the space of eight yeres.

yerely:therefore the King of Affhúr shut him vp, and put him in prison.

5 Then the King of Affhúr came vp throughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it thie yere.

Chap. 18. 10. 6 ¶ In the ninth yere of Hofheá, the King of Affhúr toke Samaria, and caryed Israél away vnto Affhúr, and put them in Haláh, and in Habór by the riuér of Gozán, and in the cities of the Medes.

e For at this time y Medes and Persians were subiect to y Assyrians. d He fetcheth forth at length the cause of this great plague & perpetual captiuitie, to admonish all people and nations to cleaue to the Lord God, and onely worship him for feare of like iudgement. 7 For when the children of Israél ^d sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt, and feared other gods,

8 And walked according to the facions of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israél, and after the manners of the Kings of Israél, which they vsed,

9 And the children of Israél had done secretly things that were not vpright before the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had buylt hie places, bothe from the towre e of the watche, to the defended citie,

e Meaning, throughout all their borders.

10 And had made them images and groues vpon euerie hie hil, and vnder euerie grene tre,

11 And there burnt incense in all the hie places, as did the heathē, whome the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to angre the Lord,

12 And serued idoles: whereof the Lord had said vnto them, * Ye shal do no suche thing,

Deut 4. 19

13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israél, and to Iudáh " by all the Prophetes, and by all the Seers, saying, * Turne from your euil waies, & kepe my cōmandements & my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the Prophetes.

14 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, * but hardened their neckes, like to the neckes of their ^f fathers, that did not beleue in the Lord their God.

Deut 31. 27.

f So that to alledge the autoritie of our fathers or great antiquities, except we can proue y they were godlie, is but to declare that we are y childre of the wicked. 15 And ther refused his statutes and his cōuenant, that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, & followed the heathē that were rounde about them: concerning whome, the Lord had charged them, that they shulde not do like them.

Exod 32. 8. 1 king 12. 28 g That is, the sunne, y moone & starres, Deut 4. 19 h Read Chap 16. 3 16 Finally they left the commandements of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calues, & made a groue, and worshiped all the ^s hoste of heauen, and serued Báal.

17 And ther made their sonnes and their daughters ^h passe through the fyre, and v-fed witchcraft and enchantements, yea, ⁱ solde them selues, to do euil in the sight of the Lord, to angrie him.

i Read of this phrase, 1 King. 21. 20, & 23.

18 Therefore y Lord was exceeding wroth with Israél, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudáh ^k onely.

k No whole tribe was left but Iudáh, & ther of Benjamin & Leui, w remained, were coured with Iudáh.

19 Yet Iudáh kept not the commandemēts of the Lord their God, but walked according to the facion of Israél, which they vsed.

20 Therefore the Lord cast of all the sede of Israél, and afflicted them, & deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntil he had cast them out of his ^l sight.

l Out of the land where he shewed y great tokens of his presence & fauour m That is, God cut of the ten tribes, 1 King. 12. 16

21 ^m For he cut of Israél from the house of Daud, and they made Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát King: & Ieroboám drewe Israél away from following the Lord and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israél walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboám, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntil the Lord put Israél away out of his sight, as he had said " by all his seruants the * Prophetes, & caryed Israél away out of their land to Affhúr vnto this day.

"Ebr by the hand of Iere 25. 8.

24 And the King of Affhúr brought folke from Babel, and from ⁿ Cutháh, and from Auá, and from Hamáth, and from Sepharuáim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in steade of the children of Israél: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

n Of these peoples came the Samaritans, whereof mention is so muche made in y Gospel, & with whome y Jewes wolde haue nothing to do, Ioh 4. 9

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwellig there, ther ^o feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent lyons among them, which slewe them.

o That is, ther feared him not: therefore, lest they shuld blaspheme hi, as though there were no God, because he chastised y Israelites, he sheweth his mightie power among the by this strage punishment

26 Wherefore they spake to the King of Affhúr, saying, The nations which thou hast remoued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of y God of the land: therefore he hath sent lyons among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the King of Affhúr commanded, saying, Cary thether one of the priests, whome ye brought thence, and let him go and dwel there, & teache them the maner of the God ^p of the countrey.

p That is, how to worship n: thus y wicked rather the to loie their commodities, will change to all religions

28 So one of the priests, which they had caryed from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how ther shulde feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit euerie naciō made then gods, and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritās had made, euerie naciō in their cities, wherein ther dwelt 30 For the men of Babel made a Succóth-Benóth: and the men of Cuth made Ner-gál, and the men of Hamáth made Ashimá.

q Meaning, y euerie countrey feared that idole, which was moste esteemed in that place whence they came

31 And the Auims made Nibház, and Tar-rák: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fyre to Adrammélech, and Anammélech the gods of Sepharuáim.

32 Thus they feared the Lord, and appointed out priests out of them ſelues for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houſes of the hie places.

33 They feared the Lord, but ſerued their gods after the maner of the nacions who-me they caryed thence.

34 Vnto this day they do after the olde maner: they nether feare God, nether do after their ordinances nor after their customes, nor after the Lawe, nor after the cōmandement, which the Lord commanded the children of Iaakób, * whome he named Iſiaél,

35 And w^h whome the Lord had made coucnāt, & charged them, ſaying, * Feare none othei gods, nor bowe your ſelues to them, nor ſerue them, nor ſacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the lād of Egypt with great power, and ſtretched out arme: him feare ye, and worſhip him, and ſacrifice to him.

37 Alſo kepe ye diligently the ſtatutes and the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the cōmandement, which he wrote for you, that ye do them continually, & feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the coucnant that I haue made w^h you, nether feare ye other gods,

39 But feare the Lord your God, and he wil deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit they obeyed not, but did after their olde cuſtome.

41 So theſe nacions feared the Lord, and ſerued their images alſo: ſo did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, ſo do they vnto this day.

to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tel ye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, ene the great King of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein y trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue eloquence, f but counsel and strength are for the warre. On whome then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reede, to wit, on Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil go into his had, & pearce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in y Lord our God, is not that he whose he places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Iudah and Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise anie captaine of the least of my masters seruants, & put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and horsemen?

25 Am I now come vp without the lord to this place, to destroy it? the lord said to me, Go vp against this land, & destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah and Shebnah, and Ioah said vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, for we vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Lewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said vnto the, Hathe my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eat their owne dounge, & drinke their owne pisse with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stode and cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes language, & spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

29 Thus sayth the King, Let not Hezekiah disceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citie shal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

31 Harken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie man of the water of his owne well, Til I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, euene a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, & hony that ye may liue and not dye: and obey not Hezekiah, for he disceiuech you, saying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

32 Hathe anie of the gods of the naciōs deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

33 Where is the god of Hamah, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, Henna and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

34 Who are they among all the gods of the naciōs, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

35 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a worde: for the Kings commandment was, saying, Answer ye him not.

36 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah was steward of the house & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and red it: & Hezekiah wēt vp into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiah spred it before the Lord.

ⁱ Before the Arke of the couenant

^j He sheweth what is the true refuge & succour in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lord by earnest prayer.

15 And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israël, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen & the earth.

^k Shew by effect that thou wilt not suffer thy Name to be blasphemed

^l By this title he discerneth God from all idoles and false gods.

16 Lord, bowe downe thine eare, and heare: Lord open thine eyes and beholde, and heare the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

17 Truerh it is, Lord, that the Kings of Asshúr haue destroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And haue set fyre on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hâds, euen wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseeche thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou, O Lord, art only God.

^m He sheweth for what end the faithful desire of God to be deliuered: to wit, if he may be glorified by their deliuerance

20 ¶ Then Isaiâh the sonne of Amôz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israël, I haue heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Saneherib King of Asshúr.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Zîon, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his head at thee.

ⁿ Because as yet Ierusalem had not bene taken by the enemy, therefore he calleth her virgine.

22 Whome hast thou railed on: and whome hast thou blasphemed: and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hye: euen against the Holy one of Israël.

^o God counterth that inuie done to him, and will reuenge it & is done to anse of his Sauiours.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines, by the sides of Lebanon, and wil cut downe the hie cedies thereof, and the fane fyre trees thereof, and I wil go into the lodging of his borders, and into the forest of his Caimel.

24 I haue digged, and dronke the waters of others, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard, how I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long ago: and shulde I now bring it, that it shulde be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defended?

26 Whose inhabitants haue small power, and are afraied, and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field, and grene herbe, or grasse on the house toppes, or as corne blasted before it be growen.

27 I knowe thy dwelling, yea, thy goying out, and thy comming in, and thy fury against me.

28 And because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I wil put mine hoke in thy nostrils, and my bridel in thy lippes, & wil bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shal be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yere suche things as growe of the selues, and the next yere suche as growe without sowing, and the third yere sowe ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, and eat the frutes thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudâh, shal againe take a roote downwarde, and beare frute vpwarde.

^w The Lord wil multiplie in great number that small remnant of Iudâh that is escaped

^x The loue, & God beareth toward his Church, shal overcome the counsels and enterprises of men

31 For out of Ierusalem shal go a remnant, and some that shal escape out of mount Zîon: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal do this.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the King of Asshúr, He shal not entrie into this citie, nor shote an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it:

33 But he shal retorne the way he came, and shal not come into this citie, sayth the Lord.

34 For I wil defend this citie to saue it for mine owne sake, & for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 ¶ And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the campe of Asshúr an hundred and foure score and fyue thousand: so when they rose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

About that time *was Hezekiáh sicke vnto death: and y Prophet Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz came to him, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine house in an ordre: for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the a wall, & prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseeche thee, o Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in trueth & with a b persit heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiáh c wept sore.

4 ¶ And afore Isaiáh was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tel Hezekiáh the captaine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy d prayer, and sene thy teares: beholde, I haue healed thee, and the third day thou shalt go vp to the e house of the Lord,

6 And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yere, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Asshúr, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then Isaiáh said, Take a f lompe of drye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recovered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiáh had said vnto Isaiáh, What shalbe the signe that the Lord wil heale me, and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And Isaiáh answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadowe go forward ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiáh answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forward ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadowe g go backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiáh the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe tē degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the h dial of Aház.

12 ¶ The same season Berodách Baladán

the sonne of Baladán King of Babel, sent letters and a i present to Hezekiáh: for he had heard how that Hezekiáh was sicke

13 And Hezekiáh heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer, & the golde, & the spices, and the precious ointment, & all the house of his a moui, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in ali his k realme, that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

14 Then Isaiáh the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They be come from a farre countrey, even from Babel.

15 Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Isaiáh said vnto Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord.

17 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoeuer thy fathers haue laied vp in store vnto this day, * shal be carried into Babel: Nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiáh said vnto Isaiáh, The worde of the Lord which thou hast i spoken, is good: for said he, Shal it not be good, if m peace and trueth be in my dayes?

20 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiáh, and all his valiant dedes, and how he made a poole & a cōdite, & brought water into the citie, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

- 10 Also Shaphan the chancellor shewed the King, sayig, Hilkiah the Priest hathe deliuered me a boke. And Shaphan red it before the King.

- 11 And when the King had heard the wordes of the boke of the Lawe, he rent his clothes.

- 12 Therefore the King commanded Hilkiah the Priest, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achbór the sonne of Michaiáh, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asahiah the Kings seruant, saying,

^f Meaning to some Prophet whome God reueleth the knowledge of things vnto, as Jer 21. 1 though at other times they inquired the Lord by Vrim & Thummim.

- 13 Go ye and ^e inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this boke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this boke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

- 14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbór and Shaphan, and Asahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallúm, the sonne of Tikuáh, the sonne of Haihás keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Ierusalém in the ^g colledge) and they communed with her.

- 16 Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, ^{euen} all the wordes of ^h y boke which ⁱ y King of Iudáh hathe red,

- 17 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the ^h workes of their hands: my wrath also shalbe kindled against this place, and shal not be quenched.

^h The workes of mans hand here signifie all that man inuenteth beside the worde of God: ⁱ were abominable in Gods seruice. ^j Meaning that he did repent as they, that do not repent, are said to harden their heart, Psa 95. 8.

- 18 But to the King of Iudáh, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israél, The wordes that thou hast heard, ^j shal come to passe.

- 19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, ^{to wit}, that it shulde be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, sayth the Lord.

- 20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not see all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they broght the King worde againe.
